Mine.

The Pioneer Press has made answer to the complaint of Ignatius Donnelly attorney will not take a change of venue, allowing the matter to come to trial here. The answer admits the pub-trial here. The answer admits the publication, and also maintains the charges, deciding to fight it out. In reference to the letter of W. S. King, it states that the document was public properly, and as such allowable to publish. One point made is that the letter was published in all the other papers of the city, and yet the suit was not commenced against them. It looks like a political fight through the courts, for the long document goes through his public career, giving as many dies as it can.

The final claim is that the character and reputation of Mr. Donnelly at the time of the bublication was bad instead of good. The matter came up before Judge Bicks on a motion to require the paper to state fully and definitely the name of the officer or agent of the Central Pacific Railway company through whom the plaintiff is charged with having received the sum of $5,000 on or about the time stated in the answer, and to state the name of any officer or agent of whom the plaintiff demanded any sum.

To state also on what bank or person

To state also on what bank or person the check was drawn, by whom where, paid and the date it was paid. An affidavit paid and the date it was paid. An affidavit accompanied the motion in which Donnelly swears that he is innocent of the charges, and needs information to defend himself against the accusations. The defense claimed that the bill of particulars was not necessary. Judge Hicks thought, as usual, that the point was a fine one, and took it under advisement, at the same time drawing from the attorneys the fact that the case would probably come to trial this coming term.

THE APRIL GENERAL TERM. A Large List of Cases to Be Disposed of Before Summer. Tuesday the April term of the district court opens, and the court house will be again filled with the several hundred or cases set for trial. The court rooms have been newly papered, and look as clean as a Lowry hill mansion after the spring cleaning. The ealendars are ready to be distributed, and to-morrow every attorney will receive

The book will contain 749 cases in civil actions and some twenty-six criminal actions, making in all a heavy list that will keep the judges busy for so time before they are all disposed of Among the latter are the indictments against Leo Heilpern, in whose case the jury disagreed at the former trial. The little Pole is now out on bail. The Bal-lard and Bostwick cases, which have been on the calendar for the past two years, still occupy a position on its pages. There are ten names whose owners are charged with bastardy. Thomas Sawyer, Charles A. Carlson, August Peterson, John Glenn, Edward Wagner, Benjamin Racklif, Gust Anderson, John Benson and Frank Thorne. The judges are returning to their du-ties, and will all be on hand, even to Thomas Canty, who has entirely recovered from his recent illness, and is pre pared to take up his work again. Judge Lochren will be assisted by Judges Smith and Canty in the civil jury cases, Judges Hooker and Hicks have charge of the court cases, and Judge Pond, for the first time, will be allowed to take a rest from those dry lien cases, and take rest from those dry lien cases, and take charge of the criminal calendar. There are a large number of damage cases on the calendar, a larger grist than ever before, owing to the thrifti-ness of that modern hyena known as the "specialty attorney," whose modes are too well known to need comment. The grand jury will meet on Tuesday, when it is expected some rather interesting cases will be brought before its notice, and the mask torn from the fac of cloaked crime, as usual, when that august body gets together. On the whole, the term will be a busy one.

JUDGE LOCHREN DECIDES The Much-Disputed Silver Bell

Mine Case. The suit of Salina E. Newton vs. The Silver Bell Mining Company and George H. Van Dusen has been decided, as far as the district court goes, by the de-cision of Judge Lochren filed yesterday. The case was tried at great length last term and a decision practically made public. The plaintiff sued to be allowed to reclaim the mine and also to be paid a part of the money said to have been taken out in the shape of ore. Judge Lochren allows the plaintiff to reclaim Lochren allows the plannin to rectain upon payment of $33,139. As for reimbursement, the court holds that the company has paid outconsiderable sums in improvements, and does not allow that count. The defendants claim that the mine has never paid.

MALT FOR THE EAST.

ft Will Be Prepared by the Minneapolis Brewers. The Minneapolis Brewing company will take a hand soon at working for th Eastern brewers, who are great sufferers under the McKinley bill. Eastern beer makers cannot get enough barley The Minneapolis Brewing company has decided to go into the malting business. Minnesota barley is of a good quality, and the local brewers believe they can develop a profitable business by malting for Eastern concerns. The Heinrich & Noerenburg establishment will be devoted to politing solely. Contracts for Noerenburg establishment will be devoted to malting solely. Contracts for 40,000 bushels of malt have already been taken. When the new brewery in Northeast Minneapolis is finished the brewing facilities of the local company will be vastly increased. Then more attention can be paid to malting.

Louis Lehle, the Chicago brewery architect, arrived in Minneapolis yesterday to put the finishing touches to the plans for the new $1,000,000 brewery on the Orth site. The main building will be an L-shaped structure 204 feet on Marshall avenue and 330 feet on Thirteenth avenue. It will be four stories in height, with portions running up to six stories to suit the necessities of the business. The malt house of the old Orth brewery will be enlarged to meet the needs of the new concern. The system of beermaking will be all that modern invention can suggest. The process to be employed is patented by Conrad Berkhofer, the superintendent of the company, who for a number of years was the superintendent of the old Orth company. The brewery will be built with a capacity for 200,000 barrels a year, and facilities for increasing this capacity to 300,000 barrels. The new building will be handsome, architecturally, similar in appearance to the Exposition building.

TO ENLARGE POWDERHORN. Additions to That Park Are Ordered at Last. Yesterday's park board meeting was not a grand affair. There was little business, and the session was short. The veto of the charter was, of course, discussed. The straight-out Republidiscussed. The straight-out Republicans pretended to think that the governor had done a statesmanlike piece of work in vetoing the charter, such a piece of work as denotes the possession of a bulging brow by the agent thereof. But it was comparatively easy to see that they didn't mean it. Most of the men on the park board are men of some breadth of understanding. They can't see that the governor has gained anything by his veto except the support of a lot of lick-spittle politicians. The Democratic members unanimously condemned the governor's action for the very good reasons already voiced. The only members of the board who were really pleased by the vetc were the men appointed to go down to St. Paul and lobby for the charter amendment practically re-enacting the old law. They escaped a lot of work.

Tho first really important business of the meeting was the report of the special committee on Powderhorn park enlargement. This report was adopted. Immediate steps will be taken to make Powderhorn a park in more than name only. All of the property that can be purchased by certificates will be so secured; the remeinder will be condemned. The property to be acquired by condemnation proceedings will not exceed, in value, $15,000. The president and secretary of the board were authorized to issue the certificates of purchase, and the attorney was directed to begin proceedings to acquire the recans pretended to think that the gover-

WANT A MONOPOLY.

Employment Agents Object to a Reduction of the License Fee.

The larger employment agents are fighting the bill relating to their business now before the legislature. By the terms of the bill the license fee i reduced from $100 to $25, and the bond required of the agent is cut down from $10,000 to $5,000. R. R. Koch, the Minneapolis agent of Clapp, Winston & Co., says of the bill:
"If this bill becomes a law it will injure the laboring people of the North-west to a great extent, because then the employment business cannot be controlled. It will induce a great many inexperienced men to engage in the business, and they will be in hot water all the time, as it used to be years ago, when there was a $50 license. We have been trying for years to put this business in a position where it can be consess in a position where it can be conness in a position where it can be con trolled by a few responsible parties, and have finally succeeded, but we will not be able to hold it there if this bill is passed. The city would also lose about $1,000 in the reduction of the license fee. The responsible parties in the business are perfectly satisfied with the present law."

WILBUR'S SIDE OF IT.

He Insists That Miss Baker and Wheelan Offended Grievously. Manager Wilbur gives a different version of the difficulty between him and some of the principals of his comic opera organization. He says that Miss May Baker made damaging allegations against the character of a chorus girl. He told the girl, he says, that she must leave the company or disprove the assertions. She cleared herself to his entire satisfaction. Of the trouble that occurred at the theater Friday morning, the company on the stage, and in their presence made a clean statement of her conduct and ordered her to leave the theater within ten minutes. She ventured no defense and left. I then turned to Mr. Wheelan and told him he could go, giving as my reason that he had aided Miss Baker in securing her trunk from the theater the night before trunk from the theater the night before, which is strictly against the rules."

The members of the company who have disagreed with Wilbur stick to their side of the story. Moreover they say things about Manager Wilbur that would not look well in print. Miss Baker's place will be taken by Miss Gonzales, of the Bijou opera company, Philadelphia. She will arrive next week, in time to enter the cast the following week. Wheelan's place will be lowing week. Wheelan's place will be taken by W. H. Kohnle, of the "Barrel of Money" company, who was formerly with the company. Will Spaulding, of the same company, has also been engaged as first tenor to work with Mr. Conley.

The Lumber Cut.

The Lumberman It predicts a total cut at Minneapolis this year of from 400,000,000 to 465,000, 000 feet of lumber, or between 55,000, will be vastly increased. Then more attention can be paid to malting.

Louis Lehle, the Chicago brewery architect, arrived in Minneapolis yesterday to put the finishing touches to the plans for the new $1,000,000 brewery on the Orth site. The main building will be an L-shaped structure 204 feet on Marshall avenue and 330 feet on

NOTE AND COMMENT.

A good deal of gratuitous abuse has been heaped upon the Hennepin delegation all winter long because they paid no attention to the Republican demand that the charter be submitted to a vote of the people. Now the Republicans rub their hands and chuckle and say: "We told you so. We were right. Always submit such questions to a vote of the people as we do and you'll come out all right." It is time such nonsensical talk was stopped. The plain truth regarding the defeat of the charter is that the governor absolutely disregarded precedent and interfered in purely local matters at the command of a few politicians. Popular votes on such questions do not amount to much either. At the last election two constitutional amendments of vital importance were submitted to the people. How many voters voted on them? Then, the Hennepin delegation was merely following precedent. They were elected to revise the charter. To say that charter revision was not an issue in the last election is to deliberately misstate facts. The Democrats promised to revise the charter and they worked with that end in view. That they did not succeed is not their fault. Republican delegates to the legislaure have invariably refused to submit any sort of question to the people. As Jacob Sloft said yesterday: "Two years ago Republicans were elected by South Minneapolis votes on their distinct promise to extend the patrol limits. When elected they virtually said: 'The people be damned. We are the people now and we'll do as we please.'" gation all winter long because they paid no attention to the Republican demand

"I see that some of the Eastern news "I see that some of the Eastern newspapers treat as a joke the proposition to run Lieut. Gov. Edward F. Jones for governor of New York," remarked an ex-New Yorker at the West last night. They have no right to. Jones is all right. I knew him quite well when I lived in Binghamton, N. Y., his home. His first taste of politics ne received nearly six years ago, when given the second place on the Democratic ticket with Hill. Jones was regarded as a good deal of a joke then, because he was an unpretentious sort of fellow, I suppose, and dealt with farmers. He was a scale manufacturer and did big dent and secretary of the board were authorized to issue the certificates of purchase, and the attorney was directed to begin proceedings to acquire the remainder by condemnation. The enlargement will not cost, it is figured, more than $100,000. By the certificates of purchase pian, none of this will have to be paid out of the park board's fund except the $15,000 for condemned land. The East side boulevard matter came up for discussion. The special committee which has charge of this matter has not yet secured expressions of opinion from East side property owners and the citizens' committee also desires to come to an understanding with the regents of the university, who claim to own a part of the road which it is intended to use for boulevard purposes. The special committee will meet next Thursday morning at 9 o'clock at Eleventh avenue southeast and University avenue to look over the land and to take with interested property owners.

A change was made in the date of park board meetings. Several of the members find it inconvenient to art nd on Saturday. For their accommodation the board will meet he.e. ft rounded the county officials. The board is now in good financial condition, though with not any too much

There is a cigar-shaped gas bag made of the lightest silk. From it is suspended a paper car. At the rear is a miniature electric motor which works fans to propel the thing. The whole business doesn't weigh ten pounds. It is called a working model, and it works. The propeller I spoke of moves the ship, and a string tied to it keeps traveling in a circle. That's all there is to it. It's just a big toy balloon. But then I'm a skeptic in the matter of air ships. Now, that model of Pennington's, which doesn't weigh, as I said, ten pounds, and doesn't support any weight to speak of, is about twelve feet long. A ship capable of carrying much weight would have to be, it seems to me, several hundred feet long and built proportionately. How are you going to manage a hig contrigue. proportionately. How are you going to manage a big contrivance like that in the face of strong air currents?"

And the drummer wandered away, lost in meditation on his recklessness in squandering the price of five beers. T. A. Mr. Cotharin has had considerable experience as a club starter, having started ten in the past four years, and the selection of "Lotos" for a name is quite appropriate, as the word is symbolic of creation.
