THAT RAMSEY COUNTY CLUB.

The Secretary Sends in an Official Report.

To the Editor of the Globe.

The report in your paper of the proceedings of the regular meeting of the Democratic Club of Ramsey County, held last evening at the club rooms in the New York life building, is preceded by the following headlines:

The report in your paper of the proceedings of the regular meeting of the Democratic Club of Ramsey County, held last evening at the club rooms in the New York life building, is preceded by the following headlines:

The report is also a very meager one. The resolutions were not published at all, and about as much space is given to matters entirely irrelevant to the subject under consideration as to the proceedings of the meeting, although a reporter was present who wrote out a full report, in which was included a copy of the resolutions adopted.

Now, the facts are these. The meeting was held at the usual time, notice of the same having been published in the Globe yesterday morning. All of the members who desired to participate in the proceedings were present, and do so, none being excluded. The meeting was a perfectly harmonious one, and the resolutions heretofore adopted were unanimously adopted, ample opportunity having been given for their free and full discussion.

It seems to me that the Globe, in its report of this meeting, treated the club very unfairly in not giving a full and accurate report of its proceedings, and in being dignified in its treatment of its meeting by outsiders, and particularly in printing the headlines which it was not organized in the interest of any candidate, and all who desired to join were always permitted to do so, in accordance with the by-laws.

The result arrived at last night, in endorsing Mr. Cullen for mayor, was reached, not by any sudden outburst of sentiment, but after a fair and thorough discussion of the merits of those who are prominent as candidates.

The last concert of the Winkler series of soirées musicales, at Ford's Music hall Tuesday evening next, will be given under the auspices of the Schubert club. The programme is a veritable feast of good things, and besides numbers by the Beethoven quartette, a piano solo by Mrs. Hermann S. Heffer, Mrs. Marie Gotsch, Ed. Winkler, who is playing is very well remembered in this city, and a violin solo by Claude Madden, there is to be as vocalist for this occasion Miss Ellen Beach Yaw.

This young lady has covered herself with glory in the Eastern cities, where she has sung, and it will be a rare treat for St. Paul people to hear her sing.

ILLUMINATED SIGNS.

New Night Device for Street Cars of St. Paul. The street car company is experimenting with plans for illuminating the street cars after dark. The placing of vestibules on the cars prevents the use of lights within the inclosure at the end of the cars, as it would interfere with the vision of the motormen, who must have their cars dark at night in order to see out. On the seventh street lines, large transparencies are placed on trial, in which the names of the streets are placed in large letters, and smaller dimensions is being used which designates the streets in figures. Other plans are under consideration, but no definite sign has been agreed upon for other lines. The company is still at work vestibular other cars, and from time to time will put the newly vestibular cars into service.
