

SAINT PAUL.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

A men's meeting will be held to-night in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, Lowry arcade, at 8 o'clock. Short talks by young men and good music.

A young man named Harry Trudell was arrested yesterday by Detective Reichenow, as he is wanted in Minneapolis for horse stealing.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock, on Klinton street, will take place the reception of the boys' sports. A splendid programme has been arranged.

Collector of Customs Edwards, accompanied by Miss Lewis, will leave for a six days' vacation at Eastern water resorts.

On Wednesday evening next Bishop Gilbert will give an address on "Democracy and Socialism" in the First Congregational church, Minneapolis.

Monday the board of public works will let contracts for grading, widening, and paving Broadway, Randolph street, and for paving Bedford street.

The salaries of the school teachers for the month of June will be paid by the city treasurer to-day at his office between the hours of 1 and 3 in the afternoon.

The war on vagrants is still being carried on, and yesterday seven lattered criminals were arrested by the police court and ordered to leave the city.

The body of the boy found in the river Thursday has been identified as that of Freddy Annunzio, of Minneapolis. The body was thrown in the river last Monday. The body was taken to Belle Plume by the boy's father.

The case against Belle Stuar-Lewis, "Sheeney Annie," alias Annie Robinson, who is charged with procuring young girls for immoral purposes, was continued in the police court yesterday morning. The hearing will be held at 10 o'clock.

The assembly committee on printing and taxes met last evening, and decided to report favorably upon the resolution passed by the board of aldermen, awarding the contract for the city job printing to James H. Curtis. The committee fixed the amount of bonds at the sum of $2,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Valesa returned from their bridal tour yesterday and have taken up their residence at 562 Fuller street. A large majority of the guests were present at a lecturing tour of the Southwestern states under the auspices of the national Farmers Alliance.

The board of public works held a meeting yesterday afternoon for the purpose of considering the question of widening Eighth street from Washington to Grove streets. A large majority of the board were in favor of the widening, and the board decided to report adversely to the common council.

Montana cattle have begun to appear in the market. Fifteen carloads arrived at the South St. Paul stockyards last evening—the first arrivals of the season. They were consigned to Enoch, Simon & Co., St. Paul, and the wife will begin to look for cheaper beef in a few days in consequence of grass-fed cattle coming into market.

The old postoffice at the capitol has been cleaned out and remodelled to meet the requirements of the boiler inspector's department. The remainder of the office formerly occupied by this department, most of which was absorbed by the enlargement of the vault this spring, has been converted into a postoffice, and Postmaster Irvine holds forth there with all his old-time dignity.

The attention of the fish commissioners has been called to the fact that a great many fish have been found dead, floating on the water in lakes near St. Paul, especially Kohlman, Forest and Flicker lakes. A great many bass and other fine fish have been found dead. Some hold to the theory that there is a disease among the fish, while others think they may have been poisoned.

An investigation as to the cause will be had. An excellent music will be heard at the Grand opera house each evening. Mr. Lieman will sing "The South Southern Breeze." An instrumental trio on violin, "cello, and piano will be given by Mr. Milch, Mr. Straka and Mrs. Heitzmann. The program being the "Adagio Religioso." Mr. Straka will play a selection of his own composition on the violin, and the program will be "Romance" of Sivioli on the cello. Mr. Yall will preach on the question, "How Will the Coming Orthodox Preacher Tell the Story of Jesus?"

Labor Commissioner Powers has sent a communication to every weekly and daily newspaper in the state as follows: "The department desires to secure the most complete and complete chronological exhibit of events occurring in this state that directly or indirectly relate to the subject of labor. We propose to prepare a book for the year 1914, and we will furnish you the same by the year in case we find that we can permanently make it of use to this office."

Money to Loan. On good security at the State Savings Bank, Germania Life Building, and Minnesota streets. No commission charged.

CULLED FROM THE COURTS. The Powers Dry Goods company has sued Aaron Mark to recover $2,000 for goods sold. The trial of Ismael Dyer on the charge of forgery will begin in Judge Egan's court Monday.

The personal injury case of Frank Kiefer against the Northern Pacific Railway company went to the jury last evening. Judge Olivier, of the probate court, heard the proofs yesterday in the claim of E. M. Kuly against the estate of E. M. Barrett.

The action of Andrew R. Kiefer, as receiver of Charles Fisher, against the Scott county bank to obtain a judgment was heard by Judge Jera.

Judge Brill had a jury trying the suit of Leon Roth, as administrator, etc., against William Dawson, on the charge of the death of Eva Roth by the carrying in of a sand bank on Dawson's premises.

Judge Otis has filed an order in the suit brought by Fannie Johnson, now known as Fannie Sobie, against Warren Aronson, and others to quiet title to real estate. It is decided that Alfred J. Aronson is the owner in fee of an undivided two twenty-fifts of the property described in the complaint, and is entitled to a life estate in the whole property from the death of Samuel C. Aronson. Fannie Sobie is the owner of the life estate, and the title is declared to be quieted in her and Alfred J. Aronson, accordingly.

Judge Otis has filed an order in the mechanic's lien case of D. M. Finlayson & Co. against Sverke O. Johnson and others, in which a number of liens are declared against lot 2, block 3, of Forspurg division, which was contracted to be sold by J. L. Forspurg to Johnson. The plaintiff has a lien for $125. Other liens are as follows: John J. Biebig, hauser, $61.75; Charles S. Rogers and Lucius P. Ordway, $165; John J. Anderson, $165; Julius Bjornstad and Peter Omdahl, $564.67; B. F. Krafft & Co., $102.50; B. F. Krafft, assignee of Charles Dahlquist, $1,650; Peter D. Johnson has no lien. The mortgage of Dennis L. Peck is a third lien for the sum of $2,572. The mortgage of Joseph J. Forspurg is a fourth lien in the sum of $300. James F. Tostevin and William R. Tostevin give a lien for $5,000. The lot is ordered sold by the sheriff to satisfy these liens.

WATERMAN'S CASE.

Judge Egan Considers a Motion to Dismiss.

The trial of Charles Waterman, the East Third street liquor dealer, upon an indictment for permitting games of cards to be played in a room where intoxicating drinks are sold, began yesterday before Judge Egan and the following jury: Henry E. W. Schutte, Hermann Schroeder, Charles E. Searling, August H. Schlick, Henry T. Satter, Philip J. Schwan, and Edward H. A. Davis, Dan Baker, F. G. Warner, H. R. Greenough and Louis C. Schlerman.

After the introduction of some of the testimony it appeared that cards had been played in an adjoining room, and not in the bar room, as charged in the indictment, and as prohibited by law. Judge Egan took exception to the testimony, and ruled that the jury should consider the point, and the further trial went over until Monday morning.
