The Silk Stocking Municipal Society Swoops Down On the Delegation

With a Resolution Swipe Every Vestige of the Fee System.

The People's Representatives Refuse to Be Overawed by Outsiders.

And Proceed to Draft Legislation to Their Own Sweet Will.

The Municipal society sent about a dozen of its leading members to the meeting of the Ramsey county delegation last evening, to urge a general reduction of city and county salaries. The following resolution, which had been passed by the society, was presented to the delegation:

Resolved, That all the salaries of the police and fire departments be reduced as follows: All salaries over $1000 and under $1,500 per year to be reduced 10 per cent; all salaries over $1,500 and under $2,000 to be reduced 20 per cent; and all salaries of $2,000 and over to be reduced 25 per cent. That all county officers now assisting on the fee system be placed on the salary basis and that the fee system be abolished. That the salaries of county officers be fixed as follows: Auditor, $3,000; treasurer, $3,000; clerk of courts, $4,000; judge of probate, $4,000. That the number of deputies and their salaries be fixed by the county commissioners. That the services of certain unnecessary employees of the police, fire, health and building inspector's departments be dispensed with. That the register office be abolished and its functions be added to the duties of the register of deeds.

The lawmakers announced their willingness to hear the members of the Municipal society in support of their resolution.

Resolved, R. Dorr, the first speaker, thought the fee system a public abomination. He couldn't see any more reason in running city and county business on the fee system, and he recommended to the city and county were actually living beyond their means, and there should be a general rule of economy exercised.

Mr. D. Mann said the financial condition of the city and county warranted careful consideration of expenses. He felt that some of the present expenses were unnecessary, and that salaries should be cut from the head to the foot of every department.

Col. Langston, Chairman Seabury and H. P. Upham also spoke in favor of cutting salaries and abolishing the fee system.

After hearing the above-named gentlemen, the delegation went into executive session and virtually ignored the resolution and arguments of the municipal society. It was absolutely decided not to change from the fee to the salary system. A bill requiring the sheriff, clerk of courts and auditor, after the expiration of their present terms, to turn 25 per cent of their fees into the county treasury was recommended to pass. It was agreed to allow the sheriff only $2.50 a week for boarding a prisoner instead of $3.25, as at present. The fee for taking insane people to the asylum was cut from $25 for each case to $10 a day, mileage and actual expenses, and the fee of $1 for bringing each prisoner into town was abolished. Another cut of $2,500 in the clerk hire of the water department was made. After discussion it was decided not to reduce the salary of the county attorney. The question of abolishing the abstract clerk's office came up, but action was deferred until the conclusion of Mr. Murnane's trial, lest it might influence the election of a new clerk.

Chief Clerk was called upon to state what reduction was possible in the expenses of the police department. He replied that the allowance for his department should be increased rather than decreased. In St. Paul the expenses of the police department is less than that of the fire department, while the reverse is the rule in all other large cities. At present the police force is being run very economically, and a reduction is scarcely possible. The police force is really inadequate, and should there be any kind of any kind in the city the department would be strained to quiet it. In answer to a direct question Chief Clerk stated that a cut of 20 per cent in the expenses of the department would place it in a deplorable condition.

The delegation took no action in regard to the police department. The board of county commissioners asked the delegation to amend the proposed law creating the new court house commission by providing for the election by the board of their representative upon that commission. The amendment asked for was allowed.

The fire commissioners submitted a communication stating that the expense of the fire department from Feb. 1, 1890, to Feb. 1, 1891, amounted to $255,696.26, and asking for an appropriation of $250,000 annually for the next two years. The matter was referred to Senator Sanborn with instructions to draw and present a bill allowing the amount asked for by the commission.

AN HONORED PASTOR.

Dr. Smith the Recipient of a Signal Testimonial.

The King's Sons, an organization composed of the active young men of the Central Park M. E. church, of whom there are a large number, last evening gave a farewell banquet to their pastor, Rev. Dr. Joseph E. Smith, who leaves this city Monday for his new charge at Trenton, N. J. About seventy-five were present in the church parlors to enjoy the supper prepared by the Ladies' Aid society, and, at the conclusion of the banquet, brief speeches were made by Messrs. Luley, Maul, Beck, Townsend and others, and a handsomely engrossed and framed set of resolutions and a large picture of the King's Sons were presented. Dr. Smith responded appropriately and feelingly, for this organization's success is one of the many evidences of his good work in this community. Dr. Smith's last services here will be Sunday, and an appropriate farewell will be given by those who so greatly regret his departure.

AN UNGRATEFUL FELLOW.

Robs the Man Who Gave Him a Night's Lodging.

At 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning Dan Richard came into the central police station and told Lieut. Schweitzer that he had been robbed of his gold watch and chain and $12 in cash by James Dougan. He met Dougan, who was broke, Wednesday night, and offered to share his bed with him. Dougan availed himself of Richard's hospitality and retired with him at the Economy hotel on Jackson street. But the ungrateful guest got up in the middle of the night and carried off his host's valuables. At 4 o'clock he was attempting to dispose of the watch in a restaurant, when Officer Miller arrested him. In the police court yesterday his case was continued to to-day.

ROCHE ROASTED.

Judge Brill Pays His Respects to the City Comptroller.

When the suit of Pat Keigher, as assignee of Forrester Brothers, against The City of St. Paul, was tried before Judge Brill yesterday, his honor was surprised to find that Comptroller Roche had attempted to anticipate the court's decision in the case and had acted upon his own suggestion in a rather promissory manner. The suit was brought to recover $2,000 on a contract for sprinkling the streets. At about the time of the general assignment, or rather a few days thereafter, James Forrester assigned this claim to N. Fahley, who in turn assigned it to the Germania bank. The assignee then brought suit upon the claim, alleging it to be an asset of the estate. The Germania bank applied to Comptroller Roche to pay the claim to it. Assistant Corporation Attorney Phillips notified Mr. Roche of the suit, and advised him not to pay the claim, but he declined to be dictated to and paid the money over to the Germania bank. When Judge Brill learned these facts yesterday he took occasion to deprecate the action of the comptroller and remarked to the effect that his action in the matter was reprehensible—for such conduct he would take the pains at the proper time to refer his action to the proper authorities for legal investigation. Judgment was directed to be entered against the city for the amount due, making the second time the city pays the amount.

Assistant Corporation Attorney Phillips was seen in his office late in the afternoon going over the accounts in company with Attorney Boyesen, but refused to discuss the subject. Mr. Boyesen remarked that there is a probability of adjusting the matter satisfactorily.

Mr. Roche said if he had been a party to the action he would have presented evidence that might have changed the result.

MURNANE'S TRIAL.

The Examination Yesterday—Case to Be Concluded To-day.

The trial of M. R. Murnane was continued yesterday in Judge Kerr's court. It will probably be concluded to-day.

Auditor Kahn's testimony was continued, in which he said that the custom was to make monthly settlements, but this was not the custom to deduct salaries from fees in making settlements with the board. He had not paid Murnane the balance of $608 for extra work because objection had been made by some of the county commissioners. Mr. Murnane had paid into the county treasury $200 on account of fees for the last three months in 1890.

William Lawson, Jr., testified to Murnane drawing a check on the Bank of Minnesota for $70, when there was not that amount in bank.

County Treasurer Nelson stated that this check was given him by Murnane in December, 1890.

Mr. Murnane, when on the stand, said that when he drew that check his cash book showed that he had $725.20 in that bank, but when his bank book was balanced he found some money had been checked out for which there was no stub, but he had over $600 in his office vault of the county's money at the time.
