DRAWING THE THREAD

The State Rapidly Closing Up Its Case Against Chris Koran.

Jurors Personally Inspected the Scene of the Homicide.

All the Evidence Expected to Be Taken at Today's Session.

And the Case Will Go to the Jury Sometime Tomorrow.

The time of Judge Otis' court yesterday was taken in picking up the loose ends in the Koran murder trial.

There was not much that was new in the evidence developed, but the main points were joined together, as well as the scattered evidence.

The galleries were crowded during the day, but admission to the main court room was restricted by the two deputy sheriffs on duty.

During the day the jury, in charge of the sheriff, and accompanied by counsel, visited the scene of the homicide.

The defendant's testimony during the day, the pocketknife found in Weisser's hip pocket after he was dead was produced.

It is an ordinary two-bladed clasp knife, Capt. Lowell of the Rondo station, testified that so far as he knows no revolver was found on the body of Weisser.

Mrs. Isadore Koran testified that the defendant lived with them part of the time before the shooting.

He usually came down from his work at Minneapolis on Friday evenings.

He acted like an insane man, and bewailed the loss of his home.

He heard two people talking, but could not hear their conversation.

Koran crawled in the door and hid in a closet in a short time saying he could not get up stairs.

The door was locked. The officer said he would have arrested Koran if he had not been in the house.

He heard two people talking, but could not hear their conversation.

FIELD, MAHLER & CO. GOOD THINGS.

The best values in town will be found in our Wool Dress Goods and Kid Glove departments this week.

A few days ago we received by express 200 FRENCH NOVELTY Dress Patterns, which we placed on sale yesterday at NINE DOLLARS

Each. It's a grand lot of goods at a wonderful price. There isn't a single pattern in the lot which is worth less than $20.00, and there are many styles similar to those sold early in the season at $35.00 and $40.00.

That's all that we need say. They're a late importation, not LEFT-OVERS.

Another price wonder is displayed in our large Washable street window. It consists of several hundred dress lengths of All-Wool Scotch Suitings and Mixtures, which will go at $3.75

For a full dress pattern. The same goods have been sold as leaders and bargains at $7.00 and $7.50 for a dress pattern.

They're good to wear the year round. It will pay to buy them, even if not made up for a year. More serviceable goods never came from the looms, and none were ever sold so cheap.

KID GLOVES AT ALMOST HALF. 4,500 pairs of genuine "Jouvin & Co." Suede Gloves at nearly half-price.

They're called seconds. Why, we do not know. You don't know. We don't believe the maker knows.
