

UNDER THREAT OF WAR

Hawaiian Government Surrendered Its Authority

WHEN UNITED STATES MARINES

From the U. S. S. Boston Land on the Islands.

SECRETARY GRESHAM SAYS

Queen Liliuokalani Should Be Restored.

HIS LETTER TO CLEVELAND.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—A letter addressed to President Cleveland by Secretary Gresham on Oct. 18 is given out for publication. The secretary reviews in detail the acts leading up to the revolution in Hawaii in January last, and takes strong ground in the opinion that Queen Liliuokalani would never have been deposed had it not been for the landing of United States marines from the United States steamship Boston. He maintains also that the provisional government has been maintained solely by the fear of the military power of the United States. He cites much evidence from Blount's report and from the reports of Minister Stevens himself, to sustain this view. "The government of Hawaii," he says, "surrendered its authority under a threat of war until such time only as the United States should reinstate the constitutional sovereign, and the provisional government was created to exist until terms of union with the United States should have been agreed upon."

The treaty of union withdrawn from the senate should not, he argues, be submitted again.

"Should not the great wrong," he says, "done to a feeble but independent state, by an abuse of the authority of the United States, be remedied by restoring the legitimate government?"

"Can the United States consistently insist that other nations shall respect the independence of Hawaii while not respecting it themselves?"

"Our government has first to recognize the independence of the islands and it should be the last to acquire sovereignty over them by force and fraud."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—After the cabinet meeting today the following letter was given out for publication by Secretary Gresham, which he had previously addressed to the president: Department of State, Washington, Oct. 18, 1893. My dear Mr. President: The full and impartial report submitted by Hon. James H. Blount, your special commissioner to the Hawaiian Islands, and the Hawaiian queen, Liliuokalani, announced her intention on Saturday, Jan. 14, 1893, to proclaim a new constitution, but the position of her government was such as to induce her to speedily change her mind and make public announcement of her intention to resign in favor of a so-called committee of public safety, consisting of thirteen men, being all or nearly all present, and a majority of whom, including five Americans, were deposed, and the queen, Liliuokalani, and the protection of life and property."

This committee met on the 15th, or forenoon of the 16th, of January, 1893, and it was not claimed on the 17th among other things that a provisional government be created, to exist until terms of union with the United States of America have been negotiated and agreed upon.

At a mass meeting composed largely of aliens, which assembled at 2 p. m. on the last named day, the queen and her supporters were condemned and denounced, and the committee continued and all of its acts approved. Later the same afternoon the committee addressed a letter to Secretary Stevens, the American minister at Honolulu, stating that the lives and property of the people were in peril, and appealing to him and the United States forces at his COMMAND FOR ASSISTANCE.

"We are unable to protect ourselves, and, therefore, hope for the protection of the United States forces."

On receipt of this letter Mr. Stevens requested Capt. Wilz, commander of the United States steamship Boston, to land a force of United States marines from the United States steamer, United States consulate, and to secure the safety of American life and property."

The well-armed marines promptly landed and marched through the quiet streets of Honolulu with two Gatling guns to public buildings, and were met by Mr. Stevens for their accommodation. The hall was just across the street from the government building, and the reason for this locating the military will presently appear. The governor of the island immediately addressed to Mr. Stevens a communication protesting against the act as an unwarranted invasion of Hawaiian territory, and in which he stated that the proper authorities had never denied permission to the naval forces of the United States to land for drill or any other proper purpose. About the same time the queen's minister of foreign affairs sent a note to Mr. Stevens, asking whether the troops had been landed, and informing him that the proper authorities were able and willing to afford full protection to the American legation and all American interests.

IN HONOLULU.

Only evasive reply was made to these communications. While there were no manifestations of excitement or alarm in the city, and the movement of the committee entered the government building, after first ascertaining that it was unguarded, and one of the number, a citizen of the United States, read a proclamation declaring that the existing government was overthrown and a provisional government established in its place "to exist until terms of union with the United States of America have been negotiated and agreed upon."

No audience was present when the proclamation was read, but during the reading forty or fifty men, some of them indifferently armed, entered the room. The executive and advisory councils mentioned in the proclamation at once addressed a communication to Mr. Stevens, informing him that the mon-

FATHER CONNOLLY FOUND GUILTY OF CRIMINAL ASSAULT.

TEN YEARS IN STATE PRISON

The Sentence That Is Likely to Be Imposed—An Afternoon Fire Partially Destroys a Big Lumber Yard at Anoka—A Little Falls Woman Commits Suicide—General Northwest.

Special to the Globe.
DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 10.—The defense in the Father Connolly criminal assault case unexpectedly closed at 11 o'clock today, when Judge Lewis refused to admit testimony calculated to impeach the previous character of Miss Sutherland. Arguments of the state and defense occupied the time until 3 o'clock this afternoon. Judge Lewis then charged the jury, giving a very fair and purely statutory charge. The jury retired at 4:25, and took ten ballots. The first stood eight guilty of rape, and four guilty of attempted rape. The last ballot was unanimous for a verdict of guilty. At 8:40 the jury announced that it was ready to return a verdict. Judge Lewis received it. Father Connolly was brought in, and it was read. The wonderful nerve and almost scornful bravado that has marked his actions during the whole trial did not desert him. He received the verdict with perfect coolness. Sentence of ten years is looked for.

BOLD ROBBER IS BALKED.

HE DEMANDS FIFTY THOUSAND OF A CLEVELAND BANK.

COL. HERRICK'S BRAVERY.

The Crank Carried a Gun in One Hand and a Dynamite Bomb in the Other—Exciting Scene in the Private Room of a Savings Institution—A Bullet in His Coat.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 10.—A daring attempt made to rob the Society for Savings nearly resulted in the murder of Col. Myron T. Herrick, the treasurer of the institution. Owing to the bravery of Col. Herrick the robber was balked, although the treasurer had a narrow escape from death, a bullet being by the robber passing through his coat and vest, and burying itself in the frame of an office door in the bank building before noon, entered his office after escorting Mrs. Herrick, who had called to see him, out of the bank. A moment later a stranger entered the room and demanded fifty thousand dollars in cash. Herrick led him into the trustees' room, the stranger closing the door behind him. The man was of medium height and build, with a sandy mustache. He was rather poorly dressed, and wore a slouch hat, which appeared to be not different from scores of men who call upon Col. Herrick daily. Col. Herrick seated himself upon a corner of the table that stands in the middle of the trustees' room. He was at the corner of the table, and the stranger passed him and stood at the farther end of the table. Without preliminary remarks the man said, "I want you to give me five. Now you can go into the vault and give me $50,000. I'll go with you. The door is unlocked. The house will think you are showing me the vaults."

SHIP IN A MASS OF FLAMES

CAPT. HOFFMAN'S STORY OF THE ILL-FATED ALEXANDRIA.

ELEVEN PEOPLE WERE LOST.

An Explosion Was Followed by a Terrible Fire—Discipline Among the Crew—Saved by Life Boats—The Vessel a Total Wreck—Cause of the Explosion Unknown.

New York, Nov. 10.—The steamer Seneca, which arrived this morning from Havana, brings Capt. Hoffman and fifty-six survivors of the ill-fated steamer City of Alexandria. Five of the ship's crews were lost, and also six colored stevedores. Capt. Hoffman states that they sailed for Matanzas at 5:30, with a strong north wind blowing a rough sea. All went well until about 5:40 p. m., when Capt. Hoffman was having his tea in the cabin. Suddenly an explosion took place. Capt. Hoffman states that immediately, and found the ship a mass of flames. The hold fore and aft. All hands were called to quarters. The fire hose was got ready, and an attempt made to subdue the flames. The most discipline prevailed among the crew. The boats were ordered to be lowered, and in charge of the officers, purser and chief engineer. The purser's boat, while being embarked from the falls, was a total loss. Capt. Hoffman and six others took to the lifeboat, and were all washed off by the heavy sea, but were able to get back again, excepting William Foster, who was drowned. Capt. Hoffman states that the best of discipline prevailed after the explosion. The men obeyed orders, and went to his post in the coolest possible manner. There was no rush to the lifeboats, and the men were all saved. The names of the crew who were lost: Purser B. W. Bowen, William Foster, George Smith and Louis Bloch, waiters; Thomas Lindén, quartermaster.

Both Were Killed.

BUSINESS TIDE TURNED.

IMPROVEMENT IN THE DEMAND FOR MANUFACTURED PRODUCTS.

CONFIDENCE IS GREATER.

Failures of the Week Show Small Liabilities—Many Business Men Breathe More Freely, Who Have Been Carried Over by Extension—The Weekly Review of Trade.

New York, Nov. 10.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade: The turn of the tide has come. Since the election there has been a distinct improvement in business, and particularly in manufacturing. There is some increase in actual transactions and much more in the tone of business. Men of all parties feel that there is ground for greater confidence, the silver question being put definitely out of the way, and the chance of disturbing action in other respects being lessened, while the right of the people to rule their rulers has been vindicated. While the tide has not yet fully turned, there is already a distinct improvement in the demand for manufactured products since the action on the silver bill, some increase in the output of pig iron and in sales of wool in the building trade, and several cities and the failures of the week latest reported show lower liabilities. In brief, the recovery which began when the silver repeal bill passed continues with increased strength, and the demand for manufactured products is larger than it was at the beginning of October. The monthly statement shows $10,700,000 weekly against $7,850,000 Oct. 1st and $7,100,000 Nov. 1, 1892, and there is a slight increase in the output of pig iron and in sales of wool in the building trade, and several cities and the failures of the week latest reported show lower liabilities.
