The operatives of the Pinkerton agency are hard at work on the case, and have gathered a large amount of evidence which shows plainly that Howard and Fleury were two of the principals. Howard has been identified as being in the vicinity of the bank up to a few minutes before the robbery, and from the woman where he room his acquaintance with Fleury and the other two men can be established. Although it is hardly possible all of the money will be recovered, Supt. Weber, of the Pinkerton agency, thinks at least half of the stolen coin can be traced from the hands of the thieves, and that the persons who have it in trust will make no fuss about turning it over.

Both Parties Will Be Held Till the Sheriff of Little Falls Arrives -Suspended Banks Will Pay the Claims of the County in Full, and at an Early Day.

A rather pretty-looking woman, who gave her name as Mrs. George F. Hall, was brought to the central station last evening and locked up. Accompanying Mrs. Hall was a well-dressed young fellow answering to the name of Winheld Cameron. The twain were not booked, but it appears they were ar-rested on a telegram from Little Falis, Minn., sent by the sheriff, it being alleged that they had eloped. Mrs. Hall and Cameron were found at her mother's residence, 279 Colborne street, and both of them were indignant at the arrest. Mrs. Hall says she was married to George F. Hall about a year ago, after an acquaintance of a few weeks, and that the honeymoon was hardly over when her husband became indifferent, and since that time has been insanely jealous. Cameron, she says, bas been in partnership with her husband in the restaurant business in Little Falls, and has never been more than a friend to her. She left Little Falls Friday morning, and it was just by chance that Cameron was on the train. When she arrived in St. Paul she went direct to her mother's house on Colborne street, and yesterday aftof them were indignant at the arrest. on Colborne street, and yesterday afternoon Cameron, who was going to Dakota, called at the house to bid her good-bye. He had been at the place but a short time when the officer called and arrested them. Sheriff Houde was wired of the arrest of the couple, and replied that he would arrive in the city this morning. Camerom could not be seen, but it was reported that he would not talk about the arrest or the circum-stances leading up to it.

WILL PAY THE COUNTY.

Suspended Banks Declare That All Claims of Ramsey County Will Be Settled.

The committee on claims of the board of county commissioners met last night to confer with the sureties on bonds given by banks that have suspended to ndemnify the county against deposits made with such banks. Mr. Lavallee stated to the representatives of the banks present that he believed it to be the policy of the board of county comsioners to be as lenient as possible and go as far as it can to aid the banks to resume in cases where such course is contemplated. The object of the meeting was to learn from the banks-or rather the bondsmen-what course is intended to be pursued, so that the committee may report to the board at its meeting Monday.

Joseph Lockey, president of the National German-American bank, stated that his bank expects to resume. and is making an effort in that direction with fair prospects of success. He expressed a belief that the depositors will be paid in full, in any event, within a reasonable time.

The committee expressed satisfaction at the statements made by the banks

the committee room.

The Seven Corners bank matter was then taken up. Ex-Gov. Marshall stated that he expected the president, as stated that he expected the president, as well as the assignee and his attorney, to be present at the meeting, and, in their absence, would prefer not to make a statement. A few moments later William Banholzer, the president of the bank, came in, and, being told by Mr. Lavallee that Mr. Marshall had already stated that the Seven Corners bank does not contemplate resuming, Mr. Banholzer said that there is no prospect of that bank opening its doors; that much had been settled. He informed the committee, however, that arrangements are almost completed for securing the prompt payment ed for securing the prompt payment to the county of its deposit of $49,-000 or more. Four of the bondsmen have been arranging to deliver into the hands of a trustee securities to an amount about double the liability of the bank to the county. By this arrange-ment the county will be able to receive ment the county will be able to receive all its money at once if demanded. The arrangement will be completed, probably, today, or not later than Monday. He said further that it is now practically arranged, with the excession of determining whether the ull amount shall be placed in the hands of the trustee in cash, or part of it in securities and part in cash. This statement will be reported by the committee to the will be reported by the committee to the board Monday.

MEDICINE AT THE U.

New Veterinarian Appointed-Duties of the Deans Consolidated.

The major portion of the business that was transacted by the state board of regents of the university at the meeting yesterday related to the medical college, and a number of radical changes in the administration of affairs there were effected. There were present Regents Clark, Owen, Mahoney, Liggett, Lind and Northrop, as well as the governor, who is a member ex-officio, and Secretary Kiehle. Dr. M. H. Reynolds was appointed veterinarian of the experiment station and school of agriculture, to begin Sept. 1, and the committee on medical college was directed to inquire into the feasibility of organizing the four chairs of the college into a separate scientific department. The architects that were elected at the last previous meeting of the board presented the plans for the proposed new library and assembly hall at the state university, and they were favorably passed upon. It was finally decided to proceed with the construction of the building at once, and it was arranged that modifications in the plans can be made at the instance of the building committee, and with the advice of the architects. A resolution was adopted confining the cost of the structure to $155,000, including the architects' fees and the supervision of the work.

THE KITTSON HOMESTEAD. Litigation to Secure the Lifting of a Large Mortgage. The question of lifting a mortgage on the well-known Kittson residence, oh the corner of Dayton and Summit avenues, is in litigation in the probate court. The property belonged to the wife of the late Commodore Kittson, being her separate estate. She died in 1886, prior to the commodore's death, and the St. Paul Trust company was and the St. Pahl Trust company was appointed administrator. When the commodore died the trust company was also, by his will, made administrator of his estats.

Mrs. Kittson's estate was settled, leaving the homestead in undivided possession of her five children. They allege that, in order to settle the expenses of administering the estate and for other purposes, the homestead was mortgaged for a sum which, with interest, now aggregates $73,000. The mortgage, which is held by the Title and Trust company, is due.

The estate of Commodore Kittson is still held by the company in an unset-tled condition, owing to the long-pro-tracted Farley suit. The children of Mrs. Kittson also have a large interest Mrs. Kittson also have a large interest in the commodore's estate, which, if that estate were divided, would enable them to lift the mortgage. They accordingly come into the probate court, through their attorney, Daniel Murphy, and ask that the trust company be directed to lift this mortgage, using such portion of their share in Commodore Kittson's estate as is necessary to do so. The trust company resists the application, and the hearing is set for the 28th.

Mr. Davidson thought this figure a trifle high, and was of the opinion that $1,200 per acre was about the proper value. It was noticeable yesterday during the hearing that all of the witnesses spoke of the property as acre property, when it has been platted into lots for many years. According to the testimony given yesterday the proposed park site would be worth only $30,000, while the figures determined on by the board of public works were $62,000. The Ex-Senator Fires Hot Shot at the Democrats.

HUTCHINSON, Kan., Aug. 18. - Ex-Senator Ingalis, after a long retirement from the political platform in Kansas, made his reappearance today at the state encampment of the G. A. R. A crowd of fully 15,000 people assembled to hear his speech. It was believed he would not treat of politics, but he did so in his old characteristic style. He criticised the action of present administration in ping pensioners arbitrarily from the rolls, pending examination of the legality of their claims, and said it was not to be wondered at that the Confederate Democracy manifested their hatred toward the men who had driven them and their cause to defeat. They were not to biame. The censure fell on those men who voted last fall for those those men who voted last fall for those men against whom they shot in '61. At this point in his speech one veteran arose and said he had assisted the Confederates into power, and with the help of God would never do so again. A number of others arose in the audience and asked to be counted "among the redeemed."
