JURORS ARE SCARCE.

Eleven of Them Are Willing to Serve on the Kill Murder Case.

The entire day was spent yesterday in an attempt to secure a jury to try Nicholas Kill for the murder of Jacob Kohn in September, 1887. The panel of fifty new jurors was exhausted, with the result that five more jurors were secured, making eleven thus far chosen. Deputy Clerk Armstrong called the jurors one at a time, and swore them to answer questions. Attorney H. B. Schreiber would first chall nge the juror as to general disqualification, and if he as to general disqualification, and if he passed upon that point satisfactory of all concerned, he would then be subjected to an examination touching implied bias. In most instances, Assistant County Attorney Munn would admit the challenge, but in case of dispute Judge Kelly decided the qualification on these two points. The jugor would then be turned over to the qualification on these two points. The juror would then be turned over to the three triers on the question of actual bias, who in this case are James H. Foote, William George and William L. Kelly Jr., who would listen to the questions by the attorneys involving actual bias, and in case of dispute would decide the question of the qualification of the juror. Several of the jurors extend the jaror. Several of the jurors stated that they had formed opinions from reading the occounts of the murder and subsequent events in the newspapers which even evidence would not remove. There seemed to be a pronounced aversion, among some, to serving on the case. Several jurors were excused be-cause they were foreign-born citizens and did not have their naturalization

Kirsch are the eleven jurors thus far chosen. Judge Kelly directed the sheriff to summon twenty-five additional jurors to appear in court this morning to complete the panel. He notified the sheriff that when he summoned foreign-born that when he summoned foreign-born citizens to tell them to bring their naturalization papers into court. Before adjourning court Judge Kelly charged adjourning court Judge Kelly charged the jurors chosen not to permit any one to confer with them on the case, and in case any one talked to them about the case to make report to the court this morning. So Army Officers and Others Pronounce the Indian Uprising. The Indian uprising is a fake. The Indian uprising is a fake.

That is the belief of about every intelligent and well posted man in St.

Paul, of the travelers at the hotels and is emphatically the opinion of Gen. Ruger and his subordinates at the army headquarters. Dakota men at the several hotels are very warm in their de-nunciation of the correspondents at Mandan and other points for their sen-

"It's a senseless fake at best," said a Fargo man, "and will hurt Dakota a great deal for nothing. From reading the Mandan dispatches I imagine those people will be very much disappointed when winter sets in and they have not seen a single scalping knife. All those Indians want to do is to lean up against a fence and think."

Gen Ruger secompanied by his side.

lean up against a fence and think."

Gen. Ruger, accompanied by his aide, Lieut. Woodruff, arrived yesterday from a tour of the various posts through the country infected by the Messiah enthusiasm. Gen. Ruger very emphatically denies that there is cause for the slightest alarm and deprecates the sensational reports that have been telegraphed broadcast from various parts of both North and South Dakota.
"One blast of yero weather." said the gen.

"One blast of zero weather," said-the general, "will cool off this zeal for the Messiah. To keep it alive frequent out-door meetings and councils and dances are necessary. The extreme cold weather will prevent such meetings and will end the craze for this season."

Lieut. Woodruff talked at length of Lieut. Woodruff talked at length of the situation. Said he:

"I think that all reports of impending rouble with the Indians have been more or tess exaggerated. Of course, I cannot lanswer for the people of Mandan, but i seems to me that the man who sent this telegram from there to the morning papers should have placed the dispatch from Maj. McLaughlin, stating that he feared no outbreak at Standing Rock agency, at the head of the column instead of at the foot.

"Some of the statements made are peculiar, particularly those with reference to the belief that Mandan is threatened by an armed force.

"The Indians located nearest to Mandan are about thirty-five miles away, on the Cannon Ball river. They are thrifty, industrious, peaceable people, who have taken up claims, built huts und houses, own cattle, ponies and wagons and are in good circumstances.

They are Christianized Indians, having no faith in aboriginal superstitions and disliking this new Messiah craze, for they say that it interferes with the progress of the people. And every year these Indians sell hundreds of thousands of pounds of beef to Standing Rock agency, receiving not only a good price therefor, but also some of the beef in return as rations. Now, you can't convinee me that people who have land, homes, stock, cattle, wagons, crops and revenue are at all anxious to go to war. And yet these are the ones to watch whom the people of Mandan have sent scouts.

watch whom the people of Mandan have sent scouts.

"During my inquiries I found that there was nothing having the appearance of war or indicative of war in this Messiah belief. The Indians say that the whites are to be destroyed, but by the Christ alone and without aid from the red men. A mud wave is to engulf the palefaces, but the Indians are to be lifted above it until it passes over. This ghost dance, too, is a harmless affair, being equivalent to Christian communion—that is, a preparatory ceremony through which the participants aim to perfect themselves before the coming of the Master.

"The band from which any real outbreak is anticipated is that headed by Chief Hump, and situated southwest of Standing Rock. Like all leaders, he is very willy, and if the promised Messiah does not arrive in the spring he will probably tell them that the whites are using their influence to keep him back, and that the best way to aid him will be to kill some of the palefaces.

"However, in the event of the extremest emergency the troops will be fully equal to the occasion, the departments of Dakota and the Platte being close together. Since last March, when we first heard of this craze, two companies of cavalry have been camped south of Pine Ridge, and others on the Tongae river and elsewhere, so that it will be impossible for the Indians to mass at any one point.

"It must be taken into account that some

OLD SOLDIERS PROTEST.

Rules Governing Admission to the Hot Springs Home Too Rig-

Special to the Globe CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Nov. 18 .- The old soldiers of South Dakota are raising a vigorous protest against the extreme stringency of the rules by which admittance to the Hot Springs Soldiers' home is obtained. In order to gain admission the applicant must answer twenty-five questions, and then swear that he has answered them correctly. Questions one to twelve relate to name, age, place discharge and place of residence, and discharge and place of residence, and are all right. Question thirteen asks, "How much property have you?" Fourteen, "Are you unable to support yourself?" Fifteen, "Are you destitute?" Sixteen, "Are you married?" Seventeen, "How many children?' Eighteen. "Their age and sex?" Nineteen, "Where are they?" Twenty, "Who has charge of them?" Twenty-one, "How many support themselves?" Twenty-two, "If admitted will you do such amount of work in and about the home as is required of inmates?" Twenty-three, "Amount of pension? I also agree to deposit all money received by me for pension, to which I am now or may hereafter be entitled to with the commandant of the home, to be disposed of by the board of commissioners as is now provided for by the rules of the home." The applicant must also have a certificate of the county that he is destitute and the certificate of a physician that he is incapacitated from earning a living. A number of worthy soldiers who contemplated going to the home, say that before they will subscribe to all the requirements, and give up their pension money, they will go to the county poor house. It was generally supposed that the home was to be all that its name indicates, and that any honorably discharged soldier could gain are all right. Question thirteen asks that its name indicates, and that any honorably discharged soldier could gain admittance by subscribing to certain rules and regulations, and leave again at will, but under the present regula-tions, to gain admitance a soldier must take a pauper's oath, and after he gets HELENA, Mont., Nov. 18.—Mayor Bradford, who was elected on the Democratic ticket last spring, about two months ago appointed Thomas F. Cronin city marshal, an office worth about $9,000 a year. The appointment was $9,000 a year. The appointment was not agreeable to the mayor, and he made it under protest at the demand of those who had elected him. Ever since then there has been war between the mayor and the marshal. The mayor, a short time since, had the office of chief of police created in order to throw a disturbing element into Cronin's patn. Last week the mayor summarily dismissed seven policemen summarily dismissed seven policemen who owed their appointments to the marshal. This, of course, only broad-ened the breach. Now the mayor plays his last card by removing Cronin from office. The marshal, naturally, was loth to depart, and declared that he would not do so until the city council had confirmed his successor. Then the mayor suspended the marshal until this afternoon, the intention being to send in the name of a successor to the council, which met this evening. When they got together the mayor sent in the name of Patrick Galvin, an active Democratic worker, for the position of city marshal. Galvin was rejected, getting only three votes. Then one of the mayor's adherents in the council intro-duced an ordinance to take away from the city marshal the boarding of the prisoners in the city jail. This is a prisoners in the city jail. This is a big item, as it costs the marshal but a small part of what he receives from the city to do the feeding. But the proposition was also sat upon, and the mayor was thus bested at every point. How the fight will turn out it is hard to tell now. The mayor has the sympathy of some of the best citizens, while many others look upon his course as ungrateful to the men who came to Bradford's rescue last spring and saved the day with their efforts at a time when his opponent. After swearing the jury the judge charged them in the usual formal way, and, upon request of the Anti-Lottery Association of Louisiana, referred to the possible violations of the state laws in regard to lotteries and games of chance of all kinds. When the names of those drawn to serve upon the grand jury were called, it was found that four were missing, and a special venire of four was substituted, composed of A. P. Noyes, W. G. Hegman, V. C.
