spires of this serine, sequestered Southern city. They proceeded in single file to the Plateau hotel, where they deposited their grips, washed from their handsome mugs the clinging clay, soot and smut of five of Uncle Sam's fairest states, pulled down their vests and assaulted the dining room to sacrifice their appetites for their several stomachs' sake. It was a brave battle for bouillon, biscuits and beet, and after an hour's struggle the victuals had vanished, and Manager Watkins winked at the watters and chalked up another victory for St. Paul. The young men who are to emblazon the name St. Paul at the head of the Western association list then want out on the vestern a pricked. emblazon the name St. Paul at the head of the Western association list then went out on the verandah and picked their teeth while the summer wind whistled "Annie Rooney" through their whiskers. Mr. Watkins sized up his selection of sturdy stick-swingers and smiled a smile of satisfaction, and the elect echoed his elation by returning the compliment in kind. The journey to this land of balmy breezes was not fraught with events of unusual interest. The train which left St.

was not fraught with events of unusual interest. The train which left St. Paul on Sunday evening bore only Manager Watkins and players Ely and Conley. The following day in Chicago. Dalton, O'Rourke, Brown and Schmit met the St. Paul contingent, but on taking the train for St. Louis the next evening, Schmit failed to make his appearance or send an avenue. He has evening, Schmit failed to make his appearance or send an excuse. He has not been heard from. At St. Louis the party was increased by the addition of Hart, Baldwin, Osborne, Abbey and O'Brien. Soon after arriving here the team was joined by Goodenough, who came in from California. Meekin, Mains, Trost and Hamburg are expected in a few days. The weather has been salubrious and full of sunshine, and the men are already well unlimbered by two days' hard practice. Sir Thomas Loftus is here with his red-legged Cincinnatis, and every pleasant afternoon connairs, and every pleasant afternoon the Buckeyes and Apostles play a prac-tice game before a large crowd of ad-miring Southrons, among the number being many ladies. The members of both teams are treated like princes by both press and public, and they have plainly made a "mash on the municipalplainly made a "mash on the municipality" at sight. In the opening game to-day the two teams divided up, the score standing 11 to 6.

STILL IN COURT. The League Enjoined From Pay-

CINCINNATI, March 28.-A judicial bombshell has been exploded in the battle ground of the base ball combat in Cincinnati, and there will be no end of discussion as to the nature and extent of the wounds inflicted. Judge Bates, of the common pleas court, to-day, upon application of the association club, has enjoined the league from paying to Al Johnson the draft for $26,000 given him for his interest in the Cincinnati franchise. Among the earliest theories as to the effect of this decision is one that it will enable the association to obtain an order for a receiver for the Cincinnati club with a sale of its effects so that they can purchase the grounds now claimed by the league club. The delegates have been in session all the afternoon. It is stated that they have practically closed an arrangement to place the Cincinnati club in the hands of A. T. Brush, of Indianapolis and his associates, who are Cincinnati men. J. D. Ellison is named as the probable president of the company. The matter of men to fill out the Cincinnaticlub is now under consideration. Speaking of the injunction, granted today, a league man says the court requires nothing more of the league in that order than the league had arranged to do itself if the order had not been to do itself if the order had not been issued. That is to recognize the interest of Wagner and Prince, which had been denied by Johnson. The league delegates all left for home to-night. Their chief official action this afternoon was their ratification of the contract between Palmer O'Neill, of the ract between Palmer O'Neill, of the National league committee and A. L. Johnson, relating to the purchase of all the capital stock in the Cincinnati Base Ball club. They also deposited money subject to the order of their secretary and treasurer, N. E. Young, to be paid to A. L. Johnson upon his compliance with the requirements of compliance with the requirements of the contract. As to the restraining or-der issued by Judge Bates this afternoon

BISHOP NEWTON'S CASE.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Rev. J. Dr. Newton has been in ecclesiastical not water before. He is determined, that his fore. He is determined, that his "friends, the enemy" shall not be embarrassed by any lack of evidence in case they desire to go to extremes. At the services at his church yesterday addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. Briggs, the famous Presbyterian theologian; Rev. Dr. Bolles, pastor of the Third Universalist church; Rev. Dr. Robert Collier, pastor of the Unitarian Church of the Messiah. and Rev. Dr. Taylor, pastor of the Church of the Dr. Taylor, pastor of the Church of the Disciples. The conditions were 24,000 points up, spot barred, Peall receiving 12,000 points start on Roberts. Al-though Roberts played in his customary masterly fashion he was unable to overcome the big handicap, and when the contest closed this evening he had only succeeded in running up a total score of 21,410 points. Peall's actual score was 12,000 points.

TALKING OF THE TORIES.

Erastus Wiman's Latest Words on Reciprocity. TORONTO, Ont., March 28 .- In an interview in the Evening Telegram today, Erastus Wiman expresses the opinion that the Tory government will be willing to make considerable concessions to bring about a large degree cessions to bring about a large degree of reciprocity with the United States. He believes that the perpetuation of the power of the Tory party will depend upon the success of the negotiations with Washington, and that Sir John Macdonald will act accordingly, especially as the result of the recent election shows a popular majority in favor of the closest commercial relations with the United States, even in the face of the allegation that it meant annexation to attain it. Mr. Wiman believes that Mr. Blaine is anxious to secure a liberal measure of reciprocity. In the Tory proposals he may find the possibility of settling many vexed questions. The fishery question certainly can thus be immediately adjusted by concessions of the Canadians, and in that adjustment would follow the settlement of the Newfoundland contention, for it was only the objections of Canada that pravented imperial assent to the convention agreed upon between Mr. Blaine and Mr. Bond.

Equally would the settlement of the Behring straits matter be facilitated because of Canadian compliance, while the transportation problem and the of reciprocity with the United States.

cause of Canadian compliance, while the transportation problem and the menace to American railway Interests would be removed by enforcing regula-tions affecting American traffic in Can-ada similar to those provided in the in-terstate commerce act in the United States. Accompanying this settlement, in exchange for these concessions, might follow the abolition of coasting laws on the lakes, free canals, uniform wrecking regulations and other material advantages could be given and taken. As to real reciprocity, while unrestricted trade at the start could hardly be attained, the list of articles to which the Tories would agree would enormously augment the opportunities of American augment the opportunities of American trade. The negotiations may result in a measure of reciprocity, the benefit of which cannot be denied, even by those who would like to see it unrestricted in extent and achieved by an instrumentaity different from that of the Tory party.
