

THE NATIONAL HEROES

Memorial Services to Be Held in Many Churches Today.

Outline of the Exercises for Tomorrow's Great Celebration.

Local Ladies Discuss the Latest Phases in Art Circles.

The Assembly Committee on Streets Holds Its Final Meeting.

Tomorrow will be the twenty-third annual observance of Decoration day.

While the great majority of the citizens of St. Paul will participate in the elaborate programme that has been arranged for the occasion, are only a few who will be present at the ceremonies.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

The arrangements for the observance in St. Paul have been consummated under the direction of the various Grand Army posts of the city.

Other Civic Societies.

Citizens of Horseback. Citizens in Carriages. Excelsior, Oakland.

Assembly. Funeral March—Memorial. Reeves.

Prayer. We Gather Here With Vocal Music. We Gather Here With Vocal Music.

Mendelssohn Quartet—Messrs. Cotville, De Lacy, Houghby and Merrill. Memorial Address—Rev. E. L. Woodford.

Vocal Music—"Rest, Comrades, Rest!" Combined. Sacred Melody—"Lacharia." Rossini.

Great Western and First Regiment Bands Combined. Benediction. Taps.

In Memory of Heroes. The committee that has in charge the decoration of the graves in Calvary cemetery will meet at 2:30 this afternoon.

and it requests the relatives and friends of the deceased to be present at 10 o'clock tomorrow forenoon all who wish to participate in the ceremonies will be invited to the corner of Sixth and Robert streets.

Citizens will display bunting and flags during the day upon their residences, especially about the prescribed line of march.

Flags will be hoisted from all school houses and public buildings. The horsehoers of St. Paul will observe the day by not opening their shops.

A free dinner will be spread by the ladies of Garfield Post Relief corps, 350 East Seventh street, and all old soldiers, Sons of Veterans, and Relief corps are cordially invited to participate in the feast that will be provided.

Memorial services will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning at the corner of Sixth and Robert streets.

Rev. S. B. Warner will deliver a memorial sermon at the Oxford M. E. church before Garfield Post at 10:30 the morning; subject, "Our Patriotic Dead."

Rev. James Castles will deliver a memorial sermon at Asbury M. E. church this morning.

Rev. S. M. Crothers will take for his subject at the church this morning, "How the Lovers of Peace May Honor the Memory of the Heroes of War."

Decorations Day is a legal holiday. The capitol, the city hall and courthouse, the public library, the banks, the schools, and most of the stores and commercial houses will remain closed.

Rev. Father Heffron will deliver a discourse this evening at the cathedral upon "Love of Country," appropriate to the Decoration day events of the day following. The pastor especially invites the attendance of all G. A. R. men.

Monday forenoon mass will be said at 9 o'clock at Calvary rectory for the old soldiers that lie there in their last resting places.

For the Coming Week. We submit quotations on the following goods, which you will see are particularly good values for the money:

Toile de Nord seersuckers, your choice of the stock at 95 cents per yard. Bretton zephyr gingham, your choice of the stock at 95 cents per yard.

26-inch width figured Gleana tissues, in light and dark ground-work, your choice of them at 10 cents per yard.

Indigo-blend prints 45 cents per yard. 26-inch width striped or plaid bedspreads, in medium and light colors, at 8 1/2 cents per yard.

28-inch width outing flannels, good quality and patterns, at 5 cents per yard. Lancaster LL sheeting at 5 cents per yard.

Ladies' ribbed sleeveless vests at 5 cents each. Excellent quality 12-inch black silk jersey mitts at 25 cents per pair.

45-inch wide and hemstitched flouncings, in white, in four-and-a-half-yard lengths, at $1.50, $1.75 and $2.00 per piece. This is a great bargain.

Mottled Castile soap, good quality, 25 cents per dozen. Each and every one of the above offerings are good value and considerably under regular prices. This coming week at HARBIGNON & CO'S, 233, 235, 237 East Seventh St.

LADIES TALKED ART. Interesting Paper by Mrs. A. E. Clark on the Columbian Exposition.

"Art at the Columbian Exposition" was the theme of an interesting and intelligent paper read by Mrs. A. E. Clark at the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Art association yesterday forenoon in the rooms of the association in the New York Life building.

It was a delightful meeting, and pretty well attended, considering the unpropitious condition of the weather.

The object of the society is to excite interest in art among the ladies of St. Paul, and the effect has been to develop many very promising amateurs. There were several admirable pieces of work exhibited at the meeting yesterday. All save one were in oil, but this exception was painted in water colors, and the whole was from the clever brushes of members of the club.

Mrs. Clark's paper was a treat to the other members. It gave comprehensive and candid review of the art news of the year, and treated of the different phases of the study as only the true artist could offer, and the whole was appropriately illumined by the latest art advances of the exposition in Chicago.

There were many interesting discussions, and the whole was a most profitable and enjoyable meeting. It was decided to make application for space in the Minnesota building at the exposition.

AN ANSWER TO BOHN.

N. W. Lumbermen's Association and the Injunction Against It.

Claim the Bohn Company Aim to Disrupt the Organization.

Sudden Death of the Wife of E. W. Winter and Her Mother.

Batch of New Buildings to be Erected by Local Capitalists.

The hearing of the application to dissolve the temporary injunction granted to the Bohn Manufacturing company against W. G. Hollis and the Northwestern Lumbermen's Association will occur Wednesday before Judge Cornish, sitting in chambers.

The file of papers containing the respective stories of each side were left with the clerk yesterday. Mr. Hollis, for himself, files an answer, and also files an answer for the association, of which he is secretary.

Each of these answers claim that the association is doing nothing contrary to law and would do nothing more to the Bohn Manufacturing company further than to drop its name from the roll of members.

It is denied that any coercive methods have been or will be resorted to by the Bohn Manufacturing company. It is set forth that the association is carried on as a social and business body; that it is neither a corporation nor a partnership; that its motives are worthy. Copies of the constitution, by-laws and the monthly circular of information furnished to the members are on file with the clerk.

Mr. Hollis also filed an affidavit as the basis of the application for moving a dissolution of the temporary injunction granted some days ago. In this affidavit it is stated that the Bohn Manufacturing company was an active member of the association until March, 1891, when it withdrew as an active member and remained an honorary member up to the day it presented the petition for injunction, the 17th inst. It is asserted that the Bohns heartily approved of and participated in the organization. As to the claim for 10 per cent commission, of which the Bohns now complain, it is a provision in a by-law of the association providing that penalty for selling lumber, shades, screens, etc., at wholesale prices to others than dealers in towns where there are members of the association doing business, but does not prohibit selling to railroad or elevator companies for their own use. In case of violating the agreement in this respect the officer agrees to distribute 10 per cent to the parties affected.

Members of the association at Worthington and New Uim made claim for this commission for a violation of the agreement. It is asserted that at the time of the annual meeting the association in January last, while this claim for commission was pending, the Bohn Manufacturing company invited the association to banquet at its factory at St. Paul. The invitation was accepted, upon the express condition that the commission should be paid to the satisfaction of the parties at Worthington and New Uim. The association at that time received oft repeated and emphatic declarations of sympathy. A group picture of the association was taken at the factory while attending the banquet, which was used by the Bohn Manufacturing company to send to customers as an advertisement. Mr. Hollis makes oath that on the very day the petition for an injunction was filed, he received a telegram from the Bohn Manufacturing company stating that they would settle.

It is alleged in the affidavit that this action was brought to coerce the association members through fear of litigation and to injure the Bohn Manufacturing company, and that the proceeding was begun through spite, malice and ill-will, thinking that fears of litigation would cause the withdrawal and thus disrupt the association. It is asserted that if the injunction is not dissolved it will injure the association and prevent it sending out its monthly circular to members.

Hotel St. Louis Trains. Commencing Monday, May 30, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway will run a cottagers' train to Hotel St. Louis, leaving St. Paul at 5:30 p. m., Minneapolis 6:30 p. m., arriving at Hotel St. Louis at 6:30 p. m. Returning, leave Hotel St. Louis at 7:30 a. m., arrive Minneapolis 8:00 a. m. and St. Paul at 8:30 a. m.

THE GRIM REAPER. Gathers in the Wife of E. W. Winter and Her Mother.

The wide circle of warm personal friends and large circle of admirers were shocked yesterday to learn of the demise of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Winter, wife of Edwin W. Winter, and of her mother, Mrs. Laura McConnell Cannon, at the former's home, 200 Madison street, in this city, Monday.

While they had both been prostrated by attacks of pneumonia, it was only apprehended by a very few that Mrs. Winter was in danger. However, the fell destroyer visited both at nearly the same time, and two loved spirits passed to the beyond.

Commencing Monday, May 30, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway will run a cottagers' train to Hotel St. Louis, leaving St. Paul at 5:30 p. m., Minneapolis 6:30 p. m., arriving at Hotel St. Louis at 6:30 p. m. Returning, leave Hotel St. Louis at 7:30 a. m., arrive Minneapolis 8:00 a. m. and St. Paul at 8:30 a. m.

THE GRIM REAPER. Gathers in the Wife of E. W. Winter and Her Mother.

The wide circle of warm personal friends and large circle of admirers were shocked yesterday to learn of the demise of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Winter, wife of Edwin W. Winter, and of her mother, Mrs. Laura McConnell Cannon, at the former's home, 200 Madison street, in this city, Monday.

While they had both been prostrated by attacks of pneumonia, it was only apprehended by a very few that Mrs. Winter was in danger. However, the fell destroyer visited both at nearly the same time, and two loved spirits passed to the beyond.

Commencing Monday, May 30, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway will run a cottagers' train to Hotel St. Louis, leaving St. Paul at 5:30 p. m., Minneapolis 6:30 p. m., arriving at Hotel St. Louis at 6:30 p. m. Returning, leave Hotel St. Louis at 7:30 a. m., arrive Minneapolis 8:00 a. m. and St. Paul at 8:30 a. m.

THE GRIM REAPER. Gathers in the Wife of E. W. Winter and Her Mother.

The wide circle of warm personal friends and large circle of admirers were shocked yesterday to learn of the demise of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Winter, wife of Edwin W. Winter, and of her mother, Mrs. Laura McConnell Cannon, at the former's home, 200 Madison street, in this city, Monday.

While they had both been prostrated by attacks of pneumonia, it was only apprehended by a very few that Mrs. Winter was in danger. However, the fell destroyer visited both at nearly the same time, and two loved spirits passed to the beyond.

Commencing Monday, May 30, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway will run a cottagers' train to Hotel St. Louis, leaving St. Paul at 5:30 p. m., Minneapolis 6:30 p. m., arriving at Hotel St. Louis at 6:30 p. m. Returning, leave Hotel St. Louis at 7:30 a. m., arrive Minneapolis 8:00 a. m. and St. Paul at 8:30 a. m.

THE GRIM REAPER. Gathers in the Wife of E. W. Winter and Her Mother.

The wide circle of warm personal friends and large circle of admirers were shocked yesterday to learn of the demise of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Winter, wife of Edwin W. Winter, and of her mother, Mrs. Laura McConnell Cannon, at the former's home, 200 Madison street, in this city, Monday.

While they had both been prostrated by attacks of pneumonia, it was only apprehended by a very few that Mrs. Winter was in danger. However, the fell destroyer visited both at nearly the same time, and two loved spirits passed to the beyond.

Commencing Monday, May 30, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway will run a cottagers' train to Hotel St. Louis, leaving St. Paul at 5:30 p. m., Minneapolis 6:30 p. m., arriving at Hotel St. Louis at 6:30 p. m. Returning, leave Hotel St. Louis at 7:30 a. m., arrive Minneapolis 8:00 a. m. and St. Paul at 8:30 a. m.

THE GRIM REAPER. Gathers in the Wife of E. W. Winter and Her Mother.

The wide circle of warm personal friends and large circle of admirers were shocked yesterday to learn of the demise of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Winter, wife of Edwin W. Winter, and of her mother, Mrs. Laura McConnell Cannon, at the former's home, 200 Madison street, in this city, Monday.

While they had both been prostrated by attacks of pneumonia, it was only apprehended by a very few that Mrs. Winter was in danger. However, the fell destroyer visited both at nearly the same time, and two loved spirits passed to the beyond.

A WELL-KNOWN MAN.

What One of Our Boss Painters Has to Say of Dr. Hunt.

Mr. Abel Swanson, of 687 Wells street, is one of the well known citizens in this city. Mr. Swanson is by occupation a "Boss Painter," and for three years he has been more or less incapacitated for work by a disease which baffled all his efforts to cure until lately.

He said in a recent interview: "For three years I have been almost unable to work at all. My trouble was a degenerated catarrh of the stomach, as I have lately ascertained."

"As I have said," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third street, No. 403 and No. 404 Pioneer Press building, to see what they could do for me. At that time my stomach was a continual sensation of oppression and weight. My nervous system was almost totally ruined. I was unable to eat or sleep. I had lost all my appetite, and I would awaken in the morning more tired and worn out than I had been the night before."

"I have had," continued Mr. Swanson, "the disease baffled all my efforts to get a cure, and I was unable to do anything, as induced by my friends to call at the office of Dr. Hunt, 111 W. Third