

SHOT AT HIS BEDSIDE

The Divorced Wife of a Nicotlet Man Shoots Him Through the Head.

She Conceals Herself in a Closet Just Off Her Ex-Spouse's Bedroom.

He Turns Up After Midnight With a Woman of the Town.

And the Infuriated Woman Pops Out and Sends Him Across the Styx.

Special to the Globe. NICOLET, Minn., Aug. 22.—Jealousy or insanity, or perhaps both, led to the commission of a murder here at an early hour this morning, which has caused a sensation not only in the village, but throughout the surrounding country. About 2 o'clock a pistol shot in the residence of John W. Miller, a well-to-do saloonkeeper, followed by the screams of a woman, aroused the people of the town. A visit to the residence of Miller, over the saloon, revealed a terrible sight. At the side of the bed lay the prostrate body of Miller with the blood oozing out of a ghastly hole nearly in the center of his forehead, while near by stood his divorced wife with a revolver still in her hand. Investigation showed that at the time the first shot was fired the room had contained three occupants.

Mr. Miller, his former wife, who was secreted in the closet, and Miss Alvin Schell, a woman of rather questionable character. Some six weeks ago Mrs. Miller obtained a divorce from her husband on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment, since which time they have not been living together, she residing in town, while he retained his old residence over his place of business. Last evening it seems that Mrs. Miller in some way effected an entrance into Miller's bedroom and waited there with a loaded revolver until he entered the room with Miss Schell.

Miller Disrobed Himself and was about to get into bed when the now maddened ex-wife burst open the closet door and fired the fatal shot. Quickly as a flash she pointed the revolver at Miss Schell, burning her badly, but doing no other serious harm. The injured woman hastily fled. Mrs. Miller was taken into custody and is being pending the coroner's inquest. For a long time Mrs. Miller has been considered insane, and several examinations have been made as to her sanity during the last two years. She has long been insanely jealous of Miller, and would sit in his saloon and watch him day after day. Since the decree of divorce was granted she had frequently threatened to kill Miller, and to-day carried her threat into execution.

A LYNCHING BEE

May Mark the Capture of the Ohio Bank Robber. COLEBURN GROVE, O., Aug. 22.—The bank robber and murderer, so well advertised without a name, is in the clutches of the law, but may be lynched before morning. His name is James Roberts. In answer to a telegram from New Washington, received here Thursday evening, Maj. Bagley and Det. Weaver went to that place to identify a suspect who was being shadowed. Weaver recognized the man on sight and an hour later he was arrested by the marshal of New Washington and locked up in the town prison. After the arrest a telegram was sent here requesting several people to come on and if possible identify him. Maple, the wounded cashier, Crawford, the man from whom the revolvers were obtained, and eight others arrived at New Washington at noon to-day. One by one they were admitted to his presence and each identified him as the author of "the terrible crime. Roberts retained a complete possession of his facial expression and uttered no unguarded word, and since his arrest he has maintained a stolid indifference, even as to why he had been locked up. A special from New Washington at a late hour tonight says a mob of 50 or 100 strangers is in town, making preparations to lynch Roberts. The crowd of avengers is composed of residents of Columbus Grove and vicinity, neighbors and friends of the victim of the desperado. The officials of New Washington are trying to keep the mob away either to Bucyrus or this city, either of which places can furnish ample protection.

AN OLD CRIMINAL

"Almy" Turns Out to Be an Escapee Convict.

HANOVER, N. H., Aug. 22.—It has been established beyond doubt that Francis C. Almy is the man George H. Abbott, who escaped from the state prison at Windsor, Vt., about six years ago. Warden Oakes and two guards from Windsor this morning positively identified him as the man sentenced. Abbott is known as an expert burglar and a desperate criminal. His age would be just about that of Almy. When he escaped from prison a reward of $500 was offered for his capture, but he has never been seen while in the state. At the time of his escape he was serving a sentence of fifteen years, having been convicted on nine different indictments for breaking and entering a house, to which he pleaded guilty in January, 1881. When Abbott was arrested in 1882 he was the ringleader of a gang of burglars who operated in the towns up and down the Connecticut river. In December, 1880, he was captured by the police at Ely station. He made a desperate and determined resistance and received different bullet wounds before he surrendered. Four days after he escaped from his captors, and ran over a mile and a half with nothing on but his night shirt and a bedspread, and entered a house in a town, where he hid for several days. He concealed himself in a railroad cut, but was soon found.

A MAD MILLINER

Negro Street Masher Gets a Killing Shot.

BARSTOWN, Ky., Aug. 22.—Miss Josie Bent, a milliner and highly respectable young lady, shot and fatally injured William Hamilton, a negro, at 7 o'clock this morning. Hamilton had been following Miss Bent for several mornings while on her way to her place of employment, and on yesterday morning made an indecent proposal to her. To-day, while Hamilton was sweeping a sidewalk on the main business street, Miss Bent passed, and entering a store, secured a revolver. She approached Hamilton, took deliberate aim and fired. Miss Bent was arrested and released on bail.

The Continued Bonds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Secretary Foster said this morning that the department proposed to redeem on presentation after Sept. 2 all outstanding 4 1/2 per cent bonds not continued at 2 per cent, and that there is no ground whatever for the impression prevailing in some quarters that interest will continue to be paid after Sept. 2 on the non-extended bonds. The amount of 4 1/2 per cent bonds continued at 2 per cent to date is $20,584,150.

Bermuda Conquers the Great Rey Del Rey--Other Winning Nags.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—The mighty East was humbled to the dust to-day before a Western rabble of 30,000. Kingston, probably the greatest race horse on the turf, and Hamilton, said to be the cleverest racer in America, paced the more proudly past the grand stand at Garfield Park this afternoon than if monarchs by right divine. Horse and jockey seemed to feel it an absurdity that so many people appeared to believe a real contest possible, with New York's opponents three plebeian mounts from the wrong side of the Atlantic. Leghans, swung out on an iron book, came to the course at the judges' stand. There were three in the sun a silken purse, containing a paper for $10,000 at any bank in Chicago. The pretty prize had been hung up by the Garfield Park club to reward the best runner in training for a battle royal on the ground that in years gone by witnessed the greatest performances of Goldsmith Maid, Maud S and others scarcely less classic. It had been arranged that the famous Chicago away-back team should uphold the honors for the city, and much regret was expressed to-day that Tenny's temporary ban from the venue had been carried out. Nevertheless...

A Remarkable Contest, it was conceded, would of necessity ensue, with Kingston, known to be in splendid condition, being chased by the Kansas City crack, Virge d'Or, the California braker, Aloha, and the fresh Kentucky beauty, Marion C. Before the race began the three Western horses, one by one, and unrecognized by the crowd, were given a warning, up, ridden apparently by slouchy-looking, but capable stable boys. A little while they came out again, this time bearing their brightly uniformed jockeys. Aloha looked fine and strong, but Virge d'Or appeared half asleep. Marion C's sides looked like a pair of iron plates. "Daredevil" Fitzpatrick on her back, she slipped past the admiring thousands on her way to the starting line. Kingston came up alone in the opposite direction from the others, and his imperious bearing and the confident demeanor of the supposedly invincible home-bred boy in the saddle caused instant and wide-spread comment. The determined look of Fitzpatrick's grim white face, in striking contrast to Hamilton's scornful ebony features, was noticed by all watching the placid in his preliminary parade. Virge d'Or was the popular favorite, though all, even Kingston, was generously cheered.

St. Albans, 2 to 3; Marion C, 1 to 1; Fitzpatrick, 1 to 1; Virge d'Or, 1 to 1; Aloha, 1 to 1; Sloan, 30 to 1. A splendid send-off. There was no delay at the start, the horses moving in perfect alignment past the grand stand. The red flag descended, and the great throng cried: "They're off!" The horses were in front with others nicely bunched. Passing the stand Kentucky's pride was half a length before Aloha, who was laid away under a heavy pull. A cloud of dust obscured the racers when the turn was made, and when straightened down the back stretch, Overton sent Virge d'Or forward, and leading Aloha by a half length, Kingston and Marion C held and head close in the rear. As the horses thundered down the backstretch, Hamilton let out a link and galloped in badly beaten. Up to the leaders, making the turn for home Aloha's nose peeped in front of Virge d'Or, with Kingston half a length ahead, lapped by Marion C. Fitzpatrick on the latter, now began to ride for dear life, and inch by inch the great mare worked to the front, and at the last a long pole was a head before Aloha, Virge d'Or dropping back beaten. No prettier race was ever run. All were closely together clear around the entering the stretch. So close and swiftly did they come that the eye could scarcely follow. An instant before the big Kentucky mare, with the dashing Irishman mastering her, was seen to leave the mastery. Whipping and spurting they came, but in vain. Hamilton rode Kingston furiously, but and hand pressed the Kentuckian passed under the wire winner by a clean, open length from Kingston. Aloha, who was a surprisingly good race, was third, a length and a half away, while Virge d'Or galloped in badly beaten. The time was 1:55, and by fractions as follows: Quarter, 35; half, 1:10; three-quarters, 1:17; mile, 1:42. Such a volume of cheer and applause as entered the stretch. the black pacer Direct, driven by George Starr, to beat his record of 3:11 1/2, made last Monday. Pacing very fast, he shot past the quarter in 32 sec. Along the back stretch the pace did not diminish and he made the half in 1:04, and three-quarters without a break in 1:37 1/2. While he did not falter as he entered the stretch he showed no burst of speed and came under the wire in 2:10 1/2. He had broken his record by a second, but many good judges remarked that he would have had no match for Hal Pointer in the stretch. The handsome two-year-old colt, Monbars, driven by Budd Doble, was then brought out to make an attempt to lower his record of 2:25 1/2, which he obtained yesterday. Without a skip or a break, and trotting like a veteran, he accomplished the feat, crossing the wire in 2:21 1/2, beating his own record by a second and three-quarters. During the afternoon Lithgow paced a mile for a record in 2:24, and Abram, a son of Goldmar and Mary Mambrun, obtained a record of 2:25. The following are the summaries: Unfinished 2:30 trotting, purse $1,000, mile heats, three in five—Plickmann, 1 to 1; Charlestown, 1 to 1; New York Central, 3 to 1; Lady Belle, 4 to 1; Lohso, 4 to 1; Coble, 7 to 1; Mrs. H. 15 to 1; Kluch colt, 108, 30 to 1; Coronet, 105, 100 to 1; Crochet, 111, 12 to 1. St. Florian, closely attended by Crochet, King Cadmus and His Highness, showed the way to the half, where Bergen began to ride His Highness. The latter responded gamely, and stride by stride gained on St. Florian. A furlong from the finish His Highness was on even terms with St. Florian. When Littlefield called on the latter he answered the call but swerved, nearly knocking His Highness off his feet. The latter quickly recovered and won, while St. Florian beat Tammany for the place. Time, 1:12. Third race, the choice stakes, mile and a half—Starters: Bermuda, 117, 7 to 5; Rey del Rey, 117, 4 to 5; Peter, 114, 7 to 1; Rockell, 117, 5 to 1. Peter started out to make the running for his stable companion, and set a good pace up to the back stretch into the three-quarters, where Bermuda took second place from Rockell. As they climbed the hill Bermuda closed on Peter, and entering the stretch, showed in front. Then Murphy got to work on Rey del Rey, but he could not catch Bermuda, who won by a length, while Rey del Rey beat Peter two lengths for the place. Time, 2:35 1/2. Fourth race, mile and a quarter—Starters: Stockton, 114, 2 to 1; Banquet, 115, 3 to 1; Frontage, 111, 10 to 1; Terrier, 110, 7 to 1; Rock, 110, 7 to 1; Kingmaker, 108, 15 to 1; Kinsman, 97, 8 to 1; Rover, 88, 10 to 1.
