

MINNEAPOLIS.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The saddest feature of the board of education's refusal to re-elect Dr. J. E. Bradley as superintendent of schools is that it will be taken as a direct affront to Plymouth church and the Journal. The dear old soul who manages the destinies of the last named institution has been giving herself a good deal of unnecessary trouble over the likelihood of the board of education feeling fit to elect some other man as superintendent of schools. An attempt to be made, without a court, to show that Dr. Bradley is a martyr to political partisanship. But it will be only an attempt, and a lame one. A. C. Austin and Rev. M. P. Gjersten, both of them staunch Republicans, voted for C. M. Jordan as Dr. Bradley's successor. As a matter of fact, the members of the board long enough to find out whether they want him or not. That the Minneapolis public school system has grown and prospered since Dr. Bradley took charge of the superintending office is not to be credited to him entirely. He has been backed and assisted all the time by a board of high character, and if the facts be examined it will be found that the members of the board have done as much for the cause of education as he has. That he has been a capable superintendent is the reason why the members of the board were so good, or even better. Dr. Bradley's service of two terms in the office does not entitle him to a lease of the place. The administration of the business of a nation is fully as important as the administration of the business of the Minneapolis public school system. Yet many men of habits of deep thought urge that no man should be elected president for a long term. An occasional shaking up, and the infusion of a little ginger, is a good thing for any office.

A Mrs. Shearer has asked the courts to give her a share in the profits of a concern in which she was a silent partner. The other members of the firm would be better pleased had she maintained her silence.

It is satisfying to learn from an evening paper that Auditor Ledgerwood of the government of public schools is "moderated voice." How dreadful the consequences might have been had Ledgerwood simply read that communication.

M. V. Nash's "good Republican hat" accomplished the same end at the meeting of the county commissioners as all things Republican—the election of a Democrat.

"The Journal is right just the same" the conclusion of an editorial on Dr. Bradley and the Journal's defense of him. Why, bless your heart, your sex exults over the pilot of his stomach, and that without contradiction. But people do say—never mind what.

This is the season for Minnesota maple sugar. A young boy was seen running down the street yesterday holding both hands over the pilot of his stomach, and his face screwed up with a painful expression. Some one asked him: "Where are you going, my boy?" "Home," was the answer.

"What in the thunder is the matter with you?" "Been a eatin' maple sugar," was the reply in a sobbing voice.

No wonder the boy was in a hurry to get home. All Chief Henderson needs to do now is to hang out a sign "No trouble to show goods," and he will have a full-fledged clothing store in the city. By the way, the detectives ought to be able to be pretty well dressed this spring.

A wife sends a husband for the recovery of certain property and money, yet an evening paper, in speaking of it, says: "Sued by a silent partner." If that paper spoke the truth in referring to her as "a silent partner," the court museum need look no further for a curiosity.

After the board of education meeting yesterday a reporter who rode down in the elevator will announce to you how it would feel to drop the full twelve stories. Dr. Bradley said nothing, but his looks spoke volumes.

COURT BRIEFS. John W. Wenceslau, the shoe dealer located at 267 Cedar avenue, has assigned to L. W. Roehl. The liabilities are $4,125.02 and the assets $2,100.

Nicholas Reich filed a petition for liquidation of the estate of Annie M. Reich yesterday. She leaves $100 to her heirs.

The articles of incorporation of the Minneapolis Fruit Exchange were filed yesterday. The capital stock is $25,000, and the incorporators are G. E. Bradley, M. A. Arnold and nineteen other local fruit dealers.

The Vestraut Clothing company filed articles of incorporation yesterday. The capital stock is fixed at $100,000 and the highest amount of indebtedness at $25,000. The incorporators are C. E. F. Johnson and T. Vanstrum.

George Schonover has brought suit against C. M. V. Glenn to recover a safe or its value. The safe was stored in a room over 117 Washington avenue south, Glenn's store, but Schonover falls to find the safe now. He thinks it is in Glenn's possession.

The attorneys for the defendant in the case of Patrick Heffernan against the Northern Pacific Company moved for direction yesterday. Judge Johnson will announce his decision in the matter this morning. When this case is finished the United States courts will close until next term.

The matter of the objections of the creditors of the People's Ice company to Assignee Matt Gallagher's management of affairs was again yesterday. The objections were not sufficiently specific to sustain the case. The matter was continued for two weeks. The creditors must be ready to make next week up or a dismissal will result.

The following marriage licenses were issued yesterday: To Gust Kjar and Grace Hall, John Sarvenpa and Emma Helme, Andrew Thompson and Madeline Scholten, James T. Whipple and Anna E. Long, Manfred Silen and Maggie Weber, Arthur Goodrich and Anne E. Elton, S. Roberts and Florence A. Holmes.

It cannot afford it. The enrollment in the schools up to date is 22,187, an increase over last year of 1,262. The Bancroft school has not been opened and will be the last yet. The site for the South Side high school has been recorded.

NEW HARVESTER WORKS. A Mammoth Industry Will Soon Be Started Here. If the facts are kind and the business men of Minneapolis will consent to a new and gigantic enterprise before the leaves begin to turn this fall. The location of the Walter A. Wood's Harvester works in St. Paul has proved to be a success. It has a scheme has been under way for some time to start an industry that will utilize the Saint City's in every particular. It is proposed to establish a harvester manufactory as soon as the necessary stock can be procured. The capital, understood, being fixed at over $1,000,000. St. Louis Park is the place fixed upon for a site, and of course T. B. Walker and other interested members of the business men's union are very active in furthering the scheme. These gentlemen are desirous to have the works located in St. Paul, and therefore are willing to make very advantageous offers so far as the location of an industry like this is concerned.

A committee has been appointed by the union to agitate the scheme and solicit subscriptions. The committee has been to work but a few days, yet nearly $100,000 has been subscribed. One of the inducements offered subscribers is that a better and more modern machine will be made than the one manufactured by the Wood's company. Several new inventions have been patented and will be put to practical use as soon as the manufacture of machines commences.

HENNEPIN'S NEW TREASURER. T. J. Buxton Elected to Serve While Peterson is Out. Hennepin county has a new treasurer-elect. He was elected yesterday morning by the board of county commissioners, and his name is Thomas J. Buxton. The county commissioners met at the court house promptly at 10 o'clock. Chairman Choben stated the object of the meeting, and Auditor Ledgerwood read the communication from Governor Pratt dropped a word into Dr. Bradley's ear and the two sought the lumber chamber. There was no help for him—that the board had decreed his downfall. They came out just as the clerk finished the judge's charge.

"Any further business?" inquired President Ankeny. There was a dense silence that lasted almost a full minute. Then Mr. Jaeger found a small portion of his voice—enough to allow him to murmur: "Mr. President, I move that we proceed to the election of a superintendent."

"I second the motion," said John Norton, after another period of painful quiet. Mr. Gjersten amended the motion so that it should state the election of a superintendent for three years at an annual salary of $4,000. The amendment was accepted.

"The clerk will prepare the ballots," said the president. The little slips were passed around and each man wrote something on it. Robert Pratt was heard to whisper something to himself, as he folded up the ballot he had just taken for Dr. Bradley. The ballots were collected, counted, and the clerk announced: "Charles M. Jordan, 6; J. E. Bradley, 1."

"Mr. Jordan, having received the highest number of votes, is declared elected superintendent," said the president. "If there is any further business before the board a motion to adjourn will be in order."

The motion to adjourn was quickly made and as quickly carried. The members of the board will fight bitterly but the more public generalities reasons for this action of the board in doing away with Dr. Bradley's services as superintendent of the schools of Minneapolis. It is certain that there was nothing personal in the action of the board.

Dr. Bradley was suspended two men," said President Ankeny, after the meeting. "One man had the highest number of votes, and he was elected. There is nothing in this but the result of a selection of Mr. Jordan. He came within an ace of being elected superintendent of the schools of Minneapolis. It is a good man for superintendent of the schools."

Rev. M. P. Gjersten talked in the same strain. "There is nothing personal in the action of the board," he said. "The safe was stored in a room over 117 Washington avenue south, Glenn's store, but Schonover falls to find the safe now. He thinks it is in Glenn's possession."

AMUSEMENTS. Bad weather had little effect upon the size of the audience at the Lyceum last night, where Theodore Thomas' orchestra gave a concert. The house was full and enthusiastic. No number cannot be said in praise of the concert. It was like all of Thomas' concerts—excellent. Every number on the programme was enthusiastically received, and the director was forced to comply with the demand for an encore. Mrs. Five-King, the pianist, seated at her bench and delighted the audience with her power over the keys of a piano.

A matinee and evening performance today will terminate Stuart Robson's engagement at the Grand. Bronson Howard's masterpiece, "The Henrietta," will be the bill at both performances. The matinee prices will be reduced.

Mr. Lee, supported by his own company, will commence a three-night engagement at the Grand tomorrow in the modern society drama, "The Young Wife." Mr. Lee appears as Arthur Eastman, an artist who is stricken with blindness and is obliged to live in a dark room. The machinations of his sister-in-law. After a lapse of several years the erring wife returns to her husband's side, and the piece terminates in a happy manner.

Melodrama seems to find popularity with the Biloxi audience, and since this week is quite large. Milton and Dollie Nobles find ample opportunity in the roles that they assume in the production of their clever new play, "A Ladies' and Children's Matinee Performance" will be given today at 2:30.
