

ERECTED BY STATES.

Several Commonwealths Dedicate Their World's Fair Buildings.

Gov. Boies Gives Iowa's Beautiful Building to the Nation.

Flower, McKinley and Russell Do the Same for Their States.

Little Rhody and Kansas Not Behind Their Wealthier Sisters.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The great military parade having finally been abandoned last night, the exercises today in the way of world's fair matters were exceedingly simple, consisting of the dedication of several state buildings.

A salute of twenty-one guns marked the opening of the services in the Iowa state building. Before the echo of the last gun had died away over the lake, 3,000 sons and daughters of the Hawkeye state rose and greeted with a shout their governor, Horace Boies.

The hall was prettily decorated in white and blue, mingling with the national colors. On the temporary platform sat nearly every man of note of the state. A novel innovation came at the close. In place of the usual auction 3,000 voices united in singing the doxology with band accompaniment.

Gov. Boies, who is the chief executive officer of the state of Iowa, presented this structure, to be by you dedicated to the uses and purposes for which it is devoted.

When the applause following the president's speech had subsided, Gov. Boies arose and was enthusiastically received. Although there was no member of the local commission present to receive the building, Gov. Boies tendered it with a brief and appropriate speech.

His duty, one and before discharging it he asked permission on behalf of the people of the state of Iowa to express thanks to the members of the local commission for the state of Iowa for the efficient manner in which they had discharged their duties.

At the close of Gov. Boies' remarks the Iowa state band rendered "Reminiscences of All Nations."

His Voice of Discovery until his death. The closing stanza was as follows: "And the ravine bells, they are ringing still, through the centuries, far and dim; and though it is but the common lot of men to die, and their names to be forgotten, they will ring forever for him."

The oration of the day was delivered by the Hon. A. F. Seeds. Among other things he said: "This state has an individuality of her own. That individuality prompts the state to maintain its place in grand relief, to lay the colors on with a heavy brush and so to arrange the background as to catch the light at every edge of vantage. The artist who paints this picture for Iowa must not only be a master of technique and adept in coloring, but beyond and above, he must have the inspiration of the poet in order that the grey and charm which color the subject of his perfume to a rose may not be lost."

The speaker gave a brief outline of the events, both state and national, which he said had made possible a possibility. To its success Iowa had contributed, and will contribute to the fullest extent of her ability. Iowa, he said, was most intimately connected with the growth and prosperity of Chicago.

Both at the Same Time and had grown in beauty and intelligence at the same time. Iowa was the first state to make the application for a suitable site, the first to make the choice of place, and the first to beautify it.

There was still another great fact which must not be lost sight of. Given Illinois, with its full natural capacity in activities of all kinds, and yet this giant city would have simply been insularly given Minnesota and the great Northwest, and still the energies of a national regime would have been carried to the East through the channels of commerce found so vigorously active in the Twin Cities; given Missouri, with its vast resources of farm, field and factory, and yet the mighty city of St. Louis would have captured its produce and been the distributing center for the country. Iowa, he said, was the key to the material prosperity of Chicago.

A selection by the band closed the services. After the dedication Lieut. Gov. Bertow and the governor's staff reviewed the Iowa state militia. There were two regiments of twelve companies, comprising 600 men.

Among those present were W. O. Mitchell, speaker of the house of representatives for the state; ex-Gov. Larrabee and wife; W. N. McFarland, secretary of state; J. B. Keimfleiter, superintendent of public instruction; of Des Moines; W. E. King, Joseph E. Heck, Theodore Guelich; Maj. Gen. George Green; Brig. Gen. R. Lincoln, Brig. Gen. W. H. Jacobs, Col. C. Foster, Col. F. E. Cook and Col. H. Candlish.

ENTERTAINED SATOLLI Reception to the Papal Legate and Other Church Dignitaries. Chicago, Oct. 22.—A delightful entertainment was given this afternoon at the country house of Thomas B. Bryan in honor of Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Satolli and the papal delegates and other distinguished prelates. A special car conveyed the party from the Northwestern depot at 2 p. m. under the guidance of Col. Bryan. The guests were received by Mrs. Bryan, and the affair was in the nature of a brilliant fête champêtre. Among the guests were Maj. C. H. Jones, of St. Louis; Senator K. Tasse, of Montreal; Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul; Mr. O'Connell, of Rome; Bishop Keim, of Wheeling, W. Va., and many others equally notable.

Monday afternoon Mrs. Potter Palmer will give a large reception to the cardinal and the papal delegate, and Monday night the Columbus club has a dinner for the cardinal and his entourage. Following the cardinal returns to Baltimore, and Archbishop Satolli proceeds to St. Paul with Archbishop Ireland.

BUILT BY BUCKEYES.

Gov. McKinley Formally Dedicates the Structure. CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The dedication of the Ohio building was the occasion of a great Buckeye reunion. Not only their own citizens, but also all their friends and old fellow countrymen in Chicago turned out. About 11 o'clock a long string of carriages filled with visiting Ohioans started from the vicinity of the Auditorium, and escorted by the First company and troop, the veterans Grays and the Columbus cadets, marched down Michigan avenue to the fair grounds, and, after making a tour of the grounds, drew up at the Ohio building.

The occupants of the vehicles numbered about 200, and included the two United States senators from Ohio, three representatives in congress and nearly all the state officers and public servants connected with the Ohio civil service from the governor down to his humblest appointees.

The ceremony took place in the afternoon soon after the arrival of the carriage procession, and was held in an open air, the spacious and massive portico which graces the Ohio building serving admirably as a rostrum for the speakers. The exercises were very simple, consisting of brief speeches interspersed with patriotic music by the Sixtieth Ohio Regiment band. They were less than an hour in duration. An opening prayer was offered by Rev. John Kane, who is an Ohio state legislator and member of the Ohio senate.

Gov. McKinley accepted the structure on behalf of the state. His address did not occupy over ten minutes, but he made an exceedingly entertaining little speech and was sure that the audience was going to outdistance those of world expositions by a long way. You might think that he was sure that the audience was going to outdistance those of world expositions by a long way.

This was the last set speech, but there were calls for Ben Butterworth, and Senator Sherman responded. He echoed Senator Sherman's sentiments that the exposition is intended to show that all the world is one great brotherhood, and that the exhibition is intended to show that all the world is one great brotherhood.

SCHUNEMAN & EVANS!

Business Is Moving Up Our Way. Every One Notices It. Every One Speaks About It.

A year ago Wabasha street between Sixth and Seventh was scarcely a part of the BUSINESS DISTRICT. Now it's the very center of the RETAIL BUSINESS. Seems wonderful, doesn't it? The reason is quite plain: Business was bound to leave Third street, and it only required a representative house, "where people can find ANYTHING they want, and everything at the right price," to start the exodus in this direction. We have given St. Paul and the Northwest A MODEL MODERN STORE, and the people of St. Paul and the Northwest seem to appreciate our efforts to please them.

THESE CASH PRICES WILL CAUSE THE TIDE OF TRADE TO RUSH OUR WAY STRONGER THAN EVER.

Special Sale of 50c All-Wool Dress Goods

Every store has a line of 50c Dress Goods, but the line we shall place on sale Monday surpasses anything ever shown in this section at the price. Think of it; a heavy All-Wool American Homespun, in the newest mixtures, a yard and a half wide, for 50c a yard. Five yards will make a dress; total cost for material, $2.50. See a display of them in one of our Wabasha street windows.

Silk Bargains. Ladies' Underwear.

FANCY GOODS DEPT.

Ladies who don't read this entire advertisement will have cause for regret. We court competition; it is good for both Dealer and Customer, but when would-be competitors rush into print with personalities (which first-class houses are above doing) it is a public announcement that they have been "worsted" in legitimate competition. To celebrate this acknowledgment that we are headquarters for Art Needle Work and Fancy Goods, we have prepared the following shopping feast for the ladies of the Northwest during this week:

1st. A Public Exhibition of our various methods of Stamping will be given in the main aisle of our first floor. You will readily understand how we can sell stamped goods at such low prices.

2nd. Given Away. Every 30 minutes, commencing Monday at 10 a. m., we will distribute gratuitously to the ladies present the goods stamped during this exhibition. Not more than one piece to each lady. Does this seem unreasonable? Come and see.

3rd. Given Away. With each purchase of 50c or more in this outfit, different from any better than any given heretofore. This outfit contains an alphabet of Initials on best linen paper, Powder, Pad, etc. We will also teach how to do the stamping.

4th. Almost Given Away. 35 gross of India Linen Doilies, Embroidery; just received and the latest novelty out. They are worth 10c each. We will sell this lot this week at 1c each. Does this seem unreasonable? Seeing is believing; come and see.

Special Prices This Week: At 5c—A Mammoth Table, containing Stamped Heavily-stitched Doilies, Handmade Lace Doilies, Fringed Linen Doilies, Embroidered Toilet Mats, 3 sizes; Children's Stamped Bibs, large Linen Doilies, large Fitted Table Mats, new and beautiful, etc., etc. Many of these goods are worth 10c to 15c. An Elegant Hemstitched Stamped Tray, fine material, with fancy open-work; our 50c quality; this week only 25c. Stamped Hemstitched Trays, beautiful designs, worth 25c. This week, 15c each. Tinted Covers, the new Bedford Cord, 36 inches square; all the rage now; worth $1. This week, 60c. (Ask to see finished samples.) Sofa Cushions of Loraine Cloth, a new, handsome, serviceable and cheap outfit for a cushion; with stamped top, bottom and trim. This week only 19c. (See finished samples.) Stamped Pillow Shams. This week only 10c pair. Ice Wool. There are different qualities of Ice Wool. Some kinds that are advertised as the best are not the best. We have the exclusive sale in St. Paul of the Large Balls of Ice Wool, A Superior quality. Each ball contains as much as an entire box of the cheap kinds. With this Ice Wool the work is smooth; it is easier to handle, and a piece of work is not marred by numerous knots. Ladies who have tried it appreciate its superiority. Price per large ball, 15c. Other stores can't get this Ice Wool this year.

Late Novelties in Stamped Goods are on our counters. We were not caught by large importations of "Mummy" goods that died several years ago. Imported Saxony, 10c. Imported Germantown, 18c. Spanish Ray, 15c. Scotch Ray, 25c. German Knitting Ray, 20c.

Hardware Dept. 5 gross Enamelled Frying Pans, gray, also blue and white, worth 50c; our special cash price will be 23c each. 200 Granite Lard or Plain White Hanging Soap Dishes, worth 35c; Monday, only 25c each. 300 24-qt. Granite Preserving Kettles, worth 50c, for 35c each. 500 Bronzed Swinging Double Flower Pot Brackets, worth 40c; Monday only 29c each. 100 Self Steaming "Terrier" Bat Traps (something new), only 10c each. Celebrated "Barber" Hair Traps, Monday only 65c. Egg-Baking Attachment, 43c extra.
