

PULPIT AND PREACHER.

DR. S. G. SMITH WILL PREACH TO THE ENGINEERS.

THE WHIT-SUNDAY SERVICES.

Fine Programme of Music at St. Matthew's Church—"Indifference," by Rev. Addison Moore—Spiritual Sermons at the M. E. Churches—Briz. Gen. E. C. Mason, at First Presbyterian.

People's Church, Pleasant Avenue—At 10:30 Dr. Smith will preach a sermon to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and at 8 p. m. there will be a platform meeting, with addresses by Grand Chief P. M. Arar, Grand Chairman Durity and others. All are invited.

The Whit-Sunday services at Christ church (corner Fourth and Franklin streets) will be of unusual interest. Two celebrations of the Holy Eucharist at 8 and 11 a. m.; special sermon and musical order of services. At the night service Rev. Dr. Ten Broeck, of Fairbault, will deliver his celebrated lecture, "Did Henry VIII. Found the English Church?" This theme, handled by so able and scholarly a historian, will be one of great interest to every churchman. All are cordially invited. Seats free. Service of evensong at 8 o'clock.

At St. Matthew's church the choir will render Gounod's "Messe Solenne" at 10 o'clock services, under the direction of Leo G. Bruener; Miss Millie Wilde, the well known soprano, will sing the offertory. Following is the programme: Kyrie, Gloria, Credo, Gounod, Ave Maria, Leo G. Bruener; Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei, Gounod.

St. Peter's Episcopal, Dayton's Bluff, Corner Fourth and Maple streets; seats free; Rev. Stuart B. Purves, Rector—Rev. Dr. Wilson, of Seabury Divinity school, Fairbault, will officiate at both services. Divine service for "Whit-Sunday," morning, 7:30 and 11 a. m.; Sunday school, 3 p. m.; evensong, 7:30 p. m.; East End mission Sunday school, corner Ross and East Seventh streets, 3 p. m.

Woodland Park Baptist Church, Corner Selby Avenue and Grand Street, Addison Moore, Pastor—Public worship, 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Services Sunday, May 13, 1894. Subject for the morning: "Indifference." For the evening: Address by Gen. E. C. Mason, of Fort Snelling, Sunday school at 12:15; Junior Y. P. S. C. E., 3:30; young people's meeting, 6:30; mid-week meeting Wednesday, 7:45. Strangers welcome.

First M. E. Church, West Third Street and Summit Avenue—Rev. C. B. Wilcox will preach at 10:30 a. m. and 8 p. m. Morning subject: "Men Beside Themselves." Evening theme: "The Remedy." Sabbath school, 12 m. Y. P. S. C. E., 7 p. m. Prof. Oscar Lienuu will sing "Crowded With Thorns," by Brahms. In the evening he will sing "My God, My Father," by Eaton. Seats free. All welcome.

Unity Church, Wabasha Street, Opposite Summit Avenue—Sunday school at 10 a. m., church services at 11 a. m. Rev. Charles Brown will preach. Seats free. All are welcome.

Central Park Methodist, Corner Minnesota and Twelfth Streets, Rev. Frank Doran, Pastor—10:30, subject, "The Gospel of Christ;" 8 p. m., subject, "The Plague stayed." Sunday school at noon. Epworth league, 7 p. m. Seats Free.

New Jerusalem (or Swedenborgian) Church, Southeast Corner Virginia and Selby Avenues, Rev. Edward C. Mitchell, Pastor—Service at 10:30 a. m. Sunday school at 11:45 a. m. Subject of sermon: "Not That Which Goeth Into the Mouth Defileth a Man, but That Which Cometh Out of the Mouth." Religion does not consist in observing certain forms, but in cultivating a regenerate character, which expresses itself in a good life.

Church of Christ (Christian), Corner of Nelson and Farrington Avenues; E. R. Edwards, Pastor—Meeting at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Morning subject, "What Are the Marks of a Church Which Could Be Termed Broad and Liberal in Its Views?" Evening, "Has the Fear of Hell a Place in Christian Doctrine?"

First Presbyterian Church, Corner Lincoln Avenue and Gratio Street—At the morning service, 10:30 a. m., an address will be delivered by Briz. Gen. E. C. Mason, of Fort Snelling. There will be no evening service.

Methodist Episcopal Church, Ansonia Avenue, Corner MacKubin Street—The pastor, Rev. Dr. J. C. Gullette, Jr., D. D., will preach at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school will be held at 12 m. Epworth League meeting 7 p. m.

Atlantic Congregational Church, Corner Bates Avenue and Conway Street—Rev. S. W. Dickinson, pastor. Morning service at 10:30. In the evening the pastor will speak on "Boarding House Life in the City."

Rev. J. S. Staff, pastor of the Emanuel Evangelical church, corner Van Slyke Court, will preach his farewell sermon this (Sunday) morning. He has been pastor of the church for three years, which is the time limited according to the rules of the church. During this time seventy-one members were added to the church, and it is in a prosperous condition. Rev. H. Prantlow, of Royalty, will take his place.

St. Anthony Church Congregational Church—Preaching by the pastor, Rev. G. W. Shaw, at 10:30 a. m. Subject: "Religion and Morality." Evening service at 7:30 under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor.

The Mental Scientists will meet in the afternoon, 8 o'clock, at 194 St. Bernard street.

Today the feast of Pentecost is celebrated at the Cathedral at 10:30. There will be solemn high mass, and Archbishop Ireland will preach the sermon. Archbishop Ireland confirms a class of students in the afternoon at 3 o'clock. The sermon at 7:30 this evening will be preached by Rev. Father Moynihan.

Plymouth Church, Corner Summit Avenue and Wabasha Street—Preaching at 10:30 by the pastor, Rev. A. H. O'Connell, Sunday school at 12:15. At 8 o'clock Rev. Shaw of St. Anthony Park, will preach. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6:30.

At St. Mary's Catholic church a special musical programme has been arranged for the 10:30 o'clock solemn high mass this morning in honor of the feast of Pentecost. The choir will be assisted by a string quartet in the following programme: Vide Aquam, Gregorian; Kyrie, Messe Solenne de St. Cecile, Gounod; Gloria, Messe Solenne de St. Cecile, Gounod; Veni Creator, Credo, Messe Solenne de St. Cecile, Gounod; Offertory; Sanctus, Messe Solenne de St. Cecile, Gounod; Andante, Mozart, Sing: Quartet; Agnus Dei, Messe Solenne de St. Cecile, Gounod; "Praise Ye the Father," Gounod.

STILLWATER NEWS.

Paroled Prisoners Conducting Themselves Well, as a Rule.

Warden Wolfert, in speaking of the parolees granted by the board of managers, said yesterday that it pleased him greatly to know that of the forty-five parolees granted, not one of the paroled men had broken his parole and escaped. Three violated their paroles by drinking or leaving their places of employment and are back in prison, but not one of them has attempted to get away.

ALL EYES ON THE FENCES.

CONGRESSMEN NOW HAVE A YEARN FOR HOME.

WITH AN UNDYING LOVE

They Love Their Constituencies These Days—They Will Not Be Offensively Affectionate After Securing Nominations—The Seven Minnesotans Feeling Pretty Well, Thank You.

Special to the Globe.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Just at this period the fever of continued congressional service begins to break out among the lawmakers in Washington, and there is much affectionate desire among members to return to the bosom of their several constituencies. No man who remains steadfast to his duties in congress can guess with any degree of accuracy just what the condition of his political friends may be. Of course, he is receiving letters from his friends at home, but these are uniformly of an encouraging character, while his enemies are working mole-like beneath the surface and are neither seen nor heard from.

A brief talk among the Northwestern members presents the following general aspect, so far as the facts can be ascertained in Washington:

From the First Minnesota district, Mr. Tawney, the sitting Republican member, has no serious objection to being returned to the Fifty-fourth congress. He does not know of any Republican in his bailiwick who is intending to try conclusions with him for the nomination. He has no sort of idea who the Democrats will pit against him, and his only fear is that there may possibly be a combine between the Democrats and Populists. But, under any sort of conditions, Mr. Tawney is depending upon a Republican tide wave, and anticipates sitting gallantly astride of it when it comes.

IN THE SECOND DISTRICT Mr. McCleary also expects (and not without reason, as his district is overwhelmingly Republican) to retain his seat for one more term. He has heard that any constituent will seek to unhorse him, and looks for a unanimous renomination. He has no advice as to whether his committee will call for a Republican tide wave, and anticipates sitting gallantly astride of it when it comes.

Mr. McClear also expects (and not without reason, as his district is overwhelmingly Republican) to retain his seat for one more term. He has heard that any constituent will seek to unhorse him, and looks for a unanimous renomination. He has no advice as to whether his committee will call for a Republican tide wave, and anticipates sitting gallantly astride of it when it comes.

The Third district is a Democratic stronghold, and O. M. Hall will not be averse to succeeding himself for a third term. His health is better than it was during his early Washington experiences, and old members are beginning to learn that Mr. Hall is far above average in point of ability and scholarly attainments. He says he has made no effort to secure a renomination, preferring to leave the question entirely with his constituents. He knows of no Democrat who is making the effort to succeed him, although he fully admits that there is plenty of good Democratic material in the Third. There has been no general undercurrent of opinion to the time of holding the convention that he knows of, and he is entirely willing to leave the whole matter in the hands of the committee. Who the Republicans will nominate, and what action the Populists will take, are matters upon which Mr. Hall declines to express an opinion. In the Fourth, or St. Paul district,

COL. KIEFER wants a renomination, and has heard of no organized effort to defeat him. "But we have a great many able Republicans in St. Paul," remarked the colonel, smilingly, "and some of them may want my scalp, if there is not very much hair to go with the hide." In case he is renominated he expects a hot and uncertain contest, for nobody knows better than he that the St. Paul district is not very close one, if not Democratic in its leanings.

Your Uncle Loren Fletcher, of the Fifth, is anticipating a walk-over. His only opponent is John Day Smith, ex-actor, and the machinery in Mr. Fletcher's hands, and Smith is not a rich man. It seems that there would be small chance of Mr. Fletcher being turned over. Asked who his Democratic opponent would be, he said: "I do not know, and am not particularly interested in him this year. There are a large number of bright young Democrats, and some old ones, who would make a highly entertaining festival for me. But it is not my business to select Democratic candidates."

In the Sixth, Maj. Baldwin deserves, and will probably receive, the unanimous endorsement of his party. He is the only member from Minnesota who has ever missed a day's session or a day's lecture. The Populists of the committee meeting since the contest opened last August. Asked as to his chances, he said: "If my Democratic constituents give me a cheerful and unanimous endorsement I shall expect to win. The Republicans are already in a fight among themselves, and I am daily in receipt of the most encouraging reports from every part of my district. I expect to run, and I expect an election, because I believe that in my district the change of sentiment has been in favor of the Democratic party."

Mr. Boen, the Jonesome Populist from the Seventh, said: "The Populists are a peculiar people. They have a fashion of nominating a man to suit themselves, and not to suit the man. If they want to return they will tell me so when the convention meets. If they want some other man, they will notify him and say nothing to me. He will come back if my people want me to. If they want some other man I shall be glad to accept it. My constituents are already in a fight among themselves, and I am daily in receipt of the most encouraging reports from every part of my district. I expect to run, and I expect an election, because I believe that in my district the change of sentiment has been in favor of the Democratic party."

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Burlock have returned from the Pacific coast, where they spent the winter.

Miss Bernice Chamberlain will be hostess to the King's Daughters, Monday evening.

Mrs. Sullivan will entertain the W. F. M. S. of Trinity M. E. Church Friday afternoon.

Y. T. Marsh and family, of Minneapolis, have moved to 1730 Selby avenue.

Mrs. Burwell will entertain the ladies of Trinity church Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. S. N. Searles will entertain the ladies guild next Friday at ten o'clock.

Mrs. and Mrs. E. Fowler left Friday for Hartford, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Fowler left Friday for Hartford, Conn.

O. L. Baker is entertaining Mr. Parmille, of Dakota.

ST. ANTHONY PARK.

A most delightful musicale was given Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Carter, on Carter street, by Miss Mary Carter, soprano; Mrs. A. Whitworth, accompanist, and Raymond Shroyck, violinist.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church will meet with Mrs. C. D. Dugan, of Bradford street, Thursday afternoon.

ALL EYES ON THE FENCES.

CONGRESSMEN NOW HAVE A YEARN FOR HOME.

WITH AN UNDYING LOVE

They Love Their Constituencies These Days—They Will Not Be Offensively Affectionate After Securing Nominations—The Seven Minnesotans Feeling Pretty Well, Thank You.

Special to the Globe.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Just at this period the fever of continued congressional service begins to break out among the lawmakers in Washington, and there is much affectionate desire among members to return to the bosom of their several constituencies. No man who remains steadfast to his duties in congress can guess with any degree of accuracy just what the condition of his political friends may be. Of course, he is receiving letters from his friends at home, but these are uniformly of an encouraging character, while his enemies are working mole-like beneath the surface and are neither seen nor heard from.

A brief talk among the Northwestern members presents the following general aspect, so far as the facts can be ascertained in Washington:

From the First Minnesota district, Mr. Tawney, the sitting Republican member, has no serious objection to being returned to the Fifty-fourth congress. He does not know of any Republican in his bailiwick who is intending to try conclusions with him for the nomination. He has no sort of idea who the Democrats will pit against him, and his only fear is that there may possibly be a combine between the Democrats and Populists. But, under any sort of conditions, Mr. Tawney is depending upon a Republican tide wave, and anticipates sitting gallantly astride of it when it comes.

IN THE SECOND DISTRICT Mr. McCleary also expects (and not without reason, as his district is overwhelmingly Republican) to retain his seat for one more term. He has heard that any constituent will seek to unhorse him, and looks for a unanimous renomination. He has no advice as to whether his committee will call for a Republican tide wave, and anticipates sitting gallantly astride of it when it comes.

Mr. McClear also expects (and not without reason, as his district is overwhelmingly Republican) to retain his seat for one more term. He has heard that any constituent will seek to unhorse him, and looks for a unanimous renomination. He has no advice as to whether his committee will call for a Republican tide wave, and anticipates sitting gallantly astride of it when it comes.

The Third district is a Democratic stronghold, and O. M. Hall will not be averse to succeeding himself for a third term. His health is better than it was during his early Washington experiences, and old members are beginning to learn that Mr. Hall is far above average in point of ability and scholarly attainments. He says he has made no effort to secure a renomination, preferring to leave the question entirely with his constituents. He knows of no Democrat who is making the effort to succeed him, although he fully admits that there is plenty of good Democratic material in the Third. There has been no general undercurrent of opinion to the time of holding the convention that he knows of, and he is entirely willing to leave the whole matter in the hands of the committee. Who the Republicans will nominate, and what action the Populists will take, are matters upon which Mr. Hall declines to express an opinion. In the Fourth, or St. Paul district,

COL. KIEFER wants a renomination, and has heard of no organized effort to defeat him. "But we have a great many able Republicans in St. Paul," remarked the colonel, smilingly, "and some of them may want my scalp, if there is not very much hair to go with the hide." In case he is renominated he expects a hot and uncertain contest, for nobody knows better than he that the St. Paul district is not very close one, if not Democratic in its leanings.

Your Uncle Loren Fletcher, of the Fifth, is anticipating a walk-over. His only opponent is John Day Smith, ex-actor, and the machinery in Mr. Fletcher's hands, and Smith is not a rich man. It seems that there would be small chance of Mr. Fletcher being turned over. Asked who his Democratic opponent would be, he said: "I do not know, and am not particularly interested in him this year. There are a large number of bright young Democrats, and some old ones, who would make a highly entertaining festival for me. But it is not my business to select Democratic candidates."

In the Sixth, Maj. Baldwin deserves, and will probably receive, the unanimous endorsement of his party. He is the only member from Minnesota who has ever missed a day's session or a day's lecture. The Populists of the committee meeting since the contest opened last August. Asked as to his chances, he said: "If my Democratic constituents give me a cheerful and unanimous endorsement I shall expect to win. The Republicans are already in a fight among themselves, and I am daily in receipt of the most encouraging reports from every part of my district. I expect to run, and I expect an election, because I believe that in my district the change of sentiment has been in favor of the Democratic party."

Mr. Boen, the Jonesome Populist from the Seventh, said: "The Populists are a peculiar people. They have a fashion of nominating a man to suit themselves, and not to suit the man. If they want to return they will tell me so when the convention meets. If they want some other man, they will notify him and say nothing to me. He will come back if my people want me to. If they want some other man I shall be glad to accept it. My constituents are already in a fight among themselves, and I am daily in receipt of the most encouraging reports from every part of my district. I expect to run, and I expect an election, because I believe that in my district the change of sentiment has been in favor of the Democratic party."

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Burlock have returned from the Pacific coast, where they spent the winter.

Miss Bernice Chamberlain will be hostess to the King's Daughters, Monday evening.

Mrs. Sullivan will entertain the W. F. M. S. of Trinity M. E. Church Friday afternoon.

Y. T. Marsh and family, of Minneapolis, have moved to 1730 Selby avenue.

Mrs. Burwell will entertain the ladies of Trinity church Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. S. N. Searles will entertain the ladies guild next Friday at ten o'clock.

Mrs. and Mrs. E. Fowler left Friday for Hartford, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Fowler left Friday for Hartford, Conn.

O. L. Baker is entertaining Mr. Parmille, of Dakota.

ST. ANTHONY PARK.

A most delightful musicale was given Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Carter, on Carter street, by Miss Mary Carter, soprano; Mrs. A. Whitworth, accompanist, and Raymond Shroyck, violinist.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church will meet with Mrs. C. D. Dugan, of Bradford street, Thursday afternoon.

HOOKING HIS BIBLE.

An Aged Man's Vain Struggle in a Bowery Pawn Shop.

NEW YORK SUN.

In a bowery pawn shop the other afternoon a man shuffled up to one of the clerks with a big bundle, which he wanted to pawn. The man was old and decrepit. His hair and beard were long, white and unkempt. His clothes were as ragged as the wrappings of his bundle. He laid the bundle down on the counter, pulled off the wrappings and displayed a Bible of what is known as the "family" sort. It had large, heavy covers, stamped in gilt, and looked as if it might be illustrated with full-page steel engravings.

"What'll you give me on that?" said the clerk.

"Nothing," replied the clerk, with the most discouraging accent imaginable, and apparently without even a glance at the Bible.

"Oh, yes, you will," said the old man. "Please give me something."

"No," answered the clerk; "not a cent."

"But I've got to have it," pleaded the old man. "I haven't had anything to eat today. Give me 50 cents."

"Nothing to drink, you mean," said the clerk, with another glance at the trembling old man. "I won't give you anything. We don't take Bibles, any way."

The clerk turned to talk to a man who wanted to pawn a ring. The old man hesitated a minute and then renewed his effort.

"Well, give me 25 cents, then," he said. "I've had more than that on this before."

"Not here," answered the clerk. "I tell you we don't take Bibles. Go on, now."

The old man gathered up his Bible and shuffled away. The man who was pawing the ring looked on with evident interest. He was thinking of the many stories he had heard of men who would pawn the family Bible for drink money, and reflecting that there was a pawnbroker whose heart was not as stony as tradition makes believe, who had some taint of sentiment, if not of reverence, left in him.

"Is that a rule of the house?" he said to the clerk who was making out the ticket.

"What?" asked the clerk.

"That you don't take Bibles." "No," answered the clerk. "That was just a bluff. We take anything. But that Bible was worn out, and wasn't worth a cent."

"The Cleverness of the French." The Frenchman is a clever person, and never was that cleverness better illustrated than in the story told of Lespes, the French journalist, better known as "Timothée Trimm."

One day while at work he was disagreeably intruded upon by a creditor, who announced his intention of not departing until he was paid. Parley proved useless; the creditor planted himself on a chair, and Lespes beheld him, with consternation, draw bread and cheese from his pockets, as though to fortify himself against despoils. Several hours elided by; Lespes had resumed his writing and finished an article. The creditor showed no signs of moving, and, from the glances which he cast at a sofa, was evidently speculating what kind of a bed it would make. Suddenly Lespes rose, and with bits of newspaper began carefully blocking all the apertures through which he could come into the room. He then made preparations for lighting a cigar.

On one of the most hurry-scurry corners, where the builders and tenners are around the unfinished building add to the usual confusion of the locality, where cable cars pass one another with an endless beating of gongs, and the pedestrians dodge hodcarriers and headlong newboys, a little girl was building a house with the stamp sand. She was sitting contentedly on the heap which the wagon had just dumped, so intent on her work that she did not see that a great many people passed for a moment to look at her and smile as though personally gratified.

Perhaps she was a janitor's child, or one of the street's castaways, but there was no denying that she was completely and blissfully happy. One man who saw her stopped for a full minute. Other men were passing by him, mumbling about "deads" and "6 per cent." He was a man of extreme leisure. He spared a full minute, and made this suggestion: "I think it would be a good thing to dump a load of that sand at every corner in town."

Excursion tickets to the Kootenai reduced. For further information call at 199 East Third St., St. Paul, or 300 Nicolet Ave., Minneapolis, offices of the Great Northern Railway. Hotel Lafayette opens June 30, 1894.

Decided to Pop.

A Detroitier who came East from the Pacific slope, via the Union Pacific road, this spring, fell in with an old chap in Wyoming one day and started conversation by observing:

"Some portions of this country seem to be excellent farming lands?" "Mebbe they ar," was the indifferent reply.

"Seems to be plenty of timber for all nesses?" "Mebbe thar is."

"Going to be a great country some day?" "Mebbe it ar."

"Excuse me if I have annoyed you. Perhaps you don't feel well?" "Oh, I'm all right, but was kinder busy thinkin'."

"Then I won't interrupt you. Being a stranger, I was naturally interested in this country, you know. As you are, I know, Go ahead and ask anything you want to."

"But are you thinking?" "I've got through. It wasn't much to think about, after all. I live at Laramie. Ole Jim Doty, who lives up at Beaton, sent word to me 'olther day that I was a liar. I'm on my way up to see him about it. I was thinkin' whether I orter pop front rates for winter, when we git thar or jump off and git him a show to take it back. I've settled it in my mind that I'll pop him, and so I'm ready to answer any questions as far as I kin."

A REAL NIGHTMARE.

3—"Help! Help! I'm fallin'!"

4—"By gee, dat wuz de worst nightmare I ever did strike."

1—"Well, now, that looks inviting. I'll git over an' try it."

2—"Nice an' quiet, too."

A SAND PILE, and its Wonderful Attraction for the Child.

Exchange.

On one of the most hurry-scurry corners, where the builders and tenners are around the unfinished building add to the usual confusion of the locality, where cable cars pass one another with an endless beating of gongs, and the pedestrians dodge hodcarriers and headlong newboys, a little girl was building a house with the stamp sand. She was sitting contentedly on the heap which the wagon had just dumped, so intent on her work that she did not see that a great many people passed for a moment to look at her and smile as though personally gratified.

Perhaps she was a janitor's child, or one of the street's castaways, but there was no denying that she was completely and blissfully happy. One man who saw her stopped for a full minute. Other men were passing by him, mumbling about "deads" and "6 per cent." He was a man of extreme leisure. He spared a full minute, and made this suggestion: "I think it would be a good thing to dump a load of that sand at every corner in town."

Excursion tickets to the Kootenai reduced. For further information call at 199 East Third St., St. Paul, or 300 Nicolet Ave., Minneapolis, offices of the Great Northern Railway. Hotel Lafayette opens June 30, 1894.

Decided to Pop.

A Detroitier who came East from the Pacific slope, via the Union Pacific road, this spring, fell in with an old chap in Wyoming one day and started conversation by observing:

"Some portions of this country seem to be excellent farming lands?" "Mebbe they ar," was the indifferent reply.

"Seems to be plenty of timber for all nesses?" "Mebbe thar is."

"Going to be a great country some day?" "Mebbe it ar."

"Excuse me if I have annoyed you. Perhaps you don't feel well?" "Oh, I'm all right, but was kinder busy thinkin'."

"Then I won't interrupt you. Being a stranger, I was naturally interested in this country, you know. As you are, I know, Go ahead and ask anything you want to."

"But are you thinking?" "I've got through. It wasn't much to think about, after all. I live at Laramie. Ole Jim Doty, who lives up at Beaton, sent word to me 'olther day that I was a liar. I'm on my way up to see him about it. I was thinkin' whether I orter pop front rates for winter, when we git thar or jump off and git him a show to take it back. I've settled it in my mind that I'll pop him, and so I'm ready to answer any questions as far as I kin."

Novel Use of Rubber in Russia.

One of the novelties in the rubber trade is a reversible rug or carpet. This consists of a thin sheet of perforated rubber cloth, similar to that used in the manufacture of boots. The yarn is first forced through the little holes, and then automatically spread on both sides of the rubber covering.

The yarn is first forced through the little holes, and then automatically spread on both sides of the rubber covering. The result is a rug that has exactly the appearance of moquette or other pile fabric, while its cost is much less to manufacture, and is reversible, so it may be used either as a filling in entirely dispensed with, the only expense is for yarn and rubber.

Now is the time to reach the Okanogan country cheap. Round trip tickets at reduced rates for sale at offices of the Great Northern railway, 199 East Third St., St. Paul, and 300 Nicolet Ave., Minneapolis. Hotel Lafayette opens June 30, 1894.

Strawberries by the carload. Ice Cream Soda, any flavor you say, 5c Per Glass.

The foundations of our drinks are Crushed Strawberries, Bananas, Oranges, Pineapples and Lemons. Try glass and quench your thirst.

Strawberries Always Lower than the Lowest.

Best Bread, per loaf, 3c. Rhubarb, per bunch, 1c. Lundin's Juniperade, per bottle, 17c. Ripe Pineapples, each, 10c. 3-lb. can California Apricots, 12 1/2 c. Best Baked Sugar-Cured Ham, per pound, 20c. (This sells for 30c most all over.) Asparagus, per bunch (Minnesota), 1c. Best Ice Cream Soda, 5c. Fluffy Full Cream Cheese, per pound, 11c. 5-lb. jar Table Butter, per pound, 7c. Fine Creamery Butter, per pound, 18c. Queen Olives, per quart, 17c. 20-lb. tub Dairy Butter (for table), per pound, 18c.

That Chamber Suit

will cost you $15.65

ST. PAUL-MADE EXTENSION TABLES

One just like cut, 6-foot, for $3.90

We will show you 50 styles of Extension Tables at prices ranging from $2.50 on up. High-Back Dining Chairs to match, 50c each.

THE PALACE FURNITURE & CARPET CO., 419-421 JACKSON STREET, NEAR SEVENTH.

LANG'S MILLINERY 64 East 7th Street.

Stylish and Practical Millinery at Reasonable Prices. The Ladies of St. Paul and vicinity will find it to their advantage to examine our stock before purchasing.

C. A. LANG, 64 East 7th Street, Between Cedar and Minnesota.

THE ANDREW SCHOCH GROCERY COMPANY, Corner 7