

MINNEAPOLIS.

BRING OR SEND THE NEWS.

The Globe has enlarged its Minneapolis force, designing to conduct a Minneapolis local editorial department, as well as news reports. All parties having news worthy of publication will confer a favor by calling or telephoning to the Globe office, the Minneapolis Globe building. The office will be open until after midnight every night in the week. Telephone call, 947-2.

MINNEAPOLIS GLOBULES.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Seneglia left Sunday night for a ten days' trip to the world's fair.

Gus Schwartz, the electrician at the West hotel, is on a visit to the world's fair, it being his first vacation in nine years.

Seventeen deeds were filed in the office of the register of deeds yesterday, the considerations expressed amounting to $41,220.

The date for the next convention of the American Water Works association, which is to be held in Minneapolis, has been fixed for Aug. 21, 1894.

Paul Bourget, the French novelist, and wife visited the lakes and other scenic beauties of Minnesota yesterday as the guests of Thomas Lowry.

Mrs. Bridget Kyle, aged seventy, one of the oldest residents of what is known as the "old settlement," died yesterday evening at her home. The funeral will take place tomorrow forenoon.

There were fifty-two cases disposed of in the police court yesterday. The majority of them were drunks. The black Maria was obliged to make two trips to the workhouse yesterday, twenty-five of the number, who had "no other way but this."

G. R. Samuelson and E. Samuelson, representing the extensive lumbering interests of the city, are in the city, the object of their visit being to investigate the manufacture of farm machinery as conducted in the Twin Cities.

A fair and bazaar will open at K. P. hall, corner of Central avenue and Fifth street, tomorrow evening for the benefit of St. Lawrence church. The members of the church have made great preparations for the affair, and a number of fine attractions have been secured. It will last four evenings.

Miss Ida Gjertsen began a suit yesterday against Herman Gjertsen, her husband and Henry J. Gjertsen to recover title property known as lot 8, block 4, Minneapolis, valued at $5,000. The plaintiff claims in her complaint that the defendants gave her a deed to the property, and that after her husband's death they discovered that she had not recorded the deed, and so made a pretended mortgage on the land for $5,000. She asks that the mortgage be set aside and that she recover $5,000.

A STREAK OF ECONOMY.

To Be Inaugurated by the Board of Health.

The board of health decided yesterday afternoon to retrench on the quarantine hospital. William Boyer, who has charge of the hospital, and who owns the ambulance, has been receiving $2,000 a year salary, besides being allowed his house rent, provisions, a horse, cow, pig, chickens, etc. The board came to the conclusion, that, inasmuch as the city hospital could take care of the ordinary contagious diseases, such as measles, scarlet fever, typhoid, etc., it was useless to expend so much money on the quarantine hospital, which was serviceable for nothing but cholera and smallpox cases. Accordingly Mr. Boyer's salary was reduced to $200, and all extras were denied, save house rent and the use of a horse and cow.

CAUGHT AND PHOTOGRAPHED.

Three Men Suspected of Highway Robberies.

Yesterday morning about 3 o'clock Sergeant Leonard and Officer Bacon saw three men acting in a suspicious manner on Nicollet avenue, near Washington. They brushed up against pedestrians and made some moves that indicated a plot to rob a highwayman. The officers thereupon arrested them. The fact that one of them had a revolver and that all of them carried handkerchiefs knotted at the ends and their general appearance led the detectives to believe that they were hold-up artists. Newspaper photographers were also present in their pockets. They gave their names as Pat Murphy, John Riley and Frank Welch. One of the men was just finished serving a term in the penitentiary. In the afternoon the trio were conducted to Hayes' place, where a gallery and their prizes taken. They will be brought before Judge Elliott this morning.

SHY ON OFFICERS.

Another Resignation Takes Place From Company A.

At the meeting of Company A, held last night, the resignation of Lieutenant D. Fitzgerald was handed in and accepted, the reason for his retirement being a pressure of business, consequent upon his increased duties, attached to his position in the Nicollet National bank. The resignation of Lieutenant Fitzgerald makes the third within the past month, the first being that of Second Lieutenant N. D. Carrow, and the other that of Capt. Ames. The last two were also for business reasons, and the report of disaffection in the ranks of Company A is denied.

DOING QUITE NICELY.

Condition of Mayor Eustis Reported Favorable.

Mayor Eustis passed a comfortable night after his exciting and hazardous experience in being thrown from his busy Sunday, and his condition yesterday was very much improved. A thorough examination of his injuries showed that, while very severe, the scalp wound is not regarded as dangerous, although his escape from serious harm is regarded as almost miraculous. He will be confined to his room for a number of days, and will receive the benefit of the best skill and attention.

Lassauze Fined Fifty.

Mme. Lassauze, the vocalist, who was recently convicted in the district court of the larceny of certain furniture from a dwelling house which she occupied, was fined $50 yesterday forenoon. Her attorneys moved for a new trial on the usual grounds, but Judge Cady denied the motion. The madame will appeal to the supreme court, upon the ground that the verdict is not in accordance with the evidence, that it is not according to the law, and that it differs from the indictment, which charges grand larceny.

ENGINE RAN OVER HIM.

Fireman's Remarkable Escape From Serious Injury.

Fireman Fred Grabau, of No. 4 Engine company, met with a painful accident yesterday morning while going to answer a fire alarm from the Shawano iron works. Grabau accidentally fell from the hose cart owing to the breaking of the rail, and before he could regain his feet the engine, which was coming up fast, ran over his legs. Stricken to say, though, not a bone was broken, but the flesh was badly lacerated.

Removal Notice.

On and after Oct. 25, 1893, the Irish-American, being published at its new quarters, 310 Nicollet avenue.

CHARGED 12 PER CENT.

USURIOUS RATES ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN CHARGED BORROWERS

BY THE NEW ENGLAND BANK.

Two Suits Begun Yesterday to Re-gain Possession of Promissory Notes Put Up as Collateral Security—The Allegations—General News of Monday of the City of Minneapolis.

Two suits were begun in the district court yesterday which will vitally interfere with all persons having any claims against the Bank of New England, of this city. The Turtle Mountain bank, of Dunsmuir, N. D., is the plaintiff in the first suit, and the Bank of New England, which closed about two months ago, is the defendant. If the plaintiff wins the suit, it will mean a clear loss to the Bank of New England of $10,073.17. In other words, its assets will be diminished by this amount.

The Turtle Mountain bank alleges in its complaint that between Jan. 1 and March 18, 1893, it made an agreement with the Bank of New England, through A. J. Biehn, its president, by which the Turtle Mountain bank should borrow, from time to time, certain amounts. These loans were to be secured by depositing with the Bank of New England promissory notes issued by the Turtle Mountain bank. These notes were to be held as collateral.

There would be nothing left to pay the meat of the entire case—that, as a condition to said loans, the Bank of New England should receive "the average rate of 12 per cent per annum." The complaint alleges that the assignee, John P. Rea, had full knowledge of the existence of this "usurious agreement," and received all the promissory notes deposited as collateral. The complaint further declares that the assignee threatened to collect the notes from the various makers. If he is permitted to do this the complaint alleges that there would be nothing left to pay any judgment the plaintiff might secure against him for conversion of the notes; inasmuch as, according to the complaint, the assets of the Bank of New England are far less than its liabilities. The complaint further states that the assignee has refused to return the notes of the plaintiff, although requested to do so. The plaintiff therefore demands judgment as follows:

(1) That the assignee be restrained from collecting, transferring, negotiating or disposing of any of the notes; (2) that he be enjoined from collecting the proceeds of any such notes collected in trust for the plaintiff; (3) that the agreement for the loans be declared null and void; (4) that the notes be declared to have been received as collateral security for the payment of the usurious loans, and to be no part of the assets in the hands of the assignee; (5) that all of said notes be declared the property of the plaintiff; (6) that the assignee deliver all the notes to the plaintiff.

The court has granted a temporary restraining order, forbidding the assignee to dispose of or convert any of the notes until the case is settled. The loans made by the Bank of New England to the Turtle Mountain bank aggregate $10,073.17. A similar suit was also brought against the Bank of New England and the Becker's Investment company, of North Dakota. In this case the plaintiff borrowed $5,000 of the defendant bank, and asks that the transaction be set aside on the ground of usury, and that a similar restraining order be issued, enjoining the assignee from disposing of the collateral notes. The court granted a temporary order, as in the other case.

MINISTERS' MEETINGS.

The Clergymen Hold Their Usual Monday Conferences.

The Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian ministers held their regular weekly meetings yesterday forenoon. The Methodists listened to an address by Rev. C. P. Hart, M. A., of India, relative to the missionary work being done in that country, where Dr. Hart has been since 1874. He stated there are 3,000,000 Christians in India, including Roman Catholics and Protestants. Dr. Hart will speak this evening at the Twenty-fourth Street M. E. church. At the conclusion of his address yesterday, the ministers appointed a committee to receive the delegates to the annual convention of the Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, which will be held at Wesley M. E. church, commencing Nov. 8.

The Presbyterian ministers enjoyed an address by Frederick G. Coon upon missionary work in Persia. Mr. Coon said that the fierce opposition of the Mohammedans rendered it almost impossible for the Christian church in Persia difficult. The Baptist ministers listened to and discussed the report of the committee on "Some of the Aspects of the Ministry."

BUSY LIFE ENDED.

J. M. Hale, the Well Known Merchant, Passes Away.

Commercial circles of Minneapolis were shocked yesterday to learn of the death of Jefferson M. Hale, the senior partner of the dry goods firm of Hale, Thomas & Co., and one of the most prominent merchants in the city. The death of Mr. Hale occurred quite suddenly at 6 o'clock Sunday evening at the residence of his wife, Mrs. J. M. Hale, at Minniewasha, near Excelsior, where he had gone two weeks ago on a visit. The remains were brought to Minneapolis, and will be interred at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from his late residence, 1800 Third avenue south. Mr. Hale was born in Vermont, at Bridge, Vt., having been born Sept. 5, 1827, and came to Minnesota in 1852, having joined a company of volunteers to defend the frontier against Indian depredations, and in subsequent engagements he distinguished himself for his bravery. He was connected with business as a clerk for his brother, shortly afterwards founding the business which he lived to see such a great success.

A DELICATE POINT.

To Be Settled by the Officers of the Two Commercial Clubs.

Club circles of Minneapolis are just now interested over a delicate question that is agitating the officers of the new and the old commercial clubs. A couple of years ago the old club was incorporated, but for some reason the organization was not completed, and it has only recently secured quarters. The new commercial club was incorporated about two months ago on the supposition that the former one had gone out of existence, and the new club had taken its place. As the situation now stands, there are two clubs bearing the same name, and it remains to be seen which will be compelled to give in.

ENGINE RAN OVER HIM.

Fireman's Remarkable Escape From Serious Injury.

Fireman Fred Grabau, of No. 4 Engine company, met with a painful accident yesterday morning while going to answer a fire alarm from the Shawano iron works. Grabau accidentally fell from the hose cart owing to the breaking of the rail, and before he could regain his feet the engine, which was coming up fast, ran over his legs. Stricken to say, though, not a bone was broken, but the flesh was badly lacerated.

Removal Notice.

On and after Oct. 25, 1893, the Irish-American, being published at its new quarters, 310 Nicollet avenue.

A BIG FIGHT ON HAND.

ACTION TO ENJOIN THE ST. LOUIS RAILROAD

FROM THE USE OF TRACKS

Situated in East Minneapolis—An Exhaustive Brief Prepared by Col. Dodge, Counsel for the Minneapolis & Western Railway Company—The Case to Come Before the Supreme Court

Col. W. E. Dodge has prepared his brief as counsel for the plaintiff in the case of The Minneapolis Mill Company and The Western Railway Company vs. The Minneapolis & St. Louis Railway Company and Others. The action was brought to enjoin the St. Louis road from interfering with the joint use of certain railway tracks on the east side of the river in Minneapolis. The tracks in question are held under grant from the Minneapolis mill company, which in 1873 the grant providing that W. D. Washburn, the grantee, might construct a track on the land controlled by the mill company, said track to be used by the Western Railway company in connection with the lumbering interests of the Western railway to use the tracks in common was ratified between the road, Washburn and his grantees.

As a rejoinder the St. Louis company claims that by reason of long-continued use and prescription it has acquired an exclusive right and title to the land on which the tracks are located.

The case comes before the supreme court Nov. 1. The trial court, over which Judge Lochren presides, ruled in favor of the plaintiff, and the present case comes up on an appeal.

FOUND HER DEAD.

Sudden Death of Mrs. Otto Johnson in North Minneapolis.

Mrs. Otto Johnson died suddenly yesterday afternoon at her home, 2121 Oliver avenue north. Mrs. Johnson had sent her children off to school, about 1 p. m. For some reason they happened to return home a short time afterward, and going into the kitchen found their mother lying on the floor. They spoke to her, but receiving no answer, they alarmed the neighbors. The people living next door sent for a physician, who arrived soon after, and pronounced Mrs. Johnson dead. The coroner viewed the body later in the afternoon, and decided to hold an autopsy this morning. Dr. Spring thinks that death was due to natural causes. Mrs. Johnson leaves a husband and four children. Mr. Johnson is a clerk in the office of the insurance and fire agency, located at 9 First street south.

WILL HAVE TO HUMP.

Ald. McAllister and His Pool Room Measure.

According to present indications, the anti-pool ordinance of Ald. McAllister is destined to go through the council without much opposition. Speaking of the measure yesterday, he said that he had sixteen votes pledged aside from his own, and that they could all be counted upon when it came to a show down.

"Of course," said he, "I do not make $120,000 a year and it is hard to get by on $10,000. But monkey work or not, I intend that they will have to hump pretty hard if I am beaten."

Rich in His Mind.

An old man about seventy years of age was found by the police yesterday, wandering along Franklin avenue, near Seventh avenue south, and mattering to himself. He was taken to the South side station. When questioned he said that he lived in Sherburne street, and that he was a member of the South side station. He owned lots of railroad stock. As he was evidently out of his mind, he was taken down to the probate court, and after an examination, it was decided to notify his relatives in Sherburne street in order that he may be brought home.

They're After Them.

The crusaders are not letting up on the saloonkeepers. Yesterday warrants were issued for the arrest of the following proprietors, who are accused of keeping their saloons open on Sunday: A. Richter, 311 Hennepin avenue; Louis Cussler, 122 Hennepin; Owen Evers, Brunswick hotel; Robert J. Martin, 411 Hennepin; Hugo Dietrich, 616 Hennepin; Fred Hawkins, 314 Hennepin; Jacob Barge, 254 Fourth street south; Henry H. Hennepin, 215 Hennepin; Gardner, 242 Hennepin; Thomas S. Gray, West hotel; John Bauman, 124 Hennepin.

Want the Alien Heaters.

The council committee on fire department awarded to John Allen yesterday the shop right to make for the use of the fire department the fire engine heaters. The amount asked for the shop right is $2,500, which will last the city for sixteen years—the life of the engine. The council will vote on the $2,500 Mr. Allen will withdraw his $225 bill which the mayor refused to approve.

An Enjoyable Session.

The regular meeting of the Congregational club last night was preceded with a business session and an enjoyable dinner served by the ladies to the Park Avenue church. The topics of discussion was "Denominational Federation in Minnesota," and able papers were read by Messrs. McKim, H. J. L. City, Donaldson, Rev. W. J. Lhamon, and the discussion was participated in by members of the club.

Pension Commissioner Lochren.

Pension Commissioner Lochren called on a number of his friends yesterday, and paid a visit to the federal building. He says the Van Leuven case is progressing in a satisfactory manner, although he declined to talk of the result. He left yesterday for Washington.

His Leg Amputated.

On Sunday George Greenleaf, the jeweler, suffered the amputation of one of his legs, which was taken off above the knee, and which was seriously affected from an attack of typhoid fever. The member was removed by Dr. Hall, assisted by Drs. Holbrook and Meyers. At last accounts he was doing well.

"WORTH A GUINEA A BOX."

A box of BEECHAM'S PILLS.

constitutes a family medicine.

Rich Headache, Weak Stomach, Loss of Appetite and Pain in the Stomach, Giddiness, Dizziness, Scrolling at the Throat, Disinfection, Drunkenness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Morbidity of Breath, Constipation, Bloating on the Skin, Disturbed Sleep, and all nervous and debility conditions are relieved by using these Pills.

Covered with a Tasteless and Soluble Coating.

Small Dose. Price 25 cents per box.

New York Depot, 306 Canal St.

When Dr. H. W. H. Smith, nineteen years in the medical profession, has cured of leading citizens of St. Paul, Minneapolis and the Northwest, as a result of using Beecham's Pills, he writes: "There is a new craze."

Girls Look for Young Men With Rings on Their Fingers.

New York World.

Young men have been wondering what it all could mean.

For a few weeks whenever a young man met a young lady of his acquaintance she would closely examine his fingers, and finding a ring there, would turn it around two or three times and be satisfied.

When asked for an explanation, the young lady would, of course, evade the subject and laugh most sweetly at what he said, and can't say a word.

But the secret is out, and it has come to the ears of the young men. Now the fun will be all on the other side.

It is a new craze, the turning of rings on the fingers of young men by their lady friends. Where it came from no one knows, but the girls have all taken it up, of course, cannot explain themselves. They think it is just too lovely. There is a new craze toward matrimony.

There is a new craze toward matrimony.

ALLOTTERY TICKET'S VALUE

THE QUESTION TO BE DECIDED BY THE COURTS.

AN EXPRESS COMPANY SUE

By a North Dakota Man, Who Drew a $7,500 Lottery Prize and Entrusted the Ticket to the Express Company for Collection—A Clerk of the Lottery Charged With Filing-Flaming.

What is the legal worth of a lottery ticket which cost 20 cents and drew a prize of $7,500, is the unique question which the United States will be called upon to decide two weeks hence. The Great Northern Express company is the defendant in a suit brought to settle this question. Last May a man named Klinger, of Grand Forks, N. D., bought a ticket of the Kansas City Lottery company, for which he paid 50 cents. It drew $7,500. Klinger entrusted it to the Great Northern Express Co. for collection. The Great Northern Express company transferred it at St. Paul to the American Express company, which sent the ticket on to Kansas City, where it was duly presented to an agent of the company to the lottery company. The interesting episode of the story occurred at this point. It is charged that the clerk of the lottery company, as soon as he received the ticket, sold it to the firm-film-film-film on the ground of the express company, and substituted another ticket bearing the same number, but a different date. As he did so, it is reported that he said:

"Why, this ticket belongs to the April drawing, not the May. It isn't worth a cent."

So the worthless ticket was in due course of time returned to Mr. Klinger. The latter has now brought suit against the Great Northern Express company for the value of the ticket. The question is whether the ticket is worth anything, or whether it is a mere piece of paper.

In Search of Light.

The members of the council are seeking for light on the electric light question, or in other words, they want to know what they are at, regarding the electric light question. The council has decided to hold an autopsy this morning. Dr. Spring thinks that death was due to natural causes. Mrs. Johnson leaves a husband and four children. Mr. Johnson is a clerk in the office of the insurance and fire agency, located at 9 First street south.

Bryant Avenue Line.

Arrangements have been completed by the street railway company for the completion at once of the Bryant avenue line, for the accommodation of those who have built homes in the vicinity of Forty-sixth street this summer. This will give a new line to Lake Harriet.

Want Better Protection.

A meeting of the citizens of Excelsior was held last night at which the matters of better police and fire protection were discussed, and it was decided that the police department came in for a roast on account of the recent looting of cottages. It was decided to take measures to correct the evils.

IN THE NEW FLAT.

Chicago Tribune.

It was the Sparks family's first night in the new flat, and Mr. Sparks felt as very man feels who has been moving all day.

The drayman had dropped a trunk on the family clock and made it useless for all time.

"We must get another clock, my dear," said Mrs. Sparks, "and I'll get as well get a handsome one for the oak mantel in the front room, and a good one for the parlor. What is it?"

"What sort of work do you do in this shop?"

"Shave men and cut their hair, sir."

"Do you think a man with no hair on his head would come in here to have his hair cut?"

"No, sir."

"Do I look like a lunatic?"

"No, sir."

"Then, please, get me a pair of scissors, a comb, and a brush, and I'll be off."

"What is it?"

"What sort of work do you do in this shop?"

"Shave men and cut their hair, sir."

"Do you think a man with no hair on his head would come in here to have his hair cut?"

"No, sir."

"Do I look like a lunatic?"

"No, sir."

"Then, please, get me a pair of scissors, a comb, and a brush, and I'll be off."

"What is it?"

"What sort of work do you do in this shop?"

"Shave men and cut their hair, sir."

"Do you think a man with no hair on his head would come in here to have his hair cut?"

"No, sir."

"Do I look like a lunatic?"

"No, sir."

"Then, please, get me a pair of scissors, a comb, and a brush, and I'll be off."

"What is it?"

"What sort of work do you do in this shop?"

"Shave men and cut their hair, sir."

"Do you think a man with no hair on his head would come in here to have his hair cut?"

"No, sir."

"Do I look like a lunatic?"

"No, sir."

"Then, please, get me a pair of scissors, a comb, and a brush, and I'll be off."

"What is it?"

"What sort of work do you do in this shop?"

"Shave men and cut their hair, sir."

"Do you think a man with no hair on his head would come in here to have his hair cut?"

"No, sir."

"Do I look like a lunatic?"

"No, sir."

"Then, please, get me a pair of scissors, a comb, and a brush, and I'll be off."

"What is it?"

"What sort of work do you do in this shop?"

"Shave men and cut their hair, sir."

"Do you think a man with no hair on his head would come in here to have his hair cut?"

"No, sir."

"Do I look like a lunatic?"

"No, sir."

"Then, please, get me a pair of scissors, a comb, and a brush, and I'll be off."

"What is it?"

"What sort of work do you do in this shop?"

"Shave men and cut their hair, sir."

"Do you think a man with no hair on his head would come in here to have his hair cut?"

"No, sir."

"Do I look like a lunatic?"

"No, sir."

"Then, please, get me a pair of scissors, a comb, and a brush, and I'll be off."

"What is it?"

"What sort of work do you do in this shop?"

"Shave men and cut their hair, sir."

"Do you think a man with no hair on his head would come in here to have his hair cut?"

"No, sir."

plays a large number of young men and women, and much time is wasted there during the day by the practice of this craze. Recently one of the employers discovered what it all meant, and now there is a posted conspicuously in the room which reads: "Any employee caught practicing the ring-turning business will be immediately discharged."

I asked a member of the firm what it was all about.

"Why, it's the craziest thing you ever heard of," said the man. "The idea