

SAINT PAUL.

SHORT STOPS.

Hon. John L. Gibbs, of Austin, was a caller at the capitol yesterday.

Central W. C. T. U. will meet at Room 22, Ford's music hall, this afternoon at 3.

State Treasurer Boller returned home yesterday from a ten days' visit to the world's fair.

Acker Post No. 21, G. A. R., meets this evening at Central hall, corner Seventh and Cedar streets.

The joint court house and city hall committee will meet in regular monthly session Friday afternoon.

The calendar for the October term of the supreme court closed yesterday morning. It contains 270 cases for hearing.

The secretary of state reported yesterday at the state auditor's office the collection of fees during August to be $196.55.

William Daggert, who attempted to make away with six fish from a market stand, went out to the workhouse for a six days' mull diet yesterday.

John Dowlan & Son were awarded the contract for furnishing fuel for the fire department for the ensuing year. The contract amounts to $5,280.

The trial of L. Warshawsky, charged with seizing fish at the river contrary to the requirements of the fish law, will come up in the police court tomorrow.

The ladies of Arbor M. E. church will give a New England supper in the building corner East Seventh and Ross streets, Friday, Sept. 29, from 6 to 9 p. m.

State Boiler Inspector Clark returned yesterday from Anoka, where he was engaged three days inspecting boilers. He found only one defective boiler, and that was of a thrashing machine engine. This he condemned.

The following books were received at the state law library yesterday: Vol. 4, Boyport's Jurisprudence, Revised Laws of Delaware, 1893; Laws of Wyoming, 1893; Washington State House Journal, 1893; Vol. 8, Texas Reports.

The body of John McMahon, of Marquette, Mich., was brought to this city yesterday and interred under the auspices of St. M. street's St. Francis Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen of Marquette. The body was brought to this city by William Klits, of Marquette.

Michael Davitt, arrested Monday night, charged with stealing $22 from Robert White, had the case against him dismissed in the police court yesterday. The case was decided by Judge Wright. He was not the one who touched him for the money, and that put an end to the case.

The assembly committee on gas will recommend to the meeting this evening the passage of the resolution ordering the amount of necessary gas for the lighting of Summit and University avenues, Rice and other streets with gas lamps placed in the tax levy for next year.

Thirteen young fellows who were arrested Tuesday night on West Seventh street, charged with disorderly conduct, were discharged in the police court yesterday morning. The party had purchased a small keg of beer and were seated about a table enjoying themselves in a social way when the police took them in.

Regular meeting of the assembly this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Among other business to be taken up is a resolution from the comptroller fixing the tax levy on the real and personal property in the city for the year 1893. The robbery will be submitted by the comptroller could not be obtained yesterday, but will be materially the same as last year.

Robbed by Daylight. Special to the Globe. GRAFTON, N. D., Sept. 27.—While Elliott Bjorneby was at supper this evening burglars entered his jewelry store from behind, breaking in a door, and cleaned out the watches and case jewelry, taking almost everything in sight, except the clothes. The robbery was committed at 6:30 p. m. One suspect is in the lock-up, and the police and citizens are out looking for the robbers.

Hats, Gloves, Overcoats, Suits For men and boys. Headquarters at the "Plymouth Corner," Seventh and Robert.

Stronge's Millinery Opening Today And Tomorrow.

390 Wabasha.

200 PAIRS OF OPERA AND FIELD GLASSES At a Discount of 25% THIS WEEK!

A. H. SIMON, Leading Jeweler, Diamond Merchant,

Corner Seventh and Jackson Sts. OPEN EVENINGS.

THE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

CLOSE OF THE TWENTY-FIRST ANNUAL SESSION YESTERDAY.

LIQUOR DEALERS TABOOED.

An Interesting and Valuable Session—The New Officers Installed—A Great Compliment to Grand Chancellor Wheaton—His Third Term—L. P. Hunt Supreme Representative.

The grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias for the state of Minnesota closed its twenty-first annual session yesterday afternoon. The session has been the most satisfactory one in the history of the order in this state. Several amendments proposed last year to the constitution were disposed of yesterday, and were defeated. The most notable of these was the proposition to admit liquor dealers into the order. This proposition was defeated by an overwhelming majority. A number of other amendments to the constitution were proposed, which will lay over until the next annual meeting, under the rule.

The grand officers elect were installed by Past Grand Chancellors O. Whitman and B. G. Merry. The secret work of the order was exemplified by Grand Chancellor Fred B. Wheaton. The grand lodge decided to stand by the uniform rank, and to encourage it to make improvements. With this object in view it appropriated $50 for the purpose of furnishing music on the occasion of the meeting of the supreme lodge of the world which meets next year at Washington city.

L. P. HUNT, OF MANKATO, (Supreme Representative to Supreme Lodge.)

The grand lodge expressed its appreciation of the work done by Grand Chancellor Wheaton last year and voted him $800 for his services. This was done in view of the fact that he had devoted all of his time during the year to the work of the order. Mr. Wheaton received the high compliment of being elected grand chancellor for the third term, a compliment never before paid in the history of the order.

Grand Chancellor Wheaton was sustained in his action relative to Washington lodge. That lodge claimed it had overpaid F. S. Webb to the amount of $20 for thirteen weeks' sick benefits. The lodge wanted to deduct that amount from the total and collect a year's dues in advance. Webb accepted of the grand chancellor, who decided that the lodge should stand the loss occasioned by the mistake and to pay Webb the full benefit for thirteen weeks. An appeal was taken from the decision of the grand chancellor by the lodge and the grand lodge sustained the ruling of the grand chancellor.

The session of the grand lodge closed about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and the lodge members in attendance left for home last night.

The Pythian Pen, at one dollar a year, should be read by every K. of P. in the Northwest. Subscribe for it and keep posted. Address 63 East Fifth street, St. Paul, Minn.

THE THREE LINKS. Doings of the Different Lodges of Odd Fellows for the Ensuing Week.

Excelsior Lodge No. 69 is making arrangements for the lodge social Monday evening, Oct. 2, and all members of Excelsior lodge are expected to attend on that evening. There will be a musical and literary entertainment for the members and visiting brothers; refreshments will be served during the evening.

St. Paul Lodge No. 2 is one of the wealthiest lodges in the state and owns the Odd Fellows' building corner Fifth and Wabasha streets, which is a snug fortune in itself. Before many years this lodge will no doubt build a handsome temple on the present site of the Odd Fellow building.

Freja Lodge No. 129 is a flourishing lodge of Swedish nationality, and meets regularly each Wednesday evening in Odd Fellow hall. This lodge will confer the third degree on a large class of members this coming Wednesday evening. The degree team under the charge of Brother Roach has become very prominent in degree work. Visiting brothers will always spend a pleasant evening at this lodge.

Twain Lodge No. 179, which meets in Central hall, corner Sixth and Seventh streets, every Thursday evening, will have a gala time on next Thursday evening. The degree will be conferred on a number of candidates, and invitations have been sent out to many of the lodges to attend in great numbers. "Good of the Order" remarks will be made by many prominent members of the order in this city, and the Twin City boys have provided a bonafide repast which will be served during the evening.

The baby lodge of St. Paul—Columbia—which is situated at the junction of ice street and University avenue, is getting to be a big boy now, and the success displayed by members shows conclusively that this lodge will be in the front rank among the lodges of this city before many months. They have a mandolin club, composed of members of the order, who frequently discourse sweet music during the evening.

The general relief committee is one of the most useful branches in the city, having charge of transient brothers who are sick or in distress, and the duties of the members are very urgent, as the members of this order are always looked after in times of need.

The ladies' branch of the order, composed of the two Rebekah lodges, Bethesda No. 1 and Evening Star No. 15, furnish many social evenings during the winter, and it is expected will have a number of social meetings. This branch of the order has become very prominent, and shows a large membership throughout the entire country.

Wright's Health Underwear, 50c. Regular $1 Underwear, at the "Plymouth Corner," Seventh and Robert.

Ladies Organize an Auxiliary. Last week there was a ripple of pleasurable interest wafted by the breezes of gossip among the members of auxiliaries to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers of St. Paul, to the effect that the wives of Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Division No. 47, would organize an auxiliary to their husbands on Monday night, at the appointed time, the spacious parlors of Mr. Hammond and wife, at 276 Pleasant avenue, were well filled, and the solemn ceremony was performed by Grand Organizer Mrs. W. E. Hoyt, of St. Paul, assisted by Organizer Mrs. C. G. Clark, of Winona, Minn. Mrs. Hammond was elected president.

Wright's Health Underwear, 50c. Regular $1 Underwear, at the "Plymouth Corner," Seventh and Robert.

M. J. BELL WINS A POINT. The Movement to Open McKenty Street to Be Annulled.

For two hours yesterday afternoon the assembly committee on streets discussed the final order for the condemnation of land now a part of State street. Years ago, in laying out Bell's Second addition to West St. Paul, the surveyors in making the plat erroneously fixed the boundaries. When State street was opened by the city, property owned by M. J. Bell was taken for the street. Subsequently the mistake in the plat was discovered, but the city engineering force, in making a blue print accompanying the order for the condemnation proceedings, failed to recognize or correct the mistake. M. J. Bell and his attorney appeared before the committee yesterday afternoon, and after an hour's explanation finally convinced the members of the justice in his position. The motion of Mr. Lichtner authorizing the city attorney to dismiss legal proceedings in the suits now pending in the courts on the question of the right of the street was carried. The city engineer was also directed to prepare a blue print of the improvement in accordance with the plat recorded, and file the same with the final order for the condemnation of the property taken for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

The resolution annulling the proceedings in the opening of McKenty street was recommended to pass. The idea was to take twenty-five feet from the Northern Pacific right of way in order to open the street from Hamline to Lexington avenue. The company objected and the park commissioners, who requested the opening of the street, agreed to take forty feet from Como park property and to pay for the street.

MORE OF THE SAME SORT.

A House Looted on York and a Burglary on Cedar Street.

Thieves looted the house occupied by John Rogan and Edward Nelson at 515 York street yesterday afternoon. The female members of the two families were down town in the afternoon, and during their absence the work was done. The thieves forced open a rear door, and ransacked the house for valuables. Closets and bureaus were cleaned out, and the contents strewn about the floors. Among the plunder secured belonging to Rogan was jewelry valued at $75, a pair of watches, a watch chain, a watch fob, and a bundle of small articles. Nelson, who occupied the upper part of the house, lost a suit of clothes and $25 in money, which was in a trunk.

The residence of F. W. Premer, at 522 Cedar street, was entered by burglars Tuesday night, and property to the value of $100 was stolen. The front door of the house was found open yesterday morning when the members of the family came down stairs.

Notice. All creditors of The National German-American Bank, who have not yet entered into the agreement offered by the bank, are earnestly requested to give their consent without delay. The time granted by the comptroller of the currency is limited, and prompt action on the part of the depositor becomes a necessity.

BOWIE TELLS A TALE OF WOE, And the Authorities Claim to Prove an Alibi.

Henry Bowie was before Gov. Nelson yesterday complaining that he had been sued by officers of the St. Paul municipal court. He alleges that while hunting Monday at Bass lake he ordered dinner at Jim Brady's place, and while it was preparing he walked into the woods. Brady and another man, he says, followed him at the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him with a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They appeared at the shore and the house, giving him another beating with the club; then made him pay $1.50 for the return of his gun, besides 50 cents for the dinner he had not eaten. As he was leaving the place Brady, he says, followed him to the shore, and he saw them follow him to the shore. He was then struck on the head with a heavy club, knocking him senseless. When he came to the other man stood over him