

SAINT PAUL.

DRIFT OF THE CITY.

W. C. Willister, judge-elect in the First judicial district, filed his oath of office with the secretary of state yesterday.

The Manhayan Farmer Store company, of Wadena, was incorporated yesterday afternoon with a capital of $100,000.

Matt Murphy, of the foremost cattle-men of Montana, arrived yesterday from Chicago, and is at the Merchants'.

Diphtheria was reported to the health officer yesterday from 477 Case street, and members of a group was reported from the corner of York and Burr streets.

The fire alarm turned in at 4:30 yesterday afternoon was an account of an incipient blaze in Mrs. J. C. McCarthy's dwelling at 223 Fairfield avenue. The damage did not exceed $30.

The regular semi-monthly open meeting of the Paul Theatrical society will be held tonight at Room 17, Globe building. Subject, "Yoga, the Science of the Soul." All interested in theosophy invited.

This is the season of the year when the city reaps a financial harvest. Licenses are taken out and the money rolls into the treasury.

The five alarm turned in at 4:30 yesterday afternoon was an account of an incipient blaze in Mrs. J. C. McCarthy's dwelling at 223 Fairfield avenue. The damage did not exceed $30.

The regular semi-monthly open meeting of the Paul Theatrical society will be held tonight at Room 17, Globe building. Subject, "Yoga, the Science of the Soul." All interested in theosophy invited.

This is the season of the year when the city reaps a financial harvest. Licenses are taken out and the money rolls into the treasury.

The five alarm turned in at 4:30 yesterday afternoon was an account of an incipient blaze in Mrs. J. C. McCarthy's dwelling at 223 Fairfield avenue. The damage did not exceed $30.

The regular semi-monthly open meeting of the Paul Theatrical society will be held tonight at Room 17, Globe building. Subject, "Yoga, the Science of the Soul." All interested in theosophy invited.

This is the season of the year when the city reaps a financial harvest. Licenses are taken out and the money rolls into the treasury.

The five alarm turned in at 4:30 yesterday afternoon was an account of an incipient blaze in Mrs. J. C. McCarthy's dwelling at 223 Fairfield avenue. The damage did not exceed $30.

The regular semi-monthly open meeting of the Paul Theatrical society will be held tonight at Room 17, Globe building. Subject, "Yoga, the Science of the Soul." All interested in theosophy invited.

This is the season of the year when the city reaps a financial harvest. Licenses are taken out and the money rolls into the treasury.

The five alarm turned in at 4:30 yesterday afternoon was an account of an incipient blaze in Mrs. J. C. McCarthy's dwelling at 223 Fairfield avenue. The damage did not exceed $30.

The regular semi-monthly open meeting of the Paul Theatrical society will be held tonight at Room 17, Globe building. Subject, "Yoga, the Science of the Soul." All interested in theosophy invited.

This is the season of the year when the city reaps a financial harvest. Licenses are taken out and the money rolls into the treasury.

The five alarm turned in at 4:30 yesterday afternoon was an account of an incipient blaze in Mrs. J. C. McCarthy's dwelling at 223 Fairfield avenue. The damage did not exceed $30.

The regular semi-monthly open meeting of the Paul Theatrical society will be held tonight at Room 17, Globe building. Subject, "Yoga, the Science of the Soul." All interested in theosophy invited.

This is the season of the year when the city reaps a financial harvest. Licenses are taken out and the money rolls into the treasury.

The five alarm turned in at 4:30 yesterday afternoon was an account of an incipient blaze in Mrs. J. C. McCarthy's dwelling at 223 Fairfield avenue. The damage did not exceed $30.

The regular semi-monthly open meeting of the Paul Theatrical society will be held tonight at Room 17, Globe building. Subject, "Yoga, the Science of the Soul." All interested in theosophy invited.

This is the season of the year when the city reaps a financial harvest. Licenses are taken out and the money rolls into the treasury.

The five alarm turned in at 4:30 yesterday afternoon was an account of an incipient blaze in Mrs. J. C. McCarthy's dwelling at 223 Fairfield avenue. The damage did not exceed $30.

The regular semi-monthly open meeting of the Paul Theatrical society will be held tonight at Room 17, Globe building. Subject, "Yoga, the Science of the Soul." All interested in theosophy invited.

This is the season of the year when the city reaps a financial harvest. Licenses are taken out and the money rolls into the treasury.

The five alarm turned in at 4:30 yesterday afternoon was an account of an incipient blaze in Mrs. J. C. McCarthy's dwelling at 223 Fairfield avenue. The damage did not exceed $30.

The regular semi-monthly open meeting of the Paul Theatrical society will be held tonight at Room 17, Globe building. Subject, "Yoga, the Science of the Soul." All interested in theosophy invited.

This is the season of the year when the city reaps a financial harvest. Licenses are taken out and the money rolls into the treasury.

The five alarm turned in at 4:30 yesterday afternoon was an account of an incipient blaze in Mrs. J. C. McCarthy's dwelling at 223 Fairfield avenue. The damage did not exceed $30.

The regular semi-monthly open meeting of the Paul Theatrical society will be held tonight at Room 17, Globe building. Subject, "Yoga, the Science of the Soul." All interested in theosophy invited.

This is the season of the year when the city reaps a financial harvest. Licenses are taken out and the money rolls into the treasury.

The five alarm turned in at 4:30 yesterday afternoon was an account of an incipient blaze in Mrs. J. C. McCarthy's dwelling at 223 Fairfield avenue. The damage did not exceed $30.

The regular semi-monthly open meeting of the Paul Theatrical society will be held tonight at Room 17, Globe building. Subject, "Yoga, the Science of the Soul." All interested in theosophy invited.

This is the season of the year when the city reaps a financial harvest. Licenses are taken out and the money rolls into the treasury.

The five alarm turned in at 4:30 yesterday afternoon was an account of an incipient blaze in Mrs. J. C. McCarthy's dwelling at 223 Fairfield avenue. The damage did not exceed $30.

The regular semi-monthly open meeting of the Paul Theatrical society will be held tonight at Room 17, Globe building. Subject, "Yoga, the Science of the Soul." All interested in theosophy invited.

This is the season of the year when the city reaps a financial harvest. Licenses are taken out and the money rolls into the treasury.

The five alarm turned in at 4:30 yesterday afternoon was an account of an incipient blaze in Mrs. J. C. McCarthy's dwelling at 223 Fairfield avenue. The damage did not exceed $30.

The regular semi-monthly open meeting of the Paul Theatrical society will be held tonight at Room 17, Globe building. Subject, "Yoga, the Science of the Soul." All interested in theosophy invited.

This is the season of the year when the city reaps a financial harvest. Licenses are taken out and the money rolls into the treasury.

The five alarm turned in at 4:30 yesterday afternoon was an account of an incipient blaze in Mrs. J. C. McCarthy's dwelling at 223 Fairfield avenue. The damage did not exceed $30.

The regular semi-monthly open meeting of the Paul Theatrical society will be held tonight at Room 17, Globe building. Subject, "Yoga, the Science of the Soul." All interested in theosophy invited.

BELT LINE WANTED

To Connect All Street Railway Lines With the Union Depot.

An Ordinance for the Third Street Line Presented to Aldermen.

The Expenses for the Current Tax Levy Agreed to by the Board.

Many Important Streets in Need of Entire New Paving.

At a meeting of the board of aldermen last evening the usual new street railway measure was presented, and by Ald. Warren. The alderman presented a petition for a belt street railway line, comprising a single track from Seven corners on Third street to Sibley street, up Sibley to Fifth on Fifth to Wabasha, Wabasha to Seventh, and on Seventh to Seven corners. The petition is signed by Hon. Albert Scheffer, and about every property owner along the route.

The sale of seats at the meeting of the Grand for the engagement of the comic week of Hoy's clever fun-creation, "A Hole in the Ground," after four weeks of success at this place, local theatergoers will hall with delight the return of face-comedy. A cast of superior excellence is promised the piece.

Strong scenic appointments are always an important factor in the success of a dramatic attraction. Many elaborate effects of "The Bottom of the Sea" company playing at the Grand are responsible for the fact that romance this attraction is receiving. A ladies' and children's popular picnic matinee will be given today at 2:30.

Prof. C. W. G. Hyde entered upon his duties as assistant superintendent of schools yesterday, and, together with superintendent Kenzie, was very busy going over the mass of school records which have accumulated since the closing exercises of the state association meeting last week.

"Friends," as presented by one of the most perfect companies ever seen in St. Paul, teaches a great moral lesson, and, in fact, there is a lesson in almost every line of the play. Its tendency is ennobling and elevating, and every man, woman and child who should see it. "Friends" will be presented the remainder of the week at the Metropolitan, including Saturday and Sunday.

*Seats are now on sale for the Olyn Music concert at the warehouses of the Nathan and Co. Music company. The concert takes place on Monday evening next at Unity church, and the advance sale of seats indicates a full house. Music is today the most popular vied in the country—be it a great deal of money, plays ready where to crowd the houses, and a warmly welcomed at every return engagement.

The waiters' union held its regular meeting last night, the largest attendance for six months. The semi-annual election occurred, and the following officers were chosen for the next six months: Charles H. Headford, president; Owen Belmont, vice president; Charles Hamberg, recording secretary; John Bevers, treasurer; Gus Rist, judge; James W. Leary, sergeant-at-arms; Charles McKridle, walking delegate; H. Headford, and James White, delegates to trade and labor assembly.

The sale of seats for the Salvino engagement, which is for the first three nights of next week, will continue tomorrow morning at the box office of the Metropolitan. The popular act is now on his way East from a triumphal tour of the Pacific slope.

Several engagements of the West have been a series of popular ovations, and the attention he received locally has been accorded to but for the past few days. From a financial standpoint Mr. Wilkinson, under whose direction the tour is managed, has sign cause to congratulate himself.

The Security Trust company held its annual meeting of stockholders and directors yesterday afternoon. The following gentlemen were elected as directors for three years: Hon. Charles E. Headford, William A. Stevens, William E. Bramhall and Edmund S. Durmont. A dividend of 6 per cent was declared, and $100,000 set to surplus. The officers elected were: H. Headford, president; C. E. Dickerman, vice president; B. W. Matteson, secretary and treasurer; J. J. Brannan and Taylor, attorneys.

The two clerks at the stamp and window in the postoffice put in a very busy day yesterday. The corridor was thronged with people nearly all day long, and the purchase of the new Columbian stamps. The sales yesterday were very large, and the vault was cleared of the last bundle of the two-cent stamp. It is very likely that the allotment to St. Paul of these stamps will be made up of deposits from other postoffices. He deposited in bank at one time $5,000, besides making another special deposit of a large sum in the evening.

44th semi-annual RED-FIGURE SALE at THE BOSTON, on Third Street.

SEEM IN A HURRY.

Strange Position Taken by the Great Opponent of Caucus Rule.

The Formal Senatorial Caucus Called to Meet This Evening.

The Joint caucus of the Republican members of the senate and house will be held at the state capitol this evening for the purpose of nominating a candidate for United States senator.

The election cannot take place for two weeks, which fact has caused no little comment.

Why, if there is no opposition to Mr. Davis, should he take "snap judgment" on the thing?

This call for a caucus was issued about 10 o'clock yesterday morning, the earliest time possible, as the caucus committees from the members of the two houses were not appointed until nearly midnight.

All day yesterday that veteran officer-hunter, Hon. George C. Foster, of Houston, who was summoned from Washington to take charge of certain parts of Mr. Davis' campaign, was taking up the following notice in the corridors of the hotels:

A caucus of the Republican members of the senate and house will be held at the state capitol this evening for the purpose of nominating a candidate for United States senator.

The election cannot take place for two weeks, which fact has caused no little comment.

Why, if there is no opposition to Mr. Davis, should he take "snap judgment" on the thing?

This call for a caucus was issued about 10 o'clock yesterday morning, the earliest time possible, as the caucus committees from the members of the two houses were not appointed until nearly midnight.

All day yesterday that veteran officer-hunter, Hon. George C. Foster, of Houston, who was summoned from Washington to take charge of certain parts of Mr. Davis' campaign, was taking up the following notice in the corridors of the hotels:

A caucus of the Republican members of the senate and house will be held at the state capitol this evening for the purpose of nominating a candidate for United States senator.

The election cannot take place for two weeks, which fact has caused no little comment.

Why, if there is no opposition to Mr. Davis, should he take "snap judgment" on the thing?

This call for a caucus was issued about 10 o'clock yesterday morning, the earliest time possible, as the caucus committees from the members of the two houses were not appointed until nearly midnight.

All day yesterday that veteran officer-hunter, Hon. George C. Foster, of Houston, who was summoned from Washington to take charge of certain parts of Mr. Davis' campaign, was taking up the following notice in the corridors of the hotels:

A caucus of the Republican members of the senate and house will be held at the state capitol this evening for the purpose of nominating a candidate for United States senator.

The election cannot take place for two weeks, which fact has caused no little comment.

Why, if there is no opposition to Mr. Davis, should he take "snap judgment" on the thing?

This call for a caucus was issued about 10 o'clock yesterday morning, the earliest time possible, as the caucus committees from the members of the two houses were not appointed until nearly midnight.

All day yesterday that veteran officer-hunter, Hon. George C. Foster, of Houston, who was summoned from Washington to take charge of certain parts of Mr. Davis' campaign, was taking up the following notice in the corridors of the hotels:

A caucus of the Republican members of the senate and house will be held at the state capitol this evening for the purpose of nominating a candidate for United States senator.

The election cannot take place for two weeks, which fact has caused no little comment.

Why, if there is no opposition to Mr. Davis, should he take "snap judgment" on the thing?

This call for a caucus was issued about 10 o'clock yesterday morning, the earliest time possible, as the caucus committees from the members of the two houses were not appointed until nearly midnight.

All day yesterday that veteran officer-hunter, Hon. George C. Foster, of Houston, who was summoned from Washington to take charge of certain parts of Mr. Davis' campaign, was taking up the following notice in the corridors of the hotels:

THE EXECUTIVE CHANGE.

It Will Be Gov. Nelson After This Morning.

44th semi-annual RED-FIGURE SALE at THE BOSTON, on Third Street.

THE EXECUTIVE CHANGE.

It Will Be Gov. Nelson After This Morning.

All of the state officials elect have been sworn in save Gov. Nelson, and today the change of management will be completed. The inauguration exercises will mean the induction of Gov. Nelson into office and that ceremony will take place today, when Chief Justice Gillilan will administer the oath of office. The messages of the retiring and the incoming executive will be read to both houses of the legislature, and the government will revolve as usual. There will be no particular ceremony over the inauguration and no special fireworks of any kind. Today will retire Gov. Merriam to the ranks of private life, and many will be the regrets of those whose business brings them in contact with the executive. Gov. Merriam has invariably been courteous, considerate and genial, and his pleasant personality will be long borne in mind by all who had occasion to visit him in his magisterial capacity. Gov. Nelson is not a popular man personally, and while he may or may not make as admirable a governor as his predecessor, he will never succeed in the warm personal esteem in which Gov. Merriam is universally held.

44th semi-annual RED-FIGURE SALE at THE BOSTON, on Third Street.

THE EXECUTIVE CHANGE.

HORSES CREMATED.

A Score of Animals Burned at Schutte's Barn Early This Morning.

John W. Cowan, of Truck No. 2, Seriously Kicked by One of the Horses.

At 3 o'clock this morning the livery barn of William Schutte, 313 Rosabel street, between Third and Fourth, was discovered to be on fire. Out of the fifty horses in the basement something over thirty were rescued and the rest were burned.

The cause of the fire is unknown. A special watchman in the vicinity saw flames through the front windows and turned in the alarm. The stable men were quickly aroused, and they ran to the basement to release the animals. The basement was filled with smoke and the back door was fastened on the inside so that it could not be opened from the outside, the men were unable to release more than four horses, which were standing on the first floor.

The firemen were soon at hand, and a force of them were set to battering down the back doors of the basement. The doors were soon down and the dense smoke inside was settled sufficiently with water from the hose to enable men to enter. The horses near the doors were forced out, and all were finally rescued except about twenty, which stood in fire.

In the work of getting out the horses, John W. Cowan, of Truck No. 2, was seriously kicked by a horse. The extent of his injuries was not known at the time, but to all appearances he was very dangerously injured. The central patrol wagon conveyed him with all haste to the city hospital, where physicians were summoned to care for him.

Schutte's barn housed nearly all the heavy horses used by the wholesale houses on transfer wagons and drays. There were also several fine trotting horses in the barn which belonged to various gentlemen about the city.

In the excitement it was not possible to tell what horses were lost, but it is known that two or three speedy trotters are gone.

The barn was nearly destroyed at 4 a. m., and the fire not out. The hardware house of the C. W. Hackett company had a close call, but was safe at the hour named.

A powder magazine in the rear of the burning barn was a menace to the fireman; but Chief Jackson gave it close attention and obviated a calamity.

HOT SHOT FROM KELLY.

He Prefers Grand Jury Should Indict, Not Report.

Some Straight From the Shoulder Talk to Grand Jurors.

Judge William Louis Kelly has a conscientious way about him that equips him for looking his satanic majesty in the face and telling him to his teeth how vile he is. He also has a way of squaring up to the truth in a frank way, and discharging his judicial duties. His charge to the grand jury yesterday made a favorable impression on all who heard it. His hour called attention to the fact that a great many young men have been indicted recently. He observed that drunkenness in the young leads to rascality, and makes desperadoes of boys before they are more than men. In referring to the work of the previous grand jury mention was made of the fact that the grand jury had called the attention of the court to the evil of saloonkeepers selling to minors. Judge Kelly observed that it would have been more commendable for the grand jury to induce saloonkeepers for selling to minors than to call the attention of the court thereto, when it has not the power in this direction that the grand jurors have. The charge of his hour was substantially as follows:

The importance and dignity of our office as grand jurors of this county are clearly indicated in the statutes, which, as is my duty, I have read to you. And it is well that you should yourselves regard this office with just appreciation, the evil which it is your duty to prevent, to be thrown off, if at earliest opportunity, but as a distinction, an honor, of which any citizen may be proud; as a public and patriotic duty which every good citizen should be ready to perform.

For you are the right arm of the state, not so much to punish the evil-doer, but that, seeing justice is sure and swift, the evil-doer will be deterred, because the common experience is that the prompt, impartial, firm and fearless enforcement of just laws by courts and juries always lessens crime, while a careless, easy-going or cowardly course

IN THE PRESENCE OF LAWLESSNESS AS SURELY MULTIPLIES VIOLATORS OF THE LAW.

While it is your duty to present all every complaint, but offenses within the county, of which you have or may receive knowledge, it is also your duty to protect any unjustly accused. You are the shield of the community. In the beautiful and strong language of your oath, "You will strike the sword from the shield of the community, nor leave any person unprotected through fear, favor or affection or reward, or the promise or hope thereof; but you will do all things truly as they come to your knowledge, to the best of your understanding, according to the laws of this state."

The law says: "The grand jury has power, and it is its duty, to inquire into all public offenses committed or triable in the county, and to present them to the court, either by presentment or indictment. If there be no indictment, you, in your discretion, may by your action or non-action enforce some laws and disregard others; but that you do not neglect to enforce all the laws impartially and fearlessly."

By the statute the judges are required to inquire into the conduct of the grand jury that selling or furnishing intoxicating liquor to Indians is a felony. But as no Indians reside in this county, this seems hardly applicable. However, I remind you of it, and it reminds me of another law that is applicable to this county, and the strict enforcement of which has become as imperatively necessary here as is the law forbidding the sale of liquor to Indians in some other counties. That law is the one which forbids the giving, selling or furnishing in any manner intoxicating liquors to minors. It is your duty to see that this county is to be congratulated upon the general good order and law-abiding disposition of our people, and that the police department of the city, yet it is well pointedly apparent to the criminal branch of this court that young men, very young men and boys, are furnishing the criminal classes.

On the 14th day of March, 1932, the grand jury, which closed its labors that day, in its written report used the following language to the court, and I repeat it to you in order to emphasize what I said in reply to them then, and what I say to you now. The grand jury said:

"In conclusion, we call particular attention to the important fact that the bulk of criminal business in this county is done by the grand jury in the matter of crimes committed, young men, but in the majority, these young men are a dangerous element. As a rule they are more or less of the same type, and of mature years, and consequently more to be feared. In the opinion of this grand jury, the law is not being enforced, and the crimes committed by these youthful desperadoes are a disgrace to the community, and, in our opinion, contrary to law, by saloonkeepers. And the law prohibiting the sale of liquor to minors should be strictly enforced."

I said to that grand jury, as I say to you, that I would not better advise you that they indicted some of those offending saloonkeepers rather than tell the court of them. It is not to punish these young criminals, but to bring to the public eye the making of them. The man who for money will make a toady, even in the great hall of justice, is a disgrace to the steps of gradation of a boy, by furnishing him liquor and a loafing place, is worse and far more dangerous to the community than the criminal he has made.

As I have said, our experience is that every word of the report of the grand jury is true, and in the marked increase in the number of youthful offenders. And while I do not believe it is by any means attributable, even in the greater part, to the saloonkeepers, I am satisfied much of it is. The municipal authorities should place under the strictest supervision all saloonkeepers where liquor is kept for sale, and where very young men and boys are permitted, which is worse, encouraged, and frequent and lounge about, if there is any such in the city. And your investigation of this subject cannot be too frequent and thorough, about it.

Could it be clearly understood that the grand jury would be fearless and tireless in rooting out such evils (if any) and that the public authorities of both the city and county would co-operate to the extent of enforcing the licenses, or refusal to renew licenses, to such persons and places, this community would feel very soon a healthy change.

In this connection I call your attention to the keeping of disorderly houses—wine rooms and annexes to drinking places, dance houses, and the like, where lewd and dissipated people of both sexes assemble for immoral purposes. Look after them if there are any such. Gaming houses, if any, will also merit inquiry. And it need not be said that where liquor is kept for sale, and where very young men and boys are permitted, which is worse, encouraged, and frequent and lounge about, if there is any such in the city. And your investigation of this subject cannot be too frequent and thorough, about it.

Could it be clearly understood that the grand jury would be fearless and tireless in rooting out such evils (if any) and that the public authorities of both the city and county would co-operate to the extent of enforcing the licenses, or refusal to renew licenses, to such persons and places, this community would feel very soon a healthy change.

In this connection I call your attention to the keeping of disorderly houses—wine rooms and annexes to drinking places, dance houses, and the like, where lewd and dissipated people of both sexes assemble for immoral purposes. Look after them if there are any such. Gaming houses, if any, will also merit inquiry. And it need not be said that where liquor is kept for sale, and where very young men and boys are permitted, which is worse, encouraged, and frequent and lounge about, if there is any such in the city. And your investigation of this subject cannot be too frequent and thorough, about it.

Could it be clearly understood that the grand jury would be fearless and tireless in rooting out such evils (if any) and that the public authorities of both the city and county would co-operate to the extent of enforcing the licenses, or refusal to renew licenses, to such persons and places, this community would feel very soon a healthy change.

In this connection I call your attention to the keeping of disorderly houses—wine rooms and annexes to drinking places, dance houses, and the like, where lewd and dissipated people of both sexes assemble for immoral purposes. Look after them if there are any such. Gaming houses, if any, will also merit inquiry. And it need not be said that where liquor is kept for sale, and where very young men and boys are permitted, which is worse, encouraged, and frequent and lounge about, if there is any such in the city. And your investigation of this subject cannot be too frequent and thorough, about it.

Could it be clearly understood that the grand jury would be fearless and tireless in rooting out such evils (if any) and that the public authorities of both the city and county would co-operate to the extent of enforcing the licenses, or refusal to renew licenses, to such persons and places, this community would feel very soon a healthy change.

In this connection I call your attention to the keeping of disorderly houses—wine rooms and annexes to drinking places, dance houses, and the like, where lewd and dissipated people of both sexes assemble for immoral purposes. Look after them if there are any such. Gaming houses, if any, will also merit inquiry. And it need not be said that where liquor is kept for sale, and where very young men and boys are permitted, which is worse, encouraged, and frequent and lounge about, if there is any such in the city. And your investigation of this subject cannot be too frequent and thorough, about it.

Could it be clearly understood that the grand jury would be fearless and tireless in rooting out such evils (if any) and that the public authorities of both the city and county would co-operate to the extent of enforcing the licenses, or refusal to renew licenses, to such persons and places, this community would feel very soon a healthy change.

In this connection I call your attention to the keeping of disorderly houses—wine rooms and annexes to drinking places, dance houses, and the like, where lewd and dissipated people of both sexes assemble for immoral purposes. Look after them if there are any such. Gaming houses, if any, will also merit inquiry. And it need not be said that where liquor is kept for sale, and where very young men and boys are permitted, which is worse, encouraged, and frequent and lounge about, if there is any such in the city. And your investigation of this subject cannot be too frequent and thorough, about it.

Could it be clearly understood that the grand jury would be fearless and tireless in rooting out such evils (if any) and that the public authorities of both the city and county would co-operate to the extent of enforcing the licenses, or refusal to renew licenses, to such persons and places, this community would feel very soon a healthy change.

In this connection I call your attention to the keeping of disorderly houses—wine rooms and annexes to drinking places, dance houses, and the like, where lewd and dissipated people of both sexes assemble for immoral purposes. Look after them if there are any such. Gaming houses, if any, will also merit inquiry. And it need not be said that where liquor is kept for sale, and where very young men and boys are permitted, which is worse, encouraged, and frequent and lounge about, if there is any such in the city. And your investigation of this subject cannot be too frequent and thorough, about it.

Could it be clearly understood that the grand jury would be fearless and tireless in rooting out such evils (if any) and that the public authorities of both the city and county would co-operate to the extent of enforcing the licenses, or refusal to renew licenses, to such persons and places, this community would feel very soon a healthy change.

In this connection I call your attention to the keeping of disorderly houses—wine rooms and annexes to drinking places, dance houses, and the like, where lewd and dissipated people of both sexes assemble for immoral purposes. Look after them if there are any such. Gaming houses, if any, will also merit inquiry. And it need not be said that where liquor is kept for sale, and where very young men and boys are permitted, which is worse, encouraged, and frequent and lounge about, if there is any such in the city. And your investigation of this subject cannot be too frequent and thorough, about it.

Could it be clearly understood that the grand jury would be fearless and tireless in rooting out such evils (if any) and that the public authorities of both the city and county would co-operate to the extent of enforcing the licenses, or refusal to renew licenses, to such persons and places, this community would feel very soon a healthy change.

In this connection I call your attention to the keeping of disorderly houses—wine rooms and annexes to drinking places, dance houses, and the like, where lewd and dissipated people of both sexes assemble for immoral purposes. Look after them if there are any such. Gaming houses, if any, will also merit inquiry. And it need not be said that where liquor is kept for sale, and where very young men and boys are permitted, which is worse, encouraged, and frequent and lounge about, if there is any such in the city. And your investigation of this subject cannot be too frequent and thorough, about it.

Could it be clearly understood that the grand jury would be fearless and tireless in rooting out such evils (if any) and that the public authorities of both the city and county would co-operate to the extent of enforcing the licenses, or refusal to renew licenses, to such persons and places, this community would feel very soon a healthy change.

In this connection I call your attention to the keeping of disorderly houses—wine rooms and annexes to drinking places, dance houses, and the like, where lewd and dissipated people of both sexes assemble for immoral purposes. Look after them if there are any such. Gaming houses, if any, will also merit inquiry. And it need not be said that where liquor is kept for sale, and where very young men and boys are permitted, which is worse, encouraged, and frequent and lounge about, if there is any such in the city. And your investigation of this subject cannot be too frequent and thorough, about it.

Could it be clearly understood that the grand jury would be fearless and tireless in rooting out such evils (if any) and that the public authorities of both the city and county would co-operate to the extent of enforcing the licenses, or refusal to renew licenses, to such persons and places, this community would feel very soon a healthy change.

In this connection I call your attention to the keeping of disorderly houses—wine rooms and annexes to drinking places, dance houses, and the like, where lewd and dissipated people of both sexes assemble for immoral purposes. Look after them if there are any such. Gaming houses, if any, will also merit inquiry. And it need not be said that where liquor is kept for sale, and where very young men and boys are permitted,