

THE DAILY GLOBE

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY AT THE GLOBE BUILDING, CORNER FOURTH AND CEDAR STREETS.

ST. PAUL GLOBE SUBSCRIPTION RATE Daily (Not Including Sunday) 1 yr in advance $5.00 3 mo in advance $2.00 1 mo in advance $1.00

RECEIVED AT THE POST OFFICE AT ST. PAUL, MINN., AS SECOND CLASS MATTER, JULY 11, 1906. AUTHORITY PAID FOR MAIL SERVICE AT SPECIAL RATE OF POSTAGE PROVIDED FOR NEWSPAPERS.

REJECTED ADVERTISEMENTS CANNOT BE RETURNED. ADDRESS ALL LETTERS AND TELEGRAMS TO THE GLOBE BUILDING, ST. PAUL, MINN.

Eastern Advertising Office—Room 41, Times Building, New York. WASHINGTON BUREAU, 1405 F ST. N.W.

WORKERS' FAIR VISITORS. The St. Paul Daily and Sunday Globe can be found on sale at the following places in Chicago: SHERMAN HOUSE, GRAND PACIFIC, PALMER HOUSE, GIFFORD NEWS STAND, CHATHAM HOTEL, GREAT NORTHERN HOTEL, MCOY'S HOTEL.

TODAY'S WEATHER. WASHINGTON, July 27.—For Minnesota: Thunder storms, with rain during the day; clearing to western winds. For Wisconsin: Generally cloudy; thunder storms, warmer during the day, cooler by Saturday morning; southerly winds, changing to westerly by night. For the Dakotas: Thunder storms in eastern portions; fair weather; cooler in western portions; variable winds, shifting to northerly. For Montana: Fair; westerly winds.

Table with 4 columns: Place of Observation, Barometer, Thermometer, and Wind. Includes data for St. Paul, Duluth, La Crosse, etc.

FRANCE has a general election Aug. 20. Look out for a sensation.

INDIANS become brave soldiers when there are a good many trees and stumps on the battlefield.

SOMEbody should write a play for JOE JEFFERSON which roasts newspapers to a turn.

HOMELY wives in a harem among a lot of pretty ones have a deal of heartache to nurse.

COLORED people have the most unwise method of cutting an acquaintance. It's with a razor.

CALLING the New York base ball club giants suggests that the public is possessed of a good deal of generosity.

NOW is about the time the small boy gets doubled up with green apples. But no amount of spanking will keep him from getting doubled up next year.

THE shirt factories of the East are reported to be shutting down. Have those dudes come down to wearing one shirt a week in this intensely hot weather?

THERE has just been shipped $3,000,000 of gold in Europe for the United States. Holy smoke! but the yellow metal will become a drug on the market here pretty soon.

POWDERBLY has stepped to the front to deny the rumor that he has been cured a week or more that he intended to resign. It may be that he found that the law profession is crowded with good lawyers.

CHICAGO yesterday gave her street winks their usual annual greeting, taking them to the world's fair. By the way, it may be well for the city to adopt the Chicago plan of doing something for winks.

THE czar of Russia has ordered one of his naval squadrons to Siam to preserve neutrality; that is, to keep English and Chinese hands off. This is like a giant standing by to prevent outside interference where a prize fighter has jumped upon a boy.

GEN. ALGER delivers to ex-President HARRISON a terrific left-hand "swipe" in saying that HARRISON has too much sense to make such utterances as are attributed to him concerning the financial situation. ALGER knows full well that HARRISON made the remarks.

THE English court martial express regret that Rear Admiral MARKHAM did not carry out his original intention of disobeying the order of Admiral TRYON. MARKHAM admits that he knew that TRYON's order could not be carried out without peril. It is a grave question as to whether it was not his duty to disobey.

A GOVERNOR of a Mexican state was found guilty by a court of crime, and has just been shot, in accordance with the sentence of the court. Some of those Mexican states are so utterly without respect for citizens that it becomes necessary to elect bandits for governors. It is difficult to prescribe in such situations.

THAT Yale college half-ton aerolite being found by the lapidary to be composed of small diamonds, which, if larger, would make the aggregation worth millions of dollars, suggests the idea that some aerolite plumb full of gold may light on somebody's farm yet. Here's a chance for a good novel from JULIA VERNE.

"BLEW his head off," in the headlines of a suicide or a murder, creates a sensation; but it is difficult to see why it should, since a man is killed just as dead by a bullet through the heart as by one blowing his head off, and he dies a deal quicker that way than he does so that it takes him several days of horrible torture to die.

JUDGING from the lynching of the Italian in Denver, it is not likely and later developments, the people of that city must be a wild and woolly lot, and the outside world will gain a clearer understanding of how they came to elect as governor of Colorado such a man as WATRE. Performances like this make respectable Americans ashamed to own such a people as countrymen.

A PUBLIC LOSS. The sudden death of W. S. MELLENG, general manager of the Northern Pacific, comes not only as a personal affliction to hosts of friends, but it is also a business calamity to the Northwest.

His record in railroad circles was phenomenal, and the great corporation he so faithfully served suffers an almost irreparable loss.

He had the happy faculty, not always possessed by railroad officials, of caring for the interests he represented and at the same time being just and fair to the people with whom the Northern Pacific dealt. His death will not be more regretted and mourned by the corporation than by the public throughout the Northwest.

He has fallen in his prime, but he leaves behind him a record without a blemish. His friends were only limited by his acquaintance, and to his afflicted family the sympathy of the entire community is extended.

QUIT MONKEYING. We have received a communication from a prominent Democrat discussing the financial situation, the length of which precludes us from printing it, but which states that the few Democrats our Democrats have become with false and undemocratic conceptions of what a government is and what its uses are.

Briefly stated, he would have the government issue the money, and let the circulation—the ordinary way by paying for services and purchases being insufficient—he would have the notes issued as loans on the pledge of state, county and municipal bonds, collateral security, charging a low rate of interest. This he thinks would give a sufficient supply of money, and the interconvertibility of the bonds and money would give flexibility.

It will be a difficult matter for our friend to say why the government should issue bills and lend them to men who have invested in bonds which they wish to convert again into money, and which money they intend to use to secure their impermanent property to any one on real estate security. There is a difference, of course, in the form, but none whatever in principle.

If the government is to go into the business of lending, it should know no distinction between its citizens, and lend to all alike who could furnish any security which governmental agents might be persuaded was solvent.

When this idea of governmental issue is presented in the form as it is in the demands of the Populists, there is a general dissent from it. The Republican, shamed by the precedents set by his party, can only say it is going too far. The Democrat, if he has the sense to understand the proposition, says it is no function of government to do this. The only remedy he can see is to retrace as rapidly as possible the steps which have led us into this quagmire, and get back on the solid ground.

As long as the government issues its paper money, and as long as it lends its credit to banks, just so long will we have this agitation which seeks to make it geologically farther and issue more paper, "enough to transact the business of the country," as the Populists demand, and lend it on grain and land, as the Populists demand, or make their bullion worth $1.29 an ounce, as the silver miners demand.

The fireman who left a fire only partially subdued, and who left the fire burning, is a dangerous man, and the adoption of any compromising, half-way measures now, you can no more compromise with financial fanaticism than you can with fire. You must either let it burn, or you must put it out.

As long as the government issues its paper money, and as long as it lends its credit to banks, just so long will we have this agitation which seeks to make it geologically farther and issue more paper, "enough to transact the business of the country," as the Populists demand, and lend it on grain and land, as the Populists demand, or make their bullion worth $1.29 an ounce, as the silver miners demand.

The fireman who left a fire only partially subdued, and who left the fire burning, is a dangerous man, and the adoption of any compromising, half-way measures now, you can no more compromise with financial fanaticism than you can with fire. You must either let it burn, or you must put it out.

As long as the government issues its paper money, and as long as it lends its credit to banks, just so long will we have this agitation which seeks to make it geologically farther and issue more paper, "enough to transact the business of the country," as the Populists demand, and lend it on grain and land, as the Populists demand, or make their bullion worth $1.29 an ounce, as the silver miners demand.

The fireman who left a fire only partially subdued, and who left the fire burning, is a dangerous man, and the adoption of any compromising, half-way measures now, you can no more compromise with financial fanaticism than you can with fire. You must either let it burn, or you must put it out.

As long as the government issues its paper money, and as long as it lends its credit to banks, just so long will we have this agitation which seeks to make it geologically farther and issue more paper, "enough to transact the business of the country," as the Populists demand, and lend it on grain and land, as the Populists demand, or make their bullion worth $1.29 an ounce, as the silver miners demand.

The fireman who left a fire only partially subdued, and who left the fire burning, is a dangerous man, and the adoption of any compromising, half-way measures now, you can no more compromise with financial fanaticism than you can with fire. You must either let it burn, or you must put it out.

As long as the government issues its paper money, and as long as it lends its credit to banks, just so long will we have this agitation which seeks to make it geologically farther and issue more paper, "enough to transact the business of the country," as the Populists demand, and lend it on grain and land, as the Populists demand, or make their bullion worth $1.29 an ounce, as the silver miners demand.

The fireman who left a fire only partially subdued, and who left the fire burning, is a dangerous man, and the adoption of any compromising, half-way measures now, you can no more compromise with financial fanaticism than you can with fire. You must either let it burn, or you must put it out.

As long as the government issues its paper money, and as long as it lends its credit to banks, just so long will we have this agitation which seeks to make it geologically farther and issue more paper, "enough to transact the business of the country," as the Populists demand, and lend it on grain and land, as the Populists demand, or make their bullion worth $1.29 an ounce, as the silver miners demand.

The fireman who left a fire only partially subdued, and who left the fire burning, is a dangerous man, and the adoption of any compromising, half-way measures now, you can no more compromise with financial fanaticism than you can with fire. You must either let it burn, or you must put it out.

As long as the government issues its paper money, and as long as it lends its credit to banks, just so long will we have this agitation which seeks to make it geologically farther and issue more paper, "enough to transact the business of the country," as the Populists demand, and lend it on grain and land, as the Populists demand, or make their bullion worth $1.29 an ounce, as the silver miners demand.

The fireman who left a fire only partially subdued, and who left the fire burning, is a dangerous man, and the adoption of any compromising, half-way measures now, you can no more compromise with financial fanaticism than you can with fire. You must either let it burn, or you must put it out.

As long as the government issues its paper money, and as long as it lends its credit to banks, just so long will we have this agitation which seeks to make it geologically farther and issue more paper, "enough to transact the business of the country," as the Populists demand, and lend it on grain and land, as the Populists demand, or make their bullion worth $1.29 an ounce, as the silver miners demand.

The fireman who left a fire only partially subdued, and who left the fire burning, is a dangerous man, and the adoption of any compromising, half-way measures now, you can no more compromise with financial fanaticism than you can with fire. You must either let it burn, or you must put it out.

As long as the government issues its paper money, and as long as it lends its credit to banks, just so long will we have this agitation which seeks to make it geologically farther and issue more paper, "enough to transact the business of the country," as the Populists demand, and lend it on grain and land, as the Populists demand, or make their bullion worth $1.29 an ounce, as the silver miners demand.

The fireman who left a fire only partially subdued, and who left the fire burning, is a dangerous man, and the adoption of any compromising, half-way measures now, you can no more compromise with financial fanaticism than you can with fire. You must either let it burn, or you must put it out.

As long as the government issues its paper money, and as long as it lends its credit to banks, just so long will we have this agitation which seeks to make it geologically farther and issue more paper, "enough to transact the business of the country," as the Populists demand, and lend it on grain and land, as the Populists demand, or make their bullion worth $1.29 an ounce, as the silver miners demand.

The fireman who left a fire only partially subdued, and who left the fire burning, is a dangerous man, and the adoption of any compromising, half-way measures now, you can no more compromise with financial fanaticism than you can with fire. You must either let it burn, or you must put it out.

As long as the government issues its paper money, and as long as it lends its credit to banks, just so long will we have this agitation which seeks to make it geologically farther and issue more paper, "enough to transact the business of the country," as the Populists demand, and lend it on grain and land, as the Populists demand, or make their bullion worth $1.29 an ounce, as the silver miners demand.

STATE PRESS.

This fall Anoka county will have three extensive starch factories, and it is expected that the potato crop will be a good one. It is expected that the potato crop will be a good one. It is expected that the potato crop will be a good one.

The able editor of the Prison Mirror has a bad head. It has been reported in pressions up to the present time that business was indicative of early plety. —Waterbury Advance.

The bank in Redwood Falls has been closed for business, showing that a little patience and better results than the push practice. —St. Peter Tribune.

Mr. Crisp goes in for repealing the 10 per cent tax on state bonds, and he is in the hands of his friends as candidate for the United States Congress. —Croskton Times.

According to a recent bulletin of the agricultural department, Minnesota used 21,000,000 pounds of butter in 1905, worth $8,000,000. Minnesota farmers are getting more of the right track. —Minn. Free Press.

A new anarchistic paper, the Flaming Torch, is to be published in the city of St. Paul. It is to be published in the city of St. Paul. It is to be published in the city of St. Paul.

The Chicago papers finding that Sunday opening does not bring in big returns have turned their eyes to the railroads. They are asking the railroads to make reduction to carry people to Chicago to pay higher rates for every day. —Chicago News.

The warden at the Stillwater prison states that the prisoners just now are not so busy as they were until after harvest to pay for the bluing twine manufactured at the prison. He says that the prisoners are not so busy as they were until after harvest to pay for the bluing twine manufactured at the prison.

The United States wants to keep its hands off Nicaragua until it gets through its cottons. Our Baker, however, is more than happy there—a new president every so often—while at home he had to wait four years for such a luxury. —Taylor's Falls Journal.

Column after column has been written upon the financial condition of "monitors of public opinion," and still the public is not wiser. The financial condition of "monitors of public opinion," and still the public is not wiser.

It is strange that people should hesitate to make investments just now when investments promise to be extraordinarily profitable. Bargains in real estate are being offered at a price so low as to tempt every man who has a cent to spare. —Duluth Commercial.

On Sunday afternoon an alarm of fire was sounded at St. Paul, which was not to have been false. An examination it is thought to have been caused by the brick against which the fire alarm box was placed. The capital city is entitled to the premium for hot weather. —Minn. Herald.

Steamboat racing on the great lakes is a dangerous pastime that may result some day in the drowning of scores of people. If the owners of the vessels will consent to a regulation of the rules, and if the government should lay the heavy hand of the law upon them. —Duluth Herald.

GLADSTONE'S LATEST. Mr. Gladstone has had an unusual busy time of late, and he is not likely to have any more of the kind. —Minn. Herald.

Gladstone's brougham has collided with a van in Parliament square. Of course, the van was to blame, but Gladstone has as many lives as a cat. —Baltimore Express.

For a veteran, Mr. Gladstone manages to get into more accidents and to get out of them with more success than any other man. He is under a lucky star. —Baltimore Express.

The venerable Gladstone seems the special victim of accidents; not long since a heater made a public highway of him, and recently his carriage indulged in a reckless and dangerous performance. He is a man who is not to be trifled with. —Baltimore Express.

For a veteran, Mr. Gladstone manages to get into more accidents and to get out of them with more success than any other man. He is under a lucky star. —Baltimore Express.

The venerable Gladstone seems the special victim of accidents; not long since a heater made a public highway of him, and recently his carriage indulged in a reckless and dangerous performance. He is a man who is not to be trifled with. —Baltimore Express.

For a veteran, Mr. Gladstone manages to get into more accidents and to get out of them with more success than any other man. He is under a lucky star. —Baltimore Express.

The venerable Gladstone seems the special victim of accidents; not long since a heater made a public highway of him, and recently his carriage indulged in a reckless and dangerous performance. He is a man who is not to be trifled with. —Baltimore Express.

For a veteran, Mr. Gladstone manages to get into more accidents and to get out of them with more success than any other man. He is under a lucky star. —Baltimore Express.

The venerable Gladstone seems the special victim of accidents; not long since a heater made a public highway of him, and recently his carriage indulged in a reckless and dangerous performance. He is a man who is not to be trifled with. —Baltimore Express.

For a veteran, Mr. Gladstone manages to get into more accidents and to get out of them with more success than any other man. He is under a lucky star. —Baltimore Express.

The venerable Gladstone seems the special victim of accidents; not long since a heater made a public highway of him, and recently his carriage indulged in a reckless and dangerous performance. He is a man who is not to be trifled with. —Baltimore Express.

For a veteran, Mr. Gladstone manages to get into more accidents and to get out of them with more success than any other man. He is under a lucky star. —Baltimore Express.

The venerable Gladstone seems the special victim of accidents; not long since a heater made a public highway of him, and recently his carriage indulged in a reckless and dangerous performance. He is a man who is not to be trifled with. —Baltimore Express.

For a veteran, Mr. Gladstone manages to get into more accidents and to get out of them with more success than any other man. He is under a lucky star. —Baltimore Express.

The venerable Gladstone seems the special victim of accidents; not long since a heater made a public highway of him, and recently his carriage indulged in a reckless and dangerous performance. He is a man who is not to be trifled with. —Baltimore Express.

For a veteran, Mr. Gladstone manages to get into more accidents and to get out of them with more success than any other man. He is under a lucky star. —Baltimore Express.

The venerable Gladstone seems the special victim of accidents; not long since a heater made a public highway of him, and recently his carriage indulged in a reckless and dangerous performance. He is a man who is not to be trifled with. —Baltimore Express.

THE AUGUST MAGAZINES.

Harper's has an unusually good book this month. The serials by Black and Constance Fenimore Woolson sustain the interest of their readers. Howard Pyle, Richard Harding Davis and others contribute short stories. Thomas Janvier, Col. Dodge and Frederick Remington are among the miscellaneous writers.

Perhaps the gem of the collection is a sketch by W. D. Howells. As an editor, Howells is a man of great power, and he has a fine sense of humor. He has a fine sense of humor. He has a fine sense of humor.

The bank in Redwood Falls has been closed for business, showing that a little patience and better results than the push practice. —St. Peter Tribune.

Mr. Crisp goes in for repealing the 10 per cent tax on state bonds, and he is in the hands of his friends as candidate for the United States Congress. —Croskton Times.

According to a recent bulletin of the agricultural department, Minnesota used 21,000,000 pounds of butter in 1905, worth $8,000,000. Minnesota farmers are getting more of the right track. —Minn. Free Press.

A new anarchistic paper, the Flaming Torch, is to be published in the city of St. Paul. It is to be published in the city of St. Paul. It is to be published in the city of St. Paul.

The Chicago papers finding that Sunday opening does not bring in big returns have turned their eyes to the railroads. They are asking the railroads to make reduction to carry people to Chicago to pay higher rates for every day. —Chicago News.

The warden at the Stillwater prison states that the prisoners just now are not so busy as they were until after harvest to pay for the bluing twine manufactured at the prison. He says that the prisoners are not so busy as they were until after harvest to pay for the bluing twine manufactured at the prison.

The United States wants to keep its hands off Nicaragua until it gets through its cottons. Our Baker, however, is more than happy there—a new president every so often—while at home he had to wait four years for such a luxury. —Taylor's Falls Journal.

Column after column has been written upon the financial condition of "monitors of public opinion," and still the public is not wiser. The financial condition of "monitors of public opinion," and still the public is not wiser.

It is strange that people should hesitate to make investments just now when investments promise to be extraordinarily profitable. Bargains in real estate are being offered at a price so low as to tempt every man who has a cent to spare. —Duluth Commercial.

On Sunday afternoon an alarm of fire was sounded at St. Paul, which was not to have been false. An examination it is thought to have been caused by the brick against which the fire alarm box was placed. The capital city is entitled to the premium for hot weather. —Minn. Herald.

Steamboat racing on the great lakes is a dangerous pastime that may result some day in the drowning of scores of people. If the owners of the vessels will consent to a regulation of the rules, and if the government should lay the heavy hand of the law upon them. —Duluth Herald.

GLADSTONE'S LATEST. Mr. Gladstone has had an unusual busy time of late, and he is not likely to have any more of the kind. —Minn. Herald.

Gladstone's brougham has collided with a van in Parliament square. Of course, the van was to blame, but Gladstone has as many lives as a cat. —Baltimore Express.

For a veteran, Mr. Gladstone manages to get into more accidents and to get out of them with more success than any other man. He is under a lucky star. —Baltimore Express.

The venerable Gladstone seems the special victim of accidents; not long since a heater made a public highway of him, and recently his carriage indulged in a reckless and dangerous performance. He is a man who is not to be trifled with. —Baltimore Express.

For a veteran, Mr. Gladstone manages to get into more accidents and to get out of them with more success than any other man. He is under a lucky star. —Baltimore Express.

The venerable Gladstone seems the special victim of accidents; not long since a heater made a public highway of him, and recently his carriage indulged in a reckless and dangerous performance. He is a man who is not to be trifled with. —Baltimore Express.

For a veteran, Mr. Gladstone manages to get into more accidents and to get out of them with more success than any other man. He is under a lucky star. —Baltimore Express.

The venerable Gladstone seems the special victim of accidents; not long since a heater made a public highway of him, and recently his carriage indulged in a reckless and dangerous performance. He is a man who is not to be trifled with. —Baltimore Express.

For a veteran, Mr. Gladstone manages to get into more accidents and to get out of them with more success than any other man. He is under a lucky star. —Baltimore Express.

The venerable Gladstone seems the special victim of accidents; not long since a heater made a public highway of him, and recently his carriage indulged in a reckless and dangerous performance. He is a man who is not to be trifled with. —Baltimore Express.

For a veteran, Mr. Gladstone manages to get into more accidents and to get out of them with more success than any other man. He is under a lucky star. —Baltimore Express.

The venerable Gladstone seems the special victim of accidents; not long since a heater made a public highway of him, and recently his carriage indulged in a reckless and dangerous performance. He is a man who is not to be trifled with. —Baltimore Express.

For a veteran, Mr. Gladstone manages to get into more accidents and to get out of them with more success than any other man. He is under a lucky star. —Baltimore Express.

The venerable Gladstone seems the special victim of accidents; not long since a heater made a public highway of him, and recently his carriage indulged in a reckless and dangerous performance. He is a man who is not to be trifled with. —Baltimore Express.

For a veteran, Mr. Gladstone manages to get into more accidents and to get out of them with more success than any other man. He is under a lucky star. —Baltimore Express.

The venerable Gladstone seems the special victim of accidents; not long since a heater made a public highway of him, and recently his carriage indulged in a reckless and dangerous performance. He is a man who is not to be trifled with. —Baltimore Express.

For a veteran, Mr. Gladstone manages to get into more accidents and to get out of them with more success than any other man. He is under a lucky star. —Baltimore Express.

The venerable Gladstone seems the special victim of accidents; not long since a heater made a public highway of him, and recently his carriage indulged in a reckless and dangerous performance. He is a man who is not to be trifled with. —Baltimore Express.

AT THE HOTELS.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.

Hon. Henry F. Atwater, was at the Clifton hotel yesterday. He is more or less interested in the agricultural industry of the state, and he has taken occasion to watch and keep posted upon the possibilities and the probabilities of the coming harvest. —Chicago Herald.