BUILDING BOOMING.
The Season Will Show Up Well Despite the Spring Dampness.
Manufacturing Plants and Residences Springing Up Everywhere.
All Architecture Running Strong Toward Italian Renaissance.
A General Idea of the Building Now in Progress in St. Paul.

The building is always an eloquent exposition of the growth, advancement and prosperity of a city. Under ordinary conditions the building in St. Paul the present season would have eclipsed the record. There would, in other words, be a better showing of new erections than during any season in the history of the city, but it will be recalled, the present has been an exceptional year. The weather in the earlier months has anything but propitious. The rain descended day after day for weeks, with unremitting severity, and this influenced a postponement in building activities. Still, the architects of the city have a goodly number of orders, and draughtsmen are busy at the drafting table. The work is on residences, and this fact must be accepted as a fairly reliable index to the question of prosperity. The architect has upwards of a dozen orders for fine residences in the St. Anthony hill district, and others are working on plans, and the general idea of the pretensions to be erected the present season in all localities.

country. It will be ready for occupancy by Sept. 1, and it occupies a space of 15,000 feet, and is four stories high, with a basement, and will accommodate 80 patients. The structure is fire-proof, and fireless, and every sense, and it is predicted that St. Luke's hospital will become a St. Paul landmark. It is different from ordinary hospitals, in that every department is in the one building, and all is arranged so as to facilitate the comfort and convenience of patients and employees. Mr. Johnston confesses that when he first undertook the task he was confronted by a reconstructor, but he congratulates himself upon the fact that he has worked out satisfactorily to his patrons and to himself.

The Waltersdorf Haskell Manufacturing company request the chief of police to order the immediate removal of both houses and logs from the levee in block 8, Marshall's addition to West St. Paul. This was asked because the firm mentioned desired to build at once a factory on the land, and the owners of the obstructions refused to vacate the premises. A resolution, ordering the chief of police to have the obstructions removed, was passed.

For several months the would-be leaders of the Republican party, and more especially those of the reform administration, have been insisting that Dr. Hoyt, the present health commissioner, be discharged. The mayor, reported as having recommended that the doctor's resignation would be accepted, but the doctor did not seem to need the invitation. At the meeting of the council last night the scheme put up to end the commissioner by impeachment was brought to light. The matter came up by the following communication, addressed to the council:

IT IS WARMING UP.
The Hamsey County Club Idea Is Enticing the Democratic Voters.
In Two Weeks Every Ward and Town Will Have Its Own Club.

The subject of architecture is just now more interesting than most arts or professions. The world's Columbian fair is a factor that contributes to this condition. The structures that are to ornament as well as facilitate the Chicago site are at once a modern and an ancient thing. The prevailing style is the Italian Renaissance, as it is more especially artistic. There are several examples in this city, and all the architects who keep abreast of the progress of the day agree that the Italian Renaissance will soon be the prevailing style.

EXPENSIVE TO WED.
A Dusky Couple's Vision of Love Dispelled.
A dusky trio were in the district clerk's office yesterday for the purpose of securing a marriage license. James F. Davis is a dark-skinned man on the shady side of middle life, and he wanted to wed Mary A. Bates, a demure, fair-skinned maiden, several years younger. The third member of the party was a pickaninny of eight or ten years. Davis tilted his pig head back on his head and leaned against the rail until the licenses had been made out and enclosed in an envelope, and then he gave the fee for the requisite document. The answer was sufficient to cause his eyes and mouth to pop open. A consultation with the solemn-faced clerk revealed the fact that there was not the requisite $2 in their joint possession. They left the office with solemn faces and the statement that they would return later with the necessary coin to secure the authority to wed.

MEN'S ODD PANTS:
Our Fall stock in this department is, without doubt, the finest we have ever shown. They are cut to fit men who are stout, fat, slim or regular, and are marked at prices that will catch the trade.

The assembly confirmed the report of the committee on streets recommending the approval of the contract of Fielding & Shepley for paving East Fourth street, was disposed of for a time, at least, by being indefinitely postponed.

MURPHY'S LICENSE.
The Right of Council Being Fought Out in Court.
The case of E. L. Murphy, charged with selling liquor without a license, occupied the attention of the police court judge a good part of yesterday. Assistant County Attorney Butler conducted the prosecution, and Henry Johns, H. L. Williams and F. W. Zollman appeared for Murphy. The points made were argued at length, and at 3 o'clock an adjournment was taken until this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The defense claims that the action of the council in revoking the license contrary to the provisions of the law. The main point they will bring is that at the meeting of the board of aldermen at which the matter was passed only six members voted for a reconsideration, and under the rules it requires eight votes to bring it before the meeting. This step being illegal, the claim is that the subsequent action of the board is void. The outcome of the case will be watched with interest. The friends of the administration promised, the day after election, to make it hot for Murphy, and the revocation of his license is said to be one of the ways taken to get even for the campaign work done by Murphy at the last election.

Another Mandate Affirming Judge Nelson's Dismissal of the Chadbourne Suit.
A mandate has been sent from the United States circuit court of appeals to the United States circuit court of the district of Minnesota affirming the decision of the court below in the case of Augustus K. Barium and others against John P. Dunn and others. The decision below was to the effect that the defendants have no interest or lien upon valuable real estate in the city of St. Paul. A mandate has also been handed down from the United States circuit court of appeals to the United States circuit court of the state of Ohio, in the case of Catherine E. Chadbourne and Smith W. Chadbourne, as executors of the estate of W. M. Chadbourne, against James N. Coe. The judgment rendered by Judge R. R. Nelson, in the court below, dismissing the bill of complaint, is affirmed.

FINE FURS FOR FEMINITY.
Elegant Emporium for Cold Weather Wraps Opened Yesterday.
The pessimist that has remained in doubt as to the possibility of a fashion street becoming the principal artery of retail trade in this city must surely be satisfied to-day. The new store, the Kibbin Fur Company's enormous emporium, on the corner of Washaba and Sixth streets, feel inclined to give in to the temptation of looking at the display. This new establishment is 50x35 feet, covering three floors, and is a delectable creation for the leather trade. The store is a masterpiece of architecture, and would prove an ornament to the largest business centers of the East. Quite a transformation occurred at the hour of the opening—when the curtains were drawn from the huge plate windows and the floor was strewn with the most magnificent furs from stock surmounting the lumberable rare animals, including South American, American, Leopard, Puma, Chitta, Jaguar and Tiger, made life-like by the art of taxidermy. The most beautiful and valuable play attracted the eyes of all passers-by, who were loud in their praises of the exhibit.
