

SAINT PAUL.

BRIGHT AND BREEZY.

Serious fever was reported yesterday from 60 Park place.

The cab drivers' union will give a ball this evening at Market hall.

A flag festival was a drawing card at the Grace M. E. church last evening.

The high school board has admitted the Northfield high school to the first class.

The city treasurer paid interest coupons on the city bonds yesterday, amounting to $50,000.

Frank Daniels in "Little Puck" will be seen for the last time at the Metropolitan this evening.

Gen. Banker inspected the members of Company E, First regiment, at the armory last evening.

The young people of the Church of the Ascension will give a German evening at Martin's hall.

The Gen. Merritt Garrison, R. A. & A. W., will have a general meeting at Old Fellows' hall this evening.

There was another large "house" at the Grand last evening, "superbia" is proving a great drawing card.

Seats are now selling at the Metropolitan box office for Robert Mantell's engagement the latter half of this week.

The Queen Isabella club meets Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the People's church parlors.

"The Boy City" will be returned by the Orchestra club and the Christ church choir at the Baptist church tomorrow evening.

There was a public debate last evening at the floating hotel. The discussion was conducted by a large number of people, and a very interesting time was spent.

Charles Boshart, who was arrested on suspicion of having stolen several boxes of writing pens from Franklin school, will be given a hearing this morning.

Paul Bertram, one of the burglars who entered Raffes' restaurant on West Seventh street a few nights ago, was arrested yesterday, and was held to the grand jury under $1,500 bail.

An open meeting of the Theosophical society will be held this evening at Room 103, Globe building. A paper will be read on "Force and Discrimination as Creative Principles in Nature."

The Standard shoe company, of St. Paul, will have a $500 carnival, and John H. A. & C. Co., Paul, and the Bethel Evangelical Lutheran congregation, of Russia, Polk county, held articles of incorporation yesterday.

John Weidenbaur, father of Frank Weidenbaur, died at an early hour yesterday morning at the family residence. He was sixty-one years of age, and death was caused by an attack of pneumonia. The funeral will occur Friday morning from the residence, at the corner of Aurora and Marion streets.

The Downing-Creases are drawing well at Hilton's Play House. The prohibition against smoking at this popular house has been relaxed in deference to the wishes of the patrons. Manager Hilton's one desire is to meet the wishes of the general public as far as is possible.

The funeral of M. J. Cummings will take place this morning from his late residence on West Third street at 9:30 o'clock. The Junior Pioneers, under whose auspices the funeral will be held, will meet at the hall, corner Third and Wabasha, at 9 o'clock and proceed to the residence in a body.

Remember the lecture Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Assembly hall, Mrs. H. A. Hobart, president of Minnesota W. C. T. U., will be on the platform with the presidents of the different W. C. T. U. of this city. Rev. McLaughlin will be in the chair. A committee invited to hear Mrs. Hoffman, who is one of our most talented lecturers.

Rev. Thomas McCallary will lecture on "Sinning in Labor" Friday evening, April 22, at Central Park M. E. church, Twelfth and Minnesota streets, under the auspices of St. Paul Epworth League. The lecture on the American platform today, and crowded houses greet him at every lecture.

Frank Daniels and his big comedy company will give a great face-comedy success by presenting large audiences for the past three evenings at the Metropolitan opera house. There is no end to Mr. Daniels' fund of legitimate comedy. He will give us his rarest performance of "Little Puck" at this favorite play house tonight.

Henry E. Dixey will appear at the Metropolitan for three nights, beginning next week night, in his great comedy, "The Solicitor," which has just enjoyed the distinction of a hundred nights' run in New York city. The most announcement that Mr. Dixey has to visit our city is sufficient to create a stir among theater-goers, as he is always a favorite. His personality is a tower of strength.

WATER FOR COMO.

The Artesian Giving an Excellent Supply of Water.

The problem of how to restore the normal stage of water at Lake Como has been practically solved. The new ten-inch artesian well was tested the other day, and in the course of twenty-four hours 700,000 gallons of water were pumped. This is the second well at the lake. The other is only an eight-inch bore, and the volume of water thrown up was not large enough to be thought effective, and another well was sunk. The new well is some 140 feet deep, and it is satisfactory that the city will probably put down two or three more. This will not only retrieve this pretty sheet of water, but it will furnish a supply for the surrounding territory.

HIS BOND FILED.

The Assignee of the St. Paul German Insurance Company.

Jacob P. Franzen, assignee of the St. Paul German Insurance company, filed his bond yesterday. The penalty of the bond is $1,000,000. The sureties qualified in twice that sum. An affidavit, signed by Albert Scheffer as president, was also filed, stating that the assets will not exceed $500,000. The sureties on the assignee's bond are William Ham, Bernhard Kuhl, Albert Scheffer, E. A. Hendrickson, Charles H. Lieman, J. F. Hill, Charles H. Petch, L. E. Elliot, Daniel Aberle and Crawford Livingston. The sureties qualified in sums ranging from $50,000 to $250,000.

THE OLD CHECK RACKET

Successfully Worked on West Side Business Men.

A well-dressed smooth-looking individual of Northern birth, dressed in business men Monday afternoon, and disappeared with the proceeds. He went into A. B. Volk's furniture store on South Wabasha, explained the situation, and told that he had just come to the city and was located on Concord street. He bought $12 worth of furniture and presented a check for $25 in payment, which was cashed, and the balance given him. To make his deception the surer he offered to accompany the furniture to the store, and when they drove to Concord street and searched in vain for the street number that had been given him. The goods were brought back to the store, and Mr. Volk realized that he had been duped, but found two or three others sympathized with him. The police are looking for the man, but have not found him as yet.

A Straight Tip to all suffering from gouty rheumatism, too much adipose tissue, unhealthy flesh, constipation, indigestion, and all diseases of the stomach is to use the genuine Carlsbad Sprudel Salts. They have never failed. Eisner & Mendelson Co., Sole Agents, N. Y.

SENT TO HIS GRAVE.

Pat Shanley, Shot at the Anoka Dog Fight, Died Yesterday.

It is Claimed a Minneapolis Man Fired the Fatal Shot.

Cope Snapp Waives Examination in the Municipal Court.

Ray of Hope for Tim Lehman, the Como Laborer.

Pat Shanley, the St. Paul saloon-keeper who was shot by the sheriff's posse at Anoka county while unlawfully engaged in refereeing a dog fight at Olinger's resort Sunday last, died at St. Joseph's hospital, in this city, at 4:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Shanley was a notorious character in St. Paul, and his death was not only a relief to the public, but a relief to the police department. He was a man of no great surprise when gangsters made his appearance yesterday. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

Dr. Darling, deputy coroner, who is in charge of the coroner's office, held an inquest on the body of Pat Shanley, and the jury returned a verdict that he died of a gunshot wound. He was the only one of the group who was not shot in the back. He was shot in the chest, and the wound was so serious that he could not have lived twenty-four hours had amputation not been resorted to.

FAIR REGISTRATION.

Something Like 15,000 Names Now on the Books.

Yesterday was the second of the days designated for registration, and the books were open at several voting places from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration was done in the evening, as the workmen were not in their labor, at which time the names were rapidly enrolled. A week ago the enrollment reached nearly 10,000, and from the specimen books taken out last night, it is estimated yesterday added between 5,000 and 6,000 names, making the total up to date between 15,000 and 16,000.

The work of the registration