The "big" Republican convention came on yesterday morning, according to schedule. In point of numbers it was a success; in point of harmony it appeared on the surface to be a success, but underneath there was a discord that promises to grow to rank proportions.

BOB EVANS REPLENISHES THE CHAIRMANSHIP FOR THE GOOD OF HIS COUNTRY.

fully as much the choice of the Nelson men as that of the Evans men, was elected temporary chairman. John Goodnow, Tim Byrnes and other leaders of the Hennepin delegation had discovered Tuesday afternoon that the effort to elect Bob Evans, Washburn's man, temporary chairman, was doomed to defeat. They had felt the pulse of the country delegations until they discovered the situation unmistakably. They proposed to yield with the appearance of deprecating any fight between the two factions.

of all the departments of government. "The nation is looking to us; we are on the advance in light marching order. The Republican party has never lived in a graveyard. It rejoices in the light. The history of the party is the history of the nation. The Democratic party, whenever it does anything useful, patriotic and sensible, adopts Republican lines and policies, even when it comes to counting a quorum. But gentlemen, I have not a moment to spare. I have not read, most of you no doubt have, as I observe the enterprise of the GLOBE has placed a copy in all the seats, therefore it would seem as if at this point I should inquire the pleasure of the convention, so that it may proceed to its business.

H. C. Kendall, of St. Louis county, nominated Hon. Henry Felg for temporary secretary, H. J. Wascott, of St. Louis county, was named for permanent secretary, and there being no other nominations the election was unanimous.

COMMITTEES ORDERED.

Ex-Gov. Merriam moved the appointment of a committee upon resolutions to be composed of one delegate from each judicial district, forming a committee of sixteen members.

GOV. BARTO MADE CHAIRMAN AND THE GLOBE SPEECH ENDORSED.

At 10:45 yesterday morning Tams Bixby, chairman of the state central convention, rapped the Republican state convention to order at the Auditorium. He rapped loud and long before the bustle and the hum of voices were later water being rained in torrents on the roof of the structure, and the promised relief was shortly at hand. The assembly expressed its appreciation with applause.

Chairman Barto said that it was learned that the temperature in the building could be reduced fifteen degrees, and that the fire department was later water being rained in torrents on the roof of the structure, and the promised relief was shortly at hand.

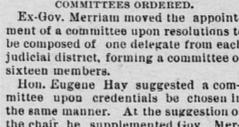

Gov. Barto led his delegation and went to the front, while the delegates applauded. As he surveyed the big convention and the well filled seats for guests and visitors, he said that to be called to preside over such a body by the unanimous voice of the Republican party was an honor that ought to fill the ambition of any man for the time being. The convention had met to perform a great and grave duty. In the campaign now opening a condition confronted the party that would admit of no child's play. It was a critical point in the history of the Republican party. That which was demanded of the party and that which it would unquestionably do was to meet the issues which confront the country as it had always met whatever issues were impending. For that was the record of the party, the record of the party that was greater in defeat than it was in victory, more potent today in the national councils of the Republic than the party in power and in control not a member of the party has had the courage to allow himself to be announced as a candidate for office. AN INVITATION. After music by the band, Ex-Lieut. Gov. Yale, who was present in the absence of Chairman Barto, had Secretary Felg read an announcement from the Commercial club, of St. Paul, tendering the courtesies of the club and its rooms

KNUTE NELSON. Nominée for Governor.

In the Germania Life building to the front, mounted a chair, and said that while the best was none too good for the R-republicans the duty of the committee was found to be a perfunctory one—in the opinion of the committee the officers of the temporary organization are good enough, and homely enough—therefore the committee recommend the continuation of the temporary organization as the permanent organization. Mr. Crafts put the question

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Quick Work on Some of the Nominations.

It was 3:30 when Gov. Barto called to order. The committee on credentials, not being ready to report, C. A. Towan, of Duluth, was prevailed upon to speak

TOWNE POURS TAFFY OVER EVERYBODY.

He said that the Republican party is the great party of principle. "It is the true friend of labor, of the downtrodden and oppressed. But it is important that the party shall continue to be a live party. It must continue to meet every issue squarely as it has done in the past. We have now the great strike to contend with. There is a principle at stake in this that must not be dodged. The Republican party must continue to be up with the times, and lead in an unflinching fight in every new emergency.

ing the day, but failed to come to the front at the close of Mr. Towne's address there was a din of calls for Eustis that the mayor of Minneapolis could not resist. When he reached the platform the convention nearly lifted the roof of the Auditorium with applause. When one has heard Eustis speak he can understand the secret of his popularity in his party, for he makes a decidedly catchy talk from a Republican standpoint.
