The advantage of travel as an educator are indorsed. A few days ago C.A. Pillsbury returned from Europe and immediately discoursed as learnedly of crops as if he had been binding wheat in South Dakota for three weeks. Yesterday J. C. Oswald came back, and inside of fifteen minutes settled the perplexing court house and Democratic mayoralty nomination question. mayoralty nomination question.

"Is Mr. Modisettee in?" inquired the sharp-nosed man in low, tender, pleading tones, as he sidled into the city treasurer's office yesterday.

"I'm Mr. Modisette," replied that gentleman, wheeling around in his chair in that easy, I'm-at-your-service-sir-what-can-I-do-for-you air peculiar to himself, and a lead pencil between his teeth, while a beatific smile romped over his clear-cut, though not bleeding, features. "What is your business?"

I'd like to see a man come in here and mention tin box and live." Ten minutes later a wrecked portion of the human family crawled out of the city hall coal hole and limped away. He was the selling agent for a patent letter file which he wanted examined in the city hall.

It would have surprised and aggravated the Republican politicians who are trying just now to instigate a row n the Democratic camp could they have attended the meeting of the Jefferson club last evening. There was a large turn-out, and there was every indication of harmony. The most important action taken was a decision that the club will join with the Cleveland club in perfecting a thorough organization in perfecting a thorough organization in the interest of Democracy.

He was told last night by a GLOBE reporter that his name had been mentioned during his absence from the city for lieutenant governor, state senator and mayor. enant governor, state senator and mayor, and in reply simply said that he is a candidate for no office. ## THE COUNCIL ACTS.

It Provides a Temporary Remedy for the Garbage Difficulty.

Promptly at 8 o'clock last evening President Johnson called the council to order for a special meeting, thirty aldermen being present. The business transacted was largely of a routine nature, nothing of special importance, barring the garbage question, coming before the council for action. But it was a great night for fun. The dignified paternal ancesters of the munici-pality seemed to realize that there was pality seemed to realize that there was little to do, and that jokes were in order. They were, nowever, all Minneapolis aldermanic jokes, so none of them will be published here, the GLOBE not being enlisted in that cause, the object of which is to reduce the population of the world. Among the communications read was this brief letter, sharp, to the point, characteristically feminine, which was placed on file:

To the City Council—Sirs not Madames: To the City Council-Sirs, not Madames:

I. a woman, am taxed till I can't rest. No returns, unproductive holes in the ground and sand hills, can't sell and hardly give away. Made out to give my best lots to pay taxes. Now must I be driven out of town, or lose all my property? Dolgive me a rest. P. S.—No houses. What in the world do they sprinkle streets for unless to help Tom Lowry?

The council then proceeded calmly with ordering the construction of sewers, water mains, paving, curbs and gutter, sidewalks, etc., all of which work will be done next year, until near the close of the meeting, when the president, looking fixedly at Ald. Ingenhutt, will you kindly take the chair, please." Joe objected. "Ald. Ingenhutt, will you kindly take the chair, please." Joe objected. "Ald. Ingenhutt, will you kindly take the chair?" the president repeated, and with an "Oh, dot's a diffrunt ving," Joe dignifiedly mabled to the seat of honor, evidently mollified by the change in the form of the request.

While the inspiriting strains emanating from the Saivation Army percolated through the council chamber, the much discussed garbage matter came up. The report from the health and hospitals committee recommended that the city engineer be ordered to co-operate with the health department in preparing the old steamboat landing for city dumping purposes. The report was adopted, and the work of arranging the new dump will be commenced at once, and pushed to completion within the two weeks allowed by Judge Young yesterday, before the Washington avenue dump is closed forever. The new schemg contemplates the carrying of waste matter from the dump out into the middle of the river by means of sewer pipes. The ordinance governing the conveyance of nigh soil and sladge, providing for the use of odorless tanks in the removal thereof and in every way regulating the disposition of filth in the most approved manner, was then read. It went over under the rules and was ordered published. The ordinance will probably be adopted, although the scavengers will in the recommendations made by

Little While Longer.

The serious difficulties which have been staring the health department in the face for the last few days has at last been remedied. Judges Hooker and Young granted an extension of and Young granted an extension of time to the city in which to prepare a nore suitable dump ground in place of the one now in use on Delaware street. It will be remembered that people in that part of the city have had several complaints against the use of the present lump on account of the bad odor which necessarily arises from the present lo-cation, and a suit was brought against the city by one Shea to restrain the city from using the same. Three months was given the city the first time in which to remedy it, but the remedy was not forthcoming, so a week ago the matter was again brought before the courts and the injunction was granted. This and the injunction was granted. This caused a terrific howl from Dr. Kilving-ton and the board of health, and for the past few days could not issue scavenger permits. The new dump will soon be constructed and in a manner that will not cause any complaint from the

OVER A BOND.

George Harbitz Gets Three Good

Men Into Trouble. Sheriff James H. Ege, Attorney A. D. Smith and R. S. N. Sartz, editor of the Tidende, are at present in serious straits all because they went on a bond some time ago for George Harbitz, the editor of the Voice of the People, a weekly Scandinavian publication.

About a year ago Harbitz weut into the employ of the "Belle of Bourbon" Wine Company of Louisville, Ky. Before entering into the employ of the Louisville firm he was compelled to give a bond for $300. This was readily given, signed by Ege, Smith, and Sartz. When these parties signed the bond for Harleitz they supposed that it was simply to assure the company that Harleitz paid in the money he collected. Six months ago Harleitz left the employ of the company, and the bondsmen supposed that was an end of their relationship as bondsmen and that their liability had expired, but Saturday morning Longbrake & Agatin, the Louisville firm's attorneys here, received notice to the effect that Harleitz was indebted to the company in the sum of $300, consequently Longbrake & Again asked the bondsmen for Harleitz to the regretage of interesting the programmen. weekly Scandinavian publication. asked the bondsmen for Harleitz to "produce." The question of importance now seems to be whether or not the bond has been changed subsequent to the signing, or whether the bondsmen signed it not knowing of its form.

Another Meeting of the S. P. C. A Yesterday. The society for the prevention of cruelty to animals and children met yesterday afternoon in the board of trade rooms and completed arrange ments for active work. Resolutions were adopted thanking Mrs. Meiser and Mrs. Gausse, the organizers, for the good work which they have done for the movement in Minneapolis, and highly commending those ladies for having taken such an active interest in the movement in Minneapolis. These ladies were afterward elected honorary members of the Minneapolis society. A report of the work done by them was then presented, which shows that they have worked up a membership in Minneapolis of 421 persons, and have collected $688 to further the aims of the organization. Mrs. Gausse then spoke briefly on what she and her co-worker would like to see done in Minneapolis. She hoped that the Minneapolis society would become a power in this line of work, and that it would become the center of the S. P. C. A. movement in the Northwest, of which result she had no doubt, provided the Minneapolis society would push the cause. The board of directors has been increased to twenty-five members. It was decided that the society shall meet every mouth, the day of assembly being fixed ou the second Monday in each month at 3:30 p. m. It was further ordered that the agent of the society report each week to the newspapers on the work done by the society in the suppression of and punishment for cruelty during the week.

EXPOSITION NOTES.

The Edison exhibit, which forms one of the leading attractions of the Minneapolis exposition, is to be the fullest display of electrical apparatus which has ever been placed on exhibition, not excluding that at the Paris exhibition excluding that at the Paris exhibition last year, which proved its most important feature.

The same exhibit will be made, and experts from Edison's laboratory at Menlo Park will have charge, but in addition will be several recent electrical inventions, and also the exhibit of electric welding machines by the Thomson Electric Welding company, of Lynn, Mass.

tric welding machines by the Thomson Electric Welding company, of Lynn, Mass.

The great, and overshadowing feature will be a lighting spectacle such as the world has never seen before. It consists of an octagonal tower seventy feet high and about ten feet in diameter, the surface of which is covered with incandescent lamps. There will be 7,500 lamps on the tower alone, and as it stands in a pool of water in the center of the building, when the lights are lit the sight presented will be most gorgeous. Many of the lamps are colored, and are arranged in various Egyptian designs upon the tower. No expense has been spared in making this tower of light wonderful beyond description. The Edison exhibit includes the wonderful talking dolls which astonished the visitors at the Paris exposition. To hear these dumb blocks talk as though endowed with human speech is a revelation. There will be an electric train, the various inventions of Edison in improving the teiephone and the telegraph, and also the machine by which the handwriting can be transmitted by telegraph. Think of signing a check 100 miles distant!

Both were much improved in health by their sojourn abroad, although they were ill most of the time while away. They spent a good deal of time in Switzerland, among the mountains of which both were born. There both recovered their health, which had suffered from visits to other parts of the continent. Mr. Oswald says that he expects Anderson & Douglass to redeem Bryn Mawr, which fell into his hands through foreclosure proceedings.
