

PLYMOUTH CORNER CHAT.

Smoking Jacket.

A more acceptable Christmas present for a gentleman than a nice Smoking Jacket is like Biela's come-hither to find. It's so easy to find at the "Plymouth" just when you fancy a pocket book dictate as to style and price. There is a vast array of Smoking Jackets on the second floor of the "Corner." Prices range from $5 to $15.

You're Figuring on Furs.

For Christmas presents it behooves you to use no time in getting to the "Plymouth" Fur Annex and making your selections.

To Spank or Not to Spank.

In the schools is the question. The boys who have spanked new suits from the "Plymouth" are less likely to need spanking than the others.

The Woman's Congress.

There is one in session every day at the "Plymouth" Fur Annex.

The Cold Combine.

Should be confronted by a warm combine. Something like this: A "Plymouth" Cap, a "Plymouth" Ulster or Overcoat, a pair of Wood-lined Moccasins, a heavy, Double-Breasted "Plymouth" Suit, some "Plymouth" Underwear and Hosiery, right from the mills, a pair of "Plymouth" Shoes (40 styles of 83 Shoes) and some articles the "Plymouth" has a corner on (ten at 50 cents).

FAIR OF MINNESOTA

Engage in Discussion of the Most Feasible Ways and Means

To Make a Success of Minnesota's Exhibit at the World's Fair.

Encouraging Reports Received From the Committees in Charge.

The O'Leary Reception--The National Flower--Society Tips.

The woman's auxiliary board of Ramsey county held their meeting yesterday morning at the New York Life building, Mrs. F. B. Clark presiding.

After acceptance of the minutes of the last meeting, Miss Carter, who is in charge of the Indian exhibit at White Earth reservation, was asked to address the meeting in behalf of her work. She said that most people think the Indian women lazy, but that is not the fact. They have work for each month. In April they make maple sugar, and few know how laborious that work is until they have seen it done. May is their seedling time, and they are very busy then. After that comes the berrying season; then they gather the wild rice, then as the summer comes they gather and prepare fish for winter use. After that season is over they prepare for winter, doing such work as banking up their houses, getting wood and such things.

Miss Carter is superintending the work of making soap and bead work done by the Indian women. She said that the $500 promised her by the women of Minnesota would not nearly pay the expenses of the exhibit she hoped to prepare, the lace work alone costing that sum. To the quality of the lace her women are making, she stated that she was now making a lace bedspread for Mrs. Pierpont Morgan, of New York, and a lace fan for a lady in Illinois, and other pieces for some other parties. She said that the state would have to assure her of the amount of money needed or she would let her collection of lace go to another state which had pledged her to take her lace and make all the glass cases she needed for its exhibition at the World's Fair. The government has made her the same offer. As this was

A Purely Business Affair. she should do the thing that was desired for her, for her hands were so full that she could not undertake to add anything more to her burdens. The state of Minnesota was of no especial interest to her, because she had not been in it long enough to feel any interest in it, but this was a matter of money.

She had also to offer to the state the most valuable collection of Indian curios in the West, as Bishop Whipple thinks. These curios are the property of a friend of Miss Carter's and can be secured for the state exhibit, by paying the expense of their removal and providing glass cases for their reception at the state building. Miss Carter also wished to be assured that the expense of the transportation of six women, two women of the Sioux, two Ojibways and two Chippeway, who are to exhibit their bead and lace during the fair. She could have a birch bark wigwam built also, if a place could be secured on which to build it. It is to be one of the most interesting of all those shown by the Northwest, the women are, of course, very anxious to secure it.

Mrs. Clark asked Miss Carter to state what amount of money would be necessary to secure the lace exhibit, but Miss Carter was not prepared to state just how much would be needed. After some questions from the ladies, she stated that Bishop Whipple thought it would require at least $1,500. Then she asked about the amount of space allowed her in the building.

Miss Carter was assured that ample provision had been made for her in the woman's building; then she was referred to Mr. Montfort as to questions of the state building.

Mrs. Severance asked if the board had had $500 for her lace exhibit. If she sold that lace, she would have to do so. Miss Carter said not by any means, as she could not afford to do so. The question was asked if the things placed in the state building could be sold.

Miss Severance replied that no actual sales could be made in the building, but orders could be taken for duplicates of things entered, as in the case of the Indian legends, and delivered outside of the building.

Miss Carter then asked where the expense for taking her women down come in. The president said that that would come under the head of scholarships.

The question was asked, what do scholarships mean? The president replied that a scholarship means transportation to and from Chicago and lodging in a dormitory for from two to four weeks, board being extra.

Miss Severance then asked Miss Carter again to make some estimate as to the cost of getting her exhibit to the fair, allowing a margin of $200 to $300. Miss Gillette and Miss Greenleaf both spoke on the importance of securing these things for the woman's building as the contribution of the Minnesota women. Mrs. Newport then suggested that an appeal be made to the people of the two cities, as she was sure their was strong enough to ensure the money being raised, being raised to secure the whole exhibit for our state. After a very spirited discussion it was decided that a committee be appointed to attend to this matter as Miss Carter had asked, Mrs. Newport offering herself to see the railroad managers and secure transportation for Miss Carter and all the women she wanted to take with her.

Mrs. A. T. Stebbins made a report of the committee on horticulture, which includes dairy products, bee culture, forestry, wild flowers and vines, she was waiting for the meeting of the state committee to decide just what her exhibit will be, as the space assigned is small. Her report was very encouraging.

The question of the state flower then came up, and Mrs. Hunt, of Mankato, made a report of the vote on the state flower: Moccasin flower.....177 420 47 Wild rose.....44 234 67 Cane flower.....13 69 Indian pink.....11 23 49

Mrs. O. Oldburg, of Albert Lea, reported of the manufacturers, by letter, that the prospect is encouraging in her

Mrs. Cruikshank, of Mankato, of the committee on Revolutionary relics, is not very much encouraged, as people who have these things are not willing to risk losing them. Mrs. Cruikshank then asked when local juries would be appointed. The latest date at which things can be entered is the 1st of April in St. Paul, the 15th of April in Chicago.

Mrs. Severance then reported that she was waiting for the meeting of the committee of the people as to what she said at the last meeting that she had such a lot already, she would be glad to have more, as she had not yet enough.

Miss Dorr reported for Mrs. Furness, the chairman of the committee on music. She had not had a full report from the chairman as she had hopes for. There was no prospect of securing Indian music. The list of musicians that Mr. Dyer had was a very good one. All arrangements had been made for the examination of applicants.

Woman's Clubs. Mrs. Cohen then reported on woman's clubs. She had been asked what was wanted in this line and said the histories of clubs, some idea of their style of work, and so on.

The chairman committee on patents, had fifteen patents to report which will be represented by photographs or in other ways.

C. K. Falter, chairman committee on architecture, asked for information about pedestals, and was told that she was at liberty to ask for exact counterparts of the whole state. The president said that money might be furnished by each county for these pedestals. They can be made in Sweden.

Mrs. Crosby said that Mrs. Rich, state chairman, had asked for designs but without success.

Mrs. Hunt, of Mankato, said that as to the vote on the state flower, it might be considered final, but there were the Sixth and Seventh districts to be heard from yet. She then reported she had sent out circulars to the teachers of the state, had received $70 from the schools in Mankato. The city of Jackson had been the first to respond, sending her $2.40.

Mrs. Bacon, of Tower, state chairman on mines and mining, said that she wished to have a fireplace made of the mineral specimens, if they had some place to put it. Referred to state board.

Mrs. Hinckley, chairman of household economies, is very anxious to have a prize exhibit, and wishes to have a model house. She will answer any question through one of the Duluth papers.

Mrs. Hackett, chairman on records, had a report, but, owing to the lateness of the hour, refrained from making it.

Mrs. Dorr then asked if it would not be well to ask the newspapers of the state to urge the women of the state to join their various county auxiliaries, as the money thus raised was badly needed.

Mrs. Whittely then made a short report from her committee on decorative art. The question of Sunday opening was referred to an account of several protests being sent in. After a short debate, it was decided that the question could not be reopened by this board, but would have to be discussed by the executive board.

After the meeting had adjourned Mr. Montfort brought the plans of the state building into the committee room to show Miss Carter, who would be allowed to choose any room in the building in which to place her Indian exhibit. He assured Miss Carter that whatever money she needed in place of the state would be provided her if she would state the definite sum needed, as the state was very anxious to have a full Indian exhibit.

WORTHY AUXILIARIES.

Wives and Sweethearts of Trainers Enjoy Themselves. Companion Lodge No. 32, of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, recently organized, held its initial entertainment and hop Tuesday evening at Central hall, Seventh and Cedar streets. Thanks to the untiring efforts of Worthy Mistress Mrs. C. A. Upright and her efficient corps of officers, the event was a complete success from beginning to end and attended by nearly 100 couples.

C. A. Upright presided during the progress of the literary and musical programme, which consisted of recitations by Frances Julia Dean and Franklyn W. Lee, vocal solos by Miss Begg, Miss Dean, Miss Begg, J. Griffiths and Messrs. Chapman and Martin, and piano; harmonic solos by Mr. Chapman, sprightly music by the Twin City Mandolin and Guitars club. Griffiths, however, made the hit of the evening, singing in a most captivating manner. After the programme the floor was cleared for dancing, and a supper prepared by the ladies was served at midnight. The entire affair was in the hands of the following efficient committees:

Arrangements--Mrs. M. Coats, Mrs. L. Gallagher, Mrs. E. Sullivan, Mrs. Addie G. Upright, Mrs. L. Kenney, Mrs. L. Connors, Mrs. L. Stoner, H. P. Connors, Floor--Thomas Sullivan, M. O. Graves, L. Steyer, Matt Rosen. Reception--Mrs. A. Upright, Mrs. M. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. A. Clark, W. W. Coats, F. F. W. Clark, Mrs. J. Lavalie.

A CHARMING AFFAIR.

The Dancing Party Given by Mrs. O'Leary Last Night. The handsome partners of the O'Leary homestead were aglow with light and fragrant with flowers last night, the occasion being a dancing party given in honor of Miss Law, of Allegheny City, Pa. The rooms were prettily decorated with roses and smiling, and the dining room being particularly beautiful, with its elegant glass bowls full of Jacquinet roses stood on stands and among the crystal chandeliers. Among the present company were Dr. and Mrs. Fulton, Mr. and Mrs. Severance, Gen. and Mrs. Flower, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lawler, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, Dr. and Mrs. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Ware, Mrs. John Lawler, of Minnetonka, S. D., Mrs. Schuffman, Miss Sturges, Miss McGuillen, Miss Clara McQuillen, Miss Gates, Miss Mabel Gates, Miss Flower, Miss Watkins, Miss Bonaparte, Miss Chase, Miss Wood, Miss May More, Miss Moorehouse, Miss Handfield, Frank Beaupre, Dr. Bettinger, George O'Riley, Mr. Loppitt, Mr. Gessler, Mr. Danquay, Albert Moore, John Miller, Sam Sturgis and many others.

THE NATIONAL FLOWER.

What It Is, and Its Claims to Be So Considered. The subject of selecting a national flower has been discussed for some time. The trouble has been to decide, there have been so many different flowers suggested. At a meeting for the advancement of science at St. Paul, Minn., held at the Columbian exposition at Chicago bestowed a national flower upon the country by adopting the columbine as its emblem. This is an interesting proposition to the people who first stirred up the national flower question a few years ago.

The fitness of the columbine for an American national flower is supposed to rest on several things. Its name comes from the same root as Columbia, a name our country often bears. It is classed with the Aquilegia, or dog series, because its petals and in spurs, resembling the talons of an eagle. It grows in red, white and blue, and the colors, it has five trumpet-shaped petals, corresponding to the five points of the star in our flag; and these are around a central shaft, similar to the arrangement of the several states around our central government, and it is indigenous to the North American continent. It is a hardy perennial wild flower, found in every part of our land, growing even upon the Rocky mountains, and in the very heart

A Bright West Seventh Street Baby.

A mother on West Seventh street says her little girl was so quiet the other morning she knew mischief must be on foot. Going to the door of the room where the child was, the mother saw her dipping her doll into a kettle of dye, and heard her say, "Do 's'pose dollie will be pretty when she gets dyed? Mamma colored her old silk dress in this, and it's beautiful. Mamma says everybody thinks she's awful extravagant 'cause we have so many new clothes, but then they didn't know she spends only ten cents and makes 'em out of Diamond Dye."
