A Susceptible Jury Gives Exemplary Damages for Breach of Promise.

Standard addition is not definitely known to their location in the city. But if they elect to remain so far away, with oceans flanking between them and their Minnesota friends, how are numerous friends and investors in uncharitable and inhospitable America who will wish to see them succeed in their undertaking. Far from the bustling centers of creditors' ignominious strife, may they uphold new fortunes, carve out new destinies and never break the golden stream that flowed steadily toward Minnesota.

Heavy Damages Awarded for Breach of Promise. Emma Juliet vs. John Jacob Romeo; action for breach of promise; damages laid at $20,000.

This case was tried last night, not before the district court of Ramsey county, but before a mock tribunal erected at the First M. E. church. The name of the learned judge who presided will be recalled by the audience. The parties to the suit are with-held for professional reasons. Attorney Bennett appeared for the plaintiff, and the case of the false Romeo was managed by Attorney Lane. Several exhibits were placed in evidence, the most important being a bottle of liquid which proved to be an aggregate of 40,000 kisses, given by Juliet during the past year. Several letters, some breathing unalterable devotion, were also placed before the jury, and the plaintiff rested her case. A disposition on the part of the audience to summarily deal with the case was averted by the learned judge, who more with a view to economy and security than with any pretense of regard for the rights of the parties, asked the jury to retire. This is the sixth time since the case was brought to trial that the jury has been adjourned for several days. The case was brought to trial on the 10th of January, and the jury was sworn on the 11th. The case was argued on the 12th, and the jury retired on the 13th. The jury returned its verdict on the 14th, and the damages were laid at $20,000.

The proceedings of the state federation committee appointed to investigate the lock-out of girls at McKibben & Co.'s, reported that the girls have been working elsewhere, but no adjustment of difficulties with that firm had been effected.

A communication from United States Commissioner McKim, relative to taking the alien contract labor law, was referred to the Bulletin committee.

A protest was received from the local Assembly 2041, K. of L., relative to rejecting the credentials of Delegates McKim and Fitzgerald. Appended to the protest was an appeal to the organization of the assembly to the labor organizations. Fell From Grace. Edward Miller was arrested last night on complaint of Mollie Henderson, the proprietress of a disreputable saloon. The charge placed against him was carrying concealed weapons, but it transpires that an effort will be made to have him committed to the insane asylum. Miller came to St. Paul from Omaha last Saturday, and was employed by Henderson, who formerly lived with him in that city. It is said that Miller was at one time a wealthy and respected citizen of Omaha, but wine and women have ruined him. In the past few years he has led a dissipated life, and was once before adjudged insane, but escaped from where he was confined.

Death of Col. Curtis. Lieut. Col. Herbert Curtis died at the Hotel Aberdeen last night of a grippe. Col. Curtis holds the rank of deputy judge advocate general of the United States army, and is deputy adjutant on the staff of Gen. Merrill, of the department of Dakota. He came to St. Paul early last June, but had become immensely popular with his army colleagues, who unanimously pronounced him an officer and a gentleman. Two weeks ago he was attacked with a severe cold, which terminated in the fatal grippe. Col. Curtis came from Boston, where his remains will be buried. He served through the war as captain of the First Massachusetts cavalry.

AWAY IN AUSTRALIA. A Story of the Bushnells, Traveling for Their Health.

The climate of Australia is said to be delightful, and there is no more pleasant city in that antipodean continent than Adelaide. The air is refreshing and healthful in all but the month of January, when the midsummer atmosphere may be avoided by a trip up the mountains but a few hours distant. A grateful change from Minnesota is this splendid Southern city, and this thought struck two well-known St. Paulites, Messrs. William M. Bushnell and A. K. Bushnell, as they stepped from the deck of the Australasian liner upon the pier at Adelaide. The fierce heat of the Australian summer is now past, and the pleasant autumn weather has begun. The Bushnells expect to spend merely a short time in Australia to recover their shattered health before returning to the States. It is said that the Bushnells have declared their purpose to be to drive all contractors out of the city who do not join their association. It is said that the builders' exchange has declared its purpose to be to drive all contractors out of the city who do not join their exchange.

Mechanics Driven Out. It was stated at labor headquarters last evening that a number of carpenters and painters are leaving the city. This is caused by reason of the builders' exchange having determined to make war on all contractors who do not join their association. It is said that the builders' exchange has declared its purpose to be to drive all contractors out of the city who do not join their exchange.

PENNED LIKE SWINE.

Secretary Hart Warmly Denounces the County Jails and Lockups.

Prisoners Confined in Dens Equal in Vileness to Those of Siberia.

Niggardliness of Authorities in Providing Suitable Quarters.

A Question Deserving the Closest Attention of Patriotic Citizens.

Secretary Hart, of the board of corrections and charities, was yesterday notified of the burning of the Moorhead jail, in which a prisoner incarcerated for some petty offense was burned beyond recognition. The death was not in the least surprised, and it was a matter of constant wonder to him that such awful occurrences were not more frequent. The majority of county jails, he says, are constructed more with a view to economy and security than with any pretense of regard for the rights of the prisoners. This is the sixth time since his connection with the board that he has been called upon to take official notice of fatalities exactly similar to the one at Moorhead, while on as many more occasions inmates of county jails and lockups have been burned, escaped cremation. Many of the jails, says the secretary, are a disgrace to civilization, and they are infested with vermin, filthy and unhealthy. A special feature of his work has been the effort to impress upon the authorities the necessity of paying more attention to the condition of their lockups. Many of the authorities have said that $50 or $80 is enough to spend on lockups, and they provide a sty for the prisoners in the dens, in which they would not keep their cattle. Such a neglect is less than the Moorhead casualty, he says, should be enough to emphasize the necessity of paying more attention to the condition of their lockups. He has no great effect, and Mr. Hart hopes that the committee appointed to confer with the Commercial club was given further time. The matter of establishing a rental agency and labor bureau was referred to Delegate Stevenson to prepare a plan of operations. The proceedings of the state federation committee appointed to investigate the lock-out of girls at McKibben & Co.'s, reported that the girls have been working elsewhere, but no adjustment of difficulties with that firm had been effected.

Leaders Feel They Are Between the Devil and the Deep Sea. The prohibitionists of St. Paul propose to take a hand in the coming municipal election. Dr. Whitman reported that the girls have been working elsewhere, but no adjustment of difficulties with that firm had been effected. At a meeting held in N. R. Frost's office the other evening, a number of the leaders were present, and the situation was discussed. There was a division of opinion as to whether the proper course to pursue. There were those who demanded a straight fight, and those who thought it might be better to make a compromise. The latter party, however, was in the minority, and the straight fight was the order of the day. The committee appointed to confer with the Commercial club was given further time. The matter of establishing a rental agency and labor bureau was referred to Delegate Stevenson to prepare a plan of operations. The proceedings of the state federation committee appointed to investigate the lock-out of girls at McKibben & Co.'s, reported that the girls have been working elsewhere, but no adjustment of difficulties with that firm had been effected.

WISH FOR WISH. A Dog Story of the Days of Good Mary, Queen of Scots, had a favorite lapdog, which is said to have been present at the execution of its poor mistress in Fotheringhay castle, says the London Times.

After a royal lady had been beheaded this faithful creature refused to leave her dead body, and had to be carried off of the hall by force.

During a period lapdogs were the pets of men as well as of women. Dr. Boleyn, a relative of the unhappy Queen Anne Boleyn, owned one which, as it is written, "he doted on."

Anne once asked him to grant her one, and in return he should have wanted to give her a dog of his breed. "Knowing his affection for the dog she begged it of him, and of course, the doctor had nothing to do but to give it to her."

"And now, madame," he said, "you present to me a dog which is not of my breed, and I will not give it to you." "Then, I pray you, give me my dog again."

HE WON HIS CASE. But the Jury Gave Him a Very Sarcastic Verdict. A young barrister not noted for intelligence succeeded in having a client acquitted of murder. Meeting a friend a few days afterward, the barrister was greeted with warm congratulations on his success. "Yes," said the lawyer, mopping his brow, "I got him off, but it was a narrow escape."

"Ah, the tightest squeeze you ever saw. You know, I examined the witness, and the indictment is null and void. My plea being self-defense. The jury returned two whole days. Finally the judge called them before him and asked what the verdict was."

"Only one thing," replied the foreman. "Was the prisoner's counsel represented by him or appointed by the court?"

"No, gentlemen, the prisoner is a man means," said the judge, "and engaged his counsel. He is not a pauper, and he is not a lunatic. I could not see what bearing the question had on the evidence," continued the judge, "and the jury returned in five minutes. The verdict was, 'Not guilty.'"

"Why, not guilty on the ground of insanity?"

BANANAS OR POTATOES. A Prediction That the Tropical Fruit Will Soon Be on Every Table. The banana is only now beginning to be appreciated, and will be much better liked when people learn to cook this delicious fruit and prepare it for food as it is used in countries where the plant grows. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says that the banana is being introduced into the West Indies and in the West India the banana is tried like the sweet potato, baked like the Irish potato, made into pies, is mashed up, the quicker water is preserved, and in any and every way is good.

There is more nourishment in the banana than in the potato. The same land that will grow 1,000 pounds of potatoes will grow 4,000 pounds of bananas. Even now this fruit is cheap, but ten years from now bananas will be grown in the United States, and will furnish a delicious substitute on the family table for the potato.

Gain an Exception. Dr. Goubran's biography of the late dean of Chichester is published today by Murray in two volumes, says the London News. Dean Goubran was an accomplished retailer of anecdotes, and his life has been in city for many years. One of them, described as a royal bon mot, appears in an early letter of the date, dated 1840. "A gentleman," he says, "on whom I called the other day told me that in the course of an interview he had with the Duke of Sussex, the duke, after having been asked to present a petition against capital punishment. The duke observed that Scripture has declared 'Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood also be shed.' 'But, my lord,' replied the duke, 'I have shed the blood of twelve men in the world to make a royal bon mot.' 'I think it good to come from anybody.'"
