Table with 2 columns: Place of Observation, Barometer, Thermometer, Wind, Clouds, Rainfall.

THE silver-tongued orators all live in the West. The Duke of Veragua is going home to dream of America.

ANTONIO is compelled to put up with no entertainment, except such as EULALIA finds time to give him.

THE whisky trust claims that there is an overproduction of whisky. The real fact is that men do not drink so much as in the past.

THAT KANSAS girl who swallowed her engagement ring evidently wished to be in position to break the engagement and keep the ring.

NORTH DAKOTA seems to have a follower of ZIMBI DWIGGINS. The state may be as widely advertised by the possession as Indiana.

IT is reported that it cost $50,000 to suspend Dr. Briggs. What an amount of genuine Christian work could have been accomplished with the sum.

IT is said that people grow insane by thinking and talking too long upon one subject. All connected with the Paris arbitration may wind up in the mad-house.

AT THE rate American cities are annexing outlying country districts it will not be many years until the farms of the nation are all under city government.

GOV. ALTHELM, in offering a reward for the arrest of persons who commit the crime of lynchings, has set an example which should be emulated by several governors.

A SON of the sultan of Johore has married a pretty German girl, the daughter of a tradesman of the Netherlands. It may turn out that the girl has not done so well as supposed.

ALTHOUGH the poem of G. W. LEWELLING, of Kansas, delivered on Memorial day, was without rhyme or rhythm, the Kansas City Journal declares that it proves the governor to be a better poet than statesman.

AT A summer resort of Pennsylvania is a hotel that has a very wide reputation through its method of serving food on its tables. We need a million or more hotels scattered over the country with reputations for serving English sparrows.

WHAT SHOULD IT DO? It, instead of roundly denouncing the administration for permitting the greenback redemption fund falling below the hundred-million limit and predicting the disasters to follow, might temporarily down the street would point out how it was to be avoided, it might make as much politics, but it would better fill its place as a public journal.

DEMOCRATS are just as much interested in preserving the solvency of the government, whose obligations it is to pay, as are the Republicans; their impairment will injure them, as well as their neighbors of other political faiths.

WE know that it is the fashion of Republicans to assume to think otherwise, but we all know that it is a mere assumption made for political effect. It is pure buncombe.

WHAT can the administration do? It must obey and execute the laws. It did not make them, and is not responsible for them. It is bound to redeem the obligations of the government, whose issue it did not authorize and is not responsible for. It takes gold to redeem them. It might redeem them in silver dollars. Would the Pioneer Press advise that? The answer has said that it might do it as a heroic remedy applied for the purpose of sobering of the silver craze; but like all desperate remedies, it is risky.

THE government might refuse payment of gold in redemption of silver purchase notes, and it might refuse gold in redemption of greenbacks presented to get gold for export, but the latter would be an arbitrary and unwarranted exercise of power, and the former would be a discrimination against the treasury notes that would send them below par at once. There is one alternative which the Ohio Republicans demanded, the issue of bonds and the purchase with them of gold to keep the redemption fund full. But it takes only a slight intelligence to see that that would be palative, a financial opium treatment, deferring a little the inevitable and making the break-down the worse when it came, as come it inevitably must. Our esteemed contemporary should not forget that it was Republican votes in the house that defeated the SHERMAN repeat bill, east, under the generalship of JULIUS CESAR BURROWS, for the sole purpose of putting Gen. CLEVELAND in administration in the hole." Now that it is there by the action of Republicans, it is but a Republican organ to scold it for being there.

THE HILL BANQUET. The Hill banquet at the Aberdeen last evening was the most distinguished event of the kind in the history of the Northwest. There were nearly 300 plates, costing each $25, and among the guests present were the most noted men in the world.

THE GREAT DISASTER. The great disaster in Washington by which many lives are lost seems to have resulted from the negligence of the government. The building was declared unsafe many years ago, and in 1885 it was condemned. The dispatches say that nothing was done after 1885 to repair the structure.

THE LOYAL LEGION. The national convention of the Loyal Legion has come to an end, and the 450 delegates who have been the guests of the city the past three days leave with the feeling that they have been well entertained.

THE SUNDAY DECISION. The federal judges have sustained the action to close the fair, and it is not easy to see how they could have done otherwise. When the directory accepted the $2,500,000 sovereign coins, coupled with the condition that the fair be closed on Sunday, the directory agreed only to comply with the terms.
