SAINT PAUL.

ST. PAUL IN ITEMS.

A meeting will be held Thursday evening, Oct. 1, in hall over W. Nelson's drug store on Rice street, to complete arrangements to organize a court of the Independent Order of Foresters in this section of the city. Many of the citizens there are interested in this order.

The case of Addie Sunville, the three-married woman who, together with Henry Raugel, was arrested on Friday evening on complaint of the woman's husband and charged with adultery, was called in the municipal court yesterday. Judge Twombly remanded the defendants until Tuesday, fixing bail in each case at $100, which was not furnished. Martha Zimmer has decided upon an action of divorce from Henry Zimmer, because of infidelity. They were married at Cleveland, O., in 1874, and have a sixteen-year-old son. She is thirty-four and he thirty-eight years old. They have been residents of the city for the past two years, and the husband has been employed at the city hall.

A poor old lady, seventy years of age, was found wandering aimlessly around the corner of Eighth and Wacouta streets, where she was taken in by J. C. Hanley, who found the poor old lady completely exhausted, having been lost all day and carrying a large basket of chips on her head. The poor creature broke completely down when taken in charge, and incoherently stated that she did not want to go back to the people who abused her. It is thought her mind is deranged.

At a meeting of the railroad and warehouse commission yesterday the following appointments were made on recommendation of Chief Inspector Clausen: John Owen, sub-deputy inspector at Minneapolis, was promoted to the position of deputy inspector; Charles G. Bryant was promoted from position of flag sampler to that of sub-deputy inspector, and A. N. James from position of helper to that of flag sampler. C. P. Earl, of Meeker county, Minnesota, was appointed a sub-deputy inspector at Duluth. Jule Lawrence, the deputy food and dairy commissioner, returned from Hastings yesterday, where he assisted in the prosecution of M. T. Woodruff, charged with selling adulterated milk to the Hampton cheese factory. Mr. Lawrence stated that Woodruff wanted to settle at $100 after entering a plea of guilty, but owing to the stringency of the law he could not take such a course. His employes freely testified that they skinned the milk and then added water before they delivered it to the cheese factory, and Woodruff was held to await the action of the grand jury.

Edward J. Barragh, for three years a law student under G. D. O'Brien, latterly a deputy clerk of the district court and constantly a popular young fellow, with all the superb qualities of a lawyer, gentleman and genius, will quit his fellowships in the county clerk's office Oct. 1, to engage in the practice of his profession in partnership with J. H. Barnard, who was formerly also a student under O'Brien. Mr. Barragh has a legion of friends socially, and the Globe, recognizing his promise among the young men of this city, predicts for him unbounded professional success. The office of the new firm is Room 18, Globe building.

WOMEN NOT IN IT.

The German Conference Votes Them Out—No World's Fair on Sunday.

The prayer meeting at the opening of the fourth session of the German conference was led by H. Schuetzner, after which the general business was resumed. The result of the election of a reserve delegate, which was not concluded Friday, was announced. Rev. E. J. Funk was declared the choice of the conference. Rev. W. Voelkner, assistant editor of Haus und Herd, addressed the conference in the evening of Sunday school literature and the tract cause. Christian S. Arnold and Charles Bierman, students of St. Paul college, and Frederick A. Schulz, student of Galena college, were admitted on trial in the conference. The transfer of John L. Nielsen from the West German conference was announced. After some explanatory remarks by the bishop he was elected to elder's orders. It was ordered that Christian B. Arnold be left without an appointment, so as to attend one of the denominational schools. The question as to admission of women to the lay electoral and general conference was taken up. The first proposition of the general conference, "Shall women be eligible as lay delegates to the electoral and general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church?" was presented and voted upon, resulting in a vote of 4 in the affirmative and 46 in the negative. The second proposition, "And lay delegates may be men or women," was also negatively by a vote of 4 in the affirmative and 47 in the negative.

The vote of the lay membership of the conference on the admission of women to the lay electoral and general conference was reported as follows:

Minneapolis district.....	Yes, 31	No, 290
St. Paul district.....	31	324
South Minnesota district.....	78	724
Total.....	218	1,778

Rev. D. Morgan, of the Minnesota conference, superintendent of the Bethel work in St. Paul, was introduced and addressed the conference. Charles Reinfrank was left without appointment to attend one of the schools. The conference relation to conference relations reported W. F. Greive was left in his relation as supernumerary preacher, and requested to ask for the transfer to the Cincinnati conference. Charles Pegelow was continued in the supernumerary relation. Le Saeni was selected as the next place for holding the conference. Introductions were made including Drs. Stafford and Hallmann, of the Minnesota conference; Rev. Knutson, of the Norwegian conference; Rev. Chamberlain, of the Wisconsin conference, and Hamilton, of the New York conference.

The lay delegates came in in a body. They were cordially received. Prof. W. F. Finke, of St. Paul Park, in the name of the lay electoral conference, addressed the conference and presented the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we instruct our delegate to the general conference to use his influence in favor of electing a German as one of the agents of the Western Methodist Book concern; to oppose the admission of women to the general conference, and to work in favor of our missions in New York from the general mission treasury.

That we are decidedly opposed to decrease the number of presiding elders districts of this conference.

That we petition the committee on sanctity of the Sabbath earnestly to request the directors of the Christian Exposition to be held in Chicago in '93 that the exposition be closed on Sunday.

of the worn out preachers in the church, after which an adjournment was taken. The usual committee work occupied the afternoon, and in the evening a missionary meeting was held, with Rev. A. F. W. Krinke, Blooming Grove, as the speaker of the evening.

AN OLD ENTRY CASE

Unravels as Far as the Local Courts Have Authority.

The action of James C. Smith and R. C. Libbey against John E. Glover, who resides at New Richmond, Wis., but is identified with the C. W. Rickard Lumber company, of St. Paul, has been decided as far as the district court is concerned. The action involves the title to several thousand acres of timber land in the northwestern portion of Wisconsin. Judge William Lewis Kelly filed an order in the case yesterday, in which he decided as follows: In 1872 Herman L. Page, Nathan Peckless, John E. Glover and John McClure, who resided in Wisconsin, entered into an agreement for the purpose of entering timber lands in the State of Wisconsin. The money and the proceeds divided, in August 1872, 2,500 acres were located and entered. Later in the same year McClure assigned his interests to Glover. In 1874 John E. Glover sold his interests in the lands to Smith and Libbey, the plaintiffs in this action, for $4,500 in cash. Page and Peckless paid at the time the lands were entered $5,825.37 as entrance fees, and the taxes after that were paid by them until they died and by their personal representatives until 1882. Page and Peckless did not sell their interests in the lands during their lives, but after their death their personal representatives conveyed the lands to A. J. Gross. The court ascertains that this conveyance to Gross was made, not with the intention to conceal the matter or to defraud the plaintiffs, but was procured by Gross as cashier of the Hudson Savings Bank to secure a loan of $15,000 to Glover & Phipps, and the consideration paid to the plaintiffs was $18,513.24. The decision of the court is that Glover shall account to the plaintiffs for one-half of the profits realized by Phipps from the sale of the lands. The plaintiffs are required to pay 10 per cent interest upon half of the original sum paid by Page and Peckless in September, 1872, and a like interest on the taxes up to the date of the sale of the lands in 1882, as well as to pay $424 as expenses for examining the lands after entry. The court orders judgment against Glover and in favor of the plaintiffs for $15,528.45.

IN LABOR'S REALM.

Eight-Hour League To-Day—Painters' Fronties—General Notes.

Whilst there have not been any number of important meetings in labor circles the past week, yet the reports made at the trades and labor assembly Friday night indicate that organized labor is active, and is preparing for vigorous campaign work along the line of urging reforms. There is a project on foot looking to the organization of the K. of L. assemblies on a plan similar to the trades and labor assembly. The various organizations of St. Paul will be represented by delegates at the meeting of the State Eight Hour League which meets in Labor temple, Minneapolis, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. President John J. Ryden, of St. Paul, will be the chair and submit his annual report. It is intimated that the question of amalgamating the eight-hour league with the State Federation of Labor will be discussed. The delegates to the meeting-to-morrow will embrace a number of new ones, but in case organizations
