

SAINT PAUL.

APRIL OPENINGS.

Stomachmen will meet and organize a union tonight. Richard Bryant was arrested last night for stealing a pair of shoes.

Richard Bryant was arrested last night for stealing a pair of shoes. Babbs Hess lectured at the temple last evening on "Woman in the Industrial Arena."

Four small permits, amounting to $15.00, were issued by the building inspector yesterday.

The payroll of the water board for March amounted to $2,881.01. Employees were paid yesterday.

Scarlet fever at 1891 Eichehart street and diphtheria at 15 Tilton street were reported at the health office yesterday.

The remains of E. S. Kelly, who died in Minneapolis Thursday, will be brought to his home in this city for interment.

John Sweeney, a patient with suspended sentence, found St. Paul too attractive to leave and was again arrested last night.

An unexpected dream dwelling on Beaulieu street caught fire yesterday morning and was partly destroyed. The loss was about $700.

Scarlet fever was reported to the health commissioner yesterday. From 1891 Eichehart street and diphtheria was reported from 15 Tilton street.

Albert Beharow, an eight-year-old boy, had his leg cut off by a Dutch train at the city yesterday, and was brought to the city for treatment.

The sale of seats is progressing finely for "Sis-bud," at the Metropolitan next week. The great producer bids fair to break the record of this popular playhouse.

The Hastings Cut Stone Company, of Minneapolis, with a $45,000 capital stock, has incorporated. The directors are Thomas S. Hastings and N. S. Hastings, Jr., of Minneapolis.

Rock Desbarons, the young man charged with robbing a boarder at 245 Goodhue street, was arrested yesterday and remanded until April 8 under bail of $1,000.

Asst. John Pat Hill and Thomas Hicks the three tonight who were arrested for attempting to rob Arthur McKenney, were yesterday discharged because of lack of evidence.

The residence of Mrs. Morrey at 245 Goodhue street was struck by lightning yesterday morning. The house caught fire, but the department was on the scene in time to prevent any loss.

All of a sudden this morning five horses that have been condemned for service in the department will be sold at auction by Chief Jackson in front of the central fire station, on Eighth street.

The joint committee on regulations will meet at the city hall this afternoon, and the committee on claims from the board of aldermen will meet Monday afternoon at the city hall. The committee on streets will meet Monday evening.

Walter H. Sanborn will make a full-length United States circuit judge next Tuesday. The April term of the federal courts will open in this city on that day, and he will qualify before Judge Nelson and begin his new duties.

There was a good attendance at the bazaar in the Pacific Congregational church parlors last night. A number of pretty things were displayed and a neat sum netted by the ladies who have the affair in charge. It will be continued this evening.

There will be a platform missionary meeting held in Association hall, Lowry Arcade, tomorrow afternoon at 3:20. The speakers will be general and addressed by good speakers. Music will be furnished by the association orchestra. All are cordially invited.

At the grand opening of the church service on Sunday morning Rev. W. Vail will preach on the question, "What Because of the Prospector's Soul?" A quartet will sing "Ode to a Spanish Guitar" and other songs to be heard in selections. All are invited.

The testimony received by the commission appointed for the purpose of investigating the charge of habitual drunkenness made against John M. Peterson, county commissioner of Washburn county, was filed with the governor yesterday. The commission makes no recommendation.

Stuart Robson and his excellent company pleased another large audience in "The Slugs to Conquer," at the Metropolitan last night. He will give a matinee and evening performance today presenting "The Slugs to Conquer" and "The Slugs to Conquer."

The Independent Spiritual and Psychological Society will hold its regular Sunday meeting in Van Elmeester hall, Moore block, seven corners, at 8 p. m. Mrs. E. Brun, trance medium, will be the featured attraction.

The lecture "Ministering Angels." The lecture will be followed by tests or proofs of spirit presence given from the rostrum. The society will hold its weekly public meeting on Monday evening at 8 o'clock at 222 1/2 West Seventh street.

The joint court house and city hall committee had but a short session yesterday. The monthly pay roll amounting to $1,000 was together with sundry bills, were allowed. Among the bills were those for coal, water and gas. The auditor will be asked to advertise for bids for placing the rooms facing Washburn and Fifth streets in condition for occupancy by the county treasurer.

Additional vital statistics for the month of March were ordered for the comptroller's office.

The special joint committee from the city council on zoning was expected to hold a meeting the present week, but none has been called. It is proposed to make some sort of a compromise settlement with the zoning company. There seems to be no disposition on the part of the council to allow the full claim of $25,000. Moreover, it is understood that the zoning company prefers to make the compromise settlement to a litigation in the courts. The board of aldermen will meet next Monday evening and it is possible that the matter will be brought up at that time.

Rev. E. Wallace Wats, D. S. of Owen Sound, Can., will preach in the Central Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening, 8 p. m. Dr. Wats has made a great many friends during his short visit in this city. His many Canadian friends will doubtless embrace this the last opportunity of hearing him in St. Paul. The doctor preached last Sunday in the above church, and addressed the preparatory class of communicants at the House of Hope last Wednesday evening. Dr. Wats received his education at the Cambridge university, England; Edinburgh university, Scotland; and the Presbyterian college, Norwich, Eng. He has had many important degrees conferred upon him by the Cambridge university in recognition of his abilities, the most important being that of doctor of science. Dr. Wats' ability as an author is known far and wide by the many volumes written by him. As a speaker the doctor has only to be heard to convince one of his remarkable powers in holding the attention of his congregation and to remember such forcible and scholarly effect; so seldom as this opportunity of hearing.

The Great Plymouth Clothing House. Three floors full of spring novelties.

Demand a Side Track. The railroad commissioners yesterday gave a hearing in the case of the Farwell Farmers' Warehouse Association, complainant, vs. The Soo Railroad Company. The warehouse association demanded a site for the erection of an elevator on the company's right of way, and upon being refused, they demanded the elevator adjacent to the company's right way, and now seek to compel the company to construct a side track to their grain houses. The demand is under subdivision C of section 2 of chapter 10, General Laws of 1887. The commissioners took the case under consideration.

Bedford Cord Suits, $18. The Boston.

Marx Michaels, indicted on a charge of arson, in that he fired his dwelling to secure the insurance on his household goods, is being tried before Judge Kelly and the following named jurors: Mahlon P. Barry, Ernest A. Venzke, Charles Stierle, Karl Lull, Louis T. Thomas, Joseph Desling, Max Schmitt, Henry C. Anderson, Jacob H. Forrester, Henry C. Eze, W. J. McKelvey and J. S. Bentley. Chief Cook of the fire department, was on the stand for the most part of the day, testifying as to the condition of the interior of the house the night of the fire. He spoke of the trail of straw leading to the bed, the finding of a match in the dresser drawers, and many other details gone over in the January trial. There was a keen war of words between the county attorney and Mr. Willis. The latter intimated something about witnesses being brought to testify in the case. The remark brought Mr. O'Brien to his feet in an indignant mood, with a remark implying a lack of courage in making a charge of that character under the protection of the court. Mr. Willis explained that he did not intend to intimate that the county attorney had attempted to train the witnesses, but that he stood ready to see that outside influence had been exerted in that direction. Judge Kelly expressed regret at the unpleasantness, and charged Mr. Willis for drawing the fire of the state's representative. With an expression of a hope that harmony should be preserved during the remainder of the trial, he directed the attorneys to proceed. The case went over until Monday at the hour of adjournment after the county attorney and William Hamilton, referring the case to the April term.

FINE FORWARD STEP

Made in the High School

Branch of Public Education.

Supt. Kiehle interestingly reviews the Progress Resulting.

The Chef of the Ryan Dies Suddenly of Pneumonia.

The West St. Paul Fire Bug Case Again on Trial.

State Superintendent Kiehle has made a special review of the Minnesota high schools for the year 1892, and in the review are some very interesting points concerning that branch of our public school system.

Speaking of visitations to high schools, Mr. Kiehle says that there is a general improvement of the high schools all along the line. Boards of education are looking after their schools with greater interest; better school buildings have been erected; a larger proportion of the teachers are experienced and trained, and facilities for instruction have been greatly increased in libraries, chemical and philosophical apparatus, maps, charts and globes.

The following table will indicate the progress of these schools:

Table with 2 columns: Class, and 2 columns of numbers. Total: 1884, 1891.
