Suit has been commenced against the city by Moore & Co. to recover $400 with interest. The firm was engaged in the business of raising an employment agency during 1887 and the next three years. The state auditor has recently conducted two satisfactory state land sales for the different parts of the state for which the lands have been reserved. On the 23d a sale was had at Becker, where 2,320 acres were sold at an average of $6.75 per acre. The highest amount realized was $125, and the lowest sold at $5. The sale at Fergus Falls on the 24th was even better. There 4,369 acres were disposed of at an average of $7.25 per acre, and some of the property brought as high as $15, while the lowest price realized was $5.

Henry Mayo, of Wabasha, N. D., was a caller at the state houses yesterday. He is a leading ranchman of the state and a prominent Democratic politician. He discoursed enthusiastically upon the section in which he has chosen his home. In this section there is no question about it being the very garden spot of all the Red River valley. It is on the old trail between St. Paul and Winnipeg, and at one time in the early days it was a trading post of some 500 people. It was the scene of the late Commodore Kitson's military venture, and many bloody tragedies have been enacted there. Mr. Mayo stated that several Christian missionaries have been massacred there.

HARDY WILL SING

"Old Shady," "Marching Through Georgia," and other National Songs.

There are but few comrades in the Grand Army ranks who have not heard of John M. Hardy. His voice was heard in patriotic song in the dark days of 1861, and later during the weary marches and long sieges his genial presence inspired the hope and confidence of the boys in blue. Since the close of the war Mr. Hardy has been heard in every campaign, and his rendition of war and national anthems has given him a reputation that is not confined to any section of the country. Hardy will be present at the Royal Legion congress next month, and on the evening of June 10 he will sing "Old Shady" and "Marching Through Georgia" at the great national concert to be given by the St. Paul and Minneapolis Choral associations.

The G. A. R. past grand, and other military organizations will participate in the war song concerts to be held that week.

A CHANGE OF ROUTE.

So as to Bring the Great Hill Parade Down by Way of Sixth

And Furnish a Full View From the Smith Park Colonnade.

Participants Must Not Delay in Securing Permits for Floats.

The Far West's Exhibit Will Be a Feature of the Display.

Some slight changes have been made in the line of March for the great Hill parade. The route has been finally settled, and the committee is agreed to make no further changes. The question was fully discussed at a meeting of the committee on parade yesterday afternoon.

The different sections of the parade will be in a satisfactory manner. The route is along many of the same streets, but the course is changed. The parade, instead of going straight down Third street, will go up Third from Broadway, and down Sixth past the reviewing stand.

A change suggested was one that would take the large section of the parade through the wholesale district, but the committee found the change was inadvisable. The parade will be held on the main street if the parade were to pass every door in the wholesale district, and for that reason this committee would have liked to favor them. The different sections of the parade will form on streets parallel to Broadway and north of Sixth street, making the start from Third street on Broadway and Sixth.

The parade will proceed down Broadway to Third, and up Third to Washington. It will cross the reviewing stand, and will be on Fifth street to Smith avenue, on Smith to Ninth, on Ninth street to Exchange, on Exchange to St. Peter, on St. Peter to Broadway, and on Broadway to Sixth street, where the line of March ends.

This will place the reviewing stand at almost the end of the line of march, which is believed to be a much better arrangement than the first one. This will afford the invited guests, who will have seats on the reviewing stand, a magnificent view of the parade as it approaches down Sixth street, it being possible from this point of observation to see the floats as they emerge from the arch at the corner of Sixth and Wabasha. If the parade were to approach from the east, they had passed through the Smith park arch, which is almost adjoining the Colonnade. The parade will be held on the main street if the parade were to pass every door in the wholesale district, and for that reason this committee would have liked to favor them.

Various estimates have been made of the number of floats which will be in the parade. Mr. Scollie, who is superintending the parade, says that there will be about 150, counting the state, city, industrial and military floats. He says that the parade will represent home concerns.

Should this number be shown, the parade will take fully an hour, and a halt to the military division.

Get Your Float Permits. It is feared that many who intend to be represented will not be ready on the day of the parade. All parties building floats are requested to hurry their permits on parade of that fact at once, so that permits can be issued and places assigned them in the parade. The committee must know within a very few days the exact number of floats to be shown in the parade and their general location. No floats will be allowed to parade without permits.

The committee further desires to hear from all outside towns, so that arrangements can be made for floats. The committee will be glad to receive the names of all who intend to participate in the parade, and to make arrangements for floats sent in reports before the 30th they run the risk of being left out. All communications should be addressed to H. Beck, secretary of celebration.

FEES FOR CERTIFICATE.

To Pay the Expenses of the Examining Board.

D. L. Kiehl, the state superintendent of public instruction, has conceived a plan for defraying the expenses of the members of the state examining board, and in conformity with the idea evolved he has issued this circular letter to teachers:

"Inasmuch as no provision was made by the legislature to meet the expenses of the members of the state examining committee, and as it would be unreasonable that they should assume the responsibility and do the work of the committee without compensation at their own expense, it is decided that to meet these expenses every person receiving a state certificate, either by endorsement or examination, will be asked to pay into the state teachers' examination fund $3 upon notice that his application has been accepted. This rule will not prevent any person from receiving the certificate to which he is entitled without any cost to himself in case he so expresses his desire."

NO TRACE OF ROGERS.

The Stories of Landers and Karl P't Together.

The search for the body of Charles S. Rogers was continued yesterday. A number of persons engaged being much larger than on any previous day. During the morning the river between the Smith avenue and Wabasha street bridges was thoroughly examined and numerous charges were exploded. Small boats with two and three men in each piled up and down the river, and from the bridges crowds of spectators watched the search. Relatives of Rogers, seen last evening, said there was no new developments and none were expected beyond the finding of the body. The story of Landers, as published in a morning paper, would make it appear as though the state was excited beyond the finding of the body.
