

PRETTY LIGHT WRAPS.

CAPE ARE DECIDEDLY THE MOST POPULAR.

THE MOIRE CRAZE IS DYING.

Delicate Shades of Box Cloth Will Take the Place of Moire—To Be Just the Thing Capes Should Reach About to the Waist Line—A Few Redfern Creations Described.

Correspondence of the Globe.

New York, July 15.—Almost all the pretty gowns in vogue just now are sufficiently thin to require one to carry a light wrap of some sort, especially at the seaside or in the country, where the evenings are often chilly. I have been looking around for some time past at the many charming summer cloaks and capes now on view in the different establishments, and I find all that is novel at the English tailor's. Capes are decidedly the most popular, being light to carry and easy to slip over the shoulders without crushing the exceedingly large sleeves. Very often when one is in vogue. These little capes are made in a mightily safe way, scores of different ways, and in many and various shades and colors, pretty shades of brown being the most prominent hue. Moire also is still the correct thing, although very often it seems to be dying out. Delicate shades of box cloth are going to take its place; these are light in weight and very smart. Numerous other materials may be used in the creation of these very smart shoulder capes. To look quite "au fait" they must reach just about to the waist line; if they are any longer than this they are apt to appear to shorten the figure, and this is a thing no woman likes. The more plainly these capes are made the more becoming they are. They are greatly preferable to coats for many reasons. Very often when one is a little chilly one does not want a coat; the sleeves make it too warm and heavy, and one is very glad of a smaller wrap, as one might say, "just a something."

There is an extremely pretty material that is the typical thing for these capes, and it is to be seen at the elegantly appointed saloons of the great British tailor, and is known as the "Bis-a-diere" cloth. Here are two little sketches which are special designs at Redfern's.

A GREAT SCHEME.

COOPER SHOP

Wear y Willie—Yer comes de cop. I'll hide under dis barrel.

COOPER SHOP

Officer—Queer! I certainly saw him around this corner.

COOPER SHOP

I'll just wait awhile and maybe he'll—

Wear y Willie—Now I've got yer—

I'm tired o' yer foolishness—

—anyway. Ta-ta!

SONG OF THE ANARCHIST.

THE MAN WHO ISN'T LOOKING FOR WORK.

SONS OF BLOODY LEISURE.

The Poet's Interruption—At the Seaside With His Wife—Description of the Custom-Made Man—The Ready-Made Man Falls Dead—What's in a Name?

[Copyright.] Hall to ruin and contention! 'Till to drums and dirk! Death to order and convention! Death to ingenious work! And to the hand of the neighbor, Every man his neighbor's spoil, And a deathless day of labor. With summer islands, crown'd with flowers, burst from the misty ocean, and spiky archipelagos arose in glad contentment; and dolphins on the little seas were sporting with the porpoises, and sirens sang their soulful glees, and mermen vowed devotion.

The Poet's Interruption.

Upon the thunder-blasted cliff, scarred by the storm's resistance, he felt the glamor and the awe and the mystery of existence; the magic of the thoughtful night, its endless amplitudes of light, burst in his trance and raptured sight, and dazzled into the distance.

What voice this that breaks his dreams between the sky and water? It sounds much like a woman's voice, and not a sea-symph's daughter; he bent his ear and heard her say, "John, don't move the time away; come down to McEroy's, Cafe—two ice-creams for a quarter."

A Man Made to Order.

A company of philosophers once came together between the Tropic of Cancer and the Tropic of Capricorn, and some time between the fall of Adam and the spring of 1904, and unanimously resolved that man was a failure.

Then a dead silence prevailed for a period of thirty minutes when the wisest philosopher of all arose and said: "Let us make a perfect man."

So they took the chemicals of which man is made and mixed them up as they ought to be mixed up. Butyric acid and creatine, gelatine and lime and phosphoric acid were stirred in in just the right proportions, for these old fellows were philosophers and knew how to do the thing properly.

at the base of his cerebellum," suggested a sage from Tibet. "Hold him and I will put it in," said the sage from Timbuctoo. "Don't rush my clothes while you are doing it," said the Ready-Made Man. "The phosphorus was inserted in the cerebellum, and the sages stroked their beards and waited to see the result. The Ready-Made Man here opened his eyes and his head aches.

"This is the worst possible world. The whole universe is out of gear. Life is a failure. The best thing a man can do is to die. This is a vale of tears. Why did you ever make me? I am the most miserable of men."

When feminine suffrage has conquered, (And it is a reform of great gain) Some women in this time for our president

When the sea of the Borrough Belle, that was driven among the outlying shoals of the Solomon Islands by a hurricane

The Wrecked Crew Healed on the Upspraid Coral Reef, San Francisco Call.

High up on the reef, out of reach of the waves, held firmly by a cable of coral of white, purple and red hues, frosted along its overhanging edges like the

The Call first gave the news to the world of the wreck of the Borrough Belle, getting the information simultaneously with the Lewis in London.

Now comes a sailor from Sydney, who was a member of the crew of the steamer Adinar, with a story that is both remarkable and interesting.

Nelson Swenson is his name, and he says, and the records substantiate his statements: "The Adinar was between ports in Australia and New Caledonia. She touched at Ballona reef, an isolated coral formation of great beauty, twice during a recent trip, and now the Sydney and Melbourne mariners are telling strange yarns about what the steamer's crew saw."

Out of the sea has risen the Borrough Belle. Nature and the industrious little coral insect have mounted the wrecked ship upon a pedestal of delicate coral work as perfect in its construction as the choicest conceit in spun glass.

GO DE DOWN

An Awful Crowding!

of values into low prices. Those who are going to spend a dollar this week will find this store the place most profitable. There is no "mebbe" about our bargains; they're as certain as death, as sure as taxes, and as dependable as the rock-ribbed hills of New England. Our Midsummer Clearing Sale brings a feast of desirable bargains never before offered in the month of July. The knowledge and appreciation of our announcements of values always to be relied upon make it to your advantage to examine and test our claim. You will find us enterprising, progressive and aggressive in everything pertaining to business; and, feeling competent to meet your every want in assortments, excellence of qualities and lowness of price, we are assured of the result, and ask only a fair field and no favor.

DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT!

Silks and Dress Goods. Cheney Bros.' Printed Indias—We have just received a large shipment of these famous Tan and Black Serges in Dark Navy Blue and Black, 45 inches wide; the same as advertised so extensively at 59 cents a yard. Our price is 48c.

Wash Dress Goods

On Bargain Tables in front Wash Goods Counter Monday will be found the following bargains: 15-cent Dark Ground Figured Satines, 15-cent Light Ground Figured Satines, 12-cent yard-wide Figured Percales, 15-cent Light Ground Figured Almas, 20-cent Light Ground Figured Badsties, 16-cent Rubber Lawn, 40 inches wide, 15-cent Figured Dimities, 25-cent Lace-Striped Figured Lawns, 35-cent Fast Black Satin-Striped Orzanides.

9 cents.

DOMESTIC ROOM. Enlarged to twice its former size, and goods cut in many instances, to One-Half their former prices. Prints—Light and dark; former price, 12c; our price, 7c. Shaker Flannel—Sold by others at 7c. Cashmere Wrapper Fannels—Former price, 15c. Now—New Fall Styles, worth $1.00, for 50c. Indigo Blue Prints—Full size, worth 50c each, 33c. Skirt Patterns—Full size, worth 50c each, 33c.

CLOAK DEPT.

The prices of Summer Garments and Waists have been tattered and torn to pieces. The handsomest and latest are now on sale this week at the prices usually asked for medium qualities, while the medium goods go for what is usually asked for the cheapest.

JEWELRY DEPT.

SPECIAL FOR MONDAY: MONDAY 48 CENTS. Any pair of Link Cuff Buttons in our stock up to $1.25.

THE LATEST FAD--BELT PINS

Plain Dull-Finish Silver-Plated Belt Pins, with patent solder—12c. Ladies' Black Silk Watch Guards, with Sterling Silver Slides—25c.

MEN'S FURNISHING DEPARTMENT.

PERALES, 2 detached collars and attached cuffs, a dozen styles, choice 75c. 57 Shirts, attached collars and cuffs, men's or boys', choice 75c. 57 Neckties, 5 detached collars and detached link cuffs, 9 styles, choice $1.00.

39 CENTS!

keel is firmly held in the grasp of the growing coral. The water was awash over Ballona shoal when the vessel struck, from end to end, side to side, but the whole mass on which it supported the wreck has gradually risen out of the ocean, as if by volcanic action.

MEDICINE DEPT.

HERE IS WHERE YOU CAN GET FRESH MEDICINES AT WHOLESALE PRICES. Some people are so prejudiced they firmly believe that, in order to get a proprietary medicine in good condition, they MUST buy it at a high-priced drug store and pay nearly 100 per cent profit.

Proprietary Medicines. Maltine, plain, 65c. Horsford's Acid Phosphate, 50c size, 55c. Horsford's Acid Phosphate, 81 size, 60c. Pond's Extract, 50c size, 75c. Bromo Seltzer, 50c size, of course, 35c. Gum Camphor, per lb., 50c.

HARDWARE DEPT.

In order to prevent our Hardware Department from getting into that state of lethargy which other dealers look upon as a matter of course, we have decided to make things lively by pushing forward a number of rousing bargains every day.

SAUCEPANS.

1-quart. Special, 14c. 2-quart. Special, 20c. 3-quart. Special, 25c. 4-quart. Special, 25c. 5-quart. Special, 25c. 6-quart. Special, 32c.

MILK PANS.

Small, Special, 20c. Medium, Special, 25c. Large, Special, 27c.

WASH BASINS.

Small, Special, 20c. Medium, Special, 25c. Large, Special, 27c.

SOAP CUPS.

Hanging, Special, 13c.

TEAPOTS.

1-quart. Special, 32c. 2-quart. Special, 32c. 3-quart. Special, 40c. 4-quart. Special, 46c. 5-quart. Special, 46c. 6-quart. Special, 56c.

COFFEE POTS.

1-quart. Special, 32c. 2-quart. Special, 32c. 3-quart. Special, 40c. 4-quart. Special, 46c. 5-quart. Special, 46c. 6-quart. Special, 56c.

DISH PANS.

10-quart. Special, 61c. 14-quart. Special, 71c. 17-quart. Special, 75c.

TEA STEEPERS.

2-pint. Special, 24c.

TRUNKS.

Those who make lengthy trips will be especially interested. We sell more trunks than any two houses in St. Paul. The reason is plain. Our Golden Rule prices knock them all out. For Monday we offer a good, well-made trunk, with barrel top, leather corners, and brass studs on the lock slats on top, front and sides, casters on bottom.

30-inch, worth $3.10; Special, $2.65. 32-inch, worth $3.25; Special, $2.75. 34-inch, worth $3.50; Special, $2.95. 36-inch, worth $4.10; Special, $2.98.

HAT AND COAT RACKS.

Hardwood, with Steel Hooks. 4-hook, worth 45c; special, 29c. 5-hook, worth 55c; special, 35c. 6-hook, worth 65c; special, 43c.

To Scare Away Rats. Boston Herald. An experienced old housekeeper in charge of a large Philadelphia mansion with few occupants is noted for a queer manner of the tidying up each room daily, between intervals of thorough cleaning. Sometimes she merely changes the chairs about in the unused rooms or transposes articles on the mantle-piece, or taking a broom, circles its once or twice around the room. The result is absolute freedom from mice and rats.

Manitoba, Wis. Minnesota. Rowing Recatta, Minnetonka Beach, July 30 and 31.