

MONKEY AND PARROT.

Swearing and Hair Pulling in the Board of Control at Chicago.

And All on Account of the Bierbower-Stovey Decision.

Carno and Irwin Declare That the Board is No Good on Earth.

It is Possible That the Ruling of "the Powers" May Be Changed.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—The base board of control this afternoon rendered a number of decisions in cases in which two or more clubs claimed the services of a player. Louis Bierbower, a member of the Athletic Club, on Philadelphia in 1888, but went over to the "Players" league when it was formed. When the franchise reverted to the Association his name was entered in some days only a few of the contestants are to be found on the track at any one time after the second day, and the visitor is consequently unable to form any opinion of the relative merits of the men. But in the twelve-hour-a-day race all the contestants are always there.

The case of H. G. Stovey was exactly the same as that of Bierbower, except that he was in the hands of the board and was compelled to decide in favor of Boston. The slap administered to the case of Bierbower was a severe rebuke to the board, and the board was compelled to decide in favor of Boston.

THE WHIST TOURNEY.

St. Paul Loses the Fifth Meeting, but Still Leads in Points.

The rooms of the St. Paul Chess, Checker and Whist club were crowded with the best players of both St. Paul and Minneapolis last night at the playing of the fifth game between the clubs of the two cities. Thirteen tables were filled, and it proved an unlucky number for St. Paul, as the score shows. Some delay was experienced in getting ready for play owing to the number of tables, and the game did not begin until 8:20. Table number one consisted of Gov. Merriam and C. W. Bunn, and they held out the longest of the royal st. Handy and Sperry made twenty-seven points for St. Paul, and Reeves and Morris, twenty for Minneapolis. The score in detail is as follows:

Notes of the Play.

THE ATCHISON KICKS.

It Insists on Several Changes in the Arbitration Clause.

Among Them the Privilege of an Appeal to the Association.

Dressed Beef Rates to Be Considered by Trunk Line Magnates.

Jay Gould Arrives Home in New York as Right as a Trivet.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—The Trans-Missouri Passenger association has been in session all day considering the rules and regulations recommended by the committee appointed several days ago. Considerable delay has been caused by the Atchison, Topoka & Santa Fe people, who insist that the arbitration clause shall be so worded as to avoid any such misunderstanding as recently arose in the Western Passenger association. The rules of the latter association provide that when a member is charged with a decision of the chairman the case may be appealed to the association or to arbitration. A short time ago the Atchison appealed a question to the association and the latter decided that the chairman claimed the right to take a further appeal to arbitration. Chairman Newell decided that could not be done, but a board of arbitration reversed his decision. The Atchison desires that the new rules of the Trans-Missouri association shall provide that when the chairman has decided a question an appeal may be taken to the association and to arbitration on both. Other rules of this association provide that the chairman may be appealed to by the association, but that the association may not be appealed more than once in any case, the appealing roads to choose between the arbitration matter to the association was called at the instance of President Newell, of the Lake Shore, who claims that the privilege granted the Canadian lines has had the effect of depriving his road of the bulk of its dressed beef traffic. The friends of the Grand Trunk do not hesitate to prosecute this proceeding and the board of arbitration to abide by the decision of the arbitrators.

DRESSED BEEF RATES.

They Will Be Looked Into by Officials of the Trunk Lines.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—A meeting of the presidents of the roads in the Trunk Line and Central Traffic associations will be held in New York next Tuesday to consider the question of dressed beef rates from Chicago to the seaboard. It was thought that this question was settled when Arbitrators George M. Bogue and Henry B. Stone decided a short time ago that the Grand Trunk was entitled to a differential of 2 1/2 per hundred pounds on dressed beef shipments to New England points by way of Montreal. But it seems that the Lake Shore people will fight the Grand Trunk on this issue and are not inclined to abide by the decision, and insist upon a reopening of the clause. It is said that the forthcoming meeting of presidents was called at the instance of President Newell, of the Lake Shore, who claims that the privilege granted the Canadian lines has had the effect of depriving his road of the bulk of its dressed beef traffic. The friends of the Grand Trunk do not hesitate to prosecute this proceeding and the board of arbitration to abide by the decision of the arbitrators.

Shot by a Barber.

ASHLAND, Wis., Feb. 14.—S. McDonald, a popular young man, was to-night probably fatally shot by W. H. Frazier, a barber. McDonald had been calling on Frazier's niece, who has been ordered away from him. He was wearing several times. To-night Frazier went home and found McDonald and the girl on the stairway talking. He saw the revolver and fired, hitting the bullet striking McDonald on the left breast between the neck and heart. Several doctors are proffering for the bullet. There is great excitement among those who know of the affair. Both parties are well known and highly respected.

Knotty Liquor Cases.

JAY WINGO, Feb. 14.—An interesting legal point is in contest here in some liquor cases now being tried. The county commissioners voted to grant a license to sell liquor in a no license town. The applicant commenced selling and was arrested for selling liquor without a license. The county commissioners claimed that possession of the license was necessary, and the defendant's attorney held that the vote of the county commissioners was sufficient. In one case tried the state won, in another the defendant. An appeal has been taken to the district court.
