A BEAUREGARD IN TOWN.

Luring the past week a nephew of Gen. Beauregard, of Louisiana, was a guest of the West botel. He is a very bright but modest fellow, fond of scieniffic study, and devoted to his daily ceading of Racine and Moliere. A reporter of the Globe endeavored to inserview the distinguished Southerner, but, owing to Mr. Beauregard's engagements, was prevented from meeting him. Young Beauregard is not only a hear of large means as the him. Young Beauregard is not only a han of large means, as the phrase goes, but he is probably one of the best dramatic critics in the country. He is decidedly literary, and has also inherited the inventive genius from his paternal uncle. The general proved himself a skillful engineer at Vicksburg, and the fortifications he erected at an island, with a rapidly vanishing name, above Memphis, Tenn., evidenced his ability as scientific military man. In the East and phis, fenm., evidenced his ability as a scientific military man. In the East and "wooly West" probably few people know, who daily ride with speed to their places of labor and occupation, that to Gen. Beauregard is due the bonor of inventing the first cable street railway in America. But it is a fact, all the same

The Aspiring Girl. She is bright and ambitious; she looks out at the workers in the world and thinks that if she were among them and thinks that if she were among them she would make a great success, and that the reward of fame-money-would come to her in plenty. Now, I do not want to say a word to discourage the one who thinks she is doing right in walking in thus path. It is a hard one to travel, and for the traveler there is not the gentle protection, the kindly consideration which is her lot at home. But ought you to go? May not the lifework for you be in the home? May not the reward of industry be a sense of duty done, and the love of those around you? We are all too prome to accept these rewards as commonplace,

Make it your delight to be so successful that the home people will praise you. And it sometimes you give a thought to the big, gay world, where each is for herself and God for all, be ashamed of the sigh that you give, remembering that you are working where God thinks it best for you to do so; and that you only merit displeasure when you scorn your work, or do it as do those who think eye-service of value. The National W. C. T. U. Closes Its Session at Atlanta. ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 18 .- The morning session of the last day of the W. C. T. U. was devoted to routine business nothing of general interest being done. This afternoon the reports of the national organizers were continued, each telling of the work in her special line. Miss Willard was able to be in the convention hall a short while. She thanked accept these rewards as commonplace, and only what should come to us, whereas they are, my dear girls, the brightest jewels that shine in the crown of woman. Look at home. On the work that is witing for you there. Do not underestimate its value. Whatever it is, do it with a willing heart and a quick hand. Think it your pleasure to do it well.

Make it your delight to be so successful that the home people will praise.

Guthrie Retains the Capital. GUTHRIE, O. T., Nov. 18 .- Gov. Steele to-day returned the bill to the legislature without his signature or approval, locating the capitol at Kingfisher. This leaves the capitol at Guthrie. It is believed this latest veto will end all attempts at this session of the legislature to move the capitol from here.

Penalty of Robbing the Mails. WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 .- Chief Postoffice Inspector Kathbone received a telegram from St. Louis stating that George Harris, the postal clerk arrested some ago for robbing the mails, was tried there to-day and sentenced to eighteen months' hard labor in the pen at Jefferson City.

For Michigan Masons Only. GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 18.-The Michigan Masonic home is completed and will be dedicated with the most imposing Masonic ceremonies Jan. 28, when the grand lodge of the state will

Two Bears From Siberia. London Dails News.

The Jardin des Plantes, says our Paris correspondent, has lately added to its show of wild beasts two magnificent specimens of the white Siberian bear. specimens of the white Siberian bear. They have received temporary lodgings in a eage usually tenanted by a lion. A new bear pit is being dug, whither they will be removed as soon as it is ready. The collection of wild beasts now consists of nine bears, three hyenas, an ocelot, a black panther, two Abyssinian lions, four royal tigers and five panthers, besides a score or so of smaller animals. The Jardin des Plantes boasts of the first cedars brought to Europe. It is rich in botanier! specimens, has a museum of natural history, newly rebuilt and endowed by the state, and is, with the Louvre, one of the most interesting sights of Paris. It is quite free to the public. Buffon was at one time the director of it, and so was M. Chevreul quite recently. The latter died in a little house adjoining the museum of ante diluvian skeletons.

in Yonkers, and was received by the lady of the house.

"What do you want?"

"Please, mum, give me a dime to buy a glass of bread—'scase me, I mean a loaf of beer."

"I haven't got any money."

"Haven't got any money? Then, madam, I would suggest that you move into a cheaper house; you are evidently living beyond your means. Economy is wealth. Economize in the matter of clothes and house rent. Cut your expenses, and then, perhaps, some day you will have a dime to spare—a dime, madam, that may be the means of preventing a hungry and thirsty fellow mortal from committing suicide; or it may be a quarter—a coin of the value of 25 cents—that will uphoister the dark clouds on the horizon of his despairing soul awith a silver-plated lining, and fill his stomach with imported beer. Good day, fair lady." day, fair lady."

Will Hold a War Ship.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 18 .- The Detroit Dry Dock company has just let the contract for the construction of a new dry dock, which will be the finest and largest on the great lakes, with all the latest appliances in a work of this sort. It will be 400 feet long, 52 feet wide at bottom and 94 on the water line, with 16 feet of water over the keel blocks at the lowest level in the water. It is expected that the dock will be completed for the early spring business.

Clerical Consistency.

First Deacon-The minister preached a fiery sermon against novel reading last Sunday. I tell you it must have had an effect upon the young ladies of the congregation who read fiction. Second Deacon—Is that so? From where did he take his text?
Second Deacon—Oh, from one of the New Testament parables, I believe.

WHY WILL THEY DO IT?

The Indianapolis Desk Known by all men, or ought to be, is made where they make nothing else; is made in the largest factory in the world. Twenty-four Patents is made under 24 designs and letters patent. Is made of walnut and eak, solid mahogany and solid cherry. Brass-Lined Curtain Is not made with canvas lining in the curtain (or roll) that glue will rot, but with spring sheet brass, which is absolutely dust and vermin-proof.

One Key Locks All Drawers one man alone can open the desk in the dampest of weather, and its contents are safe in the dryest atmosphere. No customer of ours has to season the lumber in his desk. The company guarantees this to be done before the desk is bought.

Unique Shapes We have among our roll-tops new siyles that but few in this city have ever seen, and for that matter queer forms in flat-tops also. The octagon, designed for four persons, and the Double Peerless, which is alike on both sides, are examples. No other house in all the West makes a display equal to the New England's in office furniture. No other can show a better make than the Indianapolis, but others ask as much and more for a poorer one.
