

LOST IN RAGING GALES

Portuguese Fishing Fleets Destroyed and the Sailors Drowned.

Reports Place the Number of Men Lost as High as Two Hundred.

The Forest Queen's Captain Tells How His Ship Was Sent to Bottom.

Lillie Johnson Released on Heavy Bail to Prevent Her Death.

SPRINT, Feb. 27.—A terrific gale is raging in this vicinity. Many boats have been wrecked and it is feared that a large number of fishermen have been drowned, the number being placed as high as 200.

SANK LIKE LEAD. A Survivor's Account of the Forest Queen Disaster.

LULL, England, Feb. 28.—Capt. Lawson, master and sole survivor of the steamer Forest Queen, which was run down off Falmborough lead last night by the steamer Loughborough and instantly sunk, landed here this afternoon. He shows the effects of the terrible sea which was passed, being exhausted and nervous. The following is his statement: I was on deck at night. All was clear, the lights of distant vessels could be seen and everything looked safe. I went below to examine the chart, while I was engaged in this the engines suddenly stopped. I ran to the companionway to ascertain the cause, and as I stepped up, the Forest Queen was struck on her starboard quarter. When I reached the deck I found that the whole quarter was cut off and water pouring in. A rush was made for the boats. The men attempted to launch them, but the steamer went down before they could clear them. She had foundered within three minutes after she was struck. I was overwhelmed by the water, and I was upon us and carried us down with the vessel. She went down like lead. I felt her strike the bottom and that she rebounded. I found myself entangled in the running rigging and unable to rise. By desperate exertion I freed myself. Taking off two coats, I struck out for the surface, and being a powerful swimmer I reached some wreckage. There I hung, and at the end of half an hour I was heard by the people on board the Loughborough and was taken out of the water. The steamer Loughborough was heavily loaded with coal, and when the crash came cut through the quarter of the Forest Queen. Like a knife, the boat remained around the scene of disaster until morning, but saw nothing of any other survivors of the sunken steamer.

LILLIE JOHNSON OUT. The Judge Accepts Bail on Account of Bad Health.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 28.—Judge DuBoise, in the criminal court this morning, admitted Miss Lillie Johnson on bail in the sum of $10,000 on the ground that her health was being impaired by imprisonment. Miss Johnson has been incarcerated since Jan. 26, charged with being an accessory to the murder of Miss Freda Ward by Alice Mitchell. The judge in his ruling says in part: "The court is clearly of the opinion that the proof is evident that the defendant aided and abetted in the commission of the crime with which she is charged, and that her conduct in the crime is the most shocking and malignant ever perpetrated by woman. It appears from the proof taken in this proceeding that the defendant Johnson has been in precarious health since a mere child; that she suffers continuously with headache and often with nervous prostration, and the confinement in the atmosphere of the prison would do but to greatly aggravate her malady and thereby endanger her life. For this reason and this reason alone, the court will admit the defendant to bail."

WANT THE REWARD. The Sedalia Fugitive Likely to Be Captured Soon.

SEDALIA, Mo., Feb. 27.—The search for the fugitive assassin of Mrs. Charles Taylor still continues, but without result. Large parties of citizens of all classes are scouring the country in all directions. Late last evening Sheriff Smith received information which leads him to believe that the man will be captured inside of the next twenty-four hours. Sheriff Smith met a courier from a neighboring town, who informed the officers that the criminal would be turned over to the authorities inside of a few hours, if assurance was given that the reward of $1,500 would be paid. On being informed that the money would be handed over immediately after the man was identified, he left for home. He is positive he has the right man. A messenger will leave tomorrow for Kansas City, where a suspect named Frank Collins is in custody. A photograph of Collins was received here today, and when it was shown to Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, they stated that the man bore a strong resemblance to the man who committed the assault. This is the best clue in the possession of the officers tonight. Mr. Taylor continues to improve.

SHORT LOG CROP. Poor Weather in Wisconsin for Lumber. BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis., Feb. 27.—The spring-like weather prevailing in this vicinity will result in a short log crop, as not more than 70 per cent of the season's cut has been loaded on the river banks in the upper Black River region. Lumber men in this part of the state have not fared so well. Reliable estimates show only 50 per cent of the season's crop has been cut, and no snow in the woods and weather unfavorable for making ice roads.
