

ROBBED AN OLD RAILROAD.

TRUSTED TREASURER WASHBURN, OF THE OLD COLONY ROAD.

GETS AWAY WITH A LARGESUM

Started to Steal in a Small Way Years Ago for the Purpose of Speculating—He Was Treasurer of the Road for Thirty Years—Boston Shocked by the Big Sensation.

Boston, Sept. 26.—The regular meeting of the stockholders of the Old Colony Railroad company was held at the United States hotel today, President Charles F. Choate presiding. The annual report of the directors of the road was read and accepted by a unanimous vote.

A big sensation was sprung on the meeting when it was announced that Treasurer John M. Washburn had been misappropriating the funds of the company. Mr. Washburn, it was said, started in a small way some years ago to take money from the company's cash to speculate with. He lost in these speculations. Securities in stocks were turned into the company as cash at the price Mr. Washburn had paid for them, and as they deteriorated in value during the last few months when the money market was tight, Mr. Washburn had to TAKE MORE MONEY, and finally it could no longer be concealed from the auditor.

The accounts of the treasurer of the road were audited by a committee of the stockholders appointed each year, and the only way that can be thought of for the auditors not to have discovered the shortage is that the treasurer had taken the funds of the Old Colony Steamboat company to make up his losses when the auditors made their examinations, or that perhaps they trusted him so much that they took his word for the amount of cash which was on hand.

Last Wednesday Mr. Washburn left his office, but did not go home, and his family was much worried. He came back the next morning in a pitiable condition, saying that he had walked around all night. A doctor was called in, and he was ordered to go to bed, where he has been confined ever since. Saturday the shortage in his accounts was discovered. Yesterday Mr. Kendrick, one of the directors of the road, and Col. Benton, the counsel, went to Mr. Washburn's house and had a conference with him. A full confession was made by Washburn. He said he had no idea that he had taken so much money from the company. Yet he resigned his position as treasurer of the company, and made an assignment of all his personal property to the railroad to make up the deficiency as far as possible. Some of the stock securities which were not as good as worthless. Part of them can be sold for a good price.

THE BONDSMEN of the treasurer will also be called upon to assist in making good the deficiency, and the Old Colony officials insist that the default will not affect the dividends of the stock of the railroad.

Mr. Washburn is seventy-five years old, and has been treasurer of the Old Colony road for thirty years. He is also treasurer of the Old Colony Steamboat company from the time it started. He is a native of Boston, and is married, and has a daughter and a son. The report of the auditing committee was read and accepted at a meeting today, although the amount of cash stated in the report as $95,000 was not correct, owing to the shortage in the treasurer's report.

W. A. Rust, of Boston; William Savory, of Carver, and Oliver Ames, of North Easton, were selected as auditors, in order that they might continue the work of investigating the treasurer's accounts, and, if necessary, they were given the power to hire an expert accountant to go over the books and find what the shortage will be. A meeting of the directors of the road they were given power to issue $2,000,000 worth of bonds at 4 per cent, and to issue 7 per cent Old Colony bonds and $400,000 New Bedford road 7 per cent bonds. At this meeting it was voted to issue $100,000 bonds at 6 per cent if necessary.

Messrs. Adams and Parker were given the power to register, re-register and issue of these bonds.

There was a rumor on the street today that the amount of the deficiency was $250,000, but Col. Benton said there was no authority for any such statement.

A call at the home of Treasurer Washburn proved to be without avail. The reporter was met at the door by a daughter of Mr. Washburn, who said: "Is Mr. Washburn at home?"

"He is, but too ill to see you," was the kindly but firm reply.

"His son is at home?"

"I would be little use to see him or any one of the family, for none of them will talk."

SHOT HIS WIFE, Then Ended His Own Miserable Existence.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 26.—Samuel G. Stodhart, a car accountant at the Carnegie Steel company, shot his wife in the heart while she was sleeping, and then plunged the muzzle of the revolver in his mouth, sent a bullet crashing into his own brain. The tragedy occurred at 5:35 this morning at the home of Stodhart, on Potomac street, west end. Insanity, caused by religious differences and despondency over business troubles, are the reasons which led to the awful deed. Stodhart was forty-five years old, and his wife two years his junior. The couple have been married sixteen years, and had seven children, the eldest being a girl fifteen years of age. Mrs. Stodhart was a Catholic, and the two were frequently quarreled over the education of the children. Recently Stodhart's salary was reduced 15 per cent, and this also preyed on his mind. He arose about 5 o'clock this morning, and after smoking a cigar, took a bullock revolver and fired at his sleeping wife. The bullet struck her in the heart, and she died. When the neighbors arrived they were both dead.

That the crime was premeditated is evident from the fact that last night he told his closest friends that he was tired and if anything happened to go to the neighbors.

Shot His Face Off. BRAINERD, Minn., Sept. 26.—Charles Smith shot himself accidentally this morning while hunting with a companion near Miller's mill. In climbing over a log the gun was discharged, shooting his face entirely to pieces and killing him. He was seventeen years old.

Spokane Theater Burned. SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 26.—The Casino Vaudeville theater burned to the ground at 3 o'clock this morning. Loss about $50,000; partly insured. The theater was vacant. The fire is believed to be the work of an incendiary.

GIGANTIC LUMBER TRUST.

MISSISSIPPI LUMBER COMPANY, WITH $1,500,000 CAPITAL.

F. WEYERHAUSER PRESIDENT.

New Concern Embraces Every Lumber and Log Magnate Doing Business on the Mississippi and Tributaries Between St. Paul and St. Louis—Lumber Barons on the Directory.

CLINTON, Ia., Sept. 28.—The formation of one of the most gigantic trusts known in the commercial history of the country was brought to light by the filing of the articles of incorporation of the Mississippi Lumber company, with a capital stock of $1,500,000. On the surface this appears to be of smaller magnitude than it really is. The knowledge that the new concern embraces every lumber and log magnate doing business on the Mississippi and its tributaries between St. Paul and St. Louis, shows what it really is. Among the incorporators are Chauncey Lamb, Artemus Lamb, W. I. Young, W. J. Young, and Courtland Young all of this city.

Those named comprise the owners of the two leading plants of Clinton, which for years have enjoyed the distinction of being the largest and the most complete lumber and log supply of the vast territory which they will now virtually control. It means that the number of expensive plants now maintained will be reduced, and the saving by such a course in that item alone will amount to a vast sum.

KISSED EACH OTHER.

Racy Testimony in the Brown-Clement Case. WINONA, Sept. 26.—The reading of correspondence between the plaintiff and defendant in the breach of promise suit of Mrs. Clement, of Minneapolis, vs. Seymour Brown, of this city, was concluded yesterday afternoon. The letters up to March 20, of this year, were of an amiable nature. Mrs. Clement's letters touched upon the threats of her husband, George W. Clement, to take money or revenge for the way in which she was treating him, while Brown, in his letters, told of the unsuccessful attempts of Mr. Clement to secure his arrest.

Frequent expressions of endearment were used by Mrs. Clement. About March 20 Brown refused Mrs. Clement some money that she desired, and she lost her temper and wrote him a hasty letter. More of the same kind followed. She told him that he must either marry her or provide for her a home and support. This was after she was divorced from Mr. Clement. The Mrs. Clement returned from Hot Springs and Chicago, where she had been spending the winter, and after a short stay she went to Minneapolis, where Brown sent her $1,000 to purchase a home. She continued to write to Brown from Minneapolis and threatened to make him trouble if he did not provide her with $20 a month in addition to the home.

She then left him out, as she was a bad woman and would make him trouble. Brown wrote her once or twice and then failed to respond to her communications. Shortly afterward a suit for breach of promise was instituted. This concluded the evidence in the case.

Mrs. Prou, mother of Mrs. Clement, testified that Brown came frequently to Minneapolis to see his daughter, and that when there the two were much together, and she had frequently seen them kissing each other.

Defendant Brown, on taking the stand testified that his intimacy with Mrs. Clement began one night when she entered his room and made overtures. His other testimony related to the $900 he paid to Clement and the note of $7,500 given to Mrs. Clement to avoid prosecution. Brown testified to a conversation between Mr. and Mrs. Clement regarding the divorce they were to obtain, in which Clement agreed to furnish evidence and pay costs if Mrs. Clement began suit.

WANTS A DIVORCE. A Helena Man Seeks Single Divorcées.

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 26.—J. Howard Conrad, of this city, today brought suit for divorce and the custody of three minor children against his wife, Mabel Conrad. He alleges adultery. Mrs. Conrad is the daughter of Mrs. Barnaby, for whose murder Mr. Graves was tried, and Conrad spent about $60,000 in pressing the case against Graves. The matter created a great sensation here, as Mrs. Conrad is one of the leaders of society. Starting developments are expected when the case comes to trial.

Those Sioux Falls Diamonds. SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Sept. 26.—Mrs. Louise Burt, who claims to have found some time ago a packet of diamonds worth several thousand dollars, left last night for Chicago to meet a man from whom she wishes to have the diamonds, who has hired her that the diamonds belonged to him. The Boston party last evening, she says, paid all her expenses and to give her a big reward in case the property she has found proves to be his missing diamonds. The case has excited much speculation here.

Killed in a Collision. DICKINSON, N. D., Sept. 26.—In a freight car collision on the Northern Pacific this afternoon, John Benson was killed.

BIG DAY FOR ODD FELLOWS

OPENING OF THEIR CELEBRATION AT THE GREAT FAIR.

WELCOMED BY MINNESOTA.

Over Fifty Thousand Members of the Order in Attendance—Exercises in Festival Hall—Hoosiers Will Celebrate Today—Ex-President Harrison and Gen. Lew Wallace Will Speak.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Gold lace and broadcloth uniforms were worn at the fair today by thousands of the Odd Fellows who made the turnstiles click from an early hour. The Odd Fellows were out in force, and inaugurated their three days' festivities appropriately. The Daughters of Rebekah, the sister organization, was also out in force. In the stock pavilion where the uniform cautions were to compete for honors, seats were full of people who wore the three-link charm. The cautions which drilled were Excelsior No. 1, of Chicago; Occidental, of Chicago; Alexandria No. 46, of Chicago; Elwood No. 33, of Elwood, Ind.; Oswego No. 18, of Oswego, N. Y.; Frank No. 55; of Germantown, O.; Wright No. 77, of Ohio.

The drilling was splendid. The cautions executed the different orders with a precision that elicited hearty applause from the thousands of spectators. At 12 o'clock there were exercises at Festival hall. Mayor Harrison and Director General Davis were absent from the Festival hall demonstration. They were not in the city. In consequence Rev. Dr. H. W. Bolton, chaplain general of Illinois, was called upon to make the address of welcome, and John C. Unversover, marshal general of Illinois, to speak for the exposition officials. He said the fair authorities had granted every request made by the Odd Fellows with regard to their celebration, which was all that need be stated to show how welcome the order was to the White City. Mr. Thornton, the orator of the day, in opening referred to the relief work of the Odd Fellows at the time of the great Chicago fire. It was peculiarly fitting that the Chicago brethren were now in a position to show their gratitude to their benefactors through kindness and hospitality during their present visit to the city and the fair.

In the afternoon the sovereign grand lodge convened in the national commissioners' room and adjourned to the Administration plaza to witness the dress parade of the uniform rank. The Odd Fellows will continue their exercises two days longer, and will give interesting parades and drills.

The Minnesota state building welcomed the Odd Fellows today. It was the only state building to have hung in conspicuous position the sign over the front entrance: "Welcome to Odd Fellows."

Hoosiers will hold forth at the fair tomorrow. Gov. Matthews and his staff, ex-President Harrison, Gen. Lew Wallace, James Whitcomb Riley and other prominent Indianaans arrived this evening, and were met by Commissioner Haven and others.

National Commissioner A. T. Bernard, of Florida, is seeking to oust Arthur C. Jackson, who represents Florida at the state building. Commissioner Bernard claims that Jackson was appointed state commissioner, but was subsequently removed, and that he is simply posing as a state commissioner to the detriment of the people. Mr. Bernard has brought the matter to the attention of the national executive committee, and that body is making investigations.

Ex-Speaker Reed spent another pleasant day at the fair today with Mrs. Reed and daughter. He is here for instruction and pleasure, and so far has declined positively to talk on public affairs.

Fair Attendance. CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—The total admissions today were 228,716, of which 194,943 paid.

SIX DAYS FOR PRINTERS. International Union Vetoes the Five-Day System.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—The six-day rule has been reannounced by Chicago Typographical Union No. 62. Some time ago the union decided that, on account of the hard times, certain members should work five days only, so that the unemployed might be afforded an opportunity to earn a livelihood. The scheme, however, worked poorly. Printers from all over the United States began crowding into town. Many of the newcomers were incompetent; many others were too lazy to work. Of course, the worthy and capable worked when they had a chance. But they were in the minority. The majority preferred to draw an allowance of $3 per week from the union's treasury. The five-day plan would have been continued in operation for some time, doubtless, were it not for the fact that the International Typographical union, on appeal, decided to veto the local union's action. Its powers in limiting weekly "hands" to five days a week. And so the whole scheme has fallen through.

Chinese Deported. TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 26.—Eight of the thirteen Chinamen arrested at Oyster Bay last week for being illegally in the United States have been examined and five of them ordered deported. A letter was found on one of the Chinese telling him to pay the smugglers $100 when they got him safely in San Francisco.
