

THE DAILY GLOBE

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY PUBLISHED EVERY DAY AT THE GLOBE BUILDING, CORNER FOURTH AND CEDAR STREETS. BY LEWIS BAKER.

TODAY'S WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—For Minnesota: Generally fair, except possible local storms in extreme northern portion tonight; colder; north winds. For Wisconsin: Fair; north winds; colder Saturday night. For North Dakota: Generally fair; north winds becoming variable; colder in extreme south westerly portion. For South Dakota: North winds; colder Saturday night. For Iowa: Generally fair; westerly winds; warmer in northern portion by Saturday evening. For Iowa: Fair; north winds; colder Saturday night.

REPORTS FROM CUBA announce that a cyclonic disturbance will move northward from Western Cuba, but that stations as yet give no indications of such a disturbance.

Table with columns: Place of Observation, Barometer, Thermometer, Wind, Clouds, etc.

FOR PRESIDENT

CROVER CLEVELAND, FOR VICE PRESIDENT, ADLAI E. STEVENSON.

NEXT MONDAY NIGHT.

The Democratic ratification meeting and reception to DANIEL W. LAWLER next Monday night promises to eclipse any political demonstration ever held in St. Paul. Market hall and the Grand opera house have been engaged, and open air meetings will be held at adjacent points. The gospel of Democracy will be preached simultaneously from the several platforms by men whose oratorical achievements have given them a national fame. HENRY GEORGE, who ranks next after HERBERT SPENCER as a student of sociological problems, and whose life is devoted to the amelioration of hardships among the laboring classes, will present the cause of tariff reform. W. G. EWING, whose effective eloquence in the Illinois campaign of two years ago gave him rank with EXETER, CANTON, and the other leading orators of the country, will be present and deliver an address, as will THOMAS J. SHEARMAN, the co-ordinator guardian with HENRY GEORGE, of the star-eyed goddess of tariff reform; JOHN Z. WHITE, the foremost orator of the labor world, and Minnesota's own honored citizen, Judge THOMAS WILSON, JAMES N. CASTLE, CHAS. WELLS, and C. D. B. FOSTER.

All these will contribute the force of their eloquence, and so will the Young Man Eloquent himself, DANIEL W. LAWLER, the next governor of Minnesota. The whole city and the suburbs and the country-side are invited to participate in this grand demonstration. Our friends of the other political persuasion are invited to come and be instructed in the principles of good government. The wives and sisters and mothers—God bless 'em—who are no less vitally concerned than the sterner sex in these questions, are invited to come, and are assured that they will be gallantly provided for.

ROGER Q. MILLS.

ROGER Q. MILLS has been in Minnesota for the past week, working for the Democracy's cause. His voice has been at the command of the state central committee, and he has spoken at such places as it has selected. He is the most powerful, the most convincing and the most attractive orator in the party's ranks. He did more than any single cause which can be named to convert Minnesota to the side of Democracy two years ago. This year his influence for the right has been resistless wherever he has been heard. Thousands of people have attended the meetings which he has addressed in the country. Not only have the farmers and people listened to him, but the farmers have come in from miles about to hear the arguments for freedom. He has made a life study of economic problems. He has been a member of the national congress for a quarter of a century. He was the author of the famous tariff reform bill for which KATE NELSON, the Republican candidate for governor, voted before he had sold his honest convictions for the sake of a political preference. In the great Democratic state of Texas Mr. MILLS is the leading and most popular of Democrats. No gift in the control of his fellow-citizens is too valuable for them to confer on him. He is a profound high-minded, and a true patriot, an undaunted advocate of the truth. Tonight he speaks in the Exposition hall at Minneapolis. Thousands of interested men and women should greet him there. Whoever cares to hear a cause well presented, wherever it comes, to see a prominent statesman, whoever is doubtful as to how he shall vote, who has already made up his mind and wants to have his convictions either way confirmed—all these should go.

NO TIME FOR VITIUPERATION.

The newspapers of the enemy are quoting with the utmost gusto the kind, commendatory words which the GLOBE from time to time has spoken about Republicans, some of whom are now candidates for office in this country. The GLOBE is proud of the fact that its files will afford a limitless supply of this sort of campaign material for any one who cares to use it. It is daily now, even in the heat of the final battle, speaking kind, commendatory words of whoever deserves them. The GLOBE refuses to be sidetracked into a snarl of vituperation. It declines to waste its space in bitter, lying personalities which influence no one and disgust the high-minded. It reserves its columns for the discussion of important economic principles and the publication of the news. To these purposes it devotes them.

THE SPEAKERS' FUND.

Table listing names and amounts for the Speakers' Fund.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS PLAY THE IMPORTANT PART IN THE CELEBRATION.

Stars and Stripes Hoisted and Saluted as the Initial Performance.

THE INTERESTING AND IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Every Grade School Has Its Own Pleasing and Loyal Programme.

WAR AGAINST THE REPUBLIC.

The Pittsburgh Dispatch, a leading Republican newspaper of Pennsylvania, in a recent issue, published this startling piece of information: Next week the goodly sum already at the disposal of the Republican national committee will be swelled by a round million of good, crisp dollars, which can be used to good advantage during the latter days of the campaign, and especially on the last day. THIS IS THE DONATION OF PROTECTED MANUFACTURERS. It will be expended in an attempt to carry the state for HARRISON.

Let every patriot mark these words and ponder on them. They are an open, shameless announcement of a damnable intention to commit the deadliest of crimes in hell's catalogue. The dastard who plots against the honor of defenseless children, the assassin who creeps out of the dark to stab his innocent victim in the back, the man who uses the light of gain, in an angel of influence the result of an election by the corrupt use of money. The briber, the buyer of votes is levying war against the integrity and the life of our national institutions. Let every patriot ask himself "Shall I side with a cause which resorts to such expedients?"

Let every farmer and wage earner in Minnesota read these words and ponder on them. Why should the protected manufacturers of the East donate a round million of good, crisp dollars to the Republican corruption fund? Is it out of a spirit of philanthropy? Is it because of the affection for the poor and their ambition to increase the profits of the industrial class? Surely not. The lying mouth, which says such things, the manufacturer of the East have a million dollars to give for this purpose because protection has enabled them to write a contribution out of the reluctant pockets of every consumer in the land, and has made them a race of plutocrats, favored by the law and the oppressors of their fellows. They give a million dollars for this purpose because a Republican victory promises them a new lease of power and the opportunity to grow still richer at the expense of the poor. Year after year the farmers and wage earners of Minnesota have been oppressed and crushed by the hands which have robbed them. Let every one of them ask himself now "Out of whom did the Eastern manufacturers make the million dollars which they give away without missing it? And when am I to get my share of protectionism's bounty?"

A TOAST TO THE COLONEL.

Half the power and brilliancy of the war of the late century was exercised by COL. WATTESSON yesterday. He is lost to us who were not of the night through which he led. The rhythmic cadences of voice and the impassioned grace of manner—these are what we long for since these attributes are possessed by COL. WATTESSON in sufficient degree to impart even to homely language a rare dignity and beauty, how much more must they have done for the burning, eloquent words of yesterday.

Yet even in its dull garb of sloughy type the address moves and thrills us. It stirs within us the pride of our grand four hundred years. It quickens the pulse of patriotism, and sends the rich, warm glow of freedom bounding through our veins. It breaks the spell of debasing commonplaceness which has held our nobler emotions in Lethian thrall, and awakes in us the poetry and fire of a love for our country. It-but the GLOBE is here to deliver an oration. It simply desires to commend COL. WATTESSON. The Colonel rose greatly to a great occasion, and he deserves to be told of it. He sprang into the breach at the very moment when DEMOSTHENES couldn't have done in under six months' time, however vigorously he walked the shinin' sands with pebbles in his mouth.

It was a noble and, unfortunately, is past; but in the slightest substitute to be had we pledge the Colonel many quadri-centennial returns of the day, either here or in the only place that is better.

BESIDES BLAKE, CLARKSON, SPOONER, etc., the GLOBE is proud to include Commissioner BLAKE, the first to be elected to see a prominent statesman, whoever is doubtful as to how he shall vote, who has already made up his mind and wants to have his convictions either way confirmed—all these should go.

ROGER Q. MILLS is the greatest of the strangers from abroad who will take part in Minnesota's campaign this year, and tonight will be the last opportunity to hear him. Every seat in the Exposition hall ought to be filled in honor of the occasion.

There is a class of low-born crew who rejoice in the coming of a political convulsion.

ROCK OF OUR GLOBE.

Our Public Schools Play the Important Part in the Celebration.

Stars and Stripes Hoisted and Saluted as the Initial Performance.

THE INTERESTING AND IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Every Grade School Has Its Own Pleasing and Loyal Programme.

WAR AGAINST THE REPUBLIC.

The Pittsburgh Dispatch, a leading Republican newspaper of Pennsylvania, in a recent issue, published this startling piece of information: Next week the goodly sum already at the disposal of the Republican national committee will be swelled by a round million of good, crisp dollars, which can be used to good advantage during the latter days of the campaign, and especially on the last day. THIS IS THE DONATION OF PROTECTED MANUFACTURERS. It will be expended in an attempt to carry the state for HARRISON.

Let every patriot mark these words and ponder on them. They are an open, shameless announcement of a damnable intention to commit the deadliest of crimes in hell's catalogue. The dastard who plots against the honor of defenseless children, the assassin who creeps out of the dark to stab his innocent victim in the back, the man who uses the light of gain, in an angel of influence the result of an election by the corrupt use of money. The briber, the buyer of votes is levying war against the integrity and the life of our national institutions. Let every patriot ask himself "Shall I side with a cause which resorts to such expedients?"

Let every farmer and wage earner in Minnesota read these words and ponder on them. Why should the protected manufacturers of the East donate a round million of good, crisp dollars to the Republican corruption fund? Is it out of a spirit of philanthropy? Is it because of the affection for the poor and their ambition to increase the profits of the industrial class? Surely not. The lying mouth, which says such things, the manufacturer of the East have a million dollars to give for this purpose because protection has enabled them to write a contribution out of the reluctant pockets of every consumer in the land, and has made them a race of plutocrats, favored by the law and the oppressors of their fellows. They give a million dollars for this purpose because a Republican victory promises them a new lease of power and the opportunity to grow still richer at the expense of the poor. Year after year the farmers and wage earners of Minnesota have been oppressed and crushed by the hands which have robbed them. Let every one of them ask himself now "Out of whom did the Eastern manufacturers make the million dollars which they give away without missing it? And when am I to get my share of protectionism's bounty?"

A TOAST TO THE COLONEL.

Half the power and brilliancy of the war of the late century was exercised by COL. WATTESSON yesterday. He is lost to us who were not of the night through which he led. The rhythmic cadences of voice and the impassioned grace of manner—these are what we long for since these attributes are possessed by COL. WATTESSON in sufficient degree to impart even to homely language a rare dignity and beauty, how much more must they have done for the burning, eloquent words of yesterday.

Yet even in its dull garb of sloughy type the address moves and thrills us. It stirs within us the pride of our grand four hundred years. It quickens the pulse of patriotism, and sends the rich, warm glow of freedom bounding through our veins. It breaks the spell of debasing commonplaceness which has held our nobler emotions in Lethian thrall, and awakes in us the poetry and fire of a love for our country. It-but the GLOBE is here to deliver an oration. It simply desires to commend COL. WATTESSON. The Colonel rose greatly to a great occasion, and he deserves to be told of it. He sprang into the breach at the very moment when DEMOSTHENES couldn't have done in under six months' time, however vigorously he walked the shinin' sands with pebbles in his mouth.

It was a noble and, unfortunately, is past; but in the slightest substitute to be had we pledge the Colonel many quadri-centennial returns of the day, either here or in the only place that is better.

BESIDES BLAKE, CLARKSON, SPOONER, etc., the GLOBE is proud to include Commissioner BLAKE, the first to be elected to see a prominent statesman, whoever is doubtful as to how he shall vote, who has already made up his mind and wants to have his convictions either way confirmed—all these should go.

ROGER Q. MILLS is the greatest of the strangers from abroad who will take part in Minnesota's campaign this year, and tonight will be the last opportunity to hear him. Every seat in the Exposition hall ought to be filled in honor of the occasion.

There is a class of low-born crew who rejoice in the coming of a political convulsion.

THEY OWN THE TOWN.

Thieves and Highwaymen Grow Bolder and Work More Openly.

TWO LAWLESS ACTS TERRORIZE RESIDENTS OF IRVINE PARK LOCALITY.

Highwaymen in a Buggy Attack and Loot Men on Cedar Street.

A CITIZEN CAPTURES CHECK UNDERWOOD AND HANDS HIM OVER.

There is no question but that it is the bounden duty of every honest man in this city to "carry a gun" and have it ready for instant use after dark. Then he must have hesitation in using it at the first hostile move of a suspicious character. For, besides the burglar, the robber, the highwayman, the highway robber is with us. He is very nervous, and does not hesitate to do his work under the shadow of the spital. Sometimes he, or they rather, for he travels in pairs, is on foot and sometimes in a buggy. The detectives are not getting him down to any great extent, and his private citizen is getting the best of him, as the Globe hinted yesterday the "robber" fear will be a great one.

TERRIBLE CRIME.

Charles Jones Charged With Attempted Outrage. Added to all the other criminals about is the man who has no regard for Federal laws. But one of these fellows came to grief last night. It is Charles Jones, a single man of twenty-eight years. He went to the house just beyond the high bridge on the river road, where Thomas Kastner and his wife reside. Mrs. Kastner was alone in the house at that time, and Charles Jones, who had been in the house before, would improve. He made base proposals to Mrs. Kastner, which were refused, and he was ordered out of the house. Instead of going, however, he succeeded in throwing her to the floor. But she still fought with all the vigor of a strong and enraged woman, and managed to get up before he had accomplished his purpose. Her clothing was almost torn off her body, and she was overturned. He man held by a portion of her dress giving away she ran out doors screaming with her cries heard by the neighbors. Officer McHugh heard her cries and rushed to the scene, where he soon overhauled and lodged in the Duca's street station.

RUN DOWN BY A CAR.

A Girl's Serious Accident and Narrow Escape. About 6:30 last evening Amanda Peterson, a twelve-year-old girl, was hurt on a grip car on East Seventh street, and came within a hair's breadth of being killed. She is the daughter of Iasmus Peterson, 308 East Fifth street, who resides at 100 East Seventh street. She was taken down town with several other children in the parade. She and the others were in the act of getting on a car to go home when she was struck by the car. Her foot was caught under the wheel, and she fell to the ground. The car was stopped, and she was taken to the hospital last night, but up to midnight no one had been able to identify the driver.

DEATH ON THE RAIL.

Unknown Man Crushed by the East Seventh Street Cable. An unknown man lies dead at the city hospital, and some family is probably waiting for the husband and father who will never come home. The man was struck by the cable at the intersection of East Seventh street and Cedar street, and was taken to the hospital last night, but up to midnight no one had been able to identify the victim.

DOINGS OF THE DAY.

John Brown, sixteen years old, and Frank O'Neil, seventeen, were run yesterday for stealing from the men, but they were released after a hearing by Judge Cary.

Minor permits to the number of six and aggregating $5,000 were issued by the building inspector yesterday.

J. G. Maddigan was awarded a verdict of $500 against the Omaha Railway company for personal injuries.

Richard Hanlon, the colored man who stole an umbrella yesterday, was sent up for five days yesterday by Judge Cary.

Mary Johnson caused the arrest of Herman Carson for illegitimate parentage, and yesterday was given until today to decide whether or not to try.

Two young men giving the names of Patrick Keating and Alexander Rich were arrested at the stock yards yesterday on suspicion of stealing two horses which they were trying to sell.

Clarence Young, a colored sleeping car porter, was clapped with the wife of George Hanlon, another colored man, at the hotel on the corner of Buffalo, N. Y., and has gone to catch them and kill Young, he says.

Last Tuesday a woman, baby and small girl arrived at the Clarendon and woman registered as Mrs. G. L. Desousay, St. Louis. Yesterday she was not at the room she had occupied. The grip is filled with very fine baby clothes without marks, and it is seen that the woman has deliberately abandoned the child.

THEY OWN THE TOWN.

Thieves and Highwaymen Grow Bolder and Work More Openly.

TWO LAWLESS ACTS TERRORIZE RESIDENTS OF IRVINE PARK LOCALITY.

Highwaymen in a Buggy Attack and Loot Men on Cedar Street.

A CITIZEN CAPTURES CHECK UNDERWOOD AND HANDS HIM OVER.

There is no question but that it is the bounden duty of every honest man in this city to "carry a gun" and have it ready for instant use after dark. Then he must have hesitation in using it at the first hostile move of a suspicious character. For, besides the burglar, the robber, the highwayman, the highway robber is with us. He is very nervous, and does not hesitate to do his work under the shadow of the spital. Sometimes he, or they rather, for he travels in pairs, is on foot and sometimes in a buggy. The detectives are not getting him down to any great extent, and his private citizen is getting the best of him, as the Globe hinted yesterday the "robber" fear will be a great one.

TERRIBLE CRIME.

Charles Jones Charged With Attempted Outrage. Added to all the other criminals about is the man who has no regard for Federal laws. But one of these fellows came to grief last night. It is Charles Jones, a single man of twenty-eight years. He went to the house just beyond the high bridge on the river road, where Thomas Kastner and his wife reside. Mrs. Kastner was alone in the house at that time, and Charles Jones, who had been in the house before, would improve. He made base proposals to Mrs. Kastner, which were refused, and he was ordered out of the house. Instead of going, however, he succeeded in throwing her to the floor. But she still fought with all the vigor of a strong and enraged woman, and managed to get up before he had accomplished his purpose. Her clothing was almost torn off her body, and she was overturned. He man held by a portion of her dress giving away she ran out doors screaming with her cries heard by the neighbors. Officer McHugh heard her cries and rushed to the scene, where he soon overhauled and lodged in the Duca's street station.

RUN DOWN BY A CAR.

A Girl's Serious Accident and Narrow Escape. About 6:30 last evening Amanda Peterson, a twelve-year-old girl, was hurt on a grip car on East Seventh street, and came within a hair's breadth of being killed. She is the daughter of Iasmus Peterson, 308 East Fifth street, who resides at 100 East Seventh street. She was taken down town with several other children in the parade. She and the others were in the act of getting on a car to go home when she was struck by the car. Her foot was caught under the wheel, and she fell to the ground. The car was stopped, and she was taken to the hospital last night, but up to midnight no one had been able to identify the driver.

DEATH ON THE RAIL.

Unknown Man Crushed by the East Seventh Street Cable. An unknown man lies dead at the city hospital, and some family is probably waiting for the husband and father who will never come home. The man was struck by the cable at the intersection of East Seventh street and Cedar street, and was taken to the hospital last night, but up to midnight no one had been able to identify the victim.

DOINGS OF THE DAY.

John Brown, sixteen years old, and Frank O'Neil, seventeen, were run yesterday for stealing from the men, but they were released after a hearing by Judge Cary.

Minor permits to the number of six and aggregating $5,000 were issued by the building inspector yesterday.

J. G. Maddigan was awarded a verdict of $500 against the Omaha Railway company for personal injuries.

Richard Hanlon, the colored man who stole an umbrella yesterday, was sent up for five days yesterday by Judge Cary.

Mary Johnson caused the arrest of Herman Carson for illegitimate parentage, and yesterday was given until today to decide whether or not to try.

Two young men giving the names of Patrick Keating and Alexander Rich were arrested at the stock yards yesterday on suspicion of stealing two horses which they were trying to sell.

Clarence Young, a colored sleeping car porter, was clapped with the wife of George Hanlon, another colored man, at the hotel on the corner of Buffalo, N. Y., and has gone to catch them and kill Young, he says.

Last Tuesday a woman, baby and small girl arrived at the Clarendon and woman registered as Mrs. G. L. Desousay, St. Louis. Yesterday she was not at the room she had occupied. The grip is filled with very fine baby clothes without marks, and it is seen that the woman has deliberately abandoned the child.

THEY OWN THE TOWN.

Thieves and Highwaymen Grow Bolder and Work More Openly.

TWO LAWLESS ACTS TERRORIZE RESIDENTS OF IRVINE PARK LOCALITY.

Highwaymen in a Buggy Attack and Loot Men on Cedar Street.

A CITIZEN CAPTURES CHECK UNDERWOOD AND HANDS HIM OVER.

There is no question but that it is the bounden duty of every honest man in this city to "carry a gun" and have it ready for instant use after dark. Then he must have hesitation in using it at the first hostile move of a suspicious character. For, besides the burglar, the robber, the highwayman, the highway robber is with us. He is very nervous, and does not hesitate to do his work under the shadow of the spital. Sometimes he, or they rather, for he travels in pairs, is on foot and sometimes in a buggy. The detectives are not getting him down to any great extent, and his private citizen is getting the best of him, as the Globe hinted yesterday the "robber" fear will be a great one.

TERRIBLE CRIME.

Charles Jones Charged With Attempted Outrage. Added to all the other criminals about is the man who has no regard for Federal laws. But one of these fellows came to grief last night. It is Charles Jones, a single man of twenty-eight years. He went to the house just beyond the high bridge on the river road, where Thomas Kastner and his wife reside. Mrs. Kastner was alone in the house at that time, and Charles Jones, who had been in the house before, would improve. He made base proposals to Mrs. Kastner, which were refused, and he was ordered out of the house. Instead of going, however, he succeeded in throwing her to the floor. But she still fought with all the vigor of a strong and enraged woman, and managed to get up before he had accomplished his purpose. Her clothing was almost torn off her body, and she was overturned. He man held by a portion of her dress giving away she ran out doors screaming with her cries heard by the neighbors. Officer McHugh heard her cries and rushed to the scene, where he soon overhauled and lodged in the Duca's street station.

RUN DOWN BY A CAR.

A Girl's Serious Accident and Narrow Escape. About 6:30 last evening Amanda Peterson, a twelve-year-old girl, was hurt on a grip car on East Seventh street, and came within a hair's breadth of being killed. She is the daughter of Iasmus Peterson, 308 East Fifth street, who resides at 100 East Seventh street. She was taken down town with several other children in the parade. She and the others were in the act of getting on a car to go home when she was struck by the car. Her foot was caught under the wheel, and she fell to the ground. The car was stopped, and she was taken to the hospital last night, but up to midnight no one had been able to identify the driver.

DEATH ON THE RAIL.

Unknown Man Crushed by the East Seventh Street Cable. An unknown man lies dead at the city hospital, and some family is probably waiting for the husband and father who will never come home. The man was struck by the cable at the intersection of East Seventh street and Cedar street, and was taken to the hospital last night, but up to midnight no one had been able to identify the victim.

DOINGS OF THE DAY.

John Brown, sixteen years old, and Frank O'Neil, seventeen, were run yesterday for stealing from the men, but they were released after a hearing by Judge Cary.

Minor permits to the number of six and aggregating $5,000 were issued by the building inspector yesterday.

J. G. Maddigan was awarded a verdict of $500 against the Omaha Railway company for personal injuries.

Richard Hanlon, the colored man who stole an umbrella yesterday, was sent up for five days yesterday by Judge Cary.

Mary Johnson caused the arrest of Herman Carson for illegitimate parentage, and yesterday was given until today to decide whether or not to try.

Two young men giving the names of Patrick Keating and Alexander Rich were arrested at the stock yards yesterday on suspicion of stealing two horses which they were trying to sell.

Clarence Young, a colored sleeping car porter, was clapped with the wife of George Hanlon, another colored man, at the hotel on the corner of Buffalo, N. Y., and has gone to catch them and kill Young, he says.

Last Tuesday a woman, baby and small girl arrived at the Clarendon and woman registered as Mrs. G. L. Desousay, St. Louis. Yesterday she was not at the room she had occupied. The grip is filled with very fine baby clothes without marks, and it is seen that the woman has deliberately abandoned the child.

THEY OWN THE TOWN.

Thieves and Highwaymen Grow Bolder and Work More Openly.

TWO LAWLESS ACTS TERRORIZE RESIDENTS OF IRVINE PARK LOCALITY.

Highwaymen in a Buggy Attack and Loot Men on Cedar Street.

A CITIZEN CAPTURES CHECK UNDERWOOD AND HANDS HIM OVER.

There is no question but that it is the bounden duty of every honest man in this city to "carry a gun" and have it ready for instant use after dark. Then he must have hesitation in using it at the first hostile move of a suspicious character. For, besides the burglar, the robber, the highwayman, the highway robber is with us. He is very nervous, and does not hesitate to do his work under the shadow of the spital. Sometimes he, or they rather, for he travels in pairs, is on foot and sometimes in a buggy. The detectives are not getting him down to any great extent, and his private citizen is getting the best of him, as the Globe hinted yesterday the "robber" fear will be a great one.

TERRIBLE CRIME.

Charles Jones Charged With Attempted Outrage. Added to all the other criminals about is the man who has no regard for Federal laws. But one of these fellows came to grief last night. It is Charles Jones, a single man of twenty-eight years. He went to the house just beyond the high bridge on the river road, where Thomas Kastner and his wife reside. Mrs. Kastner was alone in the house at that time, and Charles Jones, who had been in the house before, would improve. He made base proposals to Mrs. Kastner, which were refused, and he was ordered out of the house. Instead of going, however, he succeeded in throwing her to the floor. But she still fought with all the vigor of a strong and enraged woman, and managed to get up before he had accomplished his purpose. Her clothing was almost torn off her body, and she was overturned. He man held by a portion of her dress giving away she ran out doors screaming with her cries heard by the neighbors. Officer McHugh heard her cries and rushed to the scene, where he soon overhauled and lodged in the Duca's street station.

RUN DOWN BY A CAR.

A Girl's Serious Accident and Narrow Escape. About 6:30 last evening Amanda Peterson, a twelve-year-old girl, was hurt on a grip car on East Seventh street, and came within a hair's breadth of being killed. She is the daughter of Iasmus Peterson, 308 East Fifth street, who resides at 100 East Seventh street. She was taken down town with several other children in the parade. She and the others were in the act of getting on a car to go home when she was struck by the car. Her foot was caught under the wheel, and she fell to the ground. The car was stopped, and she was taken to the hospital last night, but up to midnight no one had been able to identify the driver.

DEATH ON THE RAIL.

Unknown Man Crushed by the East Seventh Street Cable. An unknown man lies dead at the city hospital, and some family is probably waiting for the husband and father who will never come home. The man was struck by the cable at the intersection of East Seventh street and Cedar street, and was taken to the hospital last night, but up to midnight no one had been able to identify the victim.

DOINGS OF THE DAY.

John Brown, sixteen years old, and Frank O'Neil, seventeen, were run yesterday for stealing from the men, but they were released after a hearing by Judge Cary.

Minor permits to the number of six and aggregating $5,000 were issued by the building inspector yesterday.

J. G. Maddigan was awarded a verdict of $500 against the Omaha Railway company for personal injuries.

Richard Hanlon, the colored man who stole an umbrella yesterday, was sent up for five days yesterday by Judge Cary.

Mary Johnson caused the arrest of Herman Carson for illegitimate parentage, and yesterday was given until today to decide whether or not to try.

Two young men giving the names of Patrick Keating and Alexander Rich were arrested at the stock yards yesterday on suspicion of stealing two horses which they were trying to sell.

Clarence Young, a colored sleeping car porter, was clapped with the wife of George Hanlon, another colored man, at the hotel on the corner of Buffalo, N. Y., and has gone to catch them and kill Young, he says.

Last Tuesday a woman, baby and small girl arrived at the Clarendon and woman registered as Mrs. G. L. Desousay, St. Louis. Yesterday she was not at the room she had occupied. The grip is filled with very fine baby clothes without marks, and it is seen that the woman has deliberately abandoned the child.

We want to say a few words about CLOTH GARMENTS. Perhaps it is not generally known that we are handling these goods. Well we are, and we have, while not a large line, an elegant one, at popular prices. First we offer

Squirrel-Lined $30.00

These are in Black, Moore and Tan Cloths (of finest quality), lined THROUGHOUT with Australian Squirrel, trimmed with Mink, Black Marlen and Dyed Beaver. They are well worth $50, but we bought them at a heavy loss to the makers. They are all 34 and 36 sizes only. Next we offer a fine lot of heavy Beaver Cloth Garments, half-lined with fur and full-trimmed with fur, at $25 each, and we think them very nice and cheap.

Then we have a new choice style of Elegant Kersey Cloths, in navy blue and dark shades of brown, trimmed with Black Marten and lined with fine all-silk, a lot of the most tasty and nobby cloth goods ever shown here. These we want $40 for, and we know you will think one of them a good purchase. So much for Cloth Garments, now then for

FOUR

In this line we have shapes entirely our own, and universally complimented every day by the ladies, combining, as they do, style, warmth and durability. Beautiful Capes, 19 and 21 inches deep, as well as a very large line of 23 to 36-inch deep in wrap shapes, with vests, affording elegant stylish effects with warmth and comfort. Our special new styles (to be found only with us) range from $20, $25 and $30 to $250. But we also have about 100 Caps in 18-inch lengths at remarkably low prices. Russian Marten at $12 (advertised as a leader by dry goods houses at