

MINNEAPOLIS.

AMUSEMENTS.

"One of the Bravest" was presented to the usual audiences, both as to size and enthusiasm, at the Bijou yesterday afternoon and evening. This play, in which realism is the strong feature, was seen here last season. It has been improved considerably since and brightened by the introduction of specialties, most of which are well acted. Charles McCarthy, in the star part, is ably supported by Miss Jennie Kirby as Mrs. John Heath. Fannie Bradford, as Rosie Crocchi, and Wilburte part, is pleasing. The whole in Cronin as Mrs. Crocchi is not disappointing by any means. All the other characters are in good line, and the scene, with the introduction of real realism, fire and all the other extras, is a hit. That pleasing party, Lottie Wade's musical company, are drawing nicely the "Pence." Several new artists will appear to-night, and nearly every body will introduce new specialties. They were a most pleasing performance.

MINNEAPOLIS GLOBULES.

Work on the south side market is progressing rapidly with a crew of about 125 men. Dr. J. H. Sandberg has received the government appointment to make a collection of the Minnesota. Sheriff Swanson, having Charles Benson, the Swedish Bank, Minneapolis, in charge, left for the north, and will arrive here this morning. Gen. J. W. Bishop, Gen. J. F. Hubbard and Gen. J. W. Bishop, Gen. J. F. Hubbard were appointed a committee to draw up a report on the duties of the Van Cleve, and report at the next meeting.

A branch postoffice, to be known as Northrup, has been opened in the store of J. W. Van Cleve, at the corner of Third and Hennepin streets. The new postoffice is a commodious and well equipped one, and is situated in a building which is a fine specimen of modern architecture. MINNEAPOLIS EVENTS.

Rev. S. W. Sample's Advice on the Public School Question.

Rev. S. W. Sample's discourse before the people's meeting at Century hall yesterday, and he handled his subject in a spirited manner and was a number of times the recipient of applause. Too much should not be expected of a teacher, said he, nor should too much be expected of the public school. The home and the street are educators of themselves, and the education of children is in a great measure guided by that which they receive in these places. He paid a tribute to the teachers, and said that the value of the school and the teacher was underestimated. There is not, said he, a more thoughtful, hard working and painstaking class of people than the teachers of the public schools. Teachers should be paid better salaries than the scant and meager ones which they now receive. It is the duty of the public to find a more remunerative position, or until they get married. This should not be done until a child learns to read and write. A child under fourteen years of age, he said, should not be taken to the city hall to obtain a free ticket to the city hall. Sneak Thief Skipped.

Sneak thief skipped. Officer Charles Hellrich yesterday morning arrested a sneak thief who was putting in his time ransacking the trunks belonging to a number of minor house renter girls. In some manner he had gained access to the trunks while they were busy serving breakfast, and while going through one of the trunks, he was observed by a bell boy, who gave the alarm. The thief started to escape, but was captured by one of the employees of the hotel, who detained him until Officer Hellrich was called. The thief is said to be a recent arrival in town, but he is evidently a well known character, who has been arrested on several occasions. He will be arraigned to-day.

Miss Caven Dead.

Miss Caven dead. Miss Kittie Caven, a niece of George Caven, night editor of the Tribune, died yesterday morning at Oscoda, Iowa, of a complication of diseases. She was twenty-three years of age, and was married to a man who had had numerous friends. Miss Caven died last night for love.

Found the plunderer. Another of the plants secreted by the notorious Ed Foster, who is now languishing in disgrace, was being hidden in a box by a jury of his peers, was arrested yesterday by the police. The box contained a stock of beads and was found planted in a box at a Fourth avenue north. This stock of beads was valued at about $500, and was returned to its owner about three weeks ago.

Decidedly a reaction against clubs organizations, bands and societies has set in for the little woman who, a year ago, wanted to rise and soar. She is beginning to see that clubs may become a source of bruises to the tender feminine mind and spirit. And she has found out that constitutions are perplexing and bothersome unless they pertain to the welfare of the family. By-laws are becoming a weariness and parliamentary usages bad form.

Some two weeks ago H. Elton M. Kinley, a relative of the tariff bill framer, disappeared from the residence of Dr. E. S. Velley, in whose family he has been heard from him. Last February he came into possession of considerable money, and his disappearance at that time caused some uneasiness. Some of his friends think he is off having a good time and will turn up all right. He will give up his position as a clerk, and will live in Dakota, is greatly to be regretted. He has gone to superior Friday but failed to take his trunk. The fact that he left his clothing behind troubles his relatives.

THE NEW DESIGN IS THIS.

The new design is this. A large, perfectly clear, somewhat flat diamond is selected, and underneath it is placed the likeness of the dearest boy on earth. Around the face, as it appears, are four tiny emeralds, the choice of stones to surround the diamonds is purely arbitrary. Just now emeralds are chosen because they are dearer than turquoise, pearls or any other gems save diamonds themselves. To cut even out of these, and to their reckless and lavish expenditure, and also to carry out the law that regulates the general fitness and equality of things, the young man and woman have come in again with all the vengeance with which the spring season is wont to equalize the help of others. It was found upon investigation that the tank must be emptied daily to avoid dampness in the house above and that the filling of the tank must cost $80, making a grand total of about $200 per week, which Mr. Huntington would owe for water taxes. But not an instant did the gentlemen hesitate. Mr. Huntington desired a tank for bathing purposes. In the language of the street money was not a consideration. He had a right to public sympathy when a bill seems so exorbitant to his generous wife, who is willing to refuse to be imposed upon?

WHY SPARE THE WICKED.

Why spare the wicked. Rev. Dr. D. J. Burrell preaches upon the forbearance of God. At Westminster church last evening Rev. Dr. D. J. Burrell spoke upon the forbearance of God. He took for his text: "God will not slack concerning his promise, but is long suffering to reward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance." 2 Peter, 3:9. The speaker said: "Here is a problem that presents itself to every thoughtful mind. If there is a God, why does he permit defiant sinners to breath his air, live upon his bounty, and continue in their sin? Why does he not sweep out His thunderbolts and destroy them?"

He was disarmed in the scuffle, but not one had been cut in the hand. He then tried to pound Jeffrey and succeeded in knocking out two teeth and cutting the latter's lip. He attempted the same upon Officer Tom Russell, but the latter's revolver brought about peace.
