SAFE CLOTHIERS.

If a very low price is your only conception of cheapness, better not come here; but if you want stylish, well-made clothes, that will look well and wear well, for which a reasonable price must be paid, we will be glad to serve you.

About sizes and shapes of ready-made clothing there is a general misconception. Men think they can't be fitted. On the contrary, it is easier to find a perfect fit in our stock than to get it specially made, for your tailor seldom hits the mark on first trial.

FULL DRESS SUITS.

Coats and Vests made from Imported Cloth, Full Silk-Lined, $33.00. Trousers to match, $8.00.

CUTAWAY SUITS.

Either Three or Four-Button Cutaway Frock Suits, made from every material used for Men's wear and in all colors and patterns of Imported and Domestic Fabrics, $12, $15, $18, $20, $22, $25, $28, $30, $32 and $35.

SACK SUITS.

Single and Double-Breasted Sack Suits are the most popular style for every-day wear. We have them in all the fashionable Imported and Domestic Fabrics, $10, $12, $13.50, $16, $18, $20, $22, $25, $28 and $30.

TROUSERS.

Such a variety of patterns in Imported and Domestic Fancy Worsteds, Cassimeres, Cheviots, etc., as was never before shown in the West. $2, $3, $3.50, $4, $5, $6, $6.50, $7, $7.50, $8, $9 and $10.

OVERCOATS.

Single and Double-Breasted, Extra Long Ulsters, Cape, etc., etc., made from Foreign and American Overcoatings, $10, $12, $13.50, $15, $18, $20, $22, $24, $25, $27, $30 and upward to $50.

Do you not live in St. Paul? Just make your wants known. We'll send you any goods on approval from our Big Store, allowing you to examine them before paying for them.

Cappivi's Visit to Italy Perfects the Entente of the Dreihund.

Peace Will Be Maintained Apparently for a Long Time to Come.

Austria's Ruler Consents to Return the Visit of King Humbert.

Heligoland to Be Strongly Fortified Against a Hostile Coup de Main.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Chancellor von Caprivi, who has been visiting Milan, this morning received a denunciation of the German residents of the city, who waited upon him to present an address. In replying to the address, which was presented by the German consul, the chancellor spoke in terms of unqualified frankness of the objects and results of his meeting with the Italian prime minister. He congratulated his visitors upon living in a beautiful country, which was the center of art interest, and which was under a government which was linked with that of Germany by a policy of peace. His interviews with Sig. Crispi, he said, had cemented and perfected the entente of the dreihund. The reports that he would meet Count Kalnoky on the homeward journey to confer with him on the position and attitude of Italy were untrue. There was no necessity for his meeting Count Kalnoky, as the Austrian prime minister was already the recipient of the aims of the entente. He could give them assurance that there had never been such a period of calm in international politics as the present. He had no anxiety as to the immediate future, and was confident that

Peace Would Be Maintained for a long time to come. The chancellor then went to the length of discussing the issue of the discussion of Sig. Crispi's demand that the emperor of Austria return King Humbert's visit by going to Rome. The relations between the Italian court and government and Austria have been further strained by advice from Count Nigra, the Italian ambassador at Vienna, that Cardinal Gallimberti, the papal nuncio, has been operating upon Emperor Francis Joseph through the emperor and archdukes, to break the connection with Italy. The reforms of Rome, continued to hold of dispatches from Cardinal Gallimberti to the pope, reporting progress in the diplomacy tending to isolate the Italian government. The authenticity of the dispatches published has not been denied. Prime Minister Crispi has been for a long time urging that the emperor of Austria ought to return King Humbert's visit. He now insists upon Austrian recognition of Rome as the capital of Italy, by the emperor's going to the Quirinal. The official belief here is that Chancellor von Caprivi started with authority in soothing Sig. Crispi and King Humbert by a promise that the emperor of Austria would go to Rome in the spring. Communications from Count Kalnoky, the Austro-Hungarian prime minister, received before the chancellor left, it is understood, announced that Emperor Francis Joseph would submit to the event of Sig. Crispi's maintaining that his reception in Rome is necessary for a continuance of the triple alliance. Chancellor von Caprivi's remarks indicate that

Affair Has Been Settled as Sig. Crispi demanded. The ambassador from Emperor William to King Humbert, of which the chancellor was the bearer, alluded to the chancellor's services in executing Germany's foreign policy, and said the emperor agreed with him. The reports that the chancellor mooted combined reprisals against the United States because of the McKinley bill are unfounded. They emanate from Vienna. The Austrian papers are still banking upon retaliation, although the negotiations here for a commercial coalition resulted in utter failure. Italy is the most affected by the bill of all the European states. She would not risk offending America to satisfy a doubtful ally. The chancellor will return by way of St. Gothard to time to prepare for the opening of the landtag Wednesday. Several reforms that are certain to be promised in his speech from the throne will be seriously opposed. A reduction in the tariffs on wheat and rye and a reform in the communal laws, aiming at the abolition of old feudal rights, will be fiercely contested by the old Conservatives. The emperor, according to belief in the ministerial circle, is determined to make no concessions. If the lower house refuses to accept the projected reforms as proposed, the government will be dissolved without delay. The Heligoland bill for the landtag does not conceal the fact that the island is to be Used for War Purposes. It declares that the island is valuable as an outpost for attack and defense, and will be of special value in a future war. It must be strongly fortified against a hostile coup de main. The bill does not detail the extent of the proposed defensive work, nor its cost. The medical journals refer cautiously to Prof. Koch's cure for consumption. The professor begins his medical career by refraining from discussing the subject until his investigation shall have given more reliable results. The Pharmaceutische Zeitung states the statement that Prof. Koch's method is inoculation with a weakened cultivation of tubercular bacillus. The Medizinische Wochenschrift declares that therapeutics of consumption are on the eve of a new and victorious epoch. Prof. Koch declines to state when he will be able to present a report of his experiments. He says the results are still too limited for scientific certainty. The Reichstag will meet on Nov. 25. The commission on labor laws is expediting its work in order to be able to report as soon as the house meets. The emperor keeps in touch with the members. He is gratified with the progress of the commission. The Reichsanzeiger announces that a trade mark protection bill will be introduced in the landtag. It will be modeled upon the English trade mark bill. The foreign office estimates for 1891-92 comprise a vote of 22,300 marks for the colonies of Southwest Africa, chiefly to assist and establish German farmers; 3,500,000 marks toward Eastern Africa, and 200,000 marks toward exploring Central Africa. Dr. Stoecker has not been daunted by dismissal from the court of appeal. He is preparing for a wider and more intense Anti-Semitic campaign. He retains his seat in the Reichstag, and seems decided for a fiercer agitation in favor of political reaction. The emperor's selection of Dr. Dryander as chief chaplain ad interim is due to an acquaintance formed while his majesty was a student at Bonn, where Dr. Dryander was pastor of the Evangelical church. Dr. Stoecker still maintains close relations with several members of the imperial household and is hopeful that he will regain his influence at court. The Duke of Nassau, regent at Luxembourg, left the city of Luxembourg this afternoon on his way to Frankfurt. The French papers were accurate in their predictions of the speedy Germanizing of Luxembourg. The Frankfurt Zeitung states that the German and other measures will be taken to assimilate the people with those of Germany. Officers of merchant ships familiar with Cape Horn routes discredit the reports of the loss of Capt.
