

ARION WINS IN A WALK

THE GREAT $125,000 STALLION WALKS UNDER THE WIRE.

RACE WAS A DISAPPOINTMENT.

Bellefleur the Only Horse That Pushed Him—Jennie K Wins Her Third Victory and Clips Two Seconds From Her Record—Raceland and Correcion Win Good Races at Gravesend.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—The great trotting race for four-year-olds for the purse of $11,000, which came off at Washington Park today, was a great disappointment, as far as a race was concerned. There was nothing in the race to make Arion extend himself, and the great $125,000 stallion won the race as he pleased. Bellefleur was the only horse which had speed enough to push him, and she in every heat made a break just after leaving the wire, which compelled Marion to pull her almost to a standstill. After she had danced all over the track, she staided somewhat and showed a terrific gait, but Arion was so far away that she never was near enough to reach him. Arion trotted a beautiful race, making no mistakes, and proved himself a great race horse. The gate daughter of Phalaris, Jennie K, won her third victory within a week, and clipped two seconds from her record in the 2:27 class.

Table with race results including names like Baron Dillon, Mill Lady, Dentine, and various times.

Table with race results including names like Jennie K, Brazil, Gen. Bass, and various times.

Table with race results including names like Kate F, Florida, Lulu C, and various times.

Table with race results including names like Philadelphia, Clara D, and various times.

Table with race results including names like Guttenberg, and various times.

Table with race results including names like St. Louis, and various times.

Table with race results including names like St. Louis, and various times.

Table with race results including names like Gravesend, and various times.

Table with race results including names like Hawthorne, and various times.

Table with race results including names like Hawthorne, and various times.

Table with race results including names like Brooklyn Jockey Club, and various times.

Table with race results including names like Brooklyn Jockey Club, and various times.

Table with race results including names like Brooklyn Jockey Club, and various times.

Table with race results including names like Brooklyn Jockey Club, and various times.

GOD'S GOVERNMENT.

PAISE FROM GREAT MEN OF ALL RELIGIONS.

AT THE WORLD'S GATHERING.

Addresses Read by Rev. Alfred Momorie, of London; Rev. Augustine Hewitt, Rabbi Wise, of Cincinnati; Prof. Valentine, Delegates From India, and Many Other Prominent Men.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Hindoo, Buddhist, Catholic and Lutheran disciples of Judaism and Congregationalists explained and defended their various views under the big dome of the art institute today. It was the occasion of the great world's parliament of religions. All of the large halls of the structure were crowded, and the deliverances of the various eminent men that figured upon the programme were listened to with rapt attention. One of the most interesting addresses was that of Rev. Alfred W. Momorie, of London, who spoke upon the philosophical and moral evidence of God. He took the ground that science had proved not that there was no God, but that there was no suffering, but rather that there was one great and intense purpose. There was evidence in abundance of the world's dependence upon one great mind and upon an all-embracing activity of an infinite thinker. The most certain thing in science was evolution, and this demonstrated that the difficulties of civilization were being slowly but surely overcome. The speaker held that it was impossible for a man to create a palatial world, and that if there was no suffering people would lose their faith and believe that they were living in a world of chance.

A paper read by Rev. Augustine F. Hewitt dealt with the same subject. He insisted that there must be a first motor and a power limitless, and that it was the highest achievement of the human reason to bring the intellect to a knowledge of God as the first and great cause of the world. Much in the same line was the address of Rabbi Isaac N. Wise, of Cincinnati, who discussed the question from the standpoint of Judaism. He admitted that philosophy had never proven the existence of a God, yet there was dominion in the human mind that had existed there from the beginning, and one was that there existed a supreme being of infinite power.

Prof. A. Valentine regarded Judaism as the early stages of unfolding Christianity, and emphasized the fact that all the historic faiths save Buddhism, which bordered on the Atheist, were based on the belief in the existence of a supreme being. The discussion continued at length by Delegates Dr. J. W. Heard, Third cavalry, gold medal; Sergeant George Sutherland, Troop 8, Eighth cavalry; First Lieut. Joseph Dickman, Third cavalry; Sergeant William J. Spenser, Troop 6, Third cavalry; and Corporal Andrew J. Casey, Troop 7, Seventh cavalry; Private Harry Mitchell, Third cavalry; Sergeant James Wilson, Troop 8, Sixth cavalry; Corporal Robert J. Stewart, Troop 6, Third cavalry; First Lieut. John W. Heard, Third cavalry; Sergeant Philip Roberts, Troop 1, Eighth cavalry; bronze medals. The summit badge the second week in succession.

On the Bowling Alleys. The Summit Bowling club played a practice game last evening at Foley's alleys, the result of which was as follows: Schaefer, 109; Murgley, 156; Pelletier, 150; Jarishnik, 166; Vankur, 137; Henke, 178; Clayton, 292; Murphy, 169; Hastings, 173; Winquist, 157; Strauss, 129. Clayton won the summit badge the second week in succession.

Pat Duffy Dead. NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Col. P. Duffy, the well-known New Orleans sporting man who acted as referee in the Sullivan-Kilrain fight, died in the Presbyterian hospital last night. He was fifty-three years old. He came here five days ago from the Hot Springs at Arkansas, where he was being treated for Bright's disease of the kidneys. He and his daughter and brother John were staying at the Hotel Marlboro, but he became so bad two days ago that he had to be removed to the hospital. The body has been embalmed.

Foley Beaten a Second Time. Last evening the second of the ball line billiard games between Sampson and Thomas P. Foley resulted in 200 for the former and 113 for the latter. Sampson's best runs were 20, 15, 26, 17, 19. Foley's best runs were 10, 11, 11, 18. Sampson's average was 74, and Foley's nearly 4. Sampson maintained the pace he set the first night, which Foley felt off some, being beat 75 points.

Picturesque and Historic. The only route from the Northwest to Washington and the East combining perfection of track and service with the most beautiful scenes of America is the Chesapeake & Ohio railway through Virginia and the battlefields. Through sleepers leave Chicago via the Big Four route for Washington and other Eastern cities without change. Shortest route to the Southwest, U. L. Truitt, Special Passenger Agent, No. 234 Clark street, Chicago.

Weeks Indicted. NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The grand jury today indicted Francis H. Weeks, and found a true bill against him for embezzlement. The facts in the case will be forwarded to Secretary (Greenback) together with a request that Weeks be arrested.

A New Cook Book. Miss Maria Parlow has just written a new cook book, which has been gotten out in handsome style, with illustrations, illuminated cover, etc. by the Liebig Extract of Meat Company. It gives a large number of receipts of whose practical value Miss Parlow's reputation is a sufficient guarantee. This little book will be sent, free of charge, by mail, to those of our readers who will send an application on a postal card to Messrs. Danbury & Co., 27 Park place, New York city. Every housewife will appreciate it, and will find it in many simple receipts for the improved preparation of some of the familiar dishes, as well as more elaborate receipts for various delicious things, such as, perhaps, to come in the preparation of the "professional" cook, but which, by Miss Parlow's directions, can now be successfully prepared at home.

BOLD, BAD BANDITS.

Continued From First Page.

after the train had stopped, when I heard two shots fired on the outside in rapid succession. A moment later the car was lifted from the track by a terrific explosion, and the same time Hanslin, my assistant, and myself were knocked violently to the floor. I was stunned for a moment, and could scarcely realize what had occurred. When I regained my senses, I found myself under a large heap of baggage and shattered woodwork, and three men stood close by, one having a Winchester in his hand, and the other two, one telling us not to move or they would blow the brains out of us. When the men were burst open the robber at once began divesting it of its contents, and carrying the packages of money to the door, where he handed it out to his assistants.

WEIST DECLINED TO give any information as to the amount taken by the robbers, saying he would leave that for the company to do.

"I know that the cusses took all they could get, anyhow," said he, "and when they got it they fled. It was an awful experience. I can scarcely describe it. Just imagine yourself crowded into a corner by two bloodthirsty ruffians, armed with guns, both aimed at your head. We did not know but the gang was murdering every body on the train. A firing was understood, a number of the trainmen narrowly escaped being shot. I do not want another experience of the kind, and I stepped Weist was taken to the company's office to make a report in the matter.

W. L. Jordan, of Chicago, was asleep in the second-class car, and was awakened by the shock of the train coming to a sudden stop.

"The shock was so sudden and pronounced," said he, "that my first thought was that we had met with an accident."

I got up, and walking to the front end of the car, stepped out on the platform. A man with black whiskers and wearing a mask over his face, stepped forward and held a revolver under my nose and told me to go back in the car and stay there. He said that if I stepped out again, he would shoot me.

"I got over me," said Mr. Crosby, "but these fellows did not get a great deal. They secured mostly papers unlooked for to them. They overtook $15,000 worth of gold bullion. I suppose they thought they were carrying away about $20,000. In the state they were open was a sealed bag full of packages done up about the size and shape of packages of bank notes. These packages were marked $1,000, $2,000 and so on. These figures indicated the value of the packages were listed at, but practically they were of no value but the paper they contained. Their contents consisted of settlements with agents, receipts for business, legal papers, etc., which can all be duplicated after a time.

"It was a load of this nature, and very little actual money, which the robbers secured. I hear the story is afloat that the company lost $275,000 or $300,000. The fact is that there was not over $10,000 of the worth of the gold bullion. Other stories were afloat, however, and the robbery was said to have amounted to as much as $300,000. This statement was based on an allegation that some bank in Chicago had shipped its New York correspondence to the B. & O. Nothing can be learned in Chicago, however, that will bear out the story.

$1,000 REWARD. Lake Shore Road's Offer for the Robbers. CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—The only witness of the scene which Chicago today was Byron B. Hamblin, who was assisting passenger messenger in the car spotted by the robbers.

He said: "We had just passed the little station of Kessler when we felt the train first stop and then stop. Just then there came heavy pounding of the door of our car, which was closed. Suddenly there came an explosion which seemed to be inside as if a bomb had been exploded. A snarl from Waterloo, however, says that there was nothing in the story, and another special from Alton says that nothing of the kind is known there. An article of man has been arrested at Millersburg, but there is no indication that he is one of the gang."

PASSENGERS' STORIES. Experiences as Related by Many Travelers. CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 12.—When the New York & Boston express on the Lake Shore & Michigan railroad, due here from the west at 8 a. m., pulled into the union depot this morning two boys, who were waiting for a transfer to tell of the robbery which occurred about 1 o'clock this morning at Kessler. Lind Rumors of the robbery had already reached Cleveland, and a big crowd was at the station awaiting the arrival of the belated train. The New York and Boston express is the favorite evening train out of Chicago, and is always loaded with passengers for Cleveland and Northern Ohio cities and towns. When it was the same sacred train, carried about three hundred persons. While the robbery was in progress those passengers who had been awakened by the explosions were warned not to leave the train, and rifles were discharged in the air at frequent intervals to emphasize the warning. No attempt was made to go through the train, but it required the combined efforts of the crew to quiet the nerves of the timid passengers. The ladies became hysterical and screamed loudly when they heard the exploding firearms. As a detective near brakeman managed to get away from the train, and ran back along the track without a lantern place for those on the train. He then made his way to the telegraph office at Kessler, from which place the train following the express was notified of the robbery, and was sent to the officials of the road. When the robbers had secured

THE BOOTY they cared to take, permission was given for the train to proceed, and it pulled out of the station at one hour and fifteen minutes after it had been stopped, the desperadoes standing on the banks of the cut firing a parting volley as it steamed away toward Kenilworth.

The charge of dynamite which was exploded in the express car shattered the door and mangled the hole in the floor. The car was brought through to Cleveland and sent from here to Buffalo in charge of another messenger. The officials of the United States Express company in this city are unable to give the exact amount of money lost, as it is less than $30,000. The through safe from which the money was stolen was locked and sealed in Chicago. The local safe, the officials say, contained more money than the other, but was not molested.

Every day during the last week large amounts of money have been carried on this train, and the officials think the robbers miscalculated the time for the train to reach Kenilworth.

Milton Weist, the express messenger, tells an interesting story. He says: "The first I knew of the attack was

GOD'S GOVERNMENT.

PAISE FROM GREAT MEN OF ALL RELIGIONS.

AT THE WORLD'S GATHERING.

Addresses Read by Rev. Alfred Momorie, of London; Rev. Augustine Hewitt, Rabbi Wise, of Cincinnati; Prof. Valentine, Delegates From India, and Many Other Prominent Men.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Hindoo, Buddhist, Catholic and Lutheran disciples of Judaism and Congregationalists explained and defended their various views under the big dome of the art institute today. It was the occasion of the great world's parliament of religions. All of the large halls of the structure were crowded, and the deliverances of the various eminent men that figured upon the programme were listened to with rapt attention. One of the most interesting addresses was that of Rev. Alfred W. Momorie, of London, who spoke upon the philosophical and moral evidence of God. He took the ground that science had proved not that there was no God, but that there was no suffering, but rather that there was one great and intense purpose. There was evidence in abundance of the world's dependence upon one great mind and upon an all-embracing activity of an infinite thinker. The most certain thing in science was evolution, and this demonstrated that the difficulties of civilization were being slowly but surely overcome. The speaker held that it was impossible for a man to create a palatial world, and that if there was no suffering people would lose their faith and believe that they were living in a world of chance.

A paper read by Rev. Augustine F. Hewitt dealt with the same subject. He insisted that there must be a first motor and a power limitless, and that it was the highest achievement of the human reason to bring the intellect to a knowledge of God as the first and great cause of the world. Much in the same line was the address of Rabbi Isaac N. Wise, of Cincinnati, who discussed the question from the standpoint of Judaism. He admitted that philosophy had never proven the existence of a God, yet there was dominion in the human mind that had existed there from the beginning, and one was that there existed a supreme being of infinite power.

Prof. A. Valentine regarded Judaism as the early stages of unfolding Christianity, and emphasized the fact that all the historic faiths save Buddhism, which bordered on the Atheist, were based on the belief in the existence of a supreme being. The discussion continued at length by Delegates Dr. J. W. Heard, Third cavalry, gold medal; Sergeant George Sutherland, Troop 8, Eighth cavalry; First Lieut. Joseph Dickman, Third cavalry; Sergeant William J. Spenser, Troop 6, Third cavalry; and Corporal Andrew J. Casey, Troop 7, Seventh cavalry; Private Harry Mitchell, Third cavalry; Sergeant James Wilson, Troop 8, Sixth cavalry; Corporal Robert J. Stewart, Troop 6, Third cavalry; First Lieut. John W. Heard, Third cavalry; Sergeant Philip Roberts, Troop 1, Eighth cavalry; bronze medals. The summit badge the second week in succession.

On the Bowling Alleys. The Summit Bowling club played a practice game last evening at Foley's alleys, the result of which was as follows: Schaefer, 109; Murgley, 156; Pelletier, 150; Jarishnik, 166; Vankur, 137; Henke, 178; Clayton, 292; Murphy, 169; Hastings, 173; Winquist, 157; Strauss, 129. Clayton won the summit badge the second week in succession.

Pat Duffy Dead. NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Col. P. Duffy, the well-known New Orleans sporting man who acted as referee in the Sullivan-Kilrain fight, died in the Presbyterian hospital last night. He was fifty-three years old. He came here five days ago from the Hot Springs at Arkansas, where he was being treated for Bright's disease of the kidneys. He and his daughter and brother John were staying at the Hotel Marlboro, but he became so bad two days ago that he had to be removed to the hospital. The body has been embalmed.

Foley Beaten a Second Time. Last evening the second of the ball line billiard games between Sampson and Thomas P. Foley resulted in 200 for the former and 113 for the latter. Sampson's best runs were 20, 15, 26, 17, 19. Foley's best runs were 10, 11, 11, 18. Sampson's average was 74, and Foley's nearly 4. Sampson maintained the pace he set the first night, which Foley felt off some, being beat 75 points.

Picturesque and Historic. The only route from the Northwest to Washington and the East combining perfection of track and service with the most beautiful scenes of America is the Chesapeake & Ohio railway through Virginia and the battlefields. Through sleepers leave Chicago via the Big Four route for Washington and other Eastern cities without change. Shortest route to the Southwest, U. L. Truitt, Special Passenger Agent, No. 234 Clark street, Chicago.

Weeks Indicted. NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The grand jury today indicted Francis H. Weeks, and found a true bill against him for embezzlement. The facts in the case will be forwarded to Secretary (Greenback) together with a request that Weeks be arrested.

A New Cook Book. Miss Maria Parlow has just written a new cook book, which has been gotten out in handsome style, with illustrations, illuminated cover, etc. by the Liebig Extract of Meat Company. It gives a large number of receipts of whose practical value Miss Parlow's reputation is a sufficient guarantee. This little book will be sent, free of charge, by mail, to those of our readers who will send an application on a postal card to Messrs. Danbury & Co., 27 Park place, New York city. Every housewife will appreciate it, and will find it in many simple receipts for the improved preparation of some of the familiar dishes, as well as more elaborate receipts for various delicious things, such as, perhaps, to come in the preparation of the "professional" cook, but which, by Miss Parlow's directions, can now be successfully prepared at home.

PASSENGERS' STORIES. Experiences as Related by Many Travelers. CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 12.—When the New York & Boston express on the Lake Shore & Michigan railroad, due here from the west at 8 a. m., pulled into the union depot this morning two boys, who were waiting for a transfer to tell of the robbery which occurred about 1 o'clock this morning at Kessler. Lind Rumors of the robbery had already reached Cleveland, and a big crowd was at the station awaiting the arrival of the belated train. The New York and Boston express is the favorite evening train out of Chicago, and is always loaded with passengers for Cleveland and Northern Ohio cities and towns. When it was the same sacred train, carried about three hundred persons. While the robbery was in progress those passengers who had been awakened by the explosions were warned not to leave the train, and rifles were discharged in the air at frequent intervals to emphasize the warning. No attempt was made to go through the train, but it required the combined efforts of the crew to quiet the nerves of the timid passengers. The ladies became hysterical and screamed loudly when they heard the exploding firearms. As a detective near brakeman managed to get away from the train, and ran back along the track without a lantern place for those on the train. He then made his way to the telegraph office at Kessler, from which place the train following the express was notified of the robbery, and was sent to the officials of the road. When the robbers had secured

THE BOOTY they cared to take, permission was given for the train to proceed, and it pulled out of the station at one hour and fifteen minutes after it had been stopped, the desperadoes standing on the banks of the cut firing a parting volley as it steamed away toward Kenilworth.

The charge of dynamite which was exploded in the express car shattered the door and mangled the hole in the floor. The car was brought through to Cleveland and sent from here to Buffalo in charge of another messenger. The officials of the United States Express company in this city are unable to give the exact amount of money lost, as it is less than $30,000. The through safe from which the money was stolen was locked and sealed in Chicago. The local safe, the officials say, contained more money than the other, but was not molested.

Every day during the last week large amounts of money have been carried on this train, and the officials think the robbers miscalculated the time for the train to reach Kenilworth.

BOLD, BAD BANDITS.

Continued From First Page.

after the train had stopped, when I heard two shots fired on the outside in rapid succession. A moment later the car was lifted from the track by a terrific explosion, and the same time Hanslin, my assistant, and myself were knocked violently to the floor. I was stunned for a moment, and could scarcely realize what had occurred. When I regained my senses, I found myself under a large heap of baggage and shattered woodwork, and three men stood close by, one having a Winchester in his hand, and the other two, one telling us not to move or they would blow the brains out of us. When the men were burst open the robber at once began divesting it of its contents, and carrying the packages of money to the door, where he handed it out to his assistants.

WEIST DECLINED TO give any information as to the amount taken by the robbers, saying he would leave that for the company to do.

"I know that the cusses took all they could get, anyhow," said he, "and when they got it they fled. It was an awful experience. I can scarcely describe it. Just imagine yourself crowded into a corner by two bloodthirsty ruffians, armed with guns, both aimed at your head. We did not know but the gang was murdering every body on the train. A firing was understood, a number of the trainmen narrowly escaped being shot. I do not want another experience of the kind, and I stepped Weist was taken to the company's office to make a report in the matter.

W. L. Jordan, of Chicago, was asleep in the second-class car, and was awakened by the shock of the train coming to a sudden stop.

"The shock was so sudden and pronounced," said he, "that my first thought was that we had met with an accident."

I got up, and walking to the front end of the car, stepped out on the platform. A man with black whiskers and wearing a mask over his face, stepped forward and held a revolver under my nose and told me to go back in the car and stay there. He said that if I stepped out again, he would shoot me.

"I got over me," said Mr. Crosby, "but these fellows did not get a great deal. They secured mostly papers unlooked for to them. They overtook $15,000 worth of gold bullion. I suppose they thought they were carrying away about $20,000. In the state they were open was a sealed bag full of packages done up about the size and shape of packages of bank notes. These packages were marked $1,000, $2,000 and so on. These figures indicated the value of the packages were listed at, but practically they were of no value but the paper they contained. Their contents consisted of settlements with agents, receipts for business, legal papers, etc., which can all be duplicated after a time.

"It was a load of this nature, and very little actual money, which the robbers secured. I hear the story is afloat that the company lost $275,000 or $300,000. The fact is that there was not over $10,000 of the worth of the gold bullion. Other stories were afloat, however, and the robbery was said to have amounted to as much as $300,000. This statement was based on an allegation that some bank in Chicago had shipped its New York correspondence to the B. & O. Nothing can be learned in Chicago, however, that will bear out the story.

$1,000 REWARD. Lake Shore Road's Offer for the Robbers. CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—The only witness of the scene which Chicago today was Byron B. Hamblin, who was assisting passenger messenger in the car spotted by the robbers.

He said: "We had just passed the little station of Kessler when we felt the train first stop and then stop. Just then there came heavy pounding of the door of our car, which was closed. Suddenly there came an explosion which seemed to be inside as if a bomb had been exploded. A snarl from Waterloo, however, says that there was nothing in the story, and another special from Alton says that nothing of the kind is known there. An article of man has been arrested at Millersburg, but there is no indication that he is one of the gang."

PASSENGERS' STORIES. Experiences as Related by Many Travelers. CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 12.—When the New York & Boston express on the Lake Shore & Michigan railroad, due here from the west at 8 a. m., pulled into the union depot this morning two boys, who were waiting for a transfer to tell of the robbery which occurred about 1 o'clock this morning at Kessler. Lind Rumors of the robbery had already reached Cleveland, and a big crowd was at the station awaiting the arrival of the belated train. The New York and Boston express is the favorite evening train out of Chicago, and is always loaded with passengers for Cleveland and Northern Ohio cities and towns. When it was the same sacred train, carried about three hundred persons. While the robbery was in progress those passengers who had been awakened by the explosions were warned not to leave the train, and rifles were discharged in the air at frequent intervals to emphasize the warning. No attempt was made to go through the train, but it required the combined efforts of the crew to quiet the nerves of the timid passengers. The ladies became hysterical and screamed loudly when they heard the exploding firearms. As a detective near brakeman managed to get away from the train, and ran back along the track without a lantern place for those on the train. He then made his way to the telegraph office at Kessler, from which place the train following the express was notified of the robbery, and was sent to the officials of the road. When the robbers had secured

THE BOOTY they cared to take, permission was given for the train to proceed, and it pulled out of the station at one hour and fifteen minutes after it had been stopped, the desperadoes standing on the banks of the cut firing a parting volley as it steamed away toward Kenilworth.

The charge of dynamite which was exploded in the express car shattered the door and mangled the hole in the floor. The car was brought through to Cleveland and sent from here to Buffalo in charge of another messenger. The officials of the United States Express company in this city are unable to give the exact amount of money lost, as it is less than $30,000. The through safe from which the money was stolen was locked and sealed in Chicago. The local safe, the officials say, contained more money than the other, but was not molested.

Every day during the last week large amounts of money have been carried on this train, and the officials think the robbers miscalculated the time for the train to reach Kenilworth.

Milton Weist, the express messenger, tells an interesting story. He says: "The first I knew of the attack was

DO YOU WANT A LIBRARY?

A Great Opportunity to Secure OVER 100 BOOKS! OVER 100 BOOKS!

The St. Paul Daily Globe

Is Able to Make a Great Offer to Those Desiring a Library.

Cut from the DAILY GLOBE Two of the Attached Coupons of Different Dates and enclose with One Dime or Five Two-Cent Postage Stamps, and any book you select from the appended list will be sent to any address in the United States postage paid.

By repeating the process you can obtain the entire collection. The books are printed in large, clear type, and contain from 275 to 400 pages.

ORDER BY NUMBER ONLY, AND NOT BY NAME OF THE BOOK.

- READ THE LIST AND MAKE YOUR SELECTION! BERTHA M. CLAY'S NOVELS. 1-BEYOND PARADISE. 2-A TRUE MADDALEN. 3-A MAD LOVE. 4-A BROKEN WEDDING RING. 5-THORNS AND ORANGE BLOSSOMS. 6-DORA THORNE. 7-THE DUKE'S SECRET. 8-HER MARTYRDOM. 9-A GOLDEN HEART. 10-WIFE IN NAME ONLY. MRS. M. E. HOLMES' NOVELS. 11-WOMAN AGAINST WOMAN. 12-A WIFE'S PERIL. 13-A WOMAN'S LOVE. 14-HER FATAL SIN. 15-THE TRAGEDY OF REDMOUNT. 16-THE WIFE'S SECRET. 17-FOR A WOMAN'S SAKE. 18-A HEARTLESS WOMAN. 19-WHO WILL SAVE HER? 20-A DESPERATE WOMAN. EDWARD R. ROE'S WORKS. 21-MAY AND JUNE. 22-HOW SHE MARRIED HIS DOUBLE. 23-THE WORLD AGAINST HER. 24-FROM THE BEATEN PATH. 25-DR. CALDWELL, OR THE TRAIL OF THE SERPENT. EMILE ZOLA'S REALISTIC NOVELS. 26-THERESE RAQUIN. 27-THE RUSH FOR THE SPILL. 28-HUMAN BROTHERS (La Bete Humaine). 29-ABBE MOURET'S TRANSGRESSION. 30-THE JOYS OF LIFE. 31-A LOVE EPISODE. 32-THE FORTUNE OF THE ROUGONS. 33-MONEY. 34-L'ASSOMMOIR. 35-NANA'S DAUGHTER; a Reply to "Nana." 36-A DREAM OF LOVE. 37-POT BOUILLE (PIPING HOT). 38-THE LADIES' PARADISE. 39-NANA'S BROTHER GERMINAL. 40-THE CONQUEST OF PLESSANS. GEORGE W. M. REYNOLDS' WORKS. 41-THE MYSTERIES OF THE COURT OF QUEEN ELIZABETH. 42-ADA ARUNDEL, OR, THE SECRET CORRIDOR. 43-OLIVIA; OR, THE MAID OF HONOR. 44-AN ACTOR'S WIFE. 45-A MODERN LOVER. MISCELLANEOUS. 46-THE SCARLET LETTER, by Nathaniel Hawthorne. 47-THE QUEEN OF THE WOODS, by Andre Theuret. 48-THE MARRIAGE OF GERARD, by Andre Theuret. 49-LADY AUDLEY'S SECRET, by Miss M. E. Braddon. 50-SIX THOUSAND YEARS HENCE, by M. W. Ramsey. 51-WHOM GOD HATH JOINED, by Frank Cahoon. 52-IN DARKEST ENGLAND, AND THE WAY OUT, by Gen. Booth. 53-BEHIND A MASK, by Louise Battles-Cooper. 54-THE LAST DAYS OF POMPEII, by Bulwer Lytton. 55-JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN, by Miss M.D.C. 56-AGAINST FATE, by Mrs. M. L. Bayne. 57-MARRIAGE AND THE HOME, by J. L. Brandt, D.D. 58-THE SQUIRE'S DAUGHTER, by Frances M. Peard. 59-DR. RAMEAU, by Georges Ohnet. 60-THE UNWRITTEN WILL, by Robert C. Givins. 61-THE MILLIONAIRE TRAMP, by Robert C. Givins. 62-THROUGH MIGHTY WATERS SAVED, by Duke Baillie. 63-A LIFE'S REMORSE, by "The Duchess." 64-LADY VALWORTH'S DIAMONDS, "The Duchess." 65-WAYWARD DOSIA, by Henry Greville. 66-GOTHAM AND THE GOTHAMITES; or The Gay Girls of New York, by F. C. Valentine. 67-THE STORY OF CHARLES STRANGE, by Mrs. Henry Wood. 68-A DARK SECRET, by Eva Catherine Clapp. 69-PETER'S SOUL, by Georges Ohnet. 70-HAZEL VERNE; or, The Death Trust, by Ada L. Hall. 71-TOM BROWN'S SCHOOL DAYS, by Thos. Hughes. 72-TOUR OF THE WORLD IN 80 DAYS, Jules Verne. 73-20,000 LEAGUES UNDER THE SEA, by Jules Verne. 74-ROBINSON CRUSOE, by Daniel Defoe. 75-THE HEIRESS OF CASTLE VANE, by May E. Stone. 76-THE MISSING RUBIES, by Sarah Doudney. 77-HER SISTER'S RIVAL, by Albert Delpit. 78-THE WOMAN OF FIRE, by Adolphe Belot. 79-FORTUNIO, by Theophile Gautier. 80-THE BLUE VEIL, by Fortune du Boisgoyon. 81-THE ROMANCE OF MARRIAGE, by Count Lyof Tolstol. 82-PETTERED BY FATE, by Emma S. Southworth. 83-"THE HUSTLER," a Collection of Humorous Articles by the World's Greatest Fun Makers. 84-SAPPHO, by Alphonse Daudet. 85-THE CLEMENCEAU CASE, Alexandre Dumas (fils). 86-THE CLOISTER AND THE HEARTH, by Chas. Reade. 87-FOUL PLAY, by Charles Reade. 88-VERY HARD CASH, by Charles Reade. 89-FOR THE TERM OF HIS NATURAL LIFE, by Marcus Clarke. 90-THE LEROUGE CASE, by Emile Gaboriau. 91-IN PERIL OF HIS LIFE, by Emile Gaboriau. 92-THE SLAVES OF PARIS, by Emile Gaboriau. 93-THE MYSTERY OF ORCIVAL, by Emile Gaboriau. 94-A FIGHT FOR A FORTUNE, Fortune du Boisgoyon. 95-THE NOTARY'S NOSE, by Edmond About. 96-A NEW LEASE OF LIFE, by Edmond About. 97-BETWEEN MIDNIGHT AND DAWN, Ina L. Cassilis. 98-Columbian Memorial Souks, Historical Geography and Maps, with 18 illustrations, by Rufus Blanchard. 99-DETECTIVES IN EUROPE AND AMERICA; or Life in the Secret Service. A selection of celebrated cases in America, Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Russia, etc., 295 pages, with 10 full-page illustrations. 100-FORGERS AND CONFIDENCE MEN; or, The Secrets of the Detective Service Divided. 288 pages, with 10 full-page illustrations. 101-THE GAMBLER'S WAX FINGER, and Other Startling Detective Experiences, culled from the private records of government offices in Europe and America. 282 pages, with fifteen full-page illustrations. 102-THE GEM SONGSTER! An admirable selection of Ballads, Comic Songs and Negro Melodies, compiled by the well-known expert, P. M. Wolsiefer. Words and music complete. All the popular and catchy tunes are found in this beautiful little book. Also instructions for Mandolin, Guitar and favorite tunes. Printed on excellent paper from fine plates made expressly for us, and with a cover in colors. 103-World's Fair Sensation! A Thrilling Romance from Real Life at the Great Exposition. The Adventures of Uncle Jeremiah and Family at the Great Fair.

ST. PAUL DAILY GLOBE LIBRARY COUPON.

Sept. 13, 1893. Send 2 coupons of different dates, with a dime or five 2-cent stamps. Any book in the GLOBE list will be sent postpaid.

ORDER BY NUMBER ONLY.

HOW THE BOOKS ARE SENT.

The Books are mailed direct to the address of those ordering them, by the Eastern publisher. There will consequently be a few days' delay between the time of mailing orders and receiving the Books, but every order will be carefully filled with as much promptness as the great amount of clerical work will permit.

25% DISCOUNT SALE ON ALL Solid Silver and Plated Ware

Will continue all week. We wish to impress on the minds of the public that this sale is BONA FIDE, as the decrease in the value of the goods will be sent, free of charge, by mail, to those of our readers who will send an application on a postal card to Messrs. Danbury & Co., 27 Park place, New York city. Every housewife will appreciate it, and will find it in many simple receipts for the improved preparation of some of the familiar dishes, as well as more elaborate receipts for various delicious things, such as, perhaps, to come in the preparation of the "professional" cook, but which, by Miss Parlow's directions, can now be successfully prepared at home.

A. H. SIMON