KNUTE N A CORNER.

The Wheat Ring's Operations a Tender Subject With Him.

And When Asked a Plain Question He Declined to Answer.

This Disgusted Farmer and They Deserted Him in a Body.

How Tobias Sauby's Wife Saved Nelson Richly Deserted Punishment.

One by one the evidences come to light that Mr. Nelson's meetings, which have been reported so glowingly in the Republican papers, were rounds of disturbances and disgraceful scenes.

Among these was his meeting at St. James. This meeting was reported in the Republican papers as one of great Republican enthusiasm. Col. J. H. Gieske, a prominent farmer at St. James, was in St. Paul yesterday, and told the true facts of the case.

At the outset, as is his custom, Mr. Nelson informed the audience that any one was at liberty to interrupt him at any time with questions. So Mr. Gieske asked him:

"How does it happen that wheat is selling at 40 cents a bushel and flour at $4.00 a barrel?"

"My friend," returned Mr. Nelson, "I can't answer that question; I'm not a miller."

"How does it happen," said Col. Gieske again, "that last year the farmers raised a bountiful crop of No. 1 wheat, and the report of the railroad commissioners showed only a small number of cars of No. 1 wheat?"

"At this point," a man named Olson approached Col. Gieske, and laying a hand on the colonel's shoulder, said:

"Young man, we don't want any disturbance here. If you want to talk you must go off the square."

Col. Gieske asked and said: "Come on, Nelson. All you who fought in the army, come with me. Two-thirds of the meeting, fully 400, followed Col. Gieske across the railway track, where he made a speech to them, exposing the frauds and tricks of Republicanism.

Mr. Nelson was compelled to complete his speech to a handful of people; and, as it was an open air meeting, it resembled a gathering around a peanut stand.

DON'T STRIKE HIM.

The Intercession of a Woman Saved Nelson a Flogging.

The Republican papers and politicians are not meeting with great success in smoothing over Knute Nelson's disgraceful performance at Elbow Lake.

The people of Grant county are greatly incensed over it, as Tobias G. Sauby is a prominent farmer and an educated gentleman; not a touch, as represented.

It turns out that Mr. Sauby was not the one who laid hands on Nelson, as the Republican papers have stated. A prominent farmer of Grant county who was at the meeting was in St. Paul yesterday and gave this account of the affair:

Mr. Nelson when he began speaking remarked that if any one desired to ask any questions they had better do so during his speech. Accordingly Mr. Bakke, who sat just back of Mr. Sauby, interrupted with this remark: "You know, Mr. Nelson, that a great many of our countrymen travel to Norway with the intention of spending the rest of their days; but as a rule they do not stay, but come back. Do you think the McKinley bill is the cause of that?"

There was no disturbance of any kind except that created by Mr. Nelson. When Nelson struck Sauby, the latter had a child in one arm and the other arm was held by his wife, who said to her husband: "Don't strike him!"

Before the disturbance, Mr. Nelson said he did not come there to dogs and babies. He said he had come there to see only a few Norwegians in Grant county who intended to vote for Nelson, and now every one of them has declared their faith will not vote for him. The gentleman says he is prepared to wager that Nelson will not receive a vote in Grant county.

DISFRANCHISING VOTERS.

All Citizens of Foreign Birth Can Vote and Register on First Papers.

When it comes to trickery in politics there is no place for a man outside of the Republican party. There are innumerable cases where Republican partisans seek to gain an advantage for the party of so-called "moral ideas."

The latest trick in this city is to deprive Democrats of their right to vote. Several cases have been reported where the Republican party has caused the register of voters to be changed, and the register Democrats who produced their papers, declaring their intention to become citizens. A man may vote on his first papers, in this state, as every one knows. The constitution of the United States provides that persons of foreign birth, who have lived one year in the United States and four months in this state, may vote after taking out their first papers. The Republican judges who have decided otherwise have done so to keep Democrats from voting.

NELSON AN EASY VICTOR.

The People Will See That He Receives an Indorsement.

Andrew N. Nelson will surely be the next county treasurer, as that election day will come. He was the strongest candidate two years ago, and it is very apparent that he will have a larger plurality this time. His business integrity has won the esteem of the people, and his habit of keeping his office open at night to accommodate the working people has made him very popular with all classes. The people who do business with the auditor and treasurer are on the fact that it will be a saving of time and trouble to have a man in the treasurer's office who understands the business in view of the fact that all candidates for county auditor are new men and will need some suggestions from the county treasurer.

A VOTERS' PROCESSION.

Tonight the Fifth Ward Will Be Ablaze With Enthusiasm.

If the weather is not too severe this evening there will be a large mass meeting and procession of voters in the Fifth ward, starting from the Seven corners. Two bands have been engaged and the Seven Corners club will join the Fifth Ward Cleveland, Lawler and Castle club, and go to their headquarters at 519 West Seventh street, where it is intended to serve refreshments. Other clubs in the city have been invited and are expected to take part. Speeches will be made at convenient points on the line, and if the weather is too severe in all probability a hall will be secured. The speakers will be Hon. John L. Towley, Hon. John W. Willis and David Peebles. All members of the Fifth Ward club who cannot march are requested to leave their uniforms
