antly Renews Its Social Series.

The situation in the harvest fields of North Dakota is sufficiently serious to be interesting. Something must be done to get the wonderful wheat yield of that section threshed out, and as yet it has not been done. The crops were so exceptionally large that all harvesting arrangements were inadequate, and hundreds of farmers now find themselves with their wheat stacked all over their broad acres, unable to get men and machines to thresh it. The railroads are alive to the situation, and are offering special inducements to threshers to go up to North Dakota. The Great Northern last night issued an offer good for any point on their line east of Church Ferry and North of Hope. It will carry the threshing outfit at a nominal rate, and will transport five men free with every outfit for the round trip.

The phenomenal yield in the North Dakota belt really passes comprehension. Not only is the yield so large, but the quality is in proportion, and it takes five men this year to handle the same number of bushels that three men could manage last crop. The six Red River valley counties of North Dakota this year a wheat acreage of 1,000,000 acres and the yield is not less than 35,000,000 bushels of wheat alone. There are dozens of instances of average yields of forty to forty-five bushels to the acre on thousand-acre farms. The result has been to pile up an enormous quantity of wheat that has not yet been threshed. There is at least two months' work in threshing, and railway men say outfits are coming all the way from Indiana and Illinois to do the work at profitable prices.

MERRIAM'S MAHOAGANY.

The Governor's Dejeuner to Miss Field—Mrs. Howe Will Come—Social.

Gov. and Mrs. Merriam invited a number of prominent St. Paul society men and women to meet Miss Kate Field, of Washington, D. C., at dinner last evening. The guests were exquisitely appointed, and covers were laid for fourteen. The guests, beside Miss Field, were ex-Gov. Ramsey, Mrs. Furness, Judge Flannery, Mr. and Mrs. Hill, Miss Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Tarbox, C. W. Dunn, Mrs. Frost and Ambrose Tighe. Miss Field, with a graceful and deal of justifiable pride, a handsome decoration in the form of a badge, which was presented her by Utah people in recognition of her services in aiding the passage of the Edmunds anti-polygamy bill.

One of the prettiest affairs of the season was a dainty lunch given by Mrs. J. Hill in honor of Miss Kate Field yesterday at half past 11. Miss Field came over from Minneapolis in the morning, and spent the forenoon driving about the city with Mrs. Merriam.

Master Ned Noble entertained the choir boys of St. Paul's church at the Valley street house of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Thursday evening. The party was very jolly one, and is considered a great success among children's parties. Master Noble's guests were Misses Susan Lenhart, May Lenhart, Charlotte Kirby, Susan Kirby, Mabel Bird, Clara Anderson, Lillian Hunt, Lou Hunt, Annie Hunt, Carrie Davis, Edie Gooding, Josie Cumby, Fay Martin, Nellie Grant, Nellie Van Duzee, Lena Van Duzee, Mabel Griffin, Gertrude Jones, Gertrude Noble, Maggie Noble, Masters Albert Arrive, Albert Watson, John Watson, Frank Fish, Henry Grant, Walter Huntington, Gus Madison, Jack Hober, Young, James Gooding, Charles Griffin, Arthur Cumby, Howard Yapp, Roy Marsden, Cecil Yapp, Harry Griffin, Burrows Kirby, Alfred Young, Charles Hart, Willie Bekke.

An event of more than usual importance to the women of the Northwest will be a supplementary meeting of the women's congress, which annual session is held at Grand Rapids, Mich. Oct. 14, 15 and 16. Mrs. Anna Ward Howe is president of the society, and has accepted an invitation to address the committee of St. Paul ladies to hold a meeting here after the adjournment of the Grand Rapids session. Several noted women will be present, and will read papers, and although none of the details have as yet been arranged, the meeting will be one of great pleasure and profit to Minnesota women.

The first ball given by the Amity circle occurred Tuesday evening. Notwithstanding the oppressive heat, there was large and fashionable gathering of the West side society. It is one of the oldest clubs in the city and its balls are always a brilliant success. They will occur at short intervals during the season. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Geisler, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Sitts, Mr. and Mrs. E. Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Heath, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hembach, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rodecker, Mr. and Mrs. H. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Iverson, Mr. and Mrs. Mulvihill, Mr. and Mrs. H. Henderson, Mrs. J. S. Berland, Mrs. Black, De Bryne, Dubord, Bess, Carroll, Alley, Schlick, Quinn, Hartigan, and Mrs. Duer, Meyer, Mullin, Herman, Kimball, Tierney, Sternberg, Lawton, Burke, Petry, and Mrs. Berland, Gorman, Dorin, Halahan, Dr. Hawkins, Carroll, Dr. Olsson, Martin, Berland, Henderson and many others.

Miss Edna E. Slocum, daughter of Mrs. C. Slocum, last night departed for New Westminster, B. C., on a visit. She will be absent a year.

Miss Gertrude Hall has gone to Germany to study instrumental music. She is at present in Cologne.

Mrs. J. H. Linden, of 901 Beech street, is visiting friends in Madison, Wis.

SOCIAL SCOTS.

St. Andrew's Society Pleasantly
Renews Its Monthly Entertainment.

The canny Scottish lads and lassies of that very popular social organization St. Andrew's society have inaugurated their monthly entertainments for the fall and winter seasons. The entertainments given in the past year by these people have been the most enjoyable given in the city. The initial entertainment was given last night at Westoverland hall, and it indicates a superlative success. The programme was attractive in its features of song and recitation, to say nothing of the series of dances that took up the time of the young folks in the hours preceding and following midnight. President William Rodger was in the chair. The following regular programme, with the addition of a number of special parts in response to encores, was presented:

Song—"Angus McDonald".....Mrs. Morrison
Duet—"Very Suspicious".....Miss Beag and J. C. Myron.
Recitation—Selected.....Miss Robinson
Song—"Tell Her I Love Her".....J. E. McCaffrey
Violin solo—Selected.....Miss Lila Taylor
Song—"Afon Water".....Mrs. Allen Brown
Quartette—"Kerry Dance".....Hoo Doo Quartette

Song—"My Nannie's Awa".....J. C. Myron Song and Dances in Character—"Fin-gus and the Fish".....Mrs. McDonald
Song—"The Capture of Balaclava".....J. E. Chisholm
Miss Lake, accompanist.

The several committees that gave attention to every detail were made up as follows:
Reception Committee—W. F. Myron, Allen Brown, John Grant, William Maxwell, W. S. McDonald.
Refreshment Committee—Mrs. Allen Brown, Mrs. J. C. Myron, Mrs. W. Rodger, Mrs. W. S. McDonald, Miss Adamson.
Floor Managers—John Grant, J. C. Myron, J. D. Roberts.
Door Committee—William Maxwell, W. L. Houston.

The printed programme bore the following timely sentiment:
Gin ye wad hae oor native tongue,
In a' its freshness, sangs weel sung,
See how success trippin' o'er our rooms,
Gang sae a nicht wi' Scotia's loons.

Bernhardt plays La Tosca, Fedora and Theodora. Sale of seats Monday.

CAUGHT AND CONDENSED.

r Life was yesterday morning living from a point of temperature.
Chief Police Inspector Clark was in Anoka yesterday on official business.

During the month of August the state received $1,446 for stone sold from the state repository at St. Cloud.

Scarlet fever cases at 169 Forbes street, 545 Laurel avenue, and diphtheria at 1899 Itasca street, were reported at the health office yesterday.

The day salaries of the school janitors, mechanics and laborers, amounting to $8,127.37, will be paid to-day by the city treasurer.

Mrs. Bessie Appenwald, the materializing medium, will lecture for the Progressives at Spiritualists Sunday evening in Odd Fellows hall.

To-night Dr. S. G. Smith will lecture on Westminster Abbey, giving the results of his recent visit, when he was shown special courtesies by Dean Farrar.

John Joyce, who beat his wife with a club last Monday evening, was yesterday sentenced to ninety days in the workhouse by Judge Twombly, of the municipal court.

A baby one month old was found yesterday morning on the steps of the residence of R. F. Fargo, of Merriam Park. The deserted child was taken to the foundling ward at the city hospital.

Carl Anderson, a section hand in the Northern Pacific yards, aged twenty-two years, was run down by a switch engine yesterday, losing a leg. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital.

Richard Fuland, for attempting to reclaim a lost cow by going to a neighbor's house with a shot gun, was bound over in the municipal court yesterday in the sum of $500 to keep the peace.

Frank Walter, for keeping a vicious dog and refusing to give it up to the police for destruction, was fined $25 in municipal court yesterday, the fine being suspended to allow Walter to give up the animal to the police.

The Pious Stock company played to a great big, enthusiastic audience last night. They will give a matinee and evening performance to-day at "Geoffrey Middleton, Gentlemen" at the Metropolitan, which will complete its engagement in this city.

Through the adjutant general it was announced yesterday that pensions have been granted as follows: To John Knosser, of Glenwood, $12 a month; John McLaughlin, of Delmar, $17; James M. Turman, of Hutchinson, $10; and S. S. Stevens, of Concord, $8 a month.

People's church, Pleasant avenue, near West Third street, at 10:30 a. m., Dr. Smith will speak on the question, "Does the Human soul Have Its Probation in This World?" at 8 p. m., on "Some Moral Forms of Co-Operation." Mr. Baldwin's organ recital at 7 p. m. All seats free.

George Bassell and William Fendell were charged in the municipal court yesterday with stealing wearing apparel from the residence of J. W. Harrod, on Platen avenue. Fendell was discharged on the motion of Assistant County Attorney Butler, and Bassell will be tried to-day.

Hon. J. J. Hogan, of La Crosse, speaker of the Wisconsin house of representatives, was in the city last night, the guest of Thomas Foley. Mr. Hogan is an enthusiastic Democrat, and he predicts Fowler's victory in New York, and in his candidacy Mr. Hogan sees a union of all New York state factions for the common end.

Dr. Edward P. Ingerson, D. D., of Brooklyn, N. Y., is expected to preach to-morrow, both morning and evening, at Park Congregational church, corner Holy avenue and Macabine street. Dr. Ingerson has been settled in Brooklyn sixteen years as pastor of one of its strong churches, and is widely known as one of the ablest men in the Congregational denomination.

John Andrews was charged in the municipal court yesterday with having assaulted John Smith on Sept. 22. Andrews had been sleeping in a barn belonging to Smith, who objected to giving him free lodging. Andrews was armed with a knife and revolver, and made serious threats to do up his unwilling landlord, who engaged a two-round contest. Judge Twombly said that Andrews desired room free he would give him an order to be accommodated for thirty days at the city's expense.

Hon. P. H. Kelly was yesterday the purchaser of a box for the Elks' benefit. Replies from the invitations sent to Minneapolis and Duluth lodges, asking them to be present and join in a parade on the day of the benefit, were received yesterday, and both lodges gave their St. Paul brethren the assurance that they would be well represented on the occasion. The committee is working vigorously, and present indications are that a better result will be secured than any of the kind ever given here, while, judging by the way in which tickets are going, the Grand will have the standing room sign out at 9 o'clock the doors are open.

Sara Bernhardt in St. Paul next Friday and Saturday. Seat sale Monday.

Special Train.

On Sunday, Sept. 27th, the St. Paul & Duluth railroad will run a special train from St. Paul to Taylor's Falls and return, leaving union depot, St. Paul, at 9 a. m., and returning, arriving in St. Paul at 5:30 p. m.

STRUCK A MEDIUM.

A Compromise Agreed Upon
in the Pay of the School Janitors.

And the Board May Raise Salaries Where It Deems Proper.

Janitors Who Drive About Like Capitalists Without Cares.

The Board Is Not Under Obligation, Thank You, to the Council.

The janitors of the public schools now know about what to expect in the way of compensation. A schedule was passed at a special meeting of the board of education yesterday. It is a compromise, striking generally a medium between that of last year and that adopted by the new board some time ago. The schedule adopted yesterday does not change the salaries of janitors of the smaller schools, but makes a general reduction from the salary list of last year. The attempt was to systematize matters with a view to the regular amount of work entailed.

The matter came before the board from the committee on fuel and janitors. Inspector Pyle moved to consider the schedule in detail, and he spoke at length upon the motion. He wanted to take such action because he considered it the proper basis for arriving at a fair solution of the problem of equity. There are two points that should be mentioned before definite action is taken, he urged. One is in his judgment consistent with the dignity of the board to answer any of the reflections upon it made by certain persons, but he would like to say what is a fact, that the board entertains high respect and esteem for the assembly of the city council as a body, and that he declines to hold the assembly responsible for the vapors and utterances of a member who secured his position by accident. The assembly is no more responsible as a body, the inspector declared withunction, than a person is responsible for a bolt that attacks and affects his body, and Mr. Pyle had always been told that the proper method of treating a bolt is to wash and cleanse it. He accounted his address by assuring that the statements that have been made public and repeatedly reiterated and reiterated that the board had positively promised to raise the salaries of the school janitors if the council would pass the disputed pay rolls. Mr. Pyle denied in emphatic language that the board of education had ever extended any such inducement, and declared the proposition had never been discussed by the board. What the board had said was that it was the disposition to do justice by the janitors.

Inspector Auerbach opposed the motion to consider the report in detail. He saw no reason for the step, and he was ready to vote for the adoption of the schedule as it came from the committee.

Dr. Smith inquired if the committee had made a careful and competent comparison of the new schedule with the one that was in vogue under the regime of the old board, and he attached some importance to a system of grading salaries in the schools upon business principles. The janitors should be paid as much for their services as they would be paid for like requirements. Training and experience in private capacities, if all this had been done, he favored Mr. Auerbach's motion to adopt as it was.

Mr. Auerbach interjected that he fancied that it were better to err in favor of the janitors rather than to discriminate against them.

Inspector Pyle again took the floor to insist that the board be given the benefit of the doubt, that had been done by the committee. The fullest explanation should be made then and there, so that each member would have an intelligent understanding of the conditions. Mr. Auerbach asked Mr. Pyle to point out the objectionable features in the report. He explained the committee's action over the schedule item by item, and had made adequate comparisons. But a compromise was reached in the controversy by a reading of the report in juxtaposition with the salaries paid last year. Only those that are changed were read, however. The salaries per month in the two schedules are:

The Building, Old New Building, Old New	The Building, Old New Building, Old New
Lincoln.....$50	Lincoln.....$50
Cleveland.....55	Cleveland.....55
Grant.....50	Grant.....50

"The janitor of the Jackson school is the only one who also does engine work, and he is given an assistant at $20 per month."

Mr. Pyle moved to amend so as to increase the pay of all janitors in eight-room buildings to $45 a month. The schedule fixes them at $40. The question provoked another spirited debate.

The committee on janitors were opposed to the proposition. It was explained that in many of the eight-room buildings only a part of the rooms are occupied.

President Scheffer stated that the secretary had knowledge of the fact that the janitors of many of the bigger schools were obliged to hire a part of the day and pay for it out of their own salary, and Secretary White threw a little bomb into the camp by explaining that these were instances when the janitors refused to work. It is largely a question of how lazy the janitor is, he said, but the janitors who refuse to work are compelled to hire extra help had been seen often driving about the city like a retired capitalist without a duty to discharge.

Dr. Smith hoped the secretary would not fail to report instances of dereliction on the part of janitors need a careful looking after, he said, but a vote showed that the secretary should be given to understand that they will be held to a strict accountability for the performance of their duties, and, after further discussion, Mr. Auerbach insisted upon his motion to adopt the report as amended.

Members present were a tie. Those voting in the affirmative were Inspectors Auerbach, Smith and Stamm, and Inspectors Bridgman, Pyle and Scheffer voted in the negative, and the motion was lost. Then the discussion was renewed on Mr. Pyle's increase for eight-room janitors to $45 a month, and Dr. Bridgman finally moved to reconsider the vote on the subject, and Mr. Auerbach's motion was defeated and the schedule was adopted.

This being disposed of Mr. Pyle moved to add to the August pay roll the difference between the new schedule and the salaries drawn by the janitors for July services, and this also prevailed.

The committee on supplies reported that they had made a careful examination of the needs in this respect, and recommended that hereafter the supplies be issued in accordance with a schedule of amounts accompanying the report in three annual allowances, one for each school term. The table of allowances specifies in what quantities supplies shall be given out. Hitherto the custom has been to issue upon requisitions according to the needs of the schools, as emergencies may have arisen.

The special committee on rearrangement of courses of study reported in favor of the proposed removal of the scientific, industrial and commercial courses to the manual training school, and it was adopted.

Miss Woodbury's Case Goes to a Committee Unread.

Among the communications that were referred to the proper committees by the board of school inspectors yesterday, without reading, was a voluminous petition from citizens of the Sixth ward asking that Miss Ada A. Woodbury, the dismissed teacher of the Humboldt school, be again considered as a candidate for reappointment. It is narrated that J. C. Bryant, principal of the district for teachers of education last January voted to discontinue all annex high schools that had not over thirty-five pupils, found that his school would be affected. It is charged that Mr. Bryant received $250 extra for the annex and that he resorted to a questionable method of procuring children from the lower grades to secure the requisite number, or until forty-six had been promoted to the high school grade. Miss Woodbury and her assistant, Miss Little, reported the facts to Supt. Gilbert, and it is alleged, thereby drew to them the attention of Mr. Bryant, and that he mixed the classes in these teachers' room, and that when in that chaotic condition the room was suddenly closed by the board of education. The protest is accompanied by a letter from Miss Little, who is now at Silver Cliff, Col., corroborating the story in every particular.

Rather Be Private Elevators.

One by one the Minneapolis elevator companies signify their desire to do no more public business. Yesterday the Star Elevator company, of that city, made application to the railway and warehouse commission to have its license as a public warehouse cancelled. The company sets up the claim that it owns all the wheat now stored in the some 5,000 bushels, and also that the greater portion of the grain is last year's crop.

The commission refused to take action until a full report in detail is made concerning the wheat in the elevator.

Glanced at the Ground.

Supervising Architect Edbrooke, of the United States treasury department, was in the city for a short time yesterday. Mrs. Edbrooke accompanied her husband. The proposed postoffice at Marquette, as well as the custom house block in Duluth, were among the official matters he had under consideration during his Minnesota trip. He also looked over the grounds for the new St. Paul government building where the present city hall is, and regretted that the area is not larger. He has confidence in the growth of the Capital City. Mr. and Mrs. Edbrooke dined with Senator Davis and wife.

Three Months' Interest Paid.

Jan. 1, 1892, on money put in the State Savings Bank, Germania Life Insurance Company's Building, corner Fourth and Minnesota streets, to Oct. 3, inclusive.

Had a Facile Memory.

The public schools resumed the term again yesterday. Supt. Gilbert remarked last night that the attendance was far behind the record of the opening day of the session.

"I wonder if it can be possible," he observed, "that the parents and pupils gave as much attention to the announcement that the work would be resumed to-day as they did on Tuesday morning that the board had decided to raise the salaries? It is true, Friday is a bad day for resuming scholastic work, and it may be possible that a good many procrastinated, but I do not believe, however, that the area is not larger. He has confidence in the growth of the Capital City. Mr. and Mrs. Edbrooke dined with Senator Davis and wife."

Confirmed.

The favorable impression produced on the first appearance of the agreeable liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs a few years ago has been more than confirmed by the pleasant experience of all who have used it, and the success of the proprietors and manufacturers, the California Fig Syrup Company.
