Kinkaid, a farmer inving six mines north of this city, recently observed a pack of these pests holding high carnival in his barn yard. Suddenly the fierce monsters leaped the fence, landing in a pen containing some valuable swine. Each wolf selected a porker, and in a twinkling the victims were down. The farmer ran for his grun. FANNY DAVENPORT

To Be the Metropolitan Attraction Next Week. Miss Fanny Davenport's splendid pro-duction of Sardou's "Cleopatra" still remains in the mind of any of those who witnessed any of the performances last season. This prominent American actress will occupy the Metropolitan opera house for one week, beginning March 20, when her interesting picture of "Cleopatra" will be given. The Queen of Egypt has for centuries presented through history, story, fable and tale an altogether unique figure in the minds of human beings who are cultured enough to care for historical personages. It is this familiarity with the ideal "Cleo-patra" that makes it so difficult for the patra' that makes it so diment for the player to give it adequate representation. Miss Davenport, it has been admitted, has made of the role so deep and so exhaustive a study that the fascination of "Cleopatra" is complete. The setting that Miss Davenport has given the play is equal, if not beyond, anything that has of recent years been attempted. From the first act on to the yery last. From the first act on to the very last, including the great storm episode, a series of charming Egyptian pictures are presented. Miss Davenport's production of the famous Cleopatra with its accompaniment music, singing, crowds of swaying fig-ures, armed Roman soldiers, brilliant colored surroundings, and her own colored surroundings, and her own gorgeously attired personage, make a picture rarely witnessed on the stage. Aside from the magnificent Egyptian surroundings, the story that is thus illustrated is in Sardou's most dramatic style. The tragic loves of the haughty, powerful and heroic Marc Antony, and the daring, willful, wise and powerful Cleopatra, based on Shakespeare's

NEW YORK, March 11 .- The congressional committee appointed to look into the conduct of the affairs of the Panama canal, the Pacific Mail Steamship and the Panama Railroad companies made its report public today. Among other things, the committee finds street store this afternoon and upon other things, the committee finds that of the three great banking firms, J. & W. Neither of the others are credited with any expenditures to advance the interest of the Panama Canal company. Another Finding of the committee is, that the three banking houses named above received apparently for the loan of their names to this enterprise the sum of $1,200,000. Four hundred thousand dollars apiece, or $50,000 a year, was paid those houses, or $50,000 a year, was paid those houses, without the knowledge of ex-Secretary of the Navy Thompson, chairman of the commission created to popularize the Panama canal scheme. "What influence," the report says, "was used upon the financial public opinion of the United States by the names of these three great banking houses; what indirect credit and popularity was given to the enterprise through their numerous correspondents through their numerous correspondents and connections throughout the country, it is, perhaps, impossible now to estimate; but to effect this was the object of the formation of this American committee, a committee which testifies that it had no regular meetings and some mem-bers of which were never present at a meeting or knew whether any minutes were ever kept by the committee, while each of these houses was receiving $400,000. This fact, if it is a measure of the general conduct and management of the Panama Canal company, might possibly explain why it was compelled to go into liquidation as seen as it did." soon as it did."

GREAT FIRE SALE OF SHRTS AT H.STHIN & CO.'S

We bought 3,000 dozen shirts from the well-known shirt house of H. Wallach's Sons. The following letter explains itself:

H. WALLACH'S SONS, NEW YORK, January 23d, 1893.

MESSRS. H. STEIN & CO.—Dear Sirs: On Tuesday, January 31st, at 10 a. m., we shall offer at our warehouse, Nos. 94, 96 and 98 Mott street (near Canal), New York, 6,000 dozen shirts, which are slightly damaged by water ONLY. Goods will be sold without reclamation, except as to count. Terms, net cash. Respectfully, H. WALLACH'S SONS. Our New York Resident Buyer at once proceeded to their establishment and discovered that the fire was but a very slight one and the goods but very little damaged by water only; in tact, nine tenths of the goods were not damaged at all. He negotiated with the parties gand finally succeeded in buying 3,000 dozen shirts at the extremely low figure of forty-two and one-half cents on the dollar, and now the oods are here and we are selling them (or rather, nearly giving them away) at positively much less than half their value.

CLOAKS! Do you think that because our prices are so very low that our goods are inferior? We guarantee you that the goods are exactly the same quality and style as the goods vou have been paying from one-fourth to one-third more for, and in many instances you are compelled to pay twice as much for the same goods at other stores. Were we in the exclusive retail business we could not buy our goods for less than we are now retailing them for. Call and see for yourself, and you will be convinced at a glance that you can save from 25 to 50 per cent by buying of us.

We have an immense stock of everything in the Ladies' and Men's Furnishing Goods Line, Notions, Cloaks, etc., etc., which will all be sold at proportionately low prices. Do not buy a single dollar's worth of goods in our line before you price our goods; otherwise you will do yourself an injustice and waste your hard-earned dollars.
