J CKSONVILLE JULY BRINGS IN A VERDICT OF LOT CUILTY.

THE CHAMFION IS APPLAUDED.

Charlie Mitchell Congratulates His Opponent on the Result of the Trial, and He Expects the Same Treatment - Witnesses All Display Remarkable Ignorance-The Judge's Charge.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 1 .- At 3:31 this afternoon the jury in the case against James J. Corbett, charged with violating the laws of Florida by engaging in a prize fight, retired to make up a verdict. At 4:07, or sixteen minutes later, the jury returned and the foreman handed the verdict to the state's attorney, who read: "We, the jury, find the defendant not guilty."

A broad smile spread over Corbett's face as he heard these reassuring words, and the sports who crowded the court room would have cheered had they not been informed by Judge Phillips when the jury came in that he would send any person to jail for contempt who dared express audible approval or dis approval of the verdict.

Charlie Mitchell was present when the verdict was announced, and he leaned over and grasped Corbett by the hand and whispered congratulations. Mitchell, of course, considered the verdiet in the light of a practical acquittal for himself, as a case against him of a simil r nature is pending. There were four women in the court room at the time, two of them members of the "After Dark" company, and they braved the wrath of Judge Phillips to the extent of airily waving their hands to Corbett. The proceedings leading up to the verdict were very tame. Court convened at 9:50 a. m., and the state resumed the examination of its witnesses The attorneys for the prosecution tried to elicit testimony to show that

THE FIGHT WAS BRUTAL and to make the witnesses admit that from the very brutality of the contest Corbett and Mitchell must have have barbored malice against one another. The state, however, did not make much the state, however, did not make much headway on this line, and when it attempted to bring in the check for $20,-000 which Corbett received in public after the fight, all the witnesses had seen a piece of paper handed Corbett, but all were innocent of any knowledge of its character. Jack Kenfe who was chief of police when Keefe, who was chief of police when the fight occursed, and supervised it, was questioned about the check. He was at the theater when it was presented. When asked if the psper was not a check he said that he did not know. Upon being pressed further in regard to its being a check, he said that he did not know, but thought it might be a "property" check, such as is used on the stage. Just the same as "property" vegetables, which the theatrical people make believe to eat. This answer caused considerable merriment. The state closed here and the defense announced that it would introduce no witnesses. Argument was then begun. The attorneys were brief, and when they concluded Judge Phillips charged the jury. The gist of the charge was as follows: "It is," he said "immaterial whether it was a glove contest or a sparring match or boxing match, if it constitutes and amounts to a fight as it is a violation of the law of Florida, against fighting by previous appointment, as the court has already read. In considering the guilt or innocence of the defendant, under the second count of the information, that is to say the count charging assault and battery, if it appears from the evidence that the blows were given as a result of compact which the parties mutually agreed upon and entered into and consented to, the court instructs you that if such blows were given in a contest and which in the usual course of things being course of things being course of things, being carried on in such a manner as would not inflict or cause bodily harm or injury to the person, then the consent of the person receiving the blows excuses assault and battery, and the defendant, under such circum-stances, cannot be found guilty of assault and battery. But if the contest in which the parties were engaged was of such a nature, and being carried on in such a way as in the usual course of things would cause bodily harm or injury, and the blows were given with the intention to cause bodily harm, or appreciable pain, the consent of the party receiving the blows is no defense to the charge of assault and battery, and the party can be convicted of as-sault and battery under such circum-

With this charge the jury retired, and soon reached a verdict of "not guilty," as noted above. The impression here is

THE WHOLE THING has been a farce. The witnesses for the state, to use a sporting phrase, "fell down," and the defense had the easiest sort of a walk-over. When Attorney General Lamar was asked for an opin-ion on the result of the case, he said: "It would not be good faith for me to criticise the verdict." "Will you push the other cases now?"

"I cannot say yet," replied the attorney general. "I have wired the governor for instructions, and the state's course in regard to the other cases de-pends on the governor's advice."

It was 2 o'clock when the men entered the ring. Kavanagh was at least twenty pounds heavier than Fete, but was not near in as good condition. Kavanagh forced matters in the first round and knocked "Milky" all over the ring, "Milky" not being able to land once on Kavanagh. Milky came up in the second round and fought Kavanagh savagely. Kavanagh went to his corner weak. In the third round Kavanagh knocked Milky through the ropes. Everyone thought he was out, but he came up on time and kept away from his man until the gong sounded. St. Louis, March 1.—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Brantly, Ala., says: Last night a band of white caps took Wesley Thomas and his wife, an aged negro couple, from their beds and whipped them so severely that their lives are despaired of. The same band, presumably, also posted a notice in the negro church here while services were in progress, commanding all blacks to leave Pike county by March 10 under penalty of lynching. Excitement among the blacks is inlense, and the better whites fear they cannot prevent reprisals by the negroes.

Riotous Miners in West Virginia Closely Guarded. CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 1 .-

With six men seriously wounded and one dead as the tesult of the riot at the Eagle mines last night, there has been much excitement all day but no further bloodshed.
