

SAINT PAUL.

CHASED IN THE BLIZZARD.

Diphtheria at 130 Granite street was reported at the health office yesterday.

The Boston park assessment will be taken up by the board of public works tomorrow at 10 o'clock.

Señor Clear Eyes, the Indian who attempted suicide Wednesday night, was reported in an improved condition last night.

The rabbi's lecture at the Temple this evening will treat on "The Modern Social Movement."

The regular meeting of the St. Paul Academy of Science will be held at the high school building this evening at 8 o'clock.

Ignatius Donnelly will lecture at Market hall on the evening of May 9 under the auspices of Division No. 1, A. O. U. M., on "The Fish in America."

E. W. Johnston, traveling passenger agent for the Great Western line, was in the city yesterday. He is in St. Paul on business connected with his line.

Miss Thomson will give a demonstration lesson on solids, this evening at 7:30, at the rooms of the Young Women's Friendly association, corner Seventh and Jackson streets.

A frame dwelling on Alabama street was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The fire started from a defective chimney, and the loss is estimated at $80, with no insurance.

An adjourned meeting of the park board will be held this evening. Among other matters to be considered will be the correction of the proceedings taken by the board in a case of condemnation of the Hill park.

Candidates for competitive examination for admission to the naval academy at Annapolis will go through the final examination on Monday, April 24, at the city hall.

The examining board will consist of Gen. Sanborn, Rev. S. G. Smith and Dr. Charles H. Gilman.

Quas Bailey was given the freedom of the city yesterday by Mayor Knutson. He is a native of St. Paul and has been in the city for many years.

John W. Williams, secretary of the city's circular commission, has been elected to the position of secretary of the city's circular commission.

The police have arrested Joseph Schue, who they believe is the man who burglarized the saloon of Malley & Smith on Sunday night. The case was continued in the police court today.

Annie Hixley, the popular comedienne, will appear at Monday at the Metropolitan in her latest success, "Miss Blythe of Duluth," in which she has made quite a hit in the East.

Dr. R. K. Noyes called at the mayor's office yesterday to complain of the sensational letter posters which he said were covering the bill boards in various parts of the city.

The chief executive will be made and other matters closed up. The commission is assured by Supt. Hunt that the exhibits in the state building and in the various department buildings will be as nearly ready for public inspection as those of any state represented on the first of next month.

A grand showing of the world's fair grounds at the city's seventh street fair grounds the visitor will get a first glimpse of the solid-looking Minnesota building.

Inside the gate to the left, on the banks of the Northwest pond, is situated the picture gallery, which is a fine collection of pictures of the state's history.

It can be viewed from the bridge over the pond. Crossing the bridge, the first buildings reached are the left, its front facing one of the Minnesota streets.

and South Dakota on the right, with front looking toward one end of the art annex. The Minnesota building faces the art annex, and the Louisiana mansions are on the right.

On this side of the Gopher state building, first seen on entering will be a beautiful lawn of generous size dotted with trees and shrubs. From the windows and veranda of Minnesota headquarters, situated at the junction of two wide avenues, may be viewed many of the state buildings.

Looking in the other direction, the fantastic attractive log building of Washington is seen. Next to that is Colorado's modest but substantial structure, with California's immense pile, third in rank of the state buildings, looming up, big and handsome. Fronting these are Wisconsin and Michigan, bordering on one of the main entrances to the extensive art galleries. Ohio has an eligible situation at the very foot of the art building.

Interior Arrangements. The Minnesota building is two stories in height, almost square, and ranks fifth among the state buildings, being surpassed only by Illinois, New York, California and Ohio. Two-thirds or more of the lower floor is given up to exhibits. These will be arranged on either side of a large central hall, with massive-looking pillars defining its limits. The rear part of the ground floor is given up to an office for the superintendent on one side and a postoffice and bureau of information on the other. Beneath a wide and handsome stairway leading to the upper part of the building is a cloak room and a lumber room. Leading

MINNESOTA ON DECK.

As Usual, She Will Be Away Up to the Front at the Big Exposition.

Gopher State Building in Complete Shape and Elegantly Equipped.

Running Sketch of the Location and Interior Arrangements at Chicago.

Suggestion for Commemorating the Event and Honoring the Commission.

The world's fair commissioners met at the capitol yesterday to arrange for the dedication of the Minnesota building at Chicago.

Among the candidates for the bureau of information are G. R. Case, of Alexandria, and G. R. Moore, of St. Paul; for messengers, H. Tweedy, of Albert Lea, and H. H. Bickman, of St. Paul; for stenographers, E. M. Powers, of St. Paul, and Louise Mayor, of Minneapolis.

Messrs. L. A. Due and F. Long were appointed a committee to examine the plans for the building.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

The committee will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction and will be in charge of the building's construction.

TECHNICALITIES IN IT.

Second Day of the Burns Trial Ends With Slight Progress Made.

Court and Counsel Engage in Arguments as to Relevancy of Evidence.

County Officials Testify and Experts Are Asked Puzzling Questions.

The Board of Public Works Wrestles With Paving Problems.

Another day has been put in with technicalities in the Burns trial without the state making much progress in its presentation of the evidence relative to the guilty intent of Burns in presenting to the county commissioners false bills for printing court calendars.

The fact that the bills for the court calendars were excessive was the point sought to be presented by the county attorney all of yesterday and was met with strenuous objections and profuse argument by the array of counsel for the defense.

Judge Egan would rule in each case, as the law requires, before the objections were not tenable, and would often say: "I will state as I have repeatedly done in this case, that the defense may put expert testimony on the stand to show that Burns had no guilty knowledge in presenting the bills. But let it be plainly understood that if Burns knew that these bills were excessive, he is not excused under the statute from the effect of presenting a false bill. The action of the expert printer or of the county commissioners will not relieve Burns from the penalties of the law."

Ex-County Auditor Kain and Deputy Clerk Redding were on the witness stand again yesterday for the purpose of showing the finishing of the amount of work done by Burns in the county. On cross-examination of Mr. Kain, it was sought to be shown by Mr. Erwin that on the first bill presented by Mr. Burns for court calendars, the expert printer increased the amount by over $50, from this it was claimed that Burns took his cue and presented subsequent bills on the same basis, believing they were proper. On this point the court ruled that the negligence of the printer could not be taken into consideration of criminal intent; it was for him to know whether or not the bill was excessive. Judge Egan said that the state had disclaimed any purpose of charging criminal intent for the payment and allowance of the $50 added to the first bill by the expert printer. The state clerk, however, showed that Mr. Erwin made a strong and earnest appeal in this connection, in which he scored the printer for not calling his own former expert printer to show how the bills were allowed. He said that it was the purpose of the state to call as an expert printer, not the man nominated and engaged by the county board, but the one who had been in the county for a long time.

E. P. Pennington, foreman of the Pioneer Press job office, was called as an expert witness on the part of the state, and after a hard fight was permitted to testify for the state. A number of the expert witnesses were called and counted the pages of printed matter in the calendar for one year. He found 149 leaves. The printed pages of the book amounted to only 108. In his testimony he pointed out that the calendar was not printed on the same basis as the other bills, but that it was merely ruled, or even those who were only the heading "jury."

During the examination of Mr. Pennington by the state there were frequent interruptions by the county board, which he was specially quizzing as to his competency as an expert on all the branches involved in printing, ruling and making up the calendar. Mr. Pennington contended for objections to questions with earnest argument, which generally were overruled. The state's case proceeded with expert testimony today.

PAVING OF STREETS. Engaging the Attention of Board of Public Works.

Seventy-five residents and property owners on Rice street between Como avenue and First street plowed their way through the snow and slush yesterday to appear before the board of public works. The occasion for this display of fortitude was the hearing on the preliminary order passed by the council for the paving of Rice street between the streets above mentioned.

The crowd was about 100 strong, and as to whether the improvement was needed or wanted. The distance to be paved is about seven blocks, and as far as the board was able to determine owners of one-fifth of the frontage in the territory were in favor of improvement. The crowd was about 100 strong, and as to whether the improvement was needed or wanted. The distance to be paved is about seven blocks, and as far as the board was able to determine owners of one-fifth of the frontage in the territory were in favor of improvement.

The owners of business property are in favor of the street being paved, and one of the gentlemen interested told the board that he had been in the territory for a long time and was willing to have the work done. To this a strong denial was made, and in order to give the other side a chance to be heard, the hearing was adjourned for two weeks. In the meantime the objectors will circulate a petition, and will also have a public hearing, and will be testing against the paving. The paving will cost about $22,000, and this makes the cost to property owners about $5.25 per front foot.

The board will today listen to the property owners' side of the matter, and will also have a public hearing, and will be testing against the paving. The paving will cost about $22,000, and this makes the cost to property owners about $5.25 per front foot.

Notice of Removal. The Minnesota Savings Bank will remove to corner Wabasha and Seventh streets on May 1.

Accepts the Ordinance. The Western Union Telegraph company has filed an acceptance of the underground wire ordinance passed by the council. The ordinance provides that all companies operating and controlling electric wires shall place the same underground in the business district in the next 30 days. The special provision is made for the telegraph company's wires, but it is agreed that other electrical companies shall not interfere with the telegraph wires.

Four Operators Discharged. Four of the best operators of the Western Union company in St. Paul were discharged last Saturday, their chief telling them that they were let out because they were "playing the horses." Since their discharge all the company has sought reinstatement on the claim that they are not betting on the horse. They have, however, up to date, failed in their object, and are still out of work. They cannot go to work in the railway offices or elsewhere, they claim.

THE MILLS MEETINGS.

Christian Endeavor Workers Are Making Ready.

The St. Paul Christian Endeavor union will hold a meeting for the purpose of the Mills meetings in the Fifth Baptist church Monday evening, April 24. Two sessions will be held, afternoon at 4 o'clock and evening at 8. The hour from 4 to 5 will be given to the letter addressed by Rev. W. W. Dingley, first vice president of the union, will lead the consecration service. The Mills meeting will be held at 8 o'clock, and the Mills meeting chorus will have charge of the music. Revs. Dr. E. F. Ingersoll and Dr. M. D. Edwards will deliver addresses. The Mills meeting will be held at 8 o'clock, and the Mills meeting chorus will have charge of the music.

IN THE COURTS. Andrew Nelson, through his attorney, C. Tyson Butcher, has begun an action against the Marinette Lumber company for $25,000 damages by reason of personal injuries sustained. Nelson was employed at felling trees in the woods when a branch from a tree fell upon him, breaking two ribs and injuring his spine.

Mary Heisinger has filed an amended complaint in her suit against the City of St. Paul for $2,500 damage to property on the West side by surface water that could not escape through a poorly constructed sewer.

William H. Crane has begun an action against the City of St. Paul to quiet title to lots 5 and 6, in block 29, Kittson's addition. Crane is the well known actor who resided in St. Paul during some time since.

Thomas Laroque, as administrator, has entered suit against The St. Paul City Railway Company for $8,000 on account of the death of Evan E. Brown on Dec. 19, 1932. Brown was standing on the platform of a cable car and was struck when rounding the curve at East Seventh and Broadway streets.

A new trial of the case of The Minnesota Transfer Packing Company against American Tobacco and others has been granted by Judge Brill.

Hartwig H. Herbst has sued Hudson Fogge to recover $300 for legal services.

Judge Kelly was engaged yesterday afternoon in hearing one of the many complicated and intricate cases. Several of the defendants in this action were released from the action because their interests have been considered in other cases. Among those as to whom the case was dismissed are Reuber Vosskuhn, D. J. Ellison, Mary L. Treadway, N. House and Mr. Ludwick.

Judge Willis' court is engaged in the trial of the action brought by Alva Hunt against A. Fleming and M. L. Holey for legal services in the sum of $1,250.

Judge Olin's court is engaged with the review case of the New England Fur and Carpet Company against the Peter C. Wellhoff, brought to recover household furniture.

In the case of August Richter against Adolph Loebmeyer for $234.15 a verdict was rendered in favor of Richter. Judge Kelly has taken under consideration the case of Herzsah Hall against the City of St. Paul.

An absolute divorce was granted by Judge Kelly yesterday to Carrie and Cox from George F. Cox on the ground of cruel treatment and desertion. There was no defense made by the husband.

Thomas Denning will be examined in the probate court today touching his sanity.

Judge Oliver, of the probate court, heard the argument yesterday on the application to construe the will of the late Dr. Minzer, who lived on the West side and died ten years ago leaving an estate worth half a million. Judge Oliver has taken the matter under advisement.

NEWSON MEMORIAL.

The Services at the People's Church Are to Be of an Impressive Character.

Editors, Firemen and Sons of Veterans to Join in the Tribute to the Dead Consul.

The Newson memorial services at the People's church next Sunday evening will probably be the most imposing and largest attended gathering of that character ever held in the Northwestern city. The possible exception of some national event. A letter was received from H. P. Hall from Chicago yesterday which stated that D. B. Herbert, of the National Journalist, who was the first president of the Minnesota Editorial association, and under whom Maj. Newson was corresponding secretary, and also appointed historian of the association, will deliver an address at the address. Frank Joy, of Stillwater, has been designated to deliver the address for the state fire association, and all other speakers are practically as published in the GLOBE Tuesday. The music will be by the choir of the church, and the choir will be assisted by some other who have offered their services. The Sons of Veterans have also signified their intention of assisting at the services, and a large delegation of editors and firemen will be in attendance from all over the state. All organizations are requested to meet at their own hall and then form at the Press club rooms, opposite the Windsor, at 12:30 p. m., and march to the church, where the services will begin at 2 o'clock. Floral tributes can be sent to the church at 10 o'clock Sunday, where they will be arranged into a beautiful picture of the dead consul by friends in attendance.

A LAMB SELECTED To Be Led to the Slaughter on Behalf of the Minnesota Ticket Broker.

Plans Deliberately Laid to Quickly Test an Alleged Unconstitutional Law.

No attention will be paid to the bill passed by the legislature and signed by the governor, commonly known as the "anti-scalpers" bill, by the ticket brokers in St. Paul and Minneapolis; at least by the more prominent and wealthy offices. It has been definitely decided the act will be fought to the end, and the courts and every effort made to cause the measure to be a dead letter. The fight upon which the light will be made will be the alleged unconstitutionality of the bill. Notice has been sent out of a meeting to be held in Chicago, April 22, at which the proposed bill and creating a fund for the defendant will be discussed. The proposed charge of breaking the law, which will go into effect July 19, 1933.

A very unique line of aggressiveness is being taken by a number of lawyers who will try to have one of their members arrested on the charge of breaking the law. The man chosen for the sacrifice is Clarence E. Corbett, local manager for the firm of McKenzie & Frey, and who is prepared to undergo the slaughter. He expects to be the first man arrested, and will be taken to the city jail. In speaking of the matter he said last evening:

"I have no fear of the outcome. The firm with which I am connected is prepared to stand by me and will do so to the last. I will probably be arrested the first day the law goes into effect, and then will begin the fight on the constitutionality of the bill. I am sure that we will win. It has been tried time and time again, and the law has always come out winners of the fights. McKenzie & Frey have offices in the city of St. Paul, Minneapolis, Chicago and Indianapolis. Every office is in a state where the bill is in effect, with the exception of Minnesota, and it will be in effect July 19, and there is no effort to stop the brokers from doing business. There are a number of lawyers who are preparing for the brokers, and they do business there without fear of molestation. I am not afraid that anything will be done out of the blue."

"The Milwaukee and Northern Pacific roads will make an attempt to get into trouble in St. Paul, but they will not succeed. I do not know what action the other brokers in the city will take, but I know that we will stick to the business till the last, and our customers will derive the benefits which we can give them by the scaling of tickets in the city. We will prepare for the coming trouble, and the possibility of trouble, by disposing of our tickets and mileage at reduced rates, and to give the other side a chance to be heard, the hearing was adjourned for two weeks. In the meantime the objectors will circulate a petition, and will also have a public hearing, and will be testing against the paving. The paving will cost about $22,000, and this makes the cost to property owners about $5.25 per front foot.

The board will today listen to the property owners' side of the matter, and will also have a public hearing, and will be testing against the paving. The paving will cost about $22,000, and this makes the cost to property owners about $5.25 per front foot.

Notice of Removal. The Minnesota Savings Bank will remove to corner Wabasha and Seventh streets on May 1.

Accepts the Ordinance. The Western Union Telegraph company has filed an acceptance of the underground wire ordinance passed by the council. The ordinance provides that all companies operating and controlling electric wires shall place the same underground in the business district in the next 30 days. The special provision is made for the telegraph company's wires, but it is agreed that other electrical companies shall not interfere with the telegraph wires.

Four Operators Discharged. Four of the best operators of the Western Union company in St. Paul were discharged last Saturday, their chief telling them that they were let out because they were "playing the horses." Since their discharge all the company has sought reinstatement on the claim that they are not betting on the horse. They have, however, up to date, failed in their object, and are still out of work. They cannot go to work in the railway offices or elsewhere, they claim.

THE MILLS MEETINGS.

Christian Endeavor Workers Are Making Ready.

The St. Paul Christian Endeavor union will hold a meeting for the purpose of the Mills meetings in the Fifth Baptist church Monday evening, April 24. Two sessions will be held, afternoon at 4 o'clock and evening at 8. The hour from 4 to 5 will be given to the letter addressed by Rev. W. W. Dingley, first vice president of the union, will lead the consecration service. The Mills meeting will be held at 8 o'clock, and the Mills meeting chorus will have charge of the music. Revs. Dr. E. F. Ingersoll and Dr. M. D. Edwards will deliver addresses. The Mills meeting will be held at 8 o'clock, and the Mills meeting chorus will have charge of the music.

IN THE COURTS. Andrew Nelson, through his attorney, C. Tyson Butcher, has begun an action against the Marinette Lumber company for $25,000 damages by reason of personal injuries sustained. Nelson was employed at felling trees in the woods when a branch from a tree fell upon him, breaking two ribs and injuring his spine.

Mary Heisinger has filed an amended complaint in her suit against the City of St. Paul for $2,500 damage to property on the West side by surface water that could not escape through a poorly constructed sewer.

William H. Crane has begun an action against the City of St. Paul to quiet title to lots 5 and 6, in block 29, Kittson's addition. Crane is the well known actor who resided in St. Paul during some time since.

Thomas Laroque, as administrator, has entered suit against The St. Paul City Railway Company for $8,000 on account of the death of Evan E. Brown on Dec. 19, 1932. Brown was standing on the platform of a cable car and was struck when rounding the curve at East Seventh and Broadway streets.

A new trial of the case of The Minnesota Transfer Packing Company against American Tobacco and others has been granted by Judge Brill.

Hartwig H. Herbst has sued Hudson Fogge to recover $300 for legal services.

Judge Kelly was engaged yesterday afternoon in hearing one of the many complicated and intricate cases. Several of the defendants in this action were released from the action because their interests have been considered in other cases. Among those as to whom the case was dismissed are Reuber Vosskuhn, D. J. Ellison, Mary L. Treadway, N. House and Mr. Ludwick.

Judge Willis' court is engaged in the trial of the action brought by Alva Hunt against A. Fleming and M. L. Holey for legal services in the sum of $1,250.

Judge Olin's court is engaged with the review case of the New England Fur and Carpet Company against the Peter C. Wellhoff, brought to recover household furniture.

In the case of