

MINNEAPOLIS.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The average messenger boy is not very swift on his legs, but when it comes to reasoning and making deductions and drawing conclusions, some of them develop more speed than Herbert Spencer or Dr. McCash.

A young "Minneapolis" has his little to do with the story—come home from a long railway journey a week ago, and the weather was raw. His room had no fire. He lives in a block and has to supply his own fuel.

"Well, where is the wood?" was his inquiry. "Did you get it?" "Yes," and the boy looked honest. "It's coming." "No, it's here now. I've got it."

Dr. George E. Ricker went to Duluth last night. It is believed that the continued supremacy of the Minneapolis mail hoodoo has affected the doctor's mind.

The Anoka chief of police has resigned because he was not allowed for a loafer. He should have held on and come to Minneapolis to see how a chief of police can keep himself busy.

Dr. Wayland Hoyt has violated all the traditions of the orthodox ministry. He spoke from the pulpit of things of which he knew nothing, and then apologized for it.

Another paper outside of Minneapolis has been detected in a conspiracy against the convention city. The Chicago Post published a three-column write-up of the convention arrangements with cuts of the "active" workers.

The regular weekly shoot of the Minneapolis Gun club will occur on the club grounds Thursday at 2 p. m.

A regular meeting of the Jefferson club will be held on the club grounds, 242 Hennepin avenue, tonight. A full attendance is desired.

The regular monthly meeting of the Dental society will be held on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock for election of officers. Full attendance is desired.

Granville S. Pease, editor of the Anoka Times, has invited all the members of the Minneapolis Press to partake of his hospitality on the evening of May 26.

Richard I. Woolfolk died Sunday at the residence of his wife, Mrs. M. Woolfolk, at 1861 and 1863, at 10 o'clock. He was 68 years of age.

Joe Hoy, the tank, who assaulted Patrolman Stewart at Danah hall Saturday night, was arraigned before Judge Smith yesterday, and had his case continued to today.

Corer & Co. have sold for $25,000 Fred Corer's fine residence, 1100 Hennepin street, overlooking Lorain park. The purchaser is J. T. O'Connell.

Mrs. Carleton was arrested yesterday for stealing a lot of buttons and night gown from Donaldson's store. She was released before Judge Mahoney, who fined her $10.

Each was out for a while Sunday, basking in the sunshine after his siege with pneumonia. He has lost flesh greatly, but now believes himself to be on the high road to recovery.

The university faculty is considering the advisability of establishing a journal to represent the best scholarship of the institution. It would be edited by a faculty committee.

The high school annual, by the members of the class of '02 of the Central high school, is in preparation and nearly ready for the press. Special features this year will be cuts of Frois, Bradley and Crombie, and also its editors.

The members of the women's council announce that they have completed the preliminary work and that at the meeting next Saturday afternoon at the library building they will begin to transact the actual business for which the council was organized.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Charles Olson and Christine Bergstrom, to Kilkonnie and Marie Powers, James E. Bishop and Edith M. Schuman, and to M. Higgins and Virginia Bradford, James D. Brewer and Ida M. Matthews, John W. Johnson and Sophia.

A number of the state university graduates next evening in Judge Mahoney's office and arranged for the annual of the state alumni. It will be held in the chapel of the university on June 2. Judge Mahoney will be the master. Another meeting will be held next Saturday night.

Rev. Dr. Wayland Hoyt has objected. In a sermon a week ago Sunday he denounced the playlets on the local bill retracted and scored the mayor for having them removed. Last Sunday he apologized to the mayor publicly. He has discovered that bills are spread on private property and that the mayor has nothing to do with them.

The following cases of contagious diseases were reported at the health office yesterday: Measles, 333 Johnson street northeast, 758 Madison street northeast, 659 Van Buren street northeast, 250 Third street southwest, 1917 Eighth street southeast, 1700 Avenue A, Third street southwest, 1700 Franklin street southwest, 1700 Cedar avenue, Franklin and Seventeenth avenue south.

WHERE IS SCHUMAN? A Local Traveling Man Has Mysteriously Disappeared. J. H. Krueger, manager of the Michigan Clothing company, is very anxious about Harry T. Schuman, one of his traveling agents. On May 5 Schuman drew $200 for expenses and left the city en route for Eau Claire, the first city on his route. Schuman has not been heard from since, and Mr. Krueger has telegraphed to the various places where he was supposed to go and sell goods, but no one has seen him. Schuman's relatives in Kenesh, Wis., know nothing of him, and it is certain that he has not been at Eau Claire. Mr. Krueger will leave for there today and endeavor to get some clue. He says he is positive that Schuman has not absconded, but fears that he has been foully dealt with. He is a handsome fellow, Mr. Krueger says, and a great favorite with the fair sex. He thinks that a woman is at the bottom of his traveling agent's disappearance, and when he reaches Eau Claire will endeavor to clear up the case.

Nasal Catarrh. I was afflicted from infancy with Catarrh, and for ten years with eruptions on my face. I was attended by the best physicians, and used a number of Blood remedies with no permanent relief.

LIFE WAS A BURDEN — My life became a burden to me, for my eyes were declared incurable. I saw S. S. S. advertised, and took eight bottles, which cured me entirely, and I feel like a new person. — MISS JOSIE OWEN, MONTPELIER, OHIO.

Fred Pillsbury, the Great Minneapolis Miller, is Laid to Rest.

Architect Allen and His Plans — Park Board and Lake Harriet.

John Seymour made up his mind last night that he would live no longer, and suiting the action to the thought, deliberately put an end to his existence.

John Seymour is the switchman who about a week ago, in a fit of mental aberration, wandered away from his lodging house, kept by Hugh Butler in the old Thielon block, corner Third street and Central avenue.

The park board, at its meeting yesterday afternoon, discussed Lake Harriet and summer attractions. A gentleman bearing the poetic name of Cross Yeoman made a proposition to the board to furnish comfortable accommodations for visitors who desire to study the beautiful lake by riding around it.

He will charge a fee, the size of which will allow the board to fix, and also pay the board its cost of the grounds.

The proposition met with favor and was adopted. C. I. Whelan, the patient of what he calls the "white-clothes" slide, was asked permission to erect one at the lake.

He said the slide had proved very successful in Europe, and he had spent considerable of their time in sliding on it.

The matter was referred to the committee on improvements, reported that the slide was not a matter of a band at the pavilion.

The committee recommended that a band be organized by the summer company to provide a band during the summer season.

After a little wrangling it was decided that the board would pay the street company all expenses of the boats, over and above $5,300 and up to $15,000, if it will provide the band.

It is very likely that the company will accept this generous proposal, inasmuch as it was waiting for some advance in the matter on the part of the board.

The board appointed a committee to investigate the matter of the boat, ordered by the board, and the contractor, James W. Moore, was ordered to pay for them.

Attorney Jack reported that the First ward park controversy had received another blow in the district court, favorable to the board.

The district court had held in one of its recent decisions that the board did not constitute a cause of action. The committee on improvements submitted an exhaustive report of the work done during the season.

The committee on the Grand for three nights and a matinee, by Corinne and the Kimball Burlesque company. The sale of seats commences this morning.

The rain of last evening interfered somewhat with the Bijou Monday night and Tuesday night. By that time a large number were present.

The performance of "Alone in London" went smoother than on Sunday evening. The boiler was a good one and had made a hit at the Pence.

CONVENTION CHRONICINGS. — Walter M. Seely, of Lincoln, the secretary of the Nebraska Republican central committee, came to Minneapolis yesterday to arrange for having his state people housed and fed during the convention.

He says he will have an attendance from that state of 1,500 people. He took 1,300 to Chicago for the last convention and hired a whole hotel for them. He wants to keep them all in Minneapolis.

The delegates at large will vote for Harrison, as will some of the delegates, but they are all Blaine men at heart.

The Scandinavians will meet again tomorrow night to arrange for their delegates to the local convention.

The Michigan club has closed a contract for quarters at the local hotel for the Michigan headquarters. The Michigan club has closed a contract for quarters at the local hotel for the Michigan headquarters.

The Indiana people are requested to meet in the Union league hall, to make further arrangements for taking care of the people from the Hoosier state and to be on hand at 7 o'clock.

The fire was soon extinguished. The Michiganians. About twenty-five Michiganians met at the West last night and discussed their proposed association.

The committee on organization, appointed at the previous meeting, reported that everything was in shape to proceed with forming the association, and that sufficient money for all purposes had already been subscribed.

Another meeting will be held Saturday evening in rooms on the second floor of the Boston block when the organization will be completed.

Fletcher Has Come Back. — Loren Fletcher has returned from a trip to the East. He has little to say of political nature. He thinks that Minneapolis people will do better by thinking about getting ready for the convention than by worrying about the local fire.

Flaherty and Weir. — They Came Together at the Hennepin Athletic Club Tonight. Joe Flaherty, the ambitious young man who will stand up in front of "Spider" Weir's gyrations at the Hennepin Athletic club, Minneapolis, tonight, arrived yesterday. Flaherty is young, yellow, but he looks to be a likely fellow.

He weighs 122, it is claimed, but he looks heavier than that. Flaherty has fought several notable battles. He defeated Tommy White in two rounds, and Weir was unable to gain any advantage over the same man in ten rounds.

Flaherty also fought a long and hard battle with George Dixon. "The Spider" well aware that he has a large contract on his hands in trying to best Flaherty in a given number of rounds, and he has been training for this bout more than any one in Minneapolis ever saw him train before.

He has worked hard under the supervision of Charlie Kemm. He seems to be in good shape. The contest should be a lively and interesting one.

The Woman Question Sure to Come Up in Committee Reports.

OMAHA, May 16.—Bishop Hurst occupied the chair today in the M. E. general conference. The bishops sent in a communication requesting the conference to decide definitely the meaning of the rules where they specified that a call for a vote by orders be called by a third of either order, as to whether these are one-third of all members elected, or one-third of those present and voting.

Referred to the judiciary committee. Dr. Hargis, of Philadelphia, sprung a resolution to make the paragraphs of the discipline, 55 to 65 inclusive, referring to the plan of lay delegation and representation. He wanted the plan formally recognized by this conference, and those parts of the discipline which were constitutional separated from that which was statutory.

Several vigorous speeches were made, and the matter was finally laid on the table. Dr. Swindell offered a resolution declaring that the army and navy of the United States should be instructed in religion and good morals, and asking congress to provide a competent and sufficient number of chaplains for the purpose.

The resolution was especially appreciated the excellent programme furnished by the Chicago Ladies' Quartette. The quartette and duo singing was especially beautiful, the voices blending perfectly.

SABLE LOTHARIO.

Rufus Savoy Has a Narrow Escape But is Fined $15.

Rufus Savoy is a 35-year-old colored loafer employed at the Casino Club. He has taken a great fancy to a pretty young colored woman named Mrs. Minnie Thomas, who lives on Fifth avenue north near Sixth street, and yesterday morning he called on her in the disguise of her husband.

She ordered him to leave the house but he refused, so she snatched up a revolver and fired at him. The bullet plowed and landed in the wall. Patrolman Stapleton hearing the shot rushed up to the place and found Savoy and Mrs. Thomas. He arrested them both and locked them up at the central station.
