New York and Brooklyn Agree to Combine, Leaving Six Clubs at Sea.

Results of the Running Races at Bennings, Elizabeth and Nashville.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 6.-In parlor C of the Continental hotel, this fternoon, a meeting of the leaders of the Players' league of base ball men vas held for the purpose of adopting some plan by which the organization may be continued on a profitable basis. At the outset it was claimed that the three associations cannot thrive or hope Money has been lost alost everywhere, and in many instances t happened that dates conflicted. So that with three clubs playing at a time, neither had enough spectators to pay expenses. The chief idea of the present congress is to do away with the three club plan, and have only two clubs for each city, with one for Brookyn, because of its proximity to New ork. To do this it is necessary for the Piayers' league people to consolidate with the others, and so keep intact the two organizations. The backers, or capitalists, have talked the matter over, and, although they have not agreed upon any definite line of ac-, it is certain they will oppose the arrangement that prevailed last sumner. In this situation the members of

mer. In this situation the members of the Players' league naturally want to know what chance they have of "getting into the swim," or of organizing on their own behalf. It was understood that Capt. John M. Ward, of the Brooklyn Players' League club, would take his men to another city, or unite with New York. But Brooklyn would not be needed, as, with Buffalo, there are eight clubs in the league. The meeting to-day was called to see what could be done in the matter. Really reduced to a plain proposition, it is whether the Players' league is to live or die; or whether the National league shall swallow it up. The present movement was arranged by Messrs. Price and Hart, of the Boston Players' League club, together with other members of the brotherhood. The plan most favored is the adoption of a resolution calling on leading men, both players and capitalists or backers, of New York and other cities, to guarantee the formation of a syndicate for the purchase or signcapitalists or backers, of New York and other cities, to guarantee the formation of a syndicate for the purchase or signing of players of the New York National League club, and if the Brooklyn backers should consider this favorably, to consolidate. Among those present at the convention to-day were Capt. John M. Ward, of New York; the Wagner brothers, of the Philadelphia club; Charles Hart, Ira B. Kirkland, John Prince and Arthur Irwin, of the Boston club; Henry B. Rea and Edward Hanlon, of the Pittsburg club; Mr. Sharsig. on, of the Pittsburg club: Mr. Sharsig, nanager of the Athletic club, and Charles Mason, one of the former man-Charles Mason, one of the former managers; Editor Francis Richter, of the Sporting Life, and Francis Brunell, who started the movement, and is secretary. The New York and Brooklyn clubs were represented by proxies. The meeting was held with closed doors. The conference adjourned at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and, although no resolution was passed, it was agreed that a players' league should be organized for next year. The plan will be perfected at a meeting to be held next Tuesday at Pittsburg.

New York League and Players'

Clubs Agree to Combine. NEW YORK, Nov. 6 .- Several of the Players' club representatives were present at a meeting held in the Continental hotel here to-day for the purpose of considering a circular sent out by Secretary Frank B. Robinson, of the New York York club, which set forth that the two New York clubs had come to an agreement and that they would give the other clubs thirty days' time to agree with their opponents in the respective clties before the agreement went into effect. The local base ball clubs are anxious for an agreement between them which will do away with all opposition, Just what this agreement is has not been stated, but it is believed to be a coalition or some plan nearly as liberal. The meeting lasted several hours. The members declined to make known the proceedings and the general inverselor. ings and the general impression is that

DETAILS OF THE DEAL. Terms of the Northern Pacific Lease of the Wisconson Central.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 6 .- At the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Central Railway Company, the following were elected directors: Edwin H. Abbott, Frederick Abbott, Howard Morris, Thomas J. Hyman, Samuel R. Ainslee, Robert W. McGuire, Henry F. Spencer, Jeremiah Smith, Eastace J. Fitz, John T. Anderson and Joseph H. Wellman. At the meeting of the directors the following officers were chosen: Edwin H. Abbott, president and treasurer; Frederick Abbott, vice president and assistant treasurer, Milwaukee; Thomas J. Hyman, auditor and general accountant; Howard Morris, secretary and general solicitor; Henry B. Spencer, assistant treasurer and assistant secretary. An extensive report was presented, covering among other things the lease of the Wisconsin Central lines to the Northern Pacific. It appears from these that the Chicago & Northern Pacific company, which owns the Chicago terminals, leased these terminals to the Wisconsin Central company for ninety-nine years, and the elected directors: Edwin H. Abbott, the Wisconsin Central company for ninety-nine years, and the Central company then subleased them with all the Wisconsin Central lines to the Northern Pacific Railroad company for a period of ninety-nine years from April 1, 1890. The rental paid by the Northern Pacific for the Chicago terminals is $350,000 per annum, in addition to the interest on the honds of the terminal company. The num, in addition to the interest on the bonds of the terminal company. The net surplus of the Wisconsin Central company for the year ending June 30, 1890, is $29,682, and the net surplus on income of the Wisconsin Central Railroad company for the eight months ending June 30, 1890, is $85,813, exclusive of the receipts of the land district. The report proposes to the stockholders the issuing of new debentures to pay for outstanding contracts for the purchase of rolling stock on which it has heretofore paid rental, and says that it should capitalize by funding all the temporary loans bearing a high rate of interest.

CAN SCALPERS SURVIVE? Authorized Cut of St. Louis-Kansas City Rates.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6 .- Chairman Finley. of the Western Passenger association, to-day authorized the lines doing busi-Athletic Club has offered a trophy of to meet the scalpers' rates by an open ness between Kansas City and St. Louis Athletic Club has offered a trophy of $1,000 to bring about a meeting, with small gloves, between Charles Turner, of Stockton, Cal., and the Black Pearl, of this city, the winner to take $800 and the loser $200. Backers of the Pearl will wager $1,000 that he wins the bout. The contest must be boxed to a decision in the rooms of the club on the evening of Dec. 23. The proposition has been telegraphed Turner, and Manager Cotharin expects a favorable reply. Turner is a colored boxer of repute on the Pacific coast.

On the evening of Nov. 25. James Me. would follow. It was also urged that the maintenance of the present rate against the reduced fare to St. Louis is calculated to divert the business of the Chicago roads to the St. Louis lines. Aside from this subject, the association took action looking to a revision of the transcontinental rates in order to adjust the difficulties at present existing as to divisions between the Eastern and Western lines.

Western lines RATES RESTORED.

Trunk Line Presidents Make Sensible Move. NEW YORK, Nov. 6 .- The presidents of the trunk line railroads were in session all this morning at the office of the trunk line commission. The principal business discussed was the question of complications about differentials, and particularly whether the Grand Trunk railway should be allowed a three-cent differential on dressed beef. It was announced that east-bound freight rates nounced that east-bound freight rates had been restored, to go into effect on the 20th inst. The rate on wheat will be 25c per 100, and on corn 22½ per 100. The presidents then took up the passenger business and decided to abolish the payment of commission on tickets in joint committee territory between Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati and the Atlantic seaboard. The controversy between the Grand Trunk Railroad of Canada and the Lake Shore about differentials will be settled by arbitration.

Mr. Herbst Interprets Judge Clark's Remarks and Delivers a Lecture. o the Editor of the Globe

PRIVATE BUSINESS

Your reporter must, unintentionally, have misinterpreted the meaning of Hon. Greenleaf Clark in referring to the judge's remark as being based upon my resolution. The remark was as follows: "I think this chamber will have made an advance in one direction when it learns to mind its own business. I presume the city railway company is able to will have made an advance in one direction when it learns to mind its own business. I presume the city railway company is able io manage its own affairs, and doubtless prefers to do so."

The judge could certainly not have referred to my resolution unless he wished it to be inferred that after our city had given Lowry valuable franchises, which, in time, will be worth millions, and after St. Paul had virtually given him full control of all our streets, the management of this franchise and our streets was Lowry's "own affairs," and we hadn't a word to say in the matter. Lowry undoubtedly thinks so, and so told the committee deputed by the chamber of commerce to cail on him regarding his (Lowry's) failure to fulfill his contracts with the city, as meekly confessed by H. S. Fairchild before the chamber yesterday morning.

Neither do I think that the judge wished it to be inferred that the chamber had no right to discuss public matters, and that it meets every Monday simply for a social chat about their individual private business. If the chamber of commerce is organized to protect the public welfare of this city, and to see that our prosperity does not suffer by reason of abuse of public-officials or by acts done by public corporations, as well as the organization of industries, etc., as I believe that it is, the judge could not have alluded to, my resolution, for the reason that its (the resolution's) aim was to avert injury to our physical as well as temporal welfare, since the discharge of competent conductors and gripmen on the electric cars, who were receiving only 20 cents per hour and displacing them for green and inexperienced hands, to the inconvenience and danger of the public, simply to put into the company's hands three cents per hour for each hand, is certainly the people's concern, especially as the city railway company's act might precipitate consequences generally fatal to business prosperity.

Another reason which inclines me to think that the judge's remarks could not have all company's act might precipitate consequences generally fatal to business prosperity.

Another reason which inclines me to think that the judge's remarks could not have alluded to my resolution is that the greater share of the morning hour was occupied in discussing the "private affair" of Lowry with the city, regarding his failure to come up to his contract. Now, my resolution was certainly more of a public nature than the question whether Lowry shall have a month or so more time and indulgence, as it was generally conceded in the chamber that Lowry had such a strong hold upon this city and that we were so poweriess under his iron grasp that he would do as he pleased anyway, and that we could never annul the contract or make him live up to it. Hence, my resolution might be of some public benefit, while the one so lengthily argued was like so much lost breath, as Lowry would have his way in spite of anything the chamber would do or say. My resolution appealed to humanity and justice, and might have had some effect upon the human nature side of Mr. Lowry. For these reasons I am inclined to think that your reporter misconceived the drift of the judge's remarks, and that the judge simply had in mind the rebuke Mr. Lowry administered to the chamber's committee when it attempted to interfere with his "private" contract for the control of all of our public streets, and when the park commissioners regarding parks, and some right ahead and attending to its "private which was chosen to confer with the park committee had ever been appointed by the chamber.

GALE ON LAKE SUPERIOR. Anxiety Felt for Vessels Known to Be Out.

special to the Globe. WEST SUPERIOR, Wis., Nov. 6.— About midnight last night a heavy wind sprung up suddenly from the northeast and two hours latter a gale of northeast and two hours latter a gale of terrific violence was sweeping over Lake Superior. The heavy blast was laden with snow, and during the night the fall amounted to about two inches. As the gale increased in violence towards morning the temperature fell rapidly, and by daylight a genuine blizzard was raging. There is considerable anxiety regarding vessels that are now on the lake between Superior and Sault Ste. Marie. They must certainly have suffered damage if they had no friendly shelter in sight. At the present writing there have been no disasters reported, but there are many anxious vessel agents at the head of the lake who are keeping the wires hot making inquiries along the south shore points. There is a large fleet of vessels tossing about on Lake Superior, outside of Minnesota point. Only one ventured to reach the dock, and that was the Susan E. Peck, one of the staunchest vessels that does business at this port. She was received by the tug Carrington, of the Inman line. To use the expression of her captain, there was not a dry spar on her." There is a blinding snow storm in progress, and the sea is running high. The Tom Adams, among other vessels, is outside waiting for the storm to abate. terrific violence was sweeping over storm to abate.

STRICKEN IN COURT. Serious Illness of the Chief Justice of England. London, Nov. 6.-Much excitement was created in the queen's bench division of the high court of justice to-day by the sudden illness of Lord Coleridge, lord chief justice of England. His lordship had heard a case in his private room, and though he had complained of feeling ill during the hearing, he was able to give a decision in the matter. Directly afterward he was seized with something resembling an apoplectic or paralytic stroke. The nearest doctor was in Chancery Lane, close to the law courts, and he was hastily summoned to attend his lordship. Other messengers were dispatched to Lord Coleridge's residence, and Lady Coleridge proceeded instantly to the court to render what assistance she could to her stricken husband. This afternoon the doctors announced that he was able to be removed, and he was taken to his home in a carriage. It has been ascertained that Lord Coleridge is suffering from neither apoplexy nor paralysis, as was at first ship had heard a case in his private apoplexy nor paralysis, as was at first stated, but from a severe attack of gastritis.
