Rupture Which May Cause the Resignation of a German Minister. Compulsory Religious Teaching Said to Be Distasteful to Herr Miquel. The Sweeping Suppression of Immorality Bill Passes the Bundesrath. It May Do Gross Injustice to Workmen Out of Employment.

EARNINGS OF WOMEN.

Why They Receive Smaller Salaries Than Men. The reason why most women workers are not paid as much as men is because they are not men. It is not worth so much, says Helen Wachs, secretary of the St. Louis Republic. Here is a list of heresies, and from a woman, too! Well, at least, it is from a woman who believes what she says; who believed so ten years ago, and whose belief has only deepened with every year. She has passed her life as a woman. Women are not paid as much as men because they do not really earn as much as men. That is a general statement. Let us qualify as follows: A few women are paid more than men. That is because they are doing work that is more valuable to society as a woman can. They are paid for the advantage of sex. Some women get just as much for their work as men would get. That is because the work is one in which there is no advantage or disadvantage of sex either way. Most women are paid less than men because men have the advantage of their sex. What is the advantage of their sex? Strength of body and of muscles; units of horse power.

CHILL CORNERED.

Continued From First Page. positioned upon the deck of a vessel to blow it into a thousand pieces. At present no work is being done on Plum Island, but it carried out as planned the new line of defense, with the island on the left and Sands point on the right, supported by Howlett's point in the rear, will carry the defensive system at least six miles further out into the sound and diminish the chances of a successful bombardment of New York by a hostile fleet. Major batteries will also be planted for the defense of Boston, San Francisco and other large coast cities.

MASSING THE TROOPS.

More Soldiers to Be Sent to Fort Sheridan. CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—It has been practically settled by the war department that a substantial addition to the garrison of Fort Sheridan will be made, and the wishes of Gen. Schofield and Gen. Miles are carried out Fort Sheridan, by the first of May will be the largest garrison post in the country. It is thought that the troops will also be increased to a battery of artillery to proceed to the fort in addition to the troops already there, making about 500 men. Where they will come from has not yet been decided, but they probably will be taken from Western posts.

THE GALLANT GUARDS.

Possible Usefulness of the Militia in Event of War. WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—There was considerable gossip on the streets tonight as to how this country could increase its fighting strength in the event of trouble with Chili, especially with reference to the employment of the national guard of the states. The president can call out the entire national guard to the same thing, and it may do so in the event of a rebellion, but the only exception being the militia of the disturbed state, but when the service to be rendered is in other lands, then it would be necessary to call for volunteers, and, of course, all such soldiers would receive preference over the regular army. Senator Hawley, chairman of the senate military committee, has had several conferences with Secretary of War Elkins and Adj. Gen. Kellum, with a view to securing remedial legislation if necessary. A prominent officer of the national guard of the District of Columbia, who has made a special study of the matter, summed up the situation tonight in the following words: "Should there be war with Chili, or with any other power, the value of the national guard would at once be apparent. It would mean that 100,000 men, and at least 20 per cent of these would volunteer for service abroad. This would mean that an expeditionary force would be composed largely of men who have received sufficient training to admit of their being put in the field at once. But the national guard, if used as a militia, would be of no means end at that point. The demand for volunteers would bring from a small number of raw material requiring more than a little work to put them in shape for duty. Camps of rendezvous and instruction would be necessary, and one of these camps would naturally be located in this city. At least 300 men here who could be used as drill instructors. They would be the best men for such work. National guard officers would be the best men for the instruction of recruits. They could do the work more thoroughly and rapidly and satisfactorily than any other class of men. They would understand the civilian army; they would know how to handle it. Army officers have no experience nowadays with bodies of green men. Recruits are sandwiched between old soldiers, and they are comparatively few they are soon apt to be lost. No responsible man here would desire to be one of the national guard can be depended upon to do its utmost."

AVAILABLE TRANSPORTS.

Fine Steamers Affoot at the Call of Uncle Sam. New York, Jan. 23.—It is believed that the steamships Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois and Conemaugh, all sailing under American colors and owned by the International Navigation company, will be ordered to Boston as soon as they arrive at an American port. The Inman line flyers City of Paris and City of New York, and the Red Star line steamer Friesland, Western and Northland, vessels sailing under foreign colors but owned by American citizens, will, it is believed in well-informed circles, be chartered by the government within a short time. They can be denationalized by the act of congress and notice if necessary by means of an emergency bill, and it is even hinted that such a bill has been prepared by the house committee on foreign affairs. The City of Paris has already been withdrawn from the company's service and is now docked at Birkenhead, England, where the famous cruiser Alabama was built. The agents of the line here say that she is simply being overhauled in preparation for the summer season, but it is believed that she is being prepared for an emergency call and may arise requiring her use by the United States government in the transportation of troops and ammunition.

THE "BIG BETS."

It is Completed and Ready for the Monterey. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—The twelve-inch rifle, the first gun of its kind turned out by the government for the new navy and designed for the coast defense vessel Monterey, the construction of which is rapidly approaching completion, arrived in this city this morning, having left Washington Jan. 13. J. C. Hardie, of the department quartermaster's office, who was especially detailed to take charge of the transportation of the big gun, formally turned the huge ordnance over to Capt. Clark, who, after carefully examining the gun, turned it over to the Iron Union works, where the Monterey is being examined by Capt. Clark demonstrated that the gun stood the journey without any fault. It is a fine specimen of its kind, though the car which bore it over here showed considerable signs of wear. The attendants who accompanied the gun, however, will not be given great attention to its tour across the continent, crowds of people gathering to view it, and in many places school children were given a half holiday for the purpose. In this city a large number of people began to flock to Potrero, where the iron works are located, to look at "Big Bets," as the gun has been popularly christened. General inspection, however, will not be allowed until the gun has been safely removed from its car, which will be started immediately for Washington for the other twelve-inch gun also destined for the Monterey.

BALACEDA'S LAST.

The Chilean Suicide's Letter to Espion. New York, Jan. 23.—The last mail from Valparaiso brought the fatal letter of Balaceda to his minister, Espion. After referring to his downfall, Balaceda requests Espion to write a true history "of the administration which we jointly labored." He asks Espion to supply his friends with the necessary funds to defray the cost of a full and complete publication. He asks her to allow them to select 2,000 volumes out of his own recovery. In conclusion he says: "With my sacrifice the friends will find in a short time the means of repairing the losses they have sustained. In all great crises or dramas a leader or great victim is required. This is the law of stormy times. The administrative organization was irremediable in the war. We lacked generals."

Clears for Boston.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—Capt. Sargent, of the steamship Ohio, which has been chartered by the United States government, took out the necessary clearance papers today, and the steamer, it is said, will sail from the port tomorrow in charge of officers of the United States navy. The vessel cleared for Boston, but her destination is thought to be the Charlestown navy yard, near Boston.
