MINISTERS' MEETING.

The Presbyterian ministers of Minneapolis are deep in the discussion of the second coming of Christ. The subject is attracting not a little attention now all over the country in orthodox churches, and the Minneapolis preachers are not going to be behind. Here, as elsewhere, there are two classes of believers in the second coming—those who believe that Christ will come at the millennium, and those who believe that His coming will usher in the millennium. Yesterday morning Rev. C. C. Herriot read a paper before the ministers' meeting, taking the ground that Christ will come to introduce the millennium. He prefaced his address with this statement: "Christ is coming again and coming in person. There will be a final advent in person."

TO DO MISSIONARY WORK.

Unusual Exhibition of Energy in That Line by Episcopal Ministers. The central convocation of the diocese of Minnesota met in Holy Trinity church yesterday. Holy communion was celebrated at 10 a. m., after which the business session began, with Dean Graham in the chair. Rev. Mr. Stow read a very able paper on "Salvation," which was discussed by Bishop Gilbert, D. D., Bishop Little, of St. Louis, and many others. The plans for holding missions in all parts of the diocese were discussed. It was resolved to send out the clergy two by two a week at each place "to defeat sin and enlarge the kingdom of God." The business was again taken up. There was a large attendance of clergy, among them were Revs. Andrews, Haupt, Parness, Halsey, Hixon, Hamilton, Pope, Clapp, Forbes, Holmes, Pullen, Gibson, Fortno, Faudie, Cannon, Mountain, Wainwright, and others. The session proved that the very respectable Protestant Episcopal church is taking new and earnest interest in aggressive missionary work. The meetings were very warm and spirited in the best sense.

MINISTER THAYER AT HOME.

He is as Quiet as Ever and as Tactful While Being Interviewed. Samuel R. Thayer, United States minister plenipotentiary to the Netherlands, in Minneapolis again, he arrived at the West yesterday morning and immediately began preparations to stay here several weeks. He has a leave of absence from his diplomatic post at the Hague for forty days, and it is his intention to spend as much of that time as possible in Minneapolis, the city that was his home before he became a diplomat. His two years in the diplomatic business have not affected Minister Thayer's appearance very much. He is still the same quiet, easy-going gentleman who was when he was appointed minister to the Netherlands and took from the quiet elegance of life at the Hague to be thrown into the mad rush and whirl of life in the city which was then. Intercourse with the volatile, electric, enthusiastic, never quiet Netherlands has not changed him in the least. It would, indeed, be a garrulous Netherlander that could make Samuel Thayer so excited enough to talk so freely or much. He came across the city on the City of New York, and had a very rough passage. Arrived on this side of the water, he stopped for a few days in New York, Washington and Chicago. In Washington, of course, he met the president, and met all the politicians of note that were then in the national capital. What does he think of the political situation after his interview with the "chief men?" "We have been in the country long enough to form an opinion, they say. And if he has, Mr. Thayer is too level-headed to let it show. He is a man to talk about politics and matters that divide the man who appointed him to a good place from the man under whose auspices he met. So nothing could be got out of him on the political questions of the day. He would not talk about the Chilean affair either. Jim Blaine is running the branch of the government that has to deal with the Chilean affair and Mr. Thayer will not touch it. He is a man of the world, and he has seen the loss of the Chilean Netherlands may become agitated and proceed to swab out the canvas with American sailors. Mr. Thayer does not want to be embarrassed by any previous utterances when that day comes."

THE GRAND JURY.

Following is the list of grand jurors drawn yesterday to appear Dec. 1 and consider "vice and crime" in a great city: John W. Miller, John Oswald, James Meyer, a resident of Shakopee, paid his first and probably his last visit to Minneapolis yesterday. He had a little money when he arrived, and proceeded to invest in a suit of clothes. Then, having a few dollars left, he got drunk and while in that condition left for home. He had some money, the location of which he cannot remember. To add to his troubles he was arrested for drunkenness, and now demands the expense of forty new fire alarm boxes and two new steam fire engines.

WATERVILLE, MINN., Nov. 9.—Robert Westbury, aged nineteen, was drowned yesterday by the overturning of a boat. His companion, Fred Harlow, narrowly escaped.

KILLED WHILE AT PLAY.

George Koranyi, aged five years was accidentally killed yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock while playing with number of his little companions in front of his father's residence, 215 First street north. Some of the children were running upon the top of a pile of lumber which had been piled in the street to await shipment, and George was standing on the ground beneath when the pile suddenly became unbalanced and fell over directly upon the unfortunate lad killing him instantly. The remains are at the family residence, and the coroner has decided that no inquest will be necessary.

JOBBERS' ASSOCIATION ANNUAL.

The Jobbers' association held its annual meeting yesterday morning. Two resignations were received and accepted—those of Bradstreet, Thurber & Co. and the North Star Oil company. These firms were not jobbers properly and could derive no benefit from the association. The treasurer's report showed that there was a balance of $60 in the treasury. The following officers were elected: J. C. Ellef, president; W. J. Deann, vice president; W. C. Herzig, treasurer; W. G. Byron, secretary.

OFF FOR HUSTON.

Local members of the W. C. T. U. left last evening for Boston, over the Soo road. They go to Boston to attend the national convention of the W. C. T. U. Among those who went from Minneapolis were Mrs. E. A. Russell, Mrs. C. R. Newcomb, Miss Van Dyke, Miss Cook, of Austin; Miss Schaefer, Miss Ames, Miss Henderson, Miss Walker, Mrs. M. B. Bower, Miss Gallender, Miss Vorhees, George B. Bower has gone with the party to report the proceedings of the convention, and the coroner has decided that no inquest will be necessary.

A VERY BAD FIR.

James Meyer, a resident of Shakopee, paid his first and probably his last visit to Minneapolis yesterday. He had a little money when he arrived, and proceeded to invest in a suit of clothes. Then, having a few dollars left, he got drunk and while in that condition left for home. He had some money, the location of which he cannot remember. To add to his troubles he was arrested for drunkenness, and now demands the expense of forty new fire alarm boxes and two new steam fire engines.

ABOUT CHICAGO QUOTATIONS.

The members of the Minneapolis chamber of commerce are much interested in the meeting of the Chicago board of trade that will occur next Thursday. There are several members of the Chicago board of trade among the Minneapolis grain men. Among them are A. J. Sawyer, J. C. Verhoef, E. Carden, John H. Peacock, William T. Hooker, C. H. Wheeler, Woodard & Co. and Mr. Pressey. Mr. Peacock will attend the meeting and will probably carry several proxies with him. The Minneapolis men want to see that quotation matter settled so that quotations may be received in Minneapolis.
