

THE DAILY GLOBE

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY AT THE GLOBE BUILDING, CORNER FOURTH AND CEDAR STREETS. ST. PAUL, MINN. SUBSCRIPTION RATES: Daily (not including Sunday) 10c per week in advance, $2.00 per month in advance, $5.00 per quarter in advance, $15.00 per year in advance. Single copies 5c.

open our ports to Chinese immigration, and the government of the country the privilege of preventing the departure of emigrants from China. The Chinese government is anxious to prevent the emigration of its people to any part of the world, and has done all in its power to stop the movement, which has found its chief strength in the efforts of American and British ship owners to encourage it. We will never be deluged by a horde of heathen Chinese if we wait till it receives the sanction of their own government.

JAM DAVIDSON'S campaign as the nominee of the Great Tribune for mayor is running very smoothly up to date. Possibly this is due to the fact that Jam has been out of town ever since he was selected.

THE DUTY OF DEMOCRATS. But a few days more remain before the Democrats of St. Paul will be called upon to place a city ticket in the field. There has been a great deal of friction and contention in the party for its own good, but this is now largely allayed by the decision of the malcontents to flock together. A decision of their own choosing.

The duty of the Democrats of St. Paul is clear and simple. They should do their fighting with the enemy rather than with each other, and stand by and elect the ticket when it has been placed in the field.

To the end that there can be no possible error of taking names in the campaign, the utmost care should be taken in the selection of the ticket.

The strongest, best and ablest Democrat in the city whom the party can secure should be placed at the head of the ticket. A man of this caliber, regardless of party predilections, will regard as a safe person to put in charge of such an important business enterprise as the municipal government of St. Paul.

The city government is too often regarded as a plaything for politicians, but in reality it is simply a huge business, involving the handling of millions of dollars, and requiring the very best business talent and sagacity.

The head of the ticket should be supported by men of business ability similar to himself, and a city council having only the public welfare at stake.

There is no reason to doubt that wise selections will be made by the Democracy for the city ticket, but it is not so clear that grave errors may not be made in the ward nominations for the council. It is no object for bad men to foist themselves on the ticket, as certain defeat will await them, and they jeopardize the whole structure of the party.

It should be understood that because a man labels himself a Democrat he does not secure a passport to the city council, and the ward organizations should see that no mistakes are made.

The Globe has no candidates to present, and no nominations to make on the ticket assumed, but it needs no prophet to foretell that success can only be secured by a good ticket throughout, and a united party.

As much discord as there has been in the Democratic ranks, it has been the greatest in the history of the party, and it grows less among the Democrats it increases among the Republicans.

The Democrats can secure a royal victory on the 1st of May if they will. They can throw it away if they insist upon such a project.

The situation is bright and auspicious, but success is not assured, and cannot be without a shoulder to shoulder organization.

The problem is easy and simple, and the Globe, as an advisory organ, urges every good Democrat subordinate personal feeling to public and party good; words which applied to Democratic rule in St. Paul are synonymous.

He (Whelan) has five days' experience in the management of the city, and he is wanted of the Pioneer Press. Five days is a long time to associate with some people.

A WISE CONCLUSION. Mr. Cullen's authoritative announcement that he will rest upon his laurels as the candidate of a committee, and that under no circumstances will he come before the Democratic convention next week as a candidate for mayor, is wise.

The Globe much regrets that circumstances have arisen which not only make such a decision wise, but an imperative necessity.

This result has been brought about by the men who, while pretending to be Mr. Cullen's friends, have proved his worst enemies. It would be worse than useless for him to expect to be endorsed by a party which his friends were deliberately and willfully seeking to destroy.

Mr. Cullen has pursued the honorable and many course of ceasing to longer be a Democratic candidate, and his judicious friends can now have the privilege of a sufficient amount of rope to perform the usual act.

It is not probable that things would have been different if Mr. Cullen's campaign had not been started and gotten beyond his control before his return from California; but if a man is afflicted with unwise friends whom he cannot control, he must suffer the consequences.

As a citizen's candidate the field is open to all, and in that arena Mr. Cullen will meet fair and honorable treatment in trying conclusions with the party organization with which he has heretofore acted.

Mr. Hearn can proceed with his ceremonies.

NOT A CANDIDATE. There has been considerable talk in all sections of the city relative to the nomination of Hon. P. H. Kelly for mayor on the Democratic ticket, and the Democratic clubs in his ward (the Second) have been enthusiastic in presenting his name with great unanimity for consideration by the city convention.

It is no breach of confidence for the Globe to state that it has the best authority for announcing that Mr. Kelly is not a candidate for mayor, and under no circumstances would he accept the position.

Mr. Kelly feels highly complimented by the action of his friends and neighbors, and that whatever service, any, he should give to the public in the future should be in the same direction.

The St. Paul public will understand and appreciate the fact that while others did well and labored faithfully, he has his work, added to that of his associates, which secured the new capital for St. Paul. There is still much more to be accomplished in that matter, and no man can better perform that duty than Mr. Kelly.

Always enterprising and public spirited, and ready to make personal sacrifices when occasion requires, he does not feel that the acceptance of the mayoralty is of those occasions, and even though unanimously offered him he would not accept. In taking this position, Mr. Kelly does not wish his friends to feel that he does not appreciate both their past and present loyalty to him, for he is extremely grateful to his supporters, but neither his personal inclinations nor his view of public duty tend toward the mayoralty.

Gov. Nelson made an excellent selection in the appointment of Dr. John F. Fulton as surgeon general of the national guard. It was chosen wisely, and will meet with general public approval.

A PRUDENT PATERNALIST. The prudent paternalist, who wrote from Dayton, O., to Secretary Morton, asking to be appointed "chief of the United States exterminator" for his district, really thinks he is a Democrat, but he is evidently a paternalist of one brand or another who has strayed away and straggled into the Democratic pastures.

Senator Peffer's speech has an interest, as presenting the question from the standpoint of a party which has made no declaration of opinion and views from a neutral side the contests of the belligerents. It has a value, too, as indicating where the Populists will land when they come down out of the clouds of vagaries on which they are now floating; and coming to the sensible conclusion that no nation ever settles more than one tariff question at one time; that the tariff question is here to stay until it is settled right, and that their schemes must be deferred until that time, they will take in hand the arbitration of the question.

From this point of view his speech is somewhat of a surprise. We have felt that the silence of the Populists on the question dividing the two great parties was due to a sympathy with the Republican party, and that the silence was due to their conceptions of governmental functions. In the demands for legislation that peculiarly distinguish them, they are but carrying a little further and to the right a paternalist's policy of public utility. Between furnishing a market for silver and one for the imperishable products of the farm there is only a difference in kind, but none whatever in principle. Between giving a bounty on sugar and lending money on the land that grows the sugar there is no distinguishable difference.

Viewing the mangled remains of the Wilson bill after its butchery by the doughfaces, he very sensibly concludes that between it and the other monstrous proposals which are being put up to himself, and a city council having only the public welfare at stake.

There is no reason to doubt that wise selections will be made by the Democracy for the city ticket, but it is not so clear that grave errors may not be made in the ward nominations for the council. It is no object for bad men to foist themselves on the ticket, as certain defeat will await them, and they jeopardize the whole structure of the party.

It should be understood that because a man labels himself a Democrat he does not secure a passport to the city council, and the ward organizations should see that no mistakes are made.

The Globe has no candidates to present, and no nominations to make on the ticket assumed, but it needs no prophet to foretell that success can only be secured by a good ticket throughout, and a united party.

As much discord as there has been in the Democratic ranks, it has been the greatest in the history of the party, and it grows less among the Democrats it increases among the Republicans.

The Democrats can secure a royal victory on the 1st of May if they will. They can throw it away if they insist upon such a project.

The situation is bright and auspicious, but success is not assured, and cannot be without a shoulder to shoulder organization.

The problem is easy and simple, and the Globe, as an advisory organ, urges every good Democrat subordinate personal feeling to public and party good; words which applied to Democratic rule in St. Paul are synonymous.

He (Whelan) has five days' experience in the management of the city, and he is wanted of the Pioneer Press. Five days is a long time to associate with some people.

A WISE CONCLUSION. Mr. Cullen's authoritative announcement that he will rest upon his laurels as the candidate of a committee, and that under no circumstances will he come before the Democratic convention next week as a candidate for mayor, is wise.

The Globe much regrets that circumstances have arisen which not only make such a decision wise, but an imperative necessity.

This result has been brought about by the men who, while pretending to be Mr. Cullen's friends, have proved his worst enemies. It would be worse than useless for him to expect to be endorsed by a party which his friends were deliberately and willfully seeking to destroy.

Mr. Cullen has pursued the honorable and many course of ceasing to longer be a Democratic candidate, and his judicious friends can now have the privilege of a sufficient amount of rope to perform the usual act.

It is not probable that things would have been different if Mr. Cullen's campaign had not been started and gotten beyond his control before his return from California; but if a man is afflicted with unwise friends whom he cannot control, he must suffer the consequences.

As a citizen's candidate the field is open to all, and in that arena Mr. Cullen will meet fair and honorable treatment in trying conclusions with the party organization with which he has heretofore acted.

Mr. Hearn can proceed with his ceremonies.

NOT A CANDIDATE. There has been considerable talk in all sections of the city relative to the nomination of Hon. P. H. Kelly for mayor on the Democratic ticket, and the Democratic clubs in his ward (the Second) have been enthusiastic in presenting his name with great unanimity for consideration by the city convention.

It is no breach of confidence for the Globe to state that it has the best authority for announcing that Mr. Kelly is not a candidate for mayor, and under no circumstances would he accept the position.

Mr. Kelly feels highly complimented by the action of his friends and neighbors, and that whatever service, any, he should give to the public in the future should be in the same direction.

The St. Paul public will understand and appreciate the fact that while others did well and labored faithfully, he has his work, added to that of his associates, which secured the new capital for St. Paul. There is still much more to be accomplished in that matter, and no man can better perform that duty than Mr. Kelly.

Always enterprising and public spirited, and ready to make personal sacrifices when occasion requires, he does not feel that the acceptance of the mayoralty is of those occasions, and

Americans are not so soulless oppressors as their foreign cousins. They are not so ready to aid in the oppression of the community towards prosperity, while the whole purpose of the foreigners is to extort as much as possible from people with whose interests they have no sympathy, and in whose prosperity they have concern only so far as it shall contribute to their own gain.

Long life to the "big three" packers. May they continue as a thorn in the side of all foreign combines that may attempt a monopoly of our provision trade.

A PRUDENT PATERNALIST. The prudent paternalist, who wrote from Dayton, O., to Secretary Morton, asking to be appointed "chief of the United States exterminator" for his district, really thinks he is a Democrat, but he is evidently a paternalist of one brand or another who has strayed away and straggled into the Democratic pastures.

Senator Peffer's speech has an interest, as presenting the question from the standpoint of a party which has made no declaration of opinion and views from a neutral side the contests of the belligerents. It has a value, too, as indicating where the Populists will land when they come down out of the clouds of vagaries on which they are now floating; and coming to the sensible conclusion that no nation ever settles more than one tariff question at one time; that the tariff question is here to stay until it is settled right, and that their schemes must be deferred until that time, they will take in hand the arbitration of the question.

From this point of view his speech is somewhat of a surprise. We have felt that the silence of the Populists on the question dividing the two great parties was due to a sympathy with the Republican party, and that the silence was due to their conceptions of governmental functions. In the demands for legislation that peculiarly distinguish them, they are but carrying a little further and to the right a paternalist's policy of public utility. Between furnishing a market for silver and one for the imperishable products of the farm there is only a difference in kind, but none whatever in principle. Between giving a bounty on sugar and lending money on the land that grows the sugar there is no distinguishable difference.

Viewing the mangled remains of the Wilson bill after its butchery by the doughfaces, he very sensibly concludes that between it and the other monstrous proposals which are being put up to himself, and a city council having only the public welfare at stake.

There is no reason to doubt that wise selections will be made by the Democracy for the city ticket, but it is not so clear that grave errors may not be made in the ward nominations for the council. It is no object for bad men to foist themselves on the ticket, as certain defeat will await them, and they jeopardize the whole structure of the party.

It should be understood that because a man labels himself a Democrat he does not secure a passport to the city council, and the ward organizations should see that no mistakes are made.

The Globe has no candidates to present, and no nominations to make on the ticket assumed, but it needs no prophet to foretell that success can only be secured by a good ticket throughout, and a united party.

As much discord as there has been in the Democratic ranks, it has been the greatest in the history of the party, and it grows less among the Democrats it increases among the Republicans.

The Democrats can secure a royal victory on the 1st of May if they will. They can throw it away if they insist upon such a project.

The situation is bright and auspicious, but success is not assured, and cannot be without a shoulder to shoulder organization.

The problem is easy and simple, and the Globe, as an advisory organ, urges every good Democrat subordinate personal feeling to public and party good; words which applied to Democratic rule in St. Paul are synonymous.

He (Whelan) has five days' experience in the management of the city, and he is wanted of the Pioneer Press. Five days is a long time to associate with some people.

A WISE CONCLUSION. Mr. Cullen's authoritative announcement that he will rest upon his laurels as the candidate of a committee, and that under no circumstances will he come before the Democratic convention next week as a candidate for mayor, is wise.

The Globe much regrets that circumstances have arisen which not only make such a decision wise, but an imperative necessity.

This result has been brought about by the men who, while pretending to be Mr. Cullen's friends, have proved his worst enemies. It would be worse than useless for him to expect to be endorsed by a party which his friends were deliberately and willfully seeking to destroy.

Mr. Cullen has pursued the honorable and many course of ceasing to longer be a Democratic candidate, and his judicious friends can now have the privilege of a sufficient amount of rope to perform the usual act.

It is not probable that things would have been different if Mr. Cullen's campaign had not been started and gotten beyond his control before his return from California; but if a man is afflicted with unwise friends whom he cannot control, he must suffer the consequences.

As a citizen's candidate the field is open to all, and in that arena Mr. Cullen will meet fair and honorable treatment in trying conclusions with the party organization with which he has heretofore acted.

Mr. Hearn can proceed with his ceremonies.

NOT A CANDIDATE. There has been considerable talk in all sections of the city relative to the nomination of Hon. P. H. Kelly for mayor on the Democratic ticket, and the Democratic clubs in his ward (the Second) have been enthusiastic in presenting his name with great unanimity for consideration by the city convention.

It is no breach of confidence for the Globe to state that it has the best authority for announcing that Mr. Kelly is not a candidate for mayor, and under no circumstances would he accept the position.

Mr. Kelly feels highly complimented by the action of his friends and neighbors, and that whatever service, any, he should give to the public in the future should be in the same direction.

The St. Paul public will understand and appreciate the fact that while others did well and labored faithfully, he has his work, added to that of his associates, which secured the new capital for St. Paul. There is still much more to be accomplished in that matter, and no man can better perform that duty than Mr. Kelly.

Always enterprising and public spirited, and ready to make personal sacrifices when occasion requires, he does not feel that the acceptance of the mayoralty is of those occasions, and in the theaters. Miss Marie Wainwright's engagement at the Metropolitan next week will be remarkable for the varied ability demanded by the wide range of play announced. There are few actresses who can successfully cope with high comedy and the strongest emotional passages, yet Miss Wainwright's reception in all the latest roles has been justly enthusiastic in "An Unusual Match" as "Camille." The former play will be given on the first four nights and Saturday matinee. "Camille" is set down for the only performance at the popular playhouse in Westmoreland. "Eron Frou" is announced for Friday night, and "Man and Wife" for Saturday night. In all the plays Miss Wainwright's well-known taste and magnificence in costume will be exhibited.

Seibert's orchestra, augmented to fifty pieces, will give their first concert at the season at the Metropolitan opera house tomorrow (Sunday) night, instead of giving it, as previously announced, at the Grand opera house. Three soloists will appear in connection with the orchestra, as well as Seibert's full military band under the direction of George Seibert, who will play the famous overture "William Tell." The prices charged for this performance will be 50c for orchestra seats and 75c for the box seats.

"The Voodoo" will work its charm for the first time at the Grand this evening. It is a new play, but one of a close series of amusing and laughable performances in which Thomas E. Murray has figured as the principal merry maker.

The bill boards elaborately proclaim the return of the "Ensign" to the Grand. The "Ensign" will begin a week's engagement at the Grand next Sunday evening, and will be followed by "The Ensign" intertwined with historical events, and a wealth of scenic effect, the equal of which has never been seen in this city. The "Ensign" is among the foremost dramas of the time.

STAND BY HINEBAUGH. An Error in the Report of a Meeting Corrected. To the Editor of the Globe:—A notice in this morning's issue of the Globe a report headed "Hinebaugh and Joyce are Both Indorsed." In behalf of our organization I respectfully ask that you give space to the following report, which was unanimously passed at the special meeting of the Young Men's Central Democratic Club of Ramsey City held at our headquarters last evening, after which an adjourned meeting of the regular meeting next Monday night.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

CARLETON COLLEGE WINS.

THE NORTHFIELD SCHOOL AHEAD IN ORATORY. STATE UNIVERSITY SECOND.

Immense Delegation of Students From Hamline, Macalester and the State University in Attendance—The Subject of the Winning Oration—"The Coming Chinaman"—Heatwave Talks.

Special to the Globe. NORTHFIELD, Minn., April 6.—Carleton wins in the intercollegiate oratorical contest. Northfield's expectation for the largest crowd she has ever been called upon to entertain was fully realized tonight. The special over the Milwaukee road, bearing about 600 representatives of the state university, Hamline and Macalester colleges, arrived at 7 o'clock. It consisted of ten coaches, and ere it had pulled in the deafening shouts of its occupants could be heard resounding in the distance. The respective schools formed in separate sections, and the middle of the street headed by Hamline as the procession passed the News office, it halted and called upon.

MAYOR HEATWAVE for a speech, to which he responded in a few words. Arriving at the Congregational church, the place of the contest, confusion reigned supreme. As this, the university band favored the audience with several selections, after which the evening's programme began. W. P. Hollands, of Carleton, in an oration entitled "The Partisan Spirit," reviewed the growth of freedom in our national development. To the Partisan spirit he attributed the cause and glory of such growth. "The Coming Chinaman" was the subject of the oration on the abuses and possibilities of the present race war. On this oration C. E. Burton, of Carleton, won first place.

He will represent Minnesota in the interstate contest, which takes place in Indianapolis during May. J. P. Briggs, of the state university, was awarded the second place on his oration, entitled "Patrick Henry." Briggs' articulation was nearly perfect, and he was a close follower of Burton for first place.

While the judges' marks were being averaged the North Star quartette of the university band kept the audience in good humor, and several of those in attendance made short speeches. The entire contest was the most harmonious and successful one ever held in Northfield.

Whereas, The members have misquoted our complimentary indorsement to W. B. Joyce for assemblyman from the Fourth ward by not mentioning the fact that he was in their report of the indorsement; and

Whereas, The sole request of this organization is that the Democratic party in this spring was the result of the assembly for the young Democrats; therefore be it that,

Resolved, That we have unanimously indorsed our honored president, E. G. Hinebaugh, as the young men's candidate for that position, and we do hereby pledge our support to him, and we do hereby pledge our support to him, and we do hereby pledge our support to him.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible, and should he be elected to the city council, we will support him in every way possible.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge Mr. Joyce our hearty support should he be elected to the city council