PAGIS, Feb. 3.—Michael Eyrard, the murderer of Gouffe, was executed at 7:30 o'clock this morning, on the Place de la Roquette. Eyrard met his fate with fortitude and resignation.

The appearance of the workmen sent to erect the barriers, to say nothing of the appearance of the crowd, was a most pitiful sight. The Parisian murderer was executed at 7:30 o'clock this morning, on the Place de la Roquette.

The Execution drew near. In addition to those jaded card birds there was a small assemblage of honest workmen and disreputable voyous attracted to the scene.

The executioner, who had been waiting for some time, stepped forward and seized the prisoner by the neck of his coat. He then turned and walked toward the guillotine.
