

FAIR NOW OPEN.

The President Starts the Wheels of the Columbian Exposition Whirling.

Solemn Opening of the Great Fair Followed by a Magical Effect.

Great Fountains Throw Their Geysers Seventy Feet Into the Air.

All That Had Been Inert Sprung Into an Animated Existence.

Greater Multitudes Crowded the Grounds Than Had Been Anticipated.

Tremendous Cheers Greet the Appearance of President Cleveland.

BIRD'S-EYE VIEW OF THE WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION.

VEILED BY MIST

Was the Great White Columbian City When Dawn Broke.

The Summits of the Massive Structures Project Into Cloudland.

Regulars and Militia the Advance Guard of a Mighty Host.

Soon Afterward a Friendly Breeze Lifts the Low-Lying Mist.

Prominent People Appear on the Platform Early in the Day.

Old Sol Shines Forth Just Before the President is Presented.

CHICAGO, May 1.—The electric arc was ushered into being in this last decade of the nineteenth century today, when President Cleveland, by the pressing of a button, started the mighty machinery and the rushing waters and the revolving wheels in the World's Columbian exposition. No exhibit of the fair that is to attract the thousands to this city for the next six months can be more marvelous than the magical effect which followed the solemn opening of the fair at 12:08 today. Of the multitude of visitors—some estimate the number as high as 200,000—probably not one fully realized the full import of the effect that was to come from the arrangement cleverly devised in the opening of the exposition. It was known in a vague way that the president was to press a golden key and that the electric communication with the machinery was to start the fair; but no one realized how intricate was this machinery, how intricate her ramifications that electric key, and the great fountains.

Up Their Geysers
Seventy feet into the air, and the rumbling hum of wheels in the manufacturing building and the clatter of machinery in all parts of that area of a mile square or more told the story of the first consummation of scientific thought. The fireless started into being on every hand, dropped statutory sheet its veil and revealed to the world the artistic labors of the past eighteen months, and in a moment all that had been apathy and inert and inactive through the long hours of the morning sprang into an animated existence and thrilled the multitude and crowned the triumph of exposition. In previous exercises the possibilities of electricity have been limited to the mere starting of the engines in machinery halls, but in this it made a thousand servants do its bidding, from the great Corliss engine and the mammoth fountains down to the minutest acts where power and touch were requisite, the magic of electricity did the duty of the hour.

The Day's Ceremonies.
The multitudes which thronged the world's fair grounds today were greater in numbers than had been anticipated, considering the incalculable condition of the weather. Probably 300,000 people were assembled when at 11 o'clock the advance guard of the cortege signaled the approach of President Cleveland and the dignitaries of the day, to the world's fair grounds. After entering the ground the journey to the administration building was made with all possible dispatch, the presidential party not stopping to acknowledge any of the popular ovations extended to the chief executive. Of course, the cheering was tremendous when President Cleveland faced the great multitude assembled—the largest audience ever faced by an American citizen.

Following the president and the director general were the members of the presidential cabinet, under the escort of the world's fair officials; the Duke of Veragua and his family, members of the diplomatic corps, members of congress, senators and other prominent dignitaries who had seats on the grand stand.

The 2,000 Columbian Guards who surrounded the administration building made a futile effort to keep back the crowd, but they were swept forward by the resistless wave, and jammed against the railing until they themselves became an unrecognizable part of that incoherent, thronging, but good-natured and cheering area of humanity.

At 11:50, to the minute, the programme opened with a blast from the orchestra, which rendered the martial air of the "Columbian" march of John K. Paine. The music lasted for fifteen minutes, and at its conclusion Director General Davis stepped to the front of the platform, waved his hand supplicatingly two or three times to the vast audience, and then announced in a tone which was lost in the hum of voices that Rev. W. H. Milburn would pronounce the invocation. The blind chaplain of the United States house of representatives stepped to the front, aided by a woman's hand, his adopted daughter, Miss Louise Genley, escorting him, and faced the multitude which he could not even see, but whose presence he felt by the very animation that Permeated the Atmosphere.

He is one of the historic characters of American politics, first receiving his appointment as chaplain of the house of representatives some years ago, and lately being selected chaplain of the United States senate. During his long residence in Washington Mr. Milburn has been the intimate acquaintance of presidents, cabinet officials, senators and congressmen, until today, although blind, he probably recognizes by the timbre of their voices more men prominent in American life than in any other brief pause, when the murmur of voices had ceased, the blind chaplain uttered an eloquent prayer.

"The Prophecy," an ode written by W. A. Croffut in honor of the exposition, was next on the programme. It was read by Miss Croffut, a delicate young woman whose enunciation was perfect, but whose voice was, of course, lost to all except the immediate circle. The ode, written by Wagner, was next rendered by the orchestra, and then Director General Davis, on behalf of the exposition, delivered an address.

As the director general stepped back the president of the United States stepped forward, and the climax of the evolutions of the day was reached. For minutes the crowd cheered over and over again, and men 500 feet away tossed their hats in the air, waving the umbrellas and otherwise disported themselves in frantic exhibitions of their enthusiasm. The president bowed once or twice, and then spoke as follows:

An Exalted Mission.
"I am here to join my fellow citizens in the congratulations which befit this occasion. Surrounded by the stupendous results of American enterprise and activity, and in view of magnificent evidences of American skill and intelligence, we need not fear that these congratulations will be exaggerated. We stand today in the presence of the oldest nations of the world, and point to the great achievements we here exhibit, asking no allowance on the score of youth. The enthusiasm with which we contemplate our work illustrates the warmth of the greeting we extend to those who have come from foreign lands to illustrate with us the growth and progress of human endeavor in the direction of a higher civilization. We who believe that popular education and the stimulation of the best impulses of our citizens lead the way to a realization of the proud national destiny which our faith promises, gladly welcome the opportunity here afforded us to see the results accomplished by efforts which have been exerted longer than ours in the field of man's improvement, while in appreciative advancement and wonderful accomplishments of a young nation, and present the triumphs of a vigorous, self-reliant and independent people. We have built these splendid edifices, but we have also built the magnificent fabric of popular government, whose grand proportions are seen throughout the world. We have made and here gathered together objects of use and beauty, the products of American skill and invention, but we have also made men who rule themselves. It is an exalted mission in which we and our guests from other lands are engaged, as we cooperate in the inauguration of an enterprise devoted to human enlightenment, and in the undertaking we here enter upon we exemplify, in the noblest sense, the brotherhood of nations. Let us hold fast to the meaning that underlies this ceremony, and let us not lose the impressiveness of this moment. As by a touch the machinery that gives life to this vast exposition is now set in motion, so at the same instant let our hopes and aspirations awaken forces which in all time to come shall influence the welfare, the dignity and the freedom of mankind.

Pressed the Button.
At the conclusion of his address the president touched the electric button, and the world's Columbian exposition of 1893 was ushered into official existence. The huge fountains three hundred feet away from the grand stand threw a volume of water seventy feet in the air, and the roaring of the engines in Machinery hall, a quarter of a mile away, told the multitude that the electric spark had done its duty. As soon as the ceremonies attendant upon the formal opening of the exposition were over, President Cleveland, Gov. Altgeld, Mayor Harrison, the Duke of Veragua and other notables were conducted to the dining hall on the third floor of the administration building, where they were entertained at dinner by the world's fair officials. When the dinner was over, the party, with President Cleveland and Director General Davis in the lead, was conducted from the administration building and was driven around the grounds. At the manufacturing building, which was the first place reached, the presidential party alighted at the main entrance and walked from one end of the monstrous edifice to the other. From here they drove to the north end of the grounds, among the state buildings and back along the main drive past the horticultural building to the south end of the grounds. After leaving thoroughly inspected the White City President Cleveland and his party were driven to Grand Crossing, where they took the train to Washington.

PROPHECY.

W. A. Croffut, the Former Minnesotan, Contributes a Poem to the Ceremonies.

Columbus' Vision Described in Blank Verse by the Poetical Litterateur.

Sally Columbia watched the nascent moon
Down in the gloomy Ocean's western deep,
Strange birds that day had fluttered in the
And strange flowers floated round the wandering keel.
And yet no land, and now, when through
The Santa Maria leaped before the gale,
And angry billows tossed the caravels,
As to destruction, Gomez Hassan came,
His Captain Pinzon through the frenzied
seas,

And to the admiral brought a parchment
scrolled
Saying "Good Master: Read this writing
here.
An earnest prayer it is from all on board.
The world's fair turn back in utter fear.
No longer to the Pole the compass points,
The zenith drops the northern star.
You saw but yesterday an albatross
Drop dead on deck beneath the flying scud.
The Devil's wind blows madly from the East
To the land of Nowhere, and the sea
Keeps sucking us adown the maelstrom's
Heaven

Francisco says the edge of Earth is near
And off to Erebus we slide unheeded.
The Devil's wind blows madly from the East
To the land of Nowhere, and the sea
Keeps sucking us adown the maelstrom's
Heaven
Slipped from his leash and sprang into the sea
Like Lucifer, and left a trail of blood.
I pray thee, Master, turn us to Spain,
Obedient to the omens, or perchance
The Devil's-stricken crew, to escape their doom,
May mutiny and

"Gomez! Hasten, please," exclaimed the admiral.
Now prithee leave me; I would be alone."
Then eagerly Columbus caught sight
In sea and sky, and in his lonely heart,
Fighting, instead of presages of hope,
The look and ominous portents of despair.
The wild winds roared around him, and he heard
Shrill voices cry "Return, return!"
He thought of Genoa and dreams of youth,
His father's warnings and his mother's prayers,
Confiding Beatrix and the prattling babe,
Old Poverty, the fan that blows foam,
And tempting comfort of the peaceful land;
And with a moaned "Return, return,"
he turned.

As thus he mused, he paced the after-deck,
And gazed upon the luminous waves eastern.
Strange life was to the phosphorescent foam,
And through the goblin glow there came and went
Like shadows on an opal sea
Prophecies of the land he sought.
He saw the end of his victorious quest,
He saw the plain that swells his breast,
A string of Antillean jessies rest,
The islands of the West.
He saw invading Plenty dispossess
Old Poverty, the fan that blows foam,
And through the wretched caverns of Disaster
Walk star-eyed Happiness.
He saw the Bourbon and Braganza crown,
For Ancient Rome tardy to atone,
And flying from the throne.
He saw an empire, radiant as the day,
Harnessed to Law, but, under Freedom's yoke
Proudly arise, replet in array,
The nations of the world.
He saw celestial peace in mortal guise,
And, filled with hope and thrilled with high
emprise,
Lifting his tranquil forehead to the skies,
A vast republic rose.

He saw, beyond the hills of golden corn,
The olive grove of Antium's opulent horn, Ceres and Flora laughing round the bosom of the morn.
He saw a clod of gold across the gloom
Along an iron dragon dashed forth
From the black furnace, south, north,
East, west, uniting in a beneficent glow,
The nations of the earth.
He saw the lightning run an elfin race
Where trade, love, grief and pleasure interlace,
And none annihilate time and space
Communing face to face.
He saw relief through deadly dungeons
And cannon rust upon the grass-grown slope,
And rot the gallows rope.
He saw the babes on labor's cottage floor,
The bright walls hung with luxury more and more.
He saw the myriad spindles flutter round,
The myriad mill wheels shake the solid ground.
The iron homes where joyous life
is foiled,
And Love is throned and crowned,
He saw exalted Ignominy's domain,
Though banished in force since then, began;
And Science, consoled, led the van
To the East, and the world's
The picture came and passed away,
And then the admiral turned as from a
his lion face aglow; his luminous eyes
Lit with mysterious fire from hidden sources;
And then he said to Pinzon in the gloom,
"Now, Martin, to thy waiting helm again;
Lead to the Pinta, fill her sagging sails,
For on my soul hath dawned a wondrous sight.
Lo, in this segment of the watery world
I press a hemisphere of glorious life.
A realm of golden grain and fragrant fruits,
And men and women wise and masterful,
Who dwell at peace in rural cottages;
And splendid cities bursting into bloom,
And happiness was there, and bright-winged
High aspiration, soaring to the stars.
And then, methought, O Martin! thro' the storm
A million faces turned on me and smiled
Now gaze forward! Fear avault!
I will abate no atom of my dream.
Though all the devils of the underworld
His in his sails and in his crew,
Haste to the Pinta! Westward keep her prow!
For I have had a vision full of light!
Keep her prow westward in the sunset's wake
From our harbor hence, and let no man look back."
Then from the Pinta's foretop, let a cry,
A trumpet song "Light-ho! light-ho! light-ho!"

GUARDS OVERCOME.

Bad Police Arrangements for Handling the Immense Crowd of Spectators.

Thirty Persons Removed Unconscious by Ambulances to the Hospital.

CHICAGO, May 1.—While waiting for the arrival of the presidential party a number of women in the crowd who had been on their feet for hours swooned or fainted, and the services of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps. The pushing and crowding at the northeast end of Red Cross ambulance chairs were in constant requisition for over half an hour. No sooner had the opening ceremonies commenced than the bad police arrangements were shown in an unfortunate manner for many people. A handful of Columbian guards had been detailed for duty to keep the inside border of the stands from encroaching on the press seats, which were arranged behind the grand stand on either side. Not even a rope was strung along the line of the grand stand to keep a passage way clear for the newspaper men and ambulance corps.