SAINT PAUL, MINN., MONDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 26, 1892.

THE PEOPLE SAY
The Ring Must Go
SO LET IT BE.

NO. 270.

RING ROBBERY.

No One With Courage Enough to Defend the Great Rascality.

Country Papers Too Keenly Alive to the Steal to Attempt a Shield.

The Grip of the Octopus on the Throat of the Republican Party.

And the Very Laws Manipulated to Serve the Ring's Tricks.

North Dakota No More Free
From the Nefarious
Wheat Steals.

How the Elevator Ring Has for Years Fleeced the Farmer.

Pillsbury's Statement Called Down by a Hutchinson Dealer.

The Republican party of Minnesota is clearly responsible for the shameful manner in which the great wheat ring has defrauded the farmers of this state.

And why has this nefarious work been left to the Pioneer Press and the Minneapolis organs? Why do not the local country papers denounce the charges that have been made against their party on this question?

The answer to both these questions is, "Simply because they know of the existence of this combine; they know that their readers know it, and they further know that they cannot be deceived in regard to it."

But there is another reason why local Republican papers will say nothing, or say nothing as possible on this question.

There is not a county paper published in this state that is not directly or indirectly connected with the prosperity of the farmers. If the latter are doing well, all branches of business in the smaller towns and cities flourish, and vice versa. In the case, all branches of business must be dull.

If the Republican party of Minnesota is not to blame for the present condition of things as well as the crimes, that have been committed in the past why did the Pioneer Press and the Minneapolis columns of space to an attempted answer to the great wheat ring exposé?

Less than six months ago this same Pioneer Press said:

"The indubitable fact seems to be that prices do not rise here as freely as they do where our produce is sold, and that the farmer of the United States has something more than a dumb and un-reasoning sense of wrong, and that he on his side when he complains that he does not receive the full benefit which the world's demand should bring to him in better prices, is not a man who is ignorant of the facts of the case."

This conclusion was reached by the Pioneer after the following statement, which shows that the price of wheat made here is 70 cents, and it is shipped from Duluth and Minneapolis:

This Is From the Pioneer Press.
Beginning with Crookston as a primary market, the price of wheat was for October, 1891, is given as 61 cents per bushel. By the time the wheat reaches Minneapolis it sells for 77 cents, and at Duluth for 70 cents, allowing for a difference of grades. The Crookston price is therefore from 16 to 17 cents less than the Minneapolis price. The freight rate from Duluth to Minneapolis is 17 cents per hundred, or 10 cents per bushel. A similar difference of about 17 cents prevailed in 1890, and of 16 cents in 1891. The margin over and above the freight rate is therefore, allowing for in excess of all reasonable charges for handling. For November the difference was 15 cents, and for December and January it was 14 and 13 cents, and in February and March it was 12 and 11 cents, and in April and May it was 10 cents, and in June and July it was 9 cents, and in August it was 8 cents.

"As these are not daily prices which are compared, but average prices for months, this difference is practically a stable one. And why it should thus increase with the season, rising to more than 25 cents in December, or more than double the freight rate between the two points, is a question for some one to answer. It is a scaling down of values upon the farmer that cuts heavily into his profits."

"The bushel of wheat is now at Duluth, and was worth there, in the present season, deducting an average of 3 cents per bushel, to cover the difference between the grades of No. 1 hard and No. 1 northern, 92 cents in September.
It was worth in that month $1.04 in New York, or 13 cents more. But the freight rate on wheat from Duluth to Buffalo averaged $1.16 cents, and from Buffalo to New York the canal rate averaged about 4 1/2 cents. The total freight charge to the New York market was approximately 8 cents per bushel; and the remaining 5 cents difference in price is due to the account of insurance and other charges and to the expense of handling in Buffalo. The difference between the New York, which was $1.04, and the Buffalo price, which was $1.15, for the same month was 11 cents, or on 13 cents more."

"Many Republicans wondered why this clerk should have taken the over men like 'Nate' Kingsley, Dan W. Bruckart, Frank Wilson and Willis Sawyer, but Messrs. Pillsbury, Graves, Ruppel and the other members of the wheat ring could have told the reason why."

Children was supported in the convention by the Pillsbury interest.
Duluth voted for him also.
And yet the Pioneer Press takes nine columns to show that there is and has been no ring.

SPREADS OVER DAKOTA.
Nefarious Work of the Wheat Combine in the North State.

The infamous wheat and elevator combine is now in full control of all of the machinery in Minnesota, and not reasonably clear that the profits on wheat are made between Minneapolis and Liverpool."

And in the face of the above the Pio-ner is in nine-column defense asserting the following facts:

First—That there is not and has not been a wheat combine.

Second—That the Republican party has given the state laws to prevent the rascality complained of.

Third—That the party has been "combine," its existence has nothing to do with the Republic party.

These claims are somewhat conflicting. The first is that the elevator has been proven to the satisfaction of every reasonable man by the minority report of the Moore and the other reports and telegrams that have been published in the last few days by the GLOBE.

The statement that the state has laws against wheat combines is true, as asserted by the Pioneer Press.

It is also true that these laws have not been enforced. The Herald will give you a fact that were called up by the discussion of your article here.

DEVILO'S LAKE, N. D., Sept. 25, 1892.
The elevator ring is proper, and it well received here, does not do justice to the situation. Mr.
Pillsbury should have remained quiet and let the matter rest.

Due to a mild attack, and not to the many steals of the plottic combination of elevator, railroad and warehouse companies, the farmers of every locality in this state could add columns of facts in regard to abuses mentioned by the Herald. I will

ROSLYN, Wash., Sept. 25.—Every male child who has grown up in the state, but has stretched out its fingers arms and included the two Dakotas of well. North Dakota is groaning under just such a burden. The following letter from Devil's Lake opens up a new chapter of how it has fished from the farmers, and overturned the will of the voter:

To the Editor of the Globe.
DEVILO'S LAKE, N. D., Sept. 25, 1892.
The elevator ring is
proper, and it well received here,
does not do justice to the situation. Mr.
and let the matter rest.

the many steals of the plottic
warehouse companies, the farmers of
columns of facts in regard to abuses
mentioned by the Herald. I will give you a fact that were called up by the discussion of your article here.
